On the affidavit attached to the certificate of birth, the printed name of the child should be changed to JACK BROOKS in three places. The printed name of the father should be changed to JOSEPH BROOKS and the signature of the father should be changed to JOSEPH BROOKS.

Bureau authority is requested for the following:

1) To use the residence address of [redacted] 84 Lipton Lane, Williston Park, Long Island, New York City, as the residence address for JACK BROOKS. The passport can be sent to this address and the New York Division will start to mail dummy letters to this address so as not to arouse the curiosity of the Post Office Department. [redacted] is a brother of SA [redacted] and has rendered assistance to the Bureau previously. He would be willing to have mail delivered to his address for JACK BROOKS and this mail would be turned over to SA [redacted]. [redacted] would not be given any information concerning the purpose for this arrangement, nor the true identity of JACK BROOKS. If any questions were asked of [redacted], he would say that JACK BROOKS is a relative who is a travelling salesman and that he will be working in the New York area for several weeks and will get his mail at this address. If any questions are asked of NY 694-S* by any Communist, he will say that he rented a room through an advertisement in a suburban newspaper in order to establish a new identity.

2) To establish a bank account in the Chemical Bank - New York Trust Company, Main Branch, 30 Broad Street, New York City. [redacted] previously mentioned, is an Assistant Vice President in this bank. He can personally open such an account. This bank has rendered assistance to the Bureau previously. NY 694-S* would use $3,000.00 from Solo funds in his possession merely to open such an account.

Once this account is established, NY 694-S* would use this bank as a reference to obtain a couple of credit cards to further "legitimatize" the new identity. Since it is normal procedure for banks to run a credit check, Bureau authority is requested to permit [redacted] to tell the responsible bank official merely that the FBI has an interest in this account and that any requests in regard to this account should be answered to the effect that BROOKS has an account at the bank and that his credit rating is good.

3) It is believed that if NY 694-S* has a New York Driver's License for identification when he applies for a passport, that he will not need a witness for identification. However, in the event that he does need a witness, Bureau authority is requested to use an agent of the New York Office, preferably a native of New York City, who would give his correct name and address, but would indicate employment other than as an FBI agent.

If Bureau authority is granted to proceed along the lines indicated above, the Bureau would be notified as soon as NY 694-S* makes application for a passport in New York City.

On December 14, 1959, BESS MASCOLO, common-law wife of TIM BUCK, head of the Communist Party of Canada, was in New York City after having delivered $10,000 from the Communist Party of the Soviet Union to the Communist Party - USA. MASCOLO indicated that additional funds for the Communist Party - USA from the Communist Party of the Soviet Union are available in Canada. She stated, however, that she did not know the amount still to be transported from Canada to the United States. MORRIS CHILDS gave to MASCOLO for delivery to the Communist Parties of the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia, through the Communist Party of Canada, the identities of the new national officers and the Secretariat of the Communist Party - USA. CHILDS also gave MASCOLO a partial list of the members of the new National Committee of the Communist Party - USA for delivery to the Communist Parties of the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia.

CHILDS also gave a message to MASCOLO for delivery to the Communist Parties of the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia that toward the first part of 1960 it may be possible for JACK CHILDS to travel to Prague, Czechoslovakia.

One further message was that toward the end of 1960, WILLIAM and [REDACTED] PATTERSON plan to take a trip to Czechoslovakia. This message indicated that PATTERSON is not a spokesman for the Communist Party - USA and is only to officially discuss with the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia possible visits to Czechoslovakia by Negroes in the United States.

On December 21, 1959, Mr. James P. McDonnell of State referred to our top secret letter of December 11, 1959, enclosing a photographic copy of a book in Chinese language obtained by our informant in Communist China. McDonnell pointed out according to the letter the book enclosed is also to be considered classified top secret. McDonnell said that State realizes that the reason for the classification is undoubtedly the need to protect the source. However, State wondered whether it would be possible to have the classification of the book downgraded as far as possible when detached from the letter. In this regard McDonnell said that it appears to State that this book is published in Communist China by a government office similar to our government printing office, and that the existence of the book is therefore public knowledge.

In discussing this with McDonnell, the Liaison representative pointed out that while State's observation about this book being public knowledge may be correct the fact remains that neither State, nor the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) has obtained copies of this same book from any other source. It was further pointed out to McDonnell that in view of this circumstance we do not feel that the classification can be reduced until such time as we have assurance that the book has been obtained from other sources available to State or CIA. McDonnell requested that we give further consideration to the classification of the book inasmuch as it would greatly facilitate State's handling of it if it could be downgraded at least one step.

This matter has been discussed with the Internal Security Section, and it is felt that we must continue to protect our valuable informant in this instance until such time that we have assurance that the book is in fact publicly available. It is noted that our informant received his copy of the book from an official of the Chinese Communist Government, and the informant and heads of various other communist delegations visiting in China are the only ones known to have received it.

Utmost caution must be exercised with respect to dissemination of information herein inasmuch as said information, by its nature, tends to identify NY 694-S, a valuable informant, as the source thereof.

It should be noted that the following concerns "The Two Continent Commodity Corporation" and the so-called "China Trade Operation", information concerning which has been reported under the caption of instant case.

On 12/17/59, NY 694-S advised SA [redacted] that he conferred on 12/16/59, with [redacted] brother of VIRGINIUS FRANK COE. [redacted] furnished the following information:

He (COE) had just returned from Montreal, where he had conferred with "JACK from London", (not otherwise identified). "JACK" mentioned that SOLOMON ADLER was now in India (SOLOMON ADLER had represented the China Trade Operation in London). "JACK" told COE that orders from China were to the effect that "The Two Continent Commodity Corporation" should be reorganized and placed under the direct control of the CPUSA. "JACK" further stated that COE would receive these same instructions in the USA from an individual whom he declined to identify fully, stating that this person could be identified through EUGENE DENNIS. (For the information of the Bureau and Chicago, "JACK" mentioned the first name of an individual identified with the "SOLO; IS-C" case, and NY 694-S is certain that "JACK" had referred to this person.)

"JACK" told COE that the New York and London offices of the "China Trade Operation" are doing "a useful job", and that after the reorganization of "The Two Continent Commodity Corporation" preparations for expansion should be made. COE was also told by "JACK" that he "need not worry about business nor about the 'New Century' people's complaints."

JACK further told COE that instead of having a board of directors as it has now, the reorganized company should operate through "a corps of competent people". He also said that in the event the company should need help or advice, he would be willing to go from London to Canada to confer there with COE or the latter's emissary.

COE told NY 694-S that he agreed with "JACK" that "The Two Continent Commodity Corporation" should be reorganized and controlled directly by the CPUSA. He said that PAT TOOHEY (chairman of the New Jersey CP) would be the CPUSA representative who would operate the reorganized company.

COE further mentioned that [redacted] an attorney who is active in the operation of "The Two Continent Commodity Corporation", was currently conferring with "JACK" in Montreal.

According to COE, three people are now employed as part time workers at the company's New York Office. He mentioned them as "Black" (believed to be [redacted] Bufile 100-306701), "a girl", and "a shipping clerk".

It should be noted that there must be no dissemination of information herein referring to the fact that COE's instructions from "JACK" are to be furnished to him again by an individual in the USA (mentioned herein as identified with the case entitled "SOLO; IS-C"). To do so would be to jeopardize the security of an extremely valuable informant.

MEETING OF COMMUNIST PARTY DELEGATES TO THE CELEBRATION OF THE 10TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE FOUNDING OF THE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA, ADDRESSED BY TAN CHEN-LIN AND LIAO LU-YEN

On September 30, 1959, heads of delegations from other Communist Parties attended a meeting in the old hall of the People's Congress in Peking, China. This meeting was addressed by LI Fu-chun, Vice Premier and Director of State Planning in China. After the remarks of LI Fu-chun, the delegates from the other Communist Parties indicated an extreme interest in information concerning the commune system in China. Because of this, another meeting for the heads of the delegations from other Communist Parties was held at the same place and on the same date. The second meeting on September 30, 1959, was chaired by LIU Ning-yi, head of the trade unions in China. The speakers for this meeting were TAN Chen-lin, member of the Political Bureau and the Secretariat of the Communist Party of China, and LIAO Lu-yen, Chinese Minister of Agriculture. The following is a composite of the remarks of TAN Chen-lin and LIAO Lu-yen:

It is one year since the people's communes were established, but our experience is limited. Therefore, we are giving you only information. Regarding the general situation and concerning the establishment of the communes, we refer you to LIU Shao-chi's article which will be published in the October 1, 1959, issue of the "Peking Review". This article, by a head of our government and a leader of our Party, tells how the Chinese Communist Party solved the peasant question through the establishment of co-operatives and the people's communes. LIU Shao-chi's article is a Marxist-Leninist, systematic analysis of the development of democracy and socialism in China.

We will deal with the peasant question in stages -- land reform, agricultural co-operatives, and people's communes.

The first question is that of our basic policy on the peasant question. Again, we would remind you that this policy is contained in LIU Shao-chi's article. China was a backward country. 80% of the population lived in the rural areas. 70% of the rural population was made up of poor peasants and farm laborers. Therefore, the peasant question is basic in carrying through the democratic revolution.

Comrade LIU Shao-chi is correct when he states that the peasant question is the central question in the Chinese revolution. The workers' revolution would be impossible in China without the solution of the peasant question. Ten years ago, Comrade MAO Tse-tung presented this question in a famous article, in which he placed the peasant question as the central question in our revolution. MAO Tse-tung pointed out that the peasant needs to be educated.

The experience of the Soviet Union shows that a long time will have to pass to bring together the scattered peasant economies and that without uniting these economies, it would be difficult to establish Socialism. The Party's attitude in dealing with the peasant question is basically different than that of the bourgeoisie. The bourgeoisie either gives orders or gives "charity". Our Party and government mobilized the peasants and led the peasants to overthrow the landlord class. That is what we call the mass line of the Party. The bourgeois method of so-called "charity" dulls the militancy of the peasantry and hampers their education. Our method tempers the masses in struggle and educates them -- namely, the peasant masses.

During the struggle to take the land from the landlords, where does the peasantry find leadership? This leadership either emerges and there develops a corps of militants. Some are members of the Communist Party and some are brought into the Communist Party. We accumulated experiences in dealing with this question for twenty years prior to liberation. The Communist Party of China established close relations with the peasantry. Our bases could be found in the villages, and these villages surrounded the enemy-held cities.

In regard to the methods of agrarian reform, we will not go into detail. But we do want to go into the question of producers' co-operatives. Immediately after the completion of the agrarian reform, we carried through a socialist transformation in agriculture. The agrarian reform was completed by 1952, but the socialist transformation in the villages started even before 1952 -- even before the completion of the agricultural reform. As pointed out by LIU Shao-chi, the socialist transformation of agriculture was developed in three stages, but they are inter-related:

(1) After the land reform, we organized on a broad scale what we would call mutual aid or collective labor. But this was still based on an individual economy. This form of mutual aid and labor contained the rudiments of socialism. (2) On the basis of the mutual aid movement, we organized the agricultural producers' co-operatives. Here, the peasants pooled the land and means of production, but their land and tools were still privately owned. This we might call a semi-socialist form or a lower form of producers' co-operatives. (3) There next developed agricultural producers' co-operatives of a higher form, which we characterize as fully socialist in nature. The land and the tools were collectively owned. This was a higher form of co-operative and we refer you to LIU Shao-chi's article where he explains this in greater detail. The socialist transformation in agriculture was carried out step by step, each on a higher stage and carried through faster than the previous stage. During the mutual aid group period, there were varieties. Some were organized only for a season. Even while some disbanded, producers' co-operatives on an experimental basis began to be established. These showed their superiority over the other forms. The peasantry watched and learned.

Between 1955 and 1958, there was a big development of agricultural producers' co-operatives in all the villages. These were all the same, but they varied somewhat from place to place. In some places, the income was based upon the amount of land pooled. In other places, 70% of the income came from work. In some places, they reversed this division, where 30% of the income was based on work and 70% was based on how much land one had in the pool.

These proportions were fixed by the peasantry in a particular area. We must also say it depended to a large extent on the political consciousness of the peasantry in a given area. While these lower forms were coming into being, the Party in some areas introduced higher forms by 1956. In four months time, between December, 1955, and March, 1956, the higher form of producers' co-operatives were organized and completed. Can we speak of differences in the forms of co-operation? Yes. In the higher form of producers' co-operatives, the land and the big farm implements, as well as the work animals, are collectively owned by the peasants. They draw no income from these land implements and animals, but they do get an income for their work.

During the period of socialist construction in 1956, we were already on the path of the great leap forward. While we were organizing the agricultural producers' co-operatives, a new co-operative form emerged. This was an integration of the agricultural co-operative, with the credit co-operative, and with the market and supply. This was the beginning of the commune. In some places, in addition to these integrations, transport and handicraft co-operatives integrated themselves with the local people's government. These agricultural producers' co-operatives emerged in 1956. By the spring of 1953, there were 3,800 co-operatives, which were actually communes. By August, 1958, there were 8,700 communes. The Central Committee of the Communist Party of China adopted a resolution in September, 1958, on the organization of the people's communes. The organization of the communes was completed by the end of September, 1958.

We had some differences on the question of co-operatives and communes, and again we refer you to LIU Shao-chi's article, since he deals with these differences. The first question which showed differences of opinion was, Will agricultural production develop or will this new form retard it? The Communist Party was of the opinion that how we handle this question will decide whether there will be progress or retardation. Ours was a policy of step by step, depending on the level of consciousness amongst the peasantry. Here, we refer you to page #104 of the Chinese book on statistics. As he referred to this, he said, You will see an increase year by year. It shows an increase in each form -- the lower, the higher, and the people's commune -- and each form was better for agricultural production.

In the development of agricultural production, the more collectivization, the higher the form; the greater the production, the greater the income. The peasants see more advantages in the higher form and the peasants realize this. We see that objective reality is reflected in the subjective reaction of the peasantry.

The second question on which we had some differences was how to deal with the middle peasants. Our policy towards the middle peasants is to unite them. During the process of collectivization, the middle peasant had a better quality of land, better tools, and better animals. Our policy is to pay them so that they will not lose by joining a co-operative. These middle peasants are skeptical. They watch. They also show a lot of resentment until they see if they are going to gain something. They want to see how the commune will work. Then if they see that they work and they gain something, they join. The well-to-do section of the middle peasantry likes the free market. They lose this market when they join the co-operative. Some of them carry on a struggle against the co-operatives. Our aim is to struggle with them in order to bring about unity. We base ourselves on MAO Tse-tung's slogan: Unity - Contradiction - Unity.

In 1957, the Rightists launched a frenzied attack on the Party. You will recall the rectification campaign. This struggle found reflection in the rural areas. The well-to-do middle peasants also launched an attack on the Communist Party. The Communist Party of China carried on a campaign of education amongst the peasantry in order to expose the capitalist nature of the middle well-to-do peasants. It was during this campaign that the political foundation for the people's commune was laid. The communes are a result of the economic and political situation in China.

The third question on which we had some differences of opinion on how to solve the peasant question was the following: Should we pause at each step, or should we go step by step or do it all at once? We believe that one stage follows another, and that not all stages develop at once. But each stage is used as an example, where the conditions are prepared for the next stage. This is the method of the integrated theory of revolution by stages. The theory of uninterrupted revolution is the best Marxist method.

The people's communes developed. They did not happen accidentally. They developed on the basis of co-operation and on the basis of the great leap forward in 1958. The people's communes were the creation of the masses. They are based on the integration of forms -- integration of a greater scope.

The agricultural co-operative was limited to farming, forestry, fishing, animal husbandry, etc. But when marketing, credit, handicrafts, and transport were included, then we already had, we may say, industry included. When these are integrated with the local government, then culture, education, health, administration, etc., co-operatives were no longer mere co-operatives. We needed a new name. For a time these were called big co-operatives or collectives. The Communist Party considered this situation and decided that these integrated forms could be called people's communes. The people's communes have in them a great flexibility. They are socialist in nature. The ownership is by the work brigades and also by all of the people. This type of ownership will serve for the future, when we go to a higher transition. The word "kung shu" (phonetic) means "commune".

In the 18th Century, there were societies in China called communes. But we also know that there was a Paris commune in 1871. These communes were not Communist in nature; yet, they were called communes. We adopted the name "commune" because we also like to use words which the people like in People's China.

(Parenthetically speaking, this explanation is somewhat in the nature of a retreat before the Marxists of the world who were gathered in Peking. They were not ready to put some of these agricultural co-operatives in the category of communes, which is supposed to be the highest stage of Communism. So, the Chinese Communists want to point out that while there are elements of socialism in this stage, actually the word was taken from the lexicon of the Chinese language and history, even if they are not exactly what the word is supposed to mean in Marxist-Leninist terminology. The Russians are saying that they are on the road to Communism, but they have no communes. The Chinese have no large-scale industry yet, but they have communes. This is why they backtrack a little bit and give the word "commune" a broader meaning).

The Commune

The first characteristic of a commune is its size. It includes thousands and even tens of thousands of families. Also, thousands of mou of land. It includes agriculture, industry, trade, education, administration and military affairs on a county basis. However, it exceeds the county level to some extent.

Integration of local government into the commune came quite naturally. Because of the scope of the people's communes, it is easier to have over-all planning. It is easier to plan the use of the land for the best crops. The commune can also plan the best deployment of labor, tools, animals, etc.

The communes lay the basis for the electrification and mechanization of agriculture. The scope of the people's commune makes it possible to set up industries. It also makes it possible to mechanize the handicrafts. Since the communes have their industry, they can use the local resources more economically. For example, they can engage in local mining, etc. The commune-run industries will have a great future. We refer you to page #37 of the Chinese book on statistics.

We now have over 700,000 industrial units run by the communes. This figure does not include industries which are run by the brigades. Last year, the industries of the communes produced seven billion yen worth of products.

The running of industry by the communes is very favorable for the development of Communism. This will urbanize the countryside. This development will eliminate classes. It will help the over-all integration of industry and agriculture and will eliminate the differences between the peasantry and the workers. The imperialists and their lackeys lie about the separation of families, about the so-called big agricultural prisons, concentration camps, etc. All these descriptions of the communes are nothing but lies and slanders. We sometimes organize co-operation for the carrying through of certain projects involving many thousands of people. We organize along military lines, but not really militarily. When we organize these many thousands, it is sometimes not convenient for men and women to work or live together. But we cite these examples only to expose some slanders. We repeat, we sometimes do organize along these lines to carry through big projects far away from home. The family is still the basic unit of our society, although men and women work together on the farm and in industry.

During the big leap forward, we carried through large-scale co-ordination or co-operation of labor on projects, especially during the drought, when we worked on a large scale on water conservation. This is traditional with us in China. Large-scale co-ordination is the Communist style of co-operation.

The second characteristic of the people's commune is socialist. MAO Tse-tung states that the commune is big and socialist in character. The communes are better able to take care of the public welfare, such as schools, hospitals, dining rooms, etc. These institutions we have just mentioned have increased three and four times, as compared to the recent past. For example, lying-in hospitals have increased eight times. We do have communal dining rooms. Yet, we still have the traditional family unit and traditional family dining. The commune dining rooms are run in many ways. Some are open only during the farming season. Some are open all year around. Some of these dining rooms are open for only certain people. We also have special dining rooms for children and old people. When a member of the commune eats in the communal dining room, he surrenders his meal ticket. The meals and the quality vary. Some of these communal dining rooms are well run and some are not so good. But the dining rooms have some advantages for women. They do not have to be so dependent upon their husband's labor. They can now take part in production. This participation in production by women means economic and political equality. Others who benefit by this communal dining system are the young people. They can participate in production and save time. This liberates labor forces from the menial tasks of the kitchen. These dining rooms make possible a better use of their labor.

Accumulation in the people's commune comes from three sources: (1) Enterprises which are run at the commune level, formerly run by the county; (2) Commune management can draw reserve funds from production brigades. This year, three billion yen was added to these reserve funds, and this was a 5% total increase for all communes; and (3) The government gives the communes a certain amount of yen. At the present time, this may not seem like a lot, but this will greatly increase in the future. The reserve funds owned on the commune level are used for extended reproduction. Only a portion of these reserve funds are used for public welfare. Production develops because of the use of the main funds for re-investments. A total of 9.7 billion yen is now in the reserve of the communes. In a few years, this will exceed the reserves and the ownership at the brigade level. The ownership of all this property is supposed to belong to the brigade within the commune. The commune receives a certain percentage.

The third characteristic of the people's commune is integration of government administration with commune management. The Communist Party is able to exercise direct leadership and bring Socialist planning into agriculture through this integration. By integrating government administration with commune management, this facilitates the dictatorship over the following elements: the landlords, the counter-revolutionaries, and the bad elements. In the past, our dictatorship was not so direct over these elements. Now it will be easier to reform them through labor. Some of these elements will change their ideology and some will just naturally die off. But the dictatorship will also wither away in years to come.

The ownership system in the people's commune is socialist in nature; it is socialist collective ownership. The principle is: To each according to his work. We want to quote from the resolution of the Communist Party of China adopted at the Plenum on December 10, 1958:

"Even after the transition from collective ownership to ownership of the whole people, the people's communes will, during a necessary period of time, retain the system of 'to each according to his work,' owing to the fact that there is not as yet an abundant enough supply of social products to realize communism. Any premature attempt to negate the principle of 'to each according to his work' and replace it with the principle of 'to each according to his needs,' that is, any attempt to enter communism by over-reaching ourselves when conditions are not mature -- is undoubtedly a Utopian concept that cannot possibly succeed."

After this resolution was adopted, the people's communes developed so rapidly that we did not have enough cadres. What-ever few cadres we had lacked experience. In some counties, they skipped the transitional forms. Instead of collective ownership, it went over to people's ownership. One county even worked out a system of Communism.

Chairman MAO Tse-tung made a trip last fall. He went into the countryside, had numerous meetings with the peasants and saw how things were working -- the good and the bad. At the December, 1958, meeting of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China, there was an examination and a review of the working of the people's communes. The Party, basing itself upon MAO Tse-tung's analysis, explained the differences between collective ownership, which is Socialism, and ownership by all of the people, which is Communism. The Central Committee at that Plenum decided to consolidate the people's communes. The check-up on the people's communes started in December, 1958, and continued to the end of February, 1959. We found many problems, but the main question was the adjustment of ownership.

The February 7, 1959, Plenum of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China re-affirmed the previous resolution and laid down three principles of ownership: (1) Commune level; (2) Brigade level; and (3) Work team level, and a system of business accounting at different levels. The production brigade level is considered the basic one, with a part ownership at the commune level and part ownership at the production team level, which is the lowest level. The production brigade is under the commune. The production brigade is like the former co-operative. At the production brigade level (which is the basic level), the utilizations of land, implements, draft animals, etc., are at the disposal of the brigade. At the commune level, ownership consists of their own industries, water conservation, etc., and they have their own machinery. Each year, the commune draws a certain fund from the production brigade. The commune does the planning.

What is meant by partial ownership by production teams? Who makes up the production brigade? There are three million such production teams. It is the smallest or lowest unit. The production team has a contract with the production brigade. They decide how much manpower they supply, what are the targets, the costs, etc. What the team saves will, in the main, belong to the team.

The over-fulfillment of the plan is theirs, too. The production teams can use leisure time to farm for themselves or carry on individual production. The income goes to the team. Every family can also engage in sidelines. They can grow some vegetables on the land surrounding the house.

Why the ownership at the brigade level, rather than the commune level? This is because of the unevenness of the development. 30% of the brigades lag behind; and if the ownership was on a commune level, it would result in equalitarianism. It would also result in an over-concentration. By having the basic ownership at the brigade level, the commune can concentrate and get the 30% of the brigades which lag behind to catch up and achieve evenness in development. By that time, it may be possible to have ownership at the commune level and the brigades will become management organs. The communes will then develop at a level where the ownership can then become ownership by all the people.

What is the principle of distribution in the people's commune? From each according to his ability, to each according to his work. You have a combination of wage system with a free supply system. 70% is paid out in wages. 30% is given out in free supplies, which consists chiefly of food. In some places, only food grains are given to the people and they have to buy their own oils, fats, etc.

The free supply system developed in the producers' co-operative. Some families needed help in order to exist. In fact, 20% of the families at that time needed some help. For example, they did not have enough workers in the family because of the aged or a large number of small children. This question could not be solved until the commune came into being. So, all members of the family ate without pay. The over-whelming majority of the peasantry supports this principle. Even those who have small families, but who are made up of workers, support this free supply or free food system to those families which have fewer workers for whatever reasons. This free supply system already is the rudiment of the Communist principle -- to each according to his needs -- but only a rudiment, since this is only a small percentage of the income. Yet, these small shoots have great possibilities for growth, and in the communes we see the great possibilities for the future.

ReBulet 12/29/59.

The agent assigned to the captioned case is on Annual Leave until January 6, 1960. He has received some figures from CG 5824-S*, however, additional data is required.

For the Bureau's information, CG 5824-S* advised on December 31, 1959, that his wife's physical condition has taken a turn for the worse, and it was necessary to return her to the hospital on December 25, 1959. He is required to be almost continuously with her because of the blood transfusions necessary, and because her morale has now completely broken. It is most difficult to see CG 5824-S* at this time and it is not possible to predict what the advance of the next two to four weeks will bring with regard to his wife.

In view of the above, it will not be possible to meet the Bureau's deadline of January 8, 1960. Every effort will be made to furnish the Bureau with the required information no later than January 15, 1960.

There are forwarded under separate cover three books in Russian received in Chicago through the confidential drop arranged by CG 5824-S* for the transmittal of literature and messages from the USSR.

According to CG 5824-S*, the book bearing a gray cover is the new text book called "Foundations of Marxism-Leninism", edited by OTTO KUSSINAN and published in Moscow in 1959. This book, according to CG 5824-S*, is the one referred to in the informant's discussions with the Russians when they instructed him to read the chapters on "united front" where as was indicated by them the Communist Party (CP), USA could get some answers to its questions.

The enclosed blue covered book is the new History of the CP of the Soviet Union. Its chief author is BORIS PONOMAREV and his chief assistant was Professor MINTZ.

The third book portrays a photograph of KHRUSHCHEV and President EISENHOWER.

The above are being submitted to the Bureau for possible translation or perusal; however, the informant must utilize these books and transmit them to the CP, USA as expeditiously as possible. The Bureau is, therefore, requested to examine these books, take appropriate action and return them to the Chicago Office as soon as possible.

TRANSLATION FROM RUSSIAN

"FOUNDATIONS OF MARXISM-LENINISM"

CHAPTER 14

A POLICY OF UNITY OF ACTIONS OF THE WORKING CLASS AND OF ALL THE DEMOCRATIC FORCES OF THE PEOPLE.

The working class has to carry on a struggle in difficult conditions. Its oppressor is the wealthiest and most organized class of society - the capitalist class. In the hands of the dominant bourgeoisie is the powerful apparatus of physical coercion (the army, police, court, prisons) and ideological influence upon the masses (the church, school, radio, television, motion pictures, etc.). On its side likewise are the force of habit and the force of traditions of the exploiting society.

In these conditions, the working class particularly needs unity and organization of its ranks, as well as close alliance with other contingents of the working people. Creation of such a unity and alliance has an immense importance for its future and for the future of all people.

The unity of workers has a stable objective foundation - community of class interests. Nevertheless, it does not develop spontaneously, without particular efforts of a class-conscious vanguard of the working class. The matter of fact is that bourgeoisie utilizes all the opportunities for bringing dissent into the ranks of labor and of all the working people, so as to weaken and paralyze their class enemies. Unfortunately, this policy has produced and continues to produce its fruits. It is precisely the dissent in the labor movement which is a principal cause of many serious defeats of workers and the basic prerequisite for a success of reaction. "Not a few misfortunes of the modern world," justifiably stated N. S. KHRUSHCHEV at the 20th Congress of the C. P., SU, "are rooted in the fact that, for many years, in many countries, the working class has remained split and its various contingents do not come out as a united front, which plays into the hands of the forces of reaction."

That is why the communist parties and all Marxists-Leninists consider as their most important task the overcoming of the split in the labor movement, securing of the unity of its ranks and a close alliance with all the workers, with all the progressive and democratic forces of the people.

1. The Necessity for the Unity of Actions of the Working Class in Modern Conditions.

In spite of the depth of differences dividing the revolutionary and reformist trends, communist parties of capitalist countries, even in the first period of their activity, strove to establish the unity of actions with social-democratic organizations.

The communists issued and are still issuing from the fact that (industrial) workers, as well as all the working people, no matter what they are - communists, social-democrats, or members of organizations influenced by the church - they all have common interests. This issues from the very situation of the working class and of all the working people as the exploited part of society.

What is the policy of the unity of actions? - In the struggle for the common interests of the working people, the communist parties strive for cooperation with all the workers' organizations, regardless of political or religious views of their members. Activity of the communist parties directed toward securing of this cooperation is called the policy of the unity of actions.

In the history of the international labor movement, there are quite a few outstanding examples of such unity. When a serious danger was threatening the interests of the working people, a trend toward unity increased among them and labor organizations acted jointly, as a rule.

It was this way in the thirties, when fascism strained toward power in many countries of Europe. At that time, a strong movement for labor unity developed in France, Spain, and Austria, and this influenced positions of leadership of the socialist parties which previously opposed in every possible way the collaboration with communist parties. In 1934-1936, between the communists and socialists of these countries, agreements on unity of actions against fascism were concluded. The People's Front governments were formed in France and Spain.

During the World War II, the unity of the working people again progressed considerably. Communists, many rank and file members and leaders of socialist parties, and many supporters of bourgeois parties - democrats, radicals, and Catholics - fought side by side in the ranks of the resistance movement. It is generally acknowledged that communists formed the nucleus of this movement.

After the victory over fascism, the broad masses demonstrated an unusual trend toward unification. In people's democracies, united parties of the working class were created which built their activity on the basis of principles of Marxism-Leninism. In this way, in a considerable part of Europe, the ideological and organizational split of the labor movement had been overcome.

Various trends within the labor movement drew closer after the war in many capitalist countries, as well. For some time, agreements on unity of action continued to exist between communists and socialists, and labor unions included the working people of all political convictions. In October, 1945, the World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU) was formed, where trade-unions of the USSR united for the first time with trade-unions of capitalist Europe, USA, Latin America, and countries of the East. The international labor movement has never yet been so close to unity as during those years.

However, the international reaction adopted all possible measures in order to frustrate this turn toward unity. This time, the role of an inspirer and organizer of the split was undertaken by US monopolies. The pretext was the demonstration of the European communist parties against the enslaving terms of the "Marshall Plan." A furious campaign of slander and persecution started against communists, and their representatives were removed from governments.

Taking advantage of the differences arising in the WFT in connection with the evaluation of the "Marshall Plan," the reactionary leadership of American trade-unions split this association. In 1949, British trade-unions, Congress of Industrial Organizations of the USA, federations of trade-unions of Belgium, Holland, and of a number of other countries, left the WFT. Somewhat later, they created their own parallel center - the so-called International Confederation of Free Trade-Union.

Contrary to the true aspirations of the masses, the labor movement again became split and the struggle among its various trends flared up with a new force.

What would produce the unity of actions? - At the present time, the dangers threatening the workers, are far more serious than on the eve, or even during the years of World War II. The threat of atomic war, an open striving of monopoly capital to establish its dictatorship everywhere, all this makes particularly obvious the necessity for the unity of actions of the working class. Responsibility of the labor parties has increased immeasurably; the situation urgently demands united efforts from them; otherwise reaction in capitalist countries will open for itself a road to a ferocious dictatorship and the new military adventures.

Turning the unity of actions into an acute necessity, the struggle for peace and democracy, at the same time makes easier the achievement of agreement between the labor parties. It is easier to come to an agreement for them on the problems of common democratic order, for not a single labor party can advocate an aggressive war or fascism. Consequently, the sphere of questions in which cooperation of the working organizations could and should be reached now, has considerably broadened. In addition to traditional demands - increase of wages, reduction of the length of the working day, etc. - there is one more platform for the unity of actions: the struggle for the common democratic demands.

The unity of actions of the working class would exert immense influence upon decision of problems involving the fate of the entire mankind. There are 83 communist parties throughout the world, to the ranks of which belong over 33 million people at present. There are 70 communist parties in the capitalist world, uniting 4.5 million members. In the Socialist International, according to an official data, are united 39 socialist parties and groups, numbering approximately 10 million members (of them 6 million are members of the English Labor Party). In the ranks of the World Federation of Trade-Unions and in the International Federation (etc) of Free Trade-Unions, there is a total of over 160 million people. It is not difficult to imagine what importance for the cause of peace and democracy would have the unity of actions and cooperation of all these parties and organizations. If, for example, the English Labor Party, the Social-Democratic Party of Germany, the French, Belgian, and Austrian Socialist Parties, and the social-democratic parties of the Scandinavian countries would come to an agreement on the unity of actions with the communist parties of the Soviet Union, China, of all people's democracies, the communist parties of Italy, France, Finland, India, Indonesia, Brazil, and other capitalist countries, we may have no doubt that the forces of reaction and war would become more docile and guarantees of the preservation of universal peace would increase many times.

The cooperation of the labor parties would facilitate the unification of all the peace-loving and democratic forces. Labor unity would form the foundation of the unity of actions of all democracy.

2. Who Prevents the Establishment of the Unity of Actions of the Working Class

In reply to convincing arguments of communists in favor of the unity of actions, official leadership of the social-democratic parties brings out a number of arguments in which many socialists still believe.

Excuses of the Opponents of Unity. Proposals of communists on the united front, state the leaders of social-democracy, are nothing more than a maneuver, trick; actually, communists care not at all about interests of the working class, but about their own narrow party interests; they wish to draw as many workers as possible into their ranks.

This is the most complete distortion of motives directing communists. Actually, in struggling for unity, communists proceed from the interests of the working people themselves, including those who belong to the socialist parties or support them. For when the workers act in harmony and unity, they all gain from it together and everyone individually. This is clear even for the most class-conscious proletarian.

It is high time for social-democrats to become convinced that the policy of unity of actions is proposed by the communists with absolutely honest intentions, in all sincerity and seriousness inherent in the party of the working class. Communists, in carrying out this policy, are in no way directed by considerations of the moment. They are sure that unity is necessary to the working people today, when the labor movement and all progressive humanity are carrying on a struggle for peace and democracy, and that it will be still more necessary tomorrow, when, in many countries, the task of the building of communism will arise. A policy meant for such a prolonged period cannot stoop to small tricks. All the practical activity of communist parties convincingly proves that a proposal on the unity of actions is not a concession to opportunism on their part, but an expression of a permanent political line, dictated by a concern for vital interests of all the working people.

Communists are not the only ones to admit that unity has become a vital necessity. Many representatives of the labor movement - noncommunists - also think the same way. For instance, the oldest leader of the Socialist Party of Belgium, a former Prime Minister, Professor CAMILLE HUYSMANS, stated, after visiting the Soviet Union in 1956: "I, an old socialist, who for many years was a friend of LENIN and his wife KRUPSKAYA, was deeply moved by all this. I knew LENIN's thoughts and his good qualities. I considered the break-up which took place between us in 1917 a mistake. But all this is in the past and I do not want to reproach anyone with anything. But I wish to help with all my powers the re-establishment in Europe of the unity of the working class."

Particularly valuable are conclusions of a well-known veteran of the labor movement, OTTO BUCHWITZ (phon.), at which he arrived in his book, "Fifty Years As a Functionary of the German Labor Movement." OTTO BUCHWITZ, a weaver in the past, was a member of the Social-Democratic Party of Germany from 1898 to 1946, and was a deputy of the Reichstag for a number of years. He writes in his book: "Let the young generation draw lessons from history and realize: the strong labor movement carries in its activities a responsibility, not only to its own class, but, more than that - to the entire nation, to the entire mankind. The fact that it is so is proven by history of the German labor movement. Had it been united in the struggle against fascism, HITLER would never have been able to come to power. Without HITLER there would be no war, and millions of young people throughout the world would not have to go to their death for the sake of criminals seized by megalomania, for the sake of imperialists and monopolists."

During the May events of 1958 in France, when reaction wanted to bury the republic with one blow and to establish a fascist regime, all the sincere democrats particularly felt the necessity for a unity of action.

"I have been a member of the Socialist Party for 30 years," stated then a prominent leader of the Socialist Party, TANGUI-PRIJEAN (phon.), "and I am firmly convinced that defense of the republic requires a united and resolute action of all the working masses of the countries."

Experience shows that all the labor parties, and not communists alone, gain from unity of actions. For instance, the prestige and influence of the Italian Socialist Party, numbering about 750,000 people, far from suffering from the fact that it cooperated with the Communist Party, on the contrary, strengthened due to such cooperation. This was admitted at the time even by the leaders of the Socialist Party who, later, yielding to the pressure of the rightist elements, began to refuse to cooperate with communists. Due to unity, both parties - Communist and Socialist - achieved great successes in the elections. Unity permitted them to achieve after the war the adoption of the Constitution based upon democratic principles. The working class of Italy gained most of all from this cooperation.

Another favorite argument of the opponents of unity is a claim that, allegedly, there is nothing in common between the Social-Democrats and communism. "There is nothing in common between socialism and communism..." was literally stated in the resolution adopted by the Bureau of the Socialist International on April 7, 1956, in answer to an appeal of the 20th Congress of the C.P., SU, for cooperation.

However, the falseness of this thesis is revealed by objective witnesses from among those very socialists. Thus, the prominent theoretician of the Labor Party of England, Professor Dah. COWL (phon.), after publication of the declaration of the Socialist International, wrote: "I do not argue that there are serious and profound differences between doctrines maintained by socialist-democratic and labor parties, members of the Socialist International, and the doctrines maintained by the communist parties... but it would be a pure nonsense to state that there is nothing in common between these two groups!"

And further, Professor COWL demonstrated that the views of communists and socialists coincide at least on four points: (1) common for communists and socialists is conviction that the most important means of production should be a collective property and should be utilized in the interests of society as a whole, i. e., that capitalism should be replaced by socialism; (2) both of them strive for creation of a society where there will be a high degree of prosperity, with the broadest opportunities for education, health protection, social security, etc; (3) they agree that no one has the right to live at the expense of labor of other people, i. e., that there should be no exploitation; (4) both communists and socialists are convinced that the realization of the task of building of a new society falls upon the working class.

A possibility for cooperation, in spite of ideological differences, is admitted also by some leaders of the French Socialist Party. A member of the Directing Committee of the party, ALBERT GAZIER (phon.), wrote in 1955, after a visit to the Soviet Union: "Basic differences dividing Bolshevik socialism from society for which democratic socialism is striving, should in no way prevent us from striving for closer relations between the people, for peaceful coexistence and for international cooperation."

There is no doubt, that all these statements reflect the opinion of numerous members of the socialist parties who ponder over the fate of the labor movement.

Communists will necessarily demand for themselves a leading role in every joint demonstration; they will dictate and prescribe, state further the opponents of unity.

Experience tells, however, of other things. The practice of a realization of a united front in Italy itself and in other countries indicates that communists are sincerely trying to understand the point of view of their allies and that they are partners worthy of trust. Communists are far from always striving to appear as sole initiators and leaders of joint actions, while all that remains for socialists, is to follow behind them. Communists are ready to support any reasonable proposal of any social-democratic organization, provided it is in line with the interests of the working people. Often in the elections communists even renounce the advancement of their own candidates in individual districts in favor of socialists, in order to jointly defeat the representatives of reactionary parties.

Communists offer to work out jointly a platform for cooperation, to present it for the judgment of membership masses and jointly to formulate the demands which will meet with the greatest mass support. It is quite obvious that socialists have a full opportunity to verify the sincerity of communists in fact, by accepting their proposal on unity of actions.

When the opponents of unity exhaust their arguments, they start to frighten the rank and file socialists by saying that, after the victory of the united front, communists would allegedly carry out reprisals against socialists. They cite at this time the fate of Russian Mensheviks. But we must remember historical conditions in Russia at that time: after all, majority of Mensheviks formed a bloc with the White Guards and supported an armed struggle against the Soviet Government.

In a different historical situation, things developed in a different way. In the European people's democracies, the basic mass of members of the socialist parties joined the ranks of the united parties of the working class, while many of their former leaders are occupying important government posts.

In the present situation, when more favorable conditions for victory of the working class have been established, communists and socialists can fully reach an agreement, not only in the struggle against the threat of war and in defense of democracy, but, likewise, in the joint struggle for socialism. In countries, where historically-developed social-democratic parties are active, communists are interested in having those parties not only in taking part in the winning of power by the working class, but also in taking upon themselves ^{any} effort in creating of socialism and in becoming members of socialist governments.

In this way, not a single one of the arguments against unity of actions of communists and socialists holds water. No insurmountable obstacles to their cooperation exist. Unity is lacking not because there is nothing in common between socialists and communists and not because communists threaten reprisals against socialists. They could easily find common language if capitalist reaction would not hinder it.

Anticommunism - the Slogan of Reactionary Dissenters.
A true motive guiding many leading figures of the Socialist International is their anticommunism. It is not at all the matter of their being reformists and therefore being unable to cooperate with communists, representatives of the revolutionary ideology.

Reformists who seriously strive for at least small reforms benefiting workers, understand that, for achieving success, joint efforts of all the labor organizations are necessary. However, they are usually held back by dissenting die-hards who chose the preservation of discord in the labor movement as their occupation. This proved to be a highly profitable occupation in a modern bourgeois society for the more adroit career men out of a number of leaders of reformist labor unions and social-democratic parties. Specialists in this trade (such as NEANY and BROWN in America, SPAAR in Belgium, GUY MOLLET in France, POLLACK in Austria, and TANNER in Finland) adapted aims of the notorious cold war to conditions of the labor movement. They always come out under the flag of anticommunism, although they know very well that this battered flag is serving, as it had repeatedly served already, the purposes of the blackest reaction, striving to split forces of every democratic and socialist movement and to smash it piece by piece.

In their hatred of communism, they in no way lag behind the most hardened reactionaries out of the midst of the dominant classes. Blinded by this hatred, they would sooner renounce defense of vital demands of the working people rather than act together with communists. When such apostles of anticommunism are confronted with a choice of either cooperating with communists or permitting reactionaries to come into power, they, unhesitatingly give preference to the latter. "Better DE GAULLE than the People's Front," such was a position of a leader of the French Socialist Party, GUY MOLLET in May of 1958, when he became a member of the reactionary government alongside . . . fascist-like elements.

Fortunately, there are not so many inveterate enemies of unity in the labor movement that they could not be isolated. But so far, they have been sitting firmly upon the shoulders of the reformist movement, because reactionary bourgeoisie supports them with all its power.

A comparison of activities of dissenters with the policy of the ruling circles of bourgeoisie, clearly exposes the mainsprings of their behavior. It is not difficult to notice that right-wing socialists transfer to the labor movement the very same methods which imperialist circles apply in their struggle against the USSR and the entire socialist camp. Aggressive circles inspire the cold war against the USSR and leaders of the Socialist International unleash it inside the labor movement. Imperialists appeal for "Atlantic solidarity" for the struggle against communism, and right-wing leaders of social-democracy appeal for the same thing. Colonial powers of the West adjure the oppressed peoples of the East to "wait" with their liberation for the sake of "unity" in the struggle against the "threat of communism" and right-wing socialist leaders come out with the denunciation of national-liberation movement of colonial peoples, even to the extent of employing arms, as it was done during the Egyptian crisis of 1956, by the French Government headed by a "socialist," GUY MOLLET.

In short, propagandists of cold war in the labor movement are the exponents of interests of aggressive imperialist bourgeoisie in the ranks of the workers. Through them, the ruling circles of imperialistic states achieve the perpetuation of discord in the labor movement. Champions of anticommunism, strictly speaking, have no other platform save dissension; "reforms" for them are only props designed for deceiving the inexperienced people.

When this deception comes out into the open, and the masses begin to turn away from militant anticommunists out of the number of social-democrats, the latter resort to the roundabout maneuvers. Most often, attempts are being made to portray social-democracy as some sort of a "third force." Juggling words, right-wing leaders of the Socialist International assure that they really do not take any sides in international affairs and play a part of an arbitrator between West and East. They allegedly follow the same independent "middle course" in the field of domestic policy, opposing the extreme reaction, as well as communists.

However, those who keep on talking of the "third force," deceive either themselves, or others. A "middle" course between bourgeoisie and proletariat, between reaction and democracy, actually does not exist. Right-wing social-democrats clearly prove this, practically cooperating with reactionary circles of bourgeoisie. Best of the adherents of the "third force," sooner or later, come to a recognition of necessity for unity of actions with communists. Thus, confirmed once more are words of V. I. LENIN to the effect that in a policy of choosing between capitalists and the working class, it is impossible to avoid the fact that "any attempt to form something in the middle results in even completely sincere people sliding down to one or the other side."

Apostles of the "third force" attempt to flirt both with workers and capitalists. To the first they promise to fight capitalism, and to the second - to protect them from communism. On this basis, they demand new "credits" from both. But, in opening "credit" for right-wing social-democrats, capitalists demand that they work it off on the spot, by increasing attacks upon communism. The working class, on the contrary, expects intensification of struggle against the arbitrary rule of capitalist monopolies. And since political speculators are unable to meet payments on two promissory notes at the same time, they are caught in inevitable bankruptcy. It is not accidental that theories of the "third force" have not found a broad response in the masses and they are mentioned less and less frequently.

Reactionary policy of anticommunism is directed not only against the revolutionary vanguard of the working class, but likewise against all the working people and democrats. True, in the beginning, reactionaries spread illusions to the effect that repressions and restrictions are allegedly directed only against communists and will not affect other contingents of the labor and democratic movement. But it is enough for the working people to fall for this lie, and to renounce resistance to measures directed against communists, that reactionary bourgeoisie starts next phases of the "operation": it extends the persecution drive to social-democratic parties, labor unions and even liberal bourgeois movements and organizations.

Thus, there can be only one answer to the question as to who prevents unity of action of the labor movement: capitalist reaction, predominant oligarchy of monopoly capital, prevents it. Propagandists of anticommunism and organizers of cold war, who call themselves leaders of the labor movement, act on top level of workers' organizations in its interests. Arguments which they present against unity do not express but only cover their true motives.

Dissenters in the ranks of the labor movement enjoy the broad support on the part of capitalistic monopolies and government. Remunerative positions are given to the most active right-wing social-democrats. For example, 410 leading members of the Social-Democratic Party of Germany occupy 929 highly-remunerative positions in large West German firms and banks. Sixty-five socialist leaders are directors in MANNESMAN, KLECKNER, KRUPP, FLICK and other concerns. Salaries of these directors reach 100-150,000 marks a year. Among 600 directors of nationalized enterprises in Austria, 400 are members of the Socialist Party. Twelve out of twenty-five members of this party's board, are directors and managers of state and private enterprises, each one receiving up to 500,000 schillings a year. BENEDICT KAUTSKY (son of KARL KAUTSKY), ideologist and author of the program of the Socialist Party of Austria, holds positions of an assistant of the general director of a great bank "Créditanschalt" (phon.), that of member of the observation (sic) council of the "Elin" firm, and of the general council of the Austrian National Bank.

When right-wing socialist leaders become members of governments, monopoly capital permits them sometimes to satisfy certain demands of the workers. Large monopolies, when they have no other way out anyway, because of the pressure from workers, make concessions but in such a way as to strengthen positions of socialists against communists. At the first suitable opportunity, they compensate themselves through raising prices or in some other ways. The same tactics are followed by capitalist circles in encouraging labor unions which are under the influence of right-wing social-democrats and persecuting left-wing labor unions. We know, for instance, that US Department of State has widely used a reactionary top-level leadership of American labor unions for splitting the international labor movement.

That is why unity of actions of the working class cannot be achieved solely by means of negotiations and agreements. It demands active struggle against the intrigues of reactionary bourgeoisie and its agents in the labor movement. The struggle for unity of action of the working class is an important and integral part of the entire struggle of workers against monopoly capital and imperialism.

3. The Ways of Achieving Unity of Actions of the Labor Movement

Working Classes Want Unity. Despite the dissension activities of the right-wingers, a trend toward unity is growing among the working masses. This is expressed in the most diverse forms. For example, at many enterprises of France, Italy, England, Belgium, and other countries, when a strike is in preparation, all the workers willingly respond to an appeal for a joint action: united strike committees are formed which include communists, socialists, Catholics. The same thing is demonstrated by numerous instances, when socialist workers, contrary to injunctions of their party's leadership, vote in elections for communist candidates.

A striving for unity increases, as consequences of the present dangerous policy of imperialist governments reveal themselves. Alarm and concern are increasing among socialist workers. This compels the leaders of social-democratic parties to maneuver and resort to various tricks, and sometimes directly to yield to the demands of rank and file socialists.

English Labor Party, social-democratic parties of West Germany and of Scandinavian countries, socialists of Japan and of other Asiatic countries denounced the Anglo-Franco-Israeli aggression against Egypt. They came out likewise with a denunciation of imperialist aggression in Lebanon and Jordan in 1958. German social-democrats protested against arming of the Bundeswehr with atomic weapons. In March, 1959, they came out with their plan for a solution of the German problem, which, despite inconsistencies and various reservations contained therein, represents a considerable contribution to the general German discussion on the methods for unification of the country. The Fifth Congress of the Socialist International (July, 1957) again expressed itself in favor of the admission of the Chinese People's Republic to the UN. At the session of the council of the International, in June, 1958, a demand was advanced for halting of the nuclear tests and calling of a summit conference.

Of course, there has always been a great gap between the words and deeds of the leaders of the Socialist International. Nevertheless, these resolutions reflect the sentiments of rank and file social-democrats. Certain changes occurring in the social-democratic movement, facilitate the achievement of the unity of actions between the working people although right-wing leaders of social-democracy still oppose this.

The greatest experience of collaboration between communists and socialists has been accumulated in the struggle for the economic interests of working people. Examples of united actions in this field exist in many capitalist countries. Italian, French, Argentinian, Japanese workers, as well as workers of other countries, achieved great successes in recent years when they carried on a strike struggle on the basis of joint and coordinated actions. A number of participants of strikes could be counted, by and large, in hundreds of thousands, in millions.

Collaboration on political questions produced most noticeable success in Italy, Japan, Finland, Chile, and some other countries. In the course of struggle against the rearmament of German imperialism and for the outlawing of atomic weapons, many communist parties of capitalist countries have repeatedly come out in concord with local organizations of socialist parties.

The experience of fruitful collaboration was accumulated in the first postwar decade by both the Italian Communist and Italian Socialist Parties. From the moment of conclusion of the 1934 pact, both parties came out in concord on basic questions of foreign and domestic policy and dealt many defeats to the forces of reaction. Therefore, a unilateral break-up of the pact on unity of action, forced by the right wing at the Congress of the Socialist Party in 1958, is obviously contrary to the vital demands and sentiments of rank and file members of this party. After all that Italian communists and socialists went through together, the absence of cooperation between them can only be temporary.

Collaboration of labor parties in Japan is being successfully set up after the correction of sectarian errors permitted in this matter in the past. By the beginning of 1959, in 40 out of 46 prefectures of Japan, organs of collaboration of the democratic forces were created, in which communists, as well as socialists, take part. A good experience of the implementation of the policy of the united front has been accumulated in Chile. In the spring of 1956, the Communist, the Socialist, the Popular Socialist and other democratic parties established here the Popular Action Front which holds strong positions in parliament and in the country.

The practice of implementation of unity of action from below gave birth in the postwar period to a number of new organizational forms: "internal commissions" in Italian enterprises; "committees of unity" in France; "factions of trade-union unity" in Austria; "unity councils" and inter-union commissions in Brazil, etc.

The struggle for unity of international labor movement entered a new stage, after the 20th Congress of the C. P., SU, pointed to new possibilities opening in this field. The coming out of such an authoritative communist party as the C. P., SU, with an appeal for collaboration elicited a broad response from social-democratic masses. Soon, the Socialist International was compelled to discuss the problem of relations with communists. Elements, interested in the frustration of the unity of actions in the labor movement throughout the period of cold war, dictated a negative resolution of the International; however, some socialist parties established their first contacts with the C. P., SU.

In 1956-58, the Central Committee of the C. P., SU, came out with a new initiative, directing letters, appealing for united actions in defense of peace, to the socialist parties of Italy, France, Germany, Great Britain, Norway, Denmark, Belgium, Holland, and Austria.

Unfortunately, the cause of unity has been progressing slowly so far and not on the scale which the present international situation demands. Survivals of the past period, when relations between various contingents of the working class became greatly strained, still make themselves felt. However, permanent factors which are stronger than intrigues of dissenters act in favor of unity. The chief one among them is the growing desire for unity among increasingly broader strata of workers.

Correct Approach Toward Working People - Socialists.

Of course, it would be wrong to place all hopes solely upon spontaneous movement of the masses toward unity. As the leading organs of communist parties have repeatedly pointed out, much in this case depends upon communists themselves, upon methods of carrying out a policy of united actions.

The first thing having a decisive importance in this matter is a correct approach toward socialist working people. Indignation of communists at the facts of repeated betrayal on the part of a number of leaders of social-democracy is understandable, but it does not justify the listing of all socialists as "agents of imperialism," or refusal of contacts and friendly exchange of opinions with them. Indiscriminate attacks upon all socialists only play into the hands of the real enemies of unity of the working class.

The postwar period demonstrated that complex processes of differentiation are taking place inside the social-democratic movement. Practically in all the socialist parties there are more or less strong leftist tendencies, although formless at times. For example, in the English Labor Party, during any important change in the trend of events inside the country or in the international arena, disagreements are revealed between local organizations and the top leadership of the party.

In a number of social-democratic parties, the matters reached the stage of a break-up into independent parties of the left-wing and right-wing socialists (Italy, Japan, Austria, India, Lebanon, and Israel). Later, some of them again united into one party, but dissensions between the right and left wings have not disappeared. A recent example of continued differentiation among socialists was a split of the French Socialist Party, as a result of which groups which broke off with GUY MOLLET created their own autonomous party.

Practical experience, however, indicates that dissension amidst socialists and isolation of the left wing, in many cases, do not produce changes in policy of social-democratic parties. Many rank and file socialists, even those who are dissatisfied with anticommunist line of right-wing leaders, do not want to take such a decisive step as breaking off, because they are used to their own party and value its traditions. Right-wing leaders skillfully utilize this and continue to set the tone in socialist parties. However, bankruptcy of the policy of anticommunism will in the end open the eyes of rank and file socialists. Sooner or later, honest social-democrats who preserve loyalty to the banner of socialism, will start thinking regarding the necessity for changing a policy, bourgeois in its character, carried out by extreme right-wing elements and, subsequently, for removing these elements from party leadership. In such a case, the transition of a social-democratic party to new political positions, in line with the interests of the working class, may be accomplished without a break-up, which doubtlessly is the best possible solution.

However it may be, all this is an internal affair of the socialist-democratic parties, which they will have to decide for themselves.

Left wing of socialists may play its role in the overcoming of dissension in the labor movement, under all circumstances. Left-wing socialists often exhibit political inconsistency; but, in any case, they are a most progressive section of social-democracy. At the present moment, their positions on many crucial problems of internal and foreign policy are in line with the interests of the working people. Many leftists understand the harm of discord and necessity for unity of actions of the labor movement. Communist parties are now striving to help them to get free of prejudices, implanted by anticommunist dissenters. By their self-denying struggle against the war threat; by defense of the vital interests of the working people, as well as of the middle classes which most often comprise the bulwark of social-democracy; by their readiness to support initiative of any socialist capable of benefiting the working class; by honest fulfillment of duties stemming out of collaboration; by all this, communists clearly prove that they are reliable friends and allies.

Thus, preconditions for a collaboration between communists and the circles of the social-democratic movement which realized the necessity for the unity of actions, have fully matured. That is why words of Comrade N. S. KHRUSHCHEV with which he addressed the socialist working people from the rostrum of the 21st Congress of the C. P., S.U., sound so urgently: "The time has come for representatives of all trends in the labor movement, throwing out all the tricksters of anticommunism, to sit down at one table and work out a mutually acceptable platform for joint actions of the working class in defense of its interests, in defense of peace."

At the same time, communists are ready to relegate to the secondary place the most controversial questions, in order to achieve the unity of actions with socialists. Communist parties adhere in this respect to the old, but always true councils of V. I. LENIN, which he gave as far back as 1922, when a conference of three Internationals - of the Third, Second and "Second and a Half" - was anticipated. LENIN, who took an active part in the preparation of conference, advised the Komintern delegation to "bring out in discussions only the least controversial (questions - Editor), considering as the goal an attempt at partial but joint actions of the working masses." He recommended "our delegates at a preliminary conference to be 'super-restrained,' as long as the hope of achieving the goal was not lost."

For the sake of the establishment of unity of actions with social-democrats, communists today, as well, do not renounce compromises or necessary concessions. True, it seems to dissenters that by making a compromise, a communist compromises himself. They have enough political boldness only for persevering in a position they hold, regardless of conditions or requirements of the moment. However, the one who, in the name of such a great cause as unity of the labor movement, is not afraid to make a necessary concession, to meet a future ally halfway, is bold in a Leninist way.

LENIN compared social-democratic parties with a closed quarters, where agents of bourgeoisie are carrying on their propaganda before a rather crowded worker's meeting. Should communists, asked LENIN, pay for an admission to this quarters, in order to obtain an opportunity to have their say before the workers who up to that time were under an exclusive influence of the reformists? And he replied, that it would be a great mistake to refuse any conditions or any payment in order to penetrate into this, rather strongly guarded and locked quarters. "Communists must not stew in their own juices," taught LENIN, "but learn to act in such a way as to penetrate into the locked quarters where representatives of bourgeoisie influence the workers, without being afraid to make certain sacrifices and without being afraid of mistakes, inevitable at the beginning of any new and difficult task. Communists, who would not want to understand this and would not want to learn this, cannot hope to acquire a majority among workers...."

Every country has its own conditions of struggle, its own traditions of labor movement. The roads which lead to labor unity in different countries have their own peculiarities. In some conditions, unity may be achieved in the course of an election campaign; in others, in the course of a struggle for labor and social rights; in still others, in conducting a campaign for disarmament, etc. One of the principal conditions for success of communist parties in their struggle for a united front, is a skill in finding and selecting a special pretext, a special event which, in a given country, can lead to collaboration of all trends in the labor movement, by the shortest possible route.

FOUNDATION OF LENINISM

Ideological disagreements are not an obstacle to collaboration. Would not a collaboration between communists and socialists who realize the necessity for unity be hindered by the ideological disagreements between them? For, while agreeing with communists on many points in the evaluation of the present tasks of the working class, socialists disagree with them on basic questions of social development, such as, first of all, a recognition of the necessity for the overthrowing of the power of capitalists and establishment of a dictatorship of the working class in a transitional period. In striving to frustrate the unity of actions, the right-wingers usually point out this as an insurmountable obstacle to collaboration. Is this true?

Communists do not wish at all to minimize or ignore the existing ideological differences. While offering unity, communists do not conceal that they do not intend to renounce either their principles or their political personality. By the way, neither do they demand this from social-democrats, believing that practical cooperation of labor parties in bourgeois countries can be arranged without renouncing of principles.

Of course, it is generally impossible to discuss any ideological differences with bitter enemies of labor unity and inspirers of anticommunism. Anticommunism does not contain even a grain of constructive policy for a labor party; likewise, it has no positive ideological content whatsoever; ideology of reformism by which it covers itself is no more than a camouflage. Actually, champions of anticommunism have even lost the right to be called reformists. What sort of reformists are they, when for the sake of breaking up of collaboration with communist parties, they sacrifice vital interests of the working people? Every honest social-democrat at least thinks that he is fighting for the interests of the working people; he will not scorn allies in this struggle. However, anticommunists are not reformists at all, but avowed enemies of the labor movement.

It is obvious that communists will never find a common language with this kind of people, but it is an entirely different matter where honest adherents of reformism who sincerely strive for progressive social changes are concerned.

There are basic differences between Marxist - Leninist interpretation of socialism and its interpretation by the reformists. Communists have criticized and will continue to criticize a mistaken position of the reformists on problems of a class struggle, proletarian revolution, and dictatorship of the proletariat. Pointing out the example of a successful building of socialism in the USSR and people's democracies, communists will keep on trying to convince socialist workers of the soundness of the road to socialism which is based upon Marxism - Leninism.

But it is already possible to find common elements in socialist conceptions among communists and sincere social-democrats which open the way to a joint struggle for the fundamental ideals of the working class. For both of them socialism means, first of all, the establishment of public ownership in the basic means of production. It is an axiom for communists, but the same goal is proclaimed also in the official platforms of a number of socialist parties. It is stated in the "Declaration of Principles" of the French Socialist Party that this party "aims to carry out the replacement of a system of capitalist ownership by a system under which natural resources, which are means of production and exchange, will become the property of a collective and when, consequently, classes will be abolished."

What then keeps the French socialists, at any rate the ones who take this plank in a platform seriously, from collaborating with communists in the struggle for replacement of a system of capitalist private property by a system where public property will dominate? Could not, for instance, communists and socialists jointly support the demand of the working masses for nationalization of property of monopolies?

Of course, communists and socialists interpret in different ways the possibility of a peaceful transition to socialism, but, undoubtedly, there appeared many points in this question on which they agree. They can successfully collaborate wherever favorable prerequisites for such a transition develop. And the more unified the labor movement will be, the more practicable will be a peaceful transition to socialism in a number of countries.

A broad mutual understanding may be achieved between communists and socialists in this struggle for reforms alleviating the situation of working people in capitalist countries. Communists differ with socialists in the evaluation of these reforms. For many social-democrats, reforms are the only possible way to socialism. Today, they reason, the state is carrying out various measures on regulation of national economy; tomorrow - measures for social security (pensions, etc.); in this way, in the opinion of the reformists, the introduction of socialism is beginning already within the framework of a bourgeois society. According to their ideas, socialism is being introduced into capitalist society piecemeal. Some day, they hope, it will be possible to "reform" capitalism fully and transform it into socialism.

Communists consider this basic reformist concept fundamentally erroneous. They do not deny that it is possible to obtain individual reforms in favor of working people from a capitalist state even when it is in the service of monopolies. However, concessions which it is possible to wrest from a capitalist state are far from being socialism. After all, the class character of a capitalist state is being preserved; it has been and it still remains a tool in the hands of capitalist monopolies. It does not just happen that no sooner the pressure of the masses weakens, the state takes all its concessions back or adapts them to the needs of monopolies, so that only a memory remains of their original character.

In order to start the building of socialism, it is necessary at first to take away the power from the dominant monopolies and hand it over to the working people; such is a profound conviction of communists tested by lengthy experience of international labor movement.

At the same time, communists are not at all the opponents of reforms. They only deny that a gradual outgrowing of capitalism into socialism is possible by means of reforms. At the same time, communists offer socialists broad collaboration in this struggle for all types of reforms improving working and living conditions for the working people, for a nationalization of property of monopolies, improvement of the social security system, the broadening of labor-union and democratic rights, strengthening of the guarantees of a universal peace, etc. And the broader a unity of actions and collaboration of various trends of the labor movement will be, the easier will it be to wrest from monopolies and their state concessions strengthening the fighting ability of the working class.

Necessity for a patient, friendly explanation.

Communists believe it their duty to fight for the overcoming of reformist ideology by which the right-wing dissenters in the labor movement camouflage themselves. But the overcoming of the ideas of reformism is not a simple task. Communists see behind the reformist theories not only error but also a play on the true aspirations of the masses.

Observing a tremendous difference between the conditions of their life and the life of a privileged top level of society, encountering instances of the arbitrariness of police and infringement of the rights of the working man, the masses are spontaneously striving toward a democratic system, toward social equality. But often they do not see practical ways toward a new, truly democratic life. Over many working people hang illusions of bourgeois democracy, particularly strong in the countries of Western Europe and in the U. S. A. Many workers are seeking some easy way to socialism, without the struggle and collision of classes, without a radical break-up of a customary way of life. Ideologists of reformism take advantage of all this and slip in their theories which retard the development of class consciousness of the working people.

We also have to keep in mind that during recent decades, the social composition of many social-democratic parties has considerably changed. There are fewer and fewer workers in their ranks and more and more people from small-bourgeois strata, white collar workers and bourgeois intellectuals; thus, in the French Socialist Party the workers make up no more than a quarter of membership.

But the main point is that reformist theories enjoy the support of the ruling classes. Bourgeoisie is not frightened by these theories. Often it even readily allows their propaganda; it praises them on the pages of its press, while communists are subjected to badgering and persecutions for their opinions. The ruling classes are not afraid to let ideologists of reformism to hold government positions, while they drive communists from there at the first opportunity. Moreover, in some places, bourgeoisie allows social-democrats to carry out their "socialist" experiments, which do not involve the foundations of its class domination, and in some cases, they even strengthen them, supporting reformist illusions among the masses at the same time.

In order to overcome the reformist ideology, a repetition of our own slogans alone is not enough; methods of patient persuasion and friendly exchange of opinions are needed. A didactical tone, intolerant of any objections, and a supercilious and, moreover, a scornful attitude toward convictions of a social-democratic worker are inadmissible in this work. A debate with socialists should have a character of an actual struggle of opinions, and not of an exchange of name-calling.

While working among the masses of social democratic workers, communists expose the error of reformist theories ("democratic socialism," etc.), contrasting to it a scientific socialism of MARK-LENIN which won world-wide historical victories. By means of open discussions in the press and in conversations with socialist workers, communists may dissipate their anti-communist prejudices and demonstrate that principles of Marxism-Leninism coincide with the vital interests of the working people.

In exposing the real servants of imperialist bourgeoisie, communists are ready to cooperate with any one in the ranks of the Social-democratic movement who sincerely strives to end with capitalism and wants to fight for the improvement of the situation of the working people, for peace, democracy, and socialism.

4. A Policy of Democratic Unity

Communist parties are fighting not only for the united labor front; they are striving for a unification of the broader strata of the people. The labor unity should serve as a foundation for the unity of a broad democratic movement.

Never in the past were there such favorable prerequisites for the joint actions of the working class with the most varied strata of the population. In the present state of the general crisis of capitalism, as has been pointed out in Chapter 10, a conflict between a narrow group of monopolies and the remaining classes and strata of the population is becoming increasingly more revealed side by side with the basic class antagonism between labor and capital. The further goes the oppression by monopoly capital and a subjection of the state to it, the broader and more diversified are the forces which it turns against itself. Monopoly capital is carrying out an attack against the interests not only of workers and peasants but also against interests of the middle strata of the population and even against certain sections of bourgeoisie. Not only the direct interests of all these strata but likewise the most important national interests are under this threat. Republicans, patriots, pacifists - all those who remain true to the traditions of democracy and national freedom - experience serious concern in connection with the growing tendencies toward a reactionary dictatorship of monopolies and the growth of danger of a new war.

Thus, a common interest is revealed among different social strata which may serve as an objective foundation for their joint actions against the dominance of monopoly capital. At the same time, the situation often develops in such a way that social forces which in the past preferred to act separately, find themselves facing an objective necessity for uniting for the defense of common interests of the people.

A Marxist-Leninist party of the working class is called upon to be a vanguard of such democratic unity. As standard-bearers of the struggle for peace and democracy, communist parties in capitalist countries are striving to march in the front ranks of the common national front against reactionary policy of monopoly capital and imperialism.

Q Q

A policy of communist parties directed toward the establishment of the unity of actions and collaboration with all the national and democratic forces is a policy of democratic unity; democratic, because unification of all the strata of the people takes place, first of all, around the democratic demands and slogans. This, of course, does not mean that a foundation for a broad unity of the people disappears after the solution of democratic problems. As we have already seen, socialist reforming of society in our era corresponds to the vital interests of increasingly broader strata of the population. Therefore, a policy of democratic unity also has as its purpose the drawing of these strata into a solution of socialist problems. However, the road toward this lies through organization of the struggle of the masses for a general democratic demands and material interests of the working people.

During the postwar period, a broad experience of joint action by various strata of the population on the platform of democratic demand has been accumulated. The most vivid example is a universal movement in defense of peace. International drive for the ban of atomic bombs, for the termination of tests of thermonuclear weapons, is a clear testimony to the fact that achievement of cooperation between the most varied social trends and organizations, including those remote from communism, is entirely possible.

In colonial and dependent countries, communists fight for the establishment of a broad anti-imperialist and antifeudal front.

What is required of the workers' party. When objective conditions for a unification of various strata of the population against the oppression of monopolies are being developed, the emphasis is placed on the activities of the revolutionary party of the working class itself, on its skill in finding a common language with different political and social organizations and movements. The fighting and organizational unity of the people's forces cannot be developed spontaneously, by itself.

We have to take into consideration that it is a very complicated matter to establish cooperation between heterogeneous social forces many of which are remote from communism and others directly infected with anticommunism. Here we come across intrigues of reaction, the vacillation of bourgeois and small-bourgeois groups, their attempts to subordinate the entire movement exclusively to their own interests.

Experience of different countries demonstrated that the following factors have the highest significance for the achievement of unity of actions of the democratic forces:

A strong and united labor movement is the chief guarantee of achieving of such a unity of actions. Not all who fight today for peace and democracy are allies of the working class in the exact meaning of the word. They take part in the struggle for peace and democracy but, when it is a matter of permanent collaboration with the communists, they reveal vacillation and easily succumb to the influence of official propaganda.

In order to establish the unity of actions with this sort of social forces, propaganda and agitation alone are not enough. First of all, it is necessary that the labor movement itself would be strong and organized, that it would inspire all the national and democratic strata with the faith in the ultimate victory of the people. Secondly, the working class can win the confidence and support of other classes and strata only when it will defend their legitimate and just interests as its own.

The party of the working class has many ways of doing this. It is carrying on the struggle in parliament for reforms and concessions in favor of peasants, handicraftsmen, artisans, and middle business men. It attentively studies the demands brought out by peasant, radical, republican and other democratic parties and supports in every possible way those in line with the interests of the working people.

The party supports proposals of any peasant, democratic, or pacifist leader if they are in harmony with the expectations of the working masses and are directed toward improvement of their situation.

The strengthening of fraternal relations with all the working people, the winning among them of a reputation of the most consistent and vigorous defender of their interests - here is a guarantee of victory of the working class in the struggle against the domination of reactionary bourgeoisie.

Correct choice of a platform for collaboration.

The revolutionary party of the working class cannot demand from its potential allies that they collaborate with it solely on its own conditions. Without for a moment losing from view specific interests and needs of the working class and striving for their satisfaction in every way, the party at the same time is striving to formulate the common demands acceptable to its potential allies. Inasmuch as other social forces are likewise interested in the struggle against the oppression of monopolies, it is comparatively easy to discover common demands. But even in this case, as experience shows, it is impossible to reach an agreement at once on all the points. The platform for unity of actions is worked out gradually, beginning with particular problems. This permits the collaborating parties to become mutually convinced of the sincerity of intentions and to develop trust in each other. And the trust is a highly indispensable element, without which no united front can be strong.

A skill to make compromises and to make necessary concessions is an important condition for a labor party wishing to organize the cooperation of heterogeneous class forces. V. I. LENIN considered such a skill an absolute necessity for a class-conscious vanguard of the working class. Without this, said he, it is impossible to conclude an alliance either with the individual groups of working people, or with the middle strata inevitably showing vacillation and inconsistency. "Those who had not understood this," wrote LENIN, "had not understood one iota of Marxism and of the modern scientific socialism generally."

Not retreating from its principles arising from Marxist ideology, the revolutionary party of the working class at the same time displays flexibility and takes into consideration legitimate interests of other social and political forces united in a bloc. It is important, however, taught LENIN, that compromises and concessions would lead not toward the lowering, but toward raising of the general level of class-consciousness of the advanced part of the working class and of its ability to fight and win.

How does it look in actual fact? For instance, one of the most important principles of socialism, bound with the very essence of the new social system replacing capitalism, proclaims: a private capitalist industry should be nationalized. In practice, this principle may be, however, realized by various methods. Although a victorious working class has a legitimate right to take away from capitalists their property gained by exploitation, valuing the services of certain bourgeois strata, who participated in the antimonopoly struggle, it may make concessions to them. After victory of the revolution, it may preserve the property of middle bourgeoisie in its hands. A people's state can even render aid to it (through credits, raw materials, tax privileges, or by providing a guaranteed market). But when, in the future, a question will arise on a completion of nationalization in the entire national economy, the State may carry it out peacefully, gradually, taking into consideration legitimate interests of the owners; for example, by means of redemption, i.e., by providing a certain compensation for them.

This example confirms once more that communists act sincerely when coming out with a proposal on collaboration. They do not give unrealistic promises but bring out in the program of a united front only that which the working class can actually guarantee to its allies after the victory. Their concessions and compromises have a deep foundation and agree with the way communists visualize to themselves a possibility of building of socialism in collaboration with their allies in the democratic front. Such a communist line is very important to the success of a policy of democratic unity.

In showing political flexibility, communist parties put up at the same time a vigorous opposition to revisionist elements who are ready to make unprincipled deals, a result of which could be a dissolution of communist parties in the general national movements, a loss by them of their independence and finally, the weakening of the unity of democratic forces.

On reaching political agreement, the working party inevitably strives to consolidate it organizationally. A united front becomes a powerful force only in case when the allies do not limit themselves to the declaration of community of aims but necessarily agree on creation of a united organization (in the form of a Home Front, Front of National-Democratic Unity, etc.) and on mutual actions within the framework of this organization. This means a formation of a coordinating organ, where a united policy is worked out jointly, as well as a firm understanding that collaborating sides submit to jointly adopted resolutions. All this, of course, does not mean the abolition of organizational and political independence of the parties and movements belonging to the united front.

The vanguard role of a Marxist party of the working class in the democratic bloc is achieved by it as a result of its active and selfless struggle, of the rightness of its political line, its skill in correctly evaluating a situation every time and bringing out slogans instantly adopted by the masses. In short, the guiding influence of the workers' party is a result of its own political activity and not of some pressure or dictate. When the party is carrying out the right policy, when the entire people is listening to its voice and its authority grows by the hour, other political parties and groups themselves recognize its guiding influence and hand over to it the decisive voice in the working out of a policy of a united front.

The experience of people's democracies demonstrated that victory of the democratic bloc does not exclude the attempts by the right wing of bourgeois parties to push the workers' party away from leadership, so as to hinder the carrying out of urgent social reforms. But the same experience shows that, after winning sympathy and support of the basic mass of membership of bourgeois-democratic parties, a Marxist workers' party succeeds in isolating their right-wing leaders, in consolidating the unity of the democratic bloc and beginning the movement along the road of radical social reforms.

The leading role of a Marxist party in a democratic blocc does not mean at all that it can dictate and command. Even when it has a majority, it avoids forcing through its decisions, but strives for their unanimous adoption through explanation and persuasion. If the party used methods of dictatorship, without considering legitimate interests of its allies, it would run the risk of losing them, finding itself alone and thus failing to reach the goals of the democratic bloc. Communists are interested not in making a temporary use of their partners in the democratic bloc and then discarding them, as reactionary propaganda insists. On the contrary, they wish to continue a further marching together, toward a true solution of all the democratic problems, toward the best satisfaction of the just demands of the broadest strata of the people, which is possible only under socialism. A method of persuasion is the principal method of party work within the bloc, which, however, does not eliminate the right to criticize the vacillations and inconsistencies of the partners, as well as to carry on a decisive struggle against the open enemies of unity, active in their ranks.

At the same time, communists do not take a secret of the fact that not all the demands of small-bourgeois strata of the population are supported by them. The working class may have common interests with these strata, but it also has conflicts. Communist parties take this into consideration in advance and when necessary they firmly state their position with regard to particular demands unacceptable to the working class. Unity is achieved not through endless concessions but through a resolute support of the just demands of the allies of the working class and, at the same time, by the struggle against vacillation of a certain part of them, dangerous to the common goals of the people's united front.

The carrying out of a policy of the democratic unity is impossible without a decisive struggle against sectarianism and right-wing opportunism. In a period of establishment of a broad front, a particular danger is represented by the left-wing sectarian elements, for through their unwillingness to consider the legitimate interests of other strata of the population, they alienate potential allies from the working class. But when a united front becomes fact, right-wing opportunism may become a particular danger, since it completely surrenders to the demands of bourgeois allies, weakens the independent position of the revolutionary party of the working class, and slides down to positions of bourgeois nationalism.

Difficulties encountered in the carrying out of a policy of the democratic unity are particularly great in the countries of Eastern Europe, where anticommunist prejudices are still strong, where the working class has to deal with such an experienced and cunning enemy as East European bourgeoisie. Communists are opposed in these countries by numerous and resourceful bourgeois parties experienced in deceiving the masses by the most "democratic" and "peace-loving" phrases. Nevertheless, communist parties are stubbornly working on the forging of a powerful national democratic front against capitalist monopolies, which will bar the road to fascism and war and will open the road to a further social progress.

3. Unification of the Democratic Forces is the Most Important Condition for Victory over Reaction and Fascism.

Contrary to all the wishes and calculations of reaction, its attempts to limit or liquidate democracy brought to life powerful opposing forces. It is precisely because the infringement on democracy involves interests of the most diverse classes and strata of the population, an objective possibility appears for an establishment in capitalist countries of a broad front of the struggle for democracy.

The broadening of the social base of the democratic movement. The most important reserve for the growth of the democratic movement is a small bourgeoisie. In noting the duality of position of the small bourgeoisie, V. I. LENIN wrote: "Marxism teaches us that small-bourgeois masses will inevitably suffer from antidemocratic privileges as long as capitalism exists....suffer from economic oppression."

Monopoly capital strangles and ruins small bourgeoisie in the city as well as in the country, generating in it a feeling of bitterness and protest. But indignation of a small bourgeois, because of his dual nature, may be utilized by reaction in its own aims. It strives to awaken in a bourgeois instincts of a small property owner, to spread illusions and hopes for restoration of his prosperity as a property owner.

Fascism has shown that monopoly oligue can in certain conditions attract small bourgeoisie and utilize it for reprisals against democracy. It was thus in Italy and Germany. But fascism also proved to be a bitter lesson for small bourgeoisie deceived by it.

In a contemporary situation, actual conditions facilitate for the working class and communist parties the struggle for attracting small bourgeoisie into the ranks of the democratic movement.

The attitude toward democracy and its future destiny likewise has been substantially changed within the capitalist class itself. Monopoly circles and their accomplices see in democracy a survival of the past and an obnoxious burden; they strive to end up with democracy which, even in its bourgeois forms, hinders their striving toward unlimited domination in society. However, another part of bourgeoisie is not in the least interested in the establishment of the autocracy of monopolies which bodes it nothing good.

Monopoly capital develops not only at the expense of a merciless exploitation of the working class, peasants and small city bourgeoisie, but likewise, at the expense of absorption or liquidation of a huge number of small and middle capitalist enterprises.

In speaking of the situation in which their owners find themselves in the era of monopoly capital, LENIN points out: "We already see before us not a competitive struggle between the small and the large, technically backward and technically progressive enterprises. Before us is the strangulation by monopolists of those who do not submit to monopoly, its oppression, and its arbitrariness."

The attack of monopolies against the middle strata of the bourgeoisie is accompanied by the intensification of a political oppression. Capitalist reality provides many examples of the violation of rights and interests of the middle bourgeoisie, and of persecution of organizations, parties and the press which defend them.

We have to add to this that a portion of the bourgeoisie objects to an excessively sharp limitation of the democratic rights and freedoms, for it is afraid to cause the sharpening of a class struggle, fraught with great social upheavals.

The dominant class is compelled also to take into consideration the experience of fascist dictatorships in Germany and Italy which demonstrated that the unrestricted domination of extreme reactionary groups of monopolistic bourgeoisie threatens the deep split within the imperialist camp and brings out all over the world an irresistible upswing of antifascist movement. That is why the more sober bourgeois leaders appeal for "moderation," arguing, that from the point of view of class interests of the bourgeoisie as a whole, parliamentary-democratic methods of government are more "reliable" than openly fascist ones.

A stratification in a bourgeois camp broadens the possibilities for a unification of the wide strata of the people for defense of democracy.

The struggle of the working class for a unification of all the democratic forces. As in other general democratic movements, the working class is called upon to play the leading, the vanguard, role in the struggle for democracy. This ensues from the fact that out of all classes of bourgeois society, proletariat, by its very nature, is a class striving for the most profound and consistent democracy, and, at the same time, the most courageous and organized class, capable of leading the resistance to the intrigues of reaction. In showing to all other classes and strata an example of consistency and high principles in the struggle for democracy, the working class secures in this way for itself the role of a leader in this struggle, in which it is ready to go further than others do. "The hegemony of the working class," wrote LENIN, "is a political influence of it (and of its representatives) upon other elements of the population in the sense of purification of their democracy (when there is a democracy) from nondemocratic admixtures...."

Communist parties of capitalist countries are carrying on an unceasing work of unification of the broadest strata of the people for defense of democracy.

In marking the ferocity of an attack of the bourgeoisie against the democratic achievements of Italian people, General

Secretary of the Italian Communist Party, PALMIRO TOLLIATTI, in a speech at the 8th Congress of the ICP in December of 1956, pointed out: "We know how stubbornly classes and parties now in power are resisting progress, and we do not exclude a possibility of attempts at reactionary revolutions on their part. But, taking such a possibility into consideration, we draw a conclusion on the necessity for halting still firmer in our hands the banner of democratic progress, the defense of freedom, not only in our interests, but also in the interests of all the strata of the people, of the entire Italian society."

The French Communist Party is carrying on a strenuous struggle in defense of democracy in conditions of a great activation of reactionary forces. It vigorously unmasks hypocrisy and lies of bourgeois propaganda, asserting that, allegedly, the troubles of France are caused by the "crisis of democracy." The Plenum of the Central Committee of the PCF which was held in June of 1958, after formation of the cabinet of DE GAULLE, stated: "The cause of troubles besetting France is not democracy or parliamentary system but, on the contrary, a constant violation of the will of voters and of the principles of the parliamentary system by means of anticommunism.... A means for the overcoming of disorder and helplessness of the government lies not in throwing the democracy overboard, but, on the contrary, in securing its normal functioning...."

The Plenum appealed for a creation of a broad anti-fascist front of the struggle against reaction. "A guarantee of victory in this struggle," said the resolution of the Plenum, "is a unity of the working class founded upon unity of communists and socialists, upon the unification around the working class of all the democratic and national forces."

The task of a unification of the democratic forces is acute in all the capitalist countries - in the USA, England, France and Belgium, Federal German Republic and Italy, etc. In all these countries, communists come out in the front ranks of fighters for democracy.

Representatives of the communist parties of Italy, France and other capitalist countries who spoke at the 21st Congress of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, devoted great attention to the tasks of the struggle for democracy and for a unification of all the democratic forces. They pointed out that a new broad offensive of the forces of reaction is ripening in Western Europe. Numerous facts testify that the dominant bourgeoisie increasingly often bourgeois-democratic methods of government and changes over to the methods of a semi-fascist or even an openly fascist type.

It was stated in a speech of comrade N. S. KHRUSHCHEV at the 21st Congress: "In conception of millions of people, fascism is usually connected with the names of HITLER and MUSSOLINI. However, it cannot be excluded that fascism may be reborn in other forms and not in the former ones already discredited in the eyes of the peoples.

"Now, when a mighty camp of socialism exists, when the labor movement has a great experience of the struggle against reaction, when organization of the working class has risen, the peoples have more possibilities for barring the road to fascism. It is possible and necessary to unite the broadest strata of the people, all the democratic, truly national forces, against fascism."

My memorandum 12/9/59 advised that while CG 5824-S was in Prague, Czechoslovakia, November, 1959, he entered into a tentative agreement with Gustav Soucek of the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia to send a Communist Party, USA (CPUSA) representative to Czechoslovakia following the CPUSA 17th National Convention for purpose of establishing contact between these CPs.

New York by airtel 12/11/59 advised that informant discussed this matter with Eugene Dennis, chairman of the CPUSA, and that Dennis did not commit himself regarding the above proposal. In view of Dennis' present heart condition, informant will obtain the consent of Gus Hall, general secretary of the CPUSA, to send our second top informant, NY 694-S, on this mission. It was informant's opinion that necessary steps be taken to prepare NY 694-S to make this trip. He noted that time is of the essence inasmuch as this trip would probably be between Christmas and New Years. CG 5824-S feels that this trip will establish a courier system between the CPUSA and the CPs of China and Czechoslovakia and the Bureau will be in the position to have control over this courier system. It is quite possible that NY 694-S will also go to Moscow to deliver documents from the 17th National Convention. CG 5824-S feels that NY 694-S should make this trip under an assumed identity inasmuch as certain leaders of the CPUSA are aware that NY 694-S was involved in the past with the United States State Department in passport irregularities. This informant obtained a passport on 6/11/32 fraudulently under the name John William Fox. In addition, in view of the clandestine nature of this mission, the CPs of the United States, China, Czechoslovakia, and Soviet Union, would feel more secure if NY 694-S used an assumed identity.

In order to establish an assumed identity for informant, New York has forwarded necessary forms which will enable the FBI Laboratory to prepare a New York State operator's license and an Illinois birth certificate both in the name of "Jack Brooks" which will be the assumed identity of informant.

New York recommends that in perfecting this arrangement the address of [redacted] the brother of SA [redacted] in New York, be listed as informant's address. He will not be given any information concerning the purpose of this arrangement nor the true identity of "Jack Brooks." If questioned, [redacted] will identify "Brooks" as a relative who is a traveling salesman working the New York area. A bank account will be established for informant under the assumed name with $3,000 of the Solo funds at the Chemical Bank-New York Trust Company, New York City, where George Burlinson is assistant vice president. This account can be used by informant in obtaining credit cards to further legitimize his new identity. Burlinson will issue instructions to bank employees that inquiries concerning this account should be answered that "Brooks" has an account and a good credit rating. In view of informant's possession of a New York operator's license, New York does not believe that informant will need a witness for identification in applying for his passport. However, in event one is needed, New York requests that an Agent of the New York Office be used as a witness and this Agent would not indicate his FBI employment.

OBSERVATIONS:

It would be to our advantage to have NY 694-S receive this assignment which will quite likely result in the establishment of a courier system between the CPs of Czechoslovakia and China. In effect, the Bureau will be in the position of controlling this apparatus and obtaining all information developed.

During informant's stay in China, Wang Chia-hsing, head of the International Liaison Department of the CP of China, offered the CPUSA $25,000 within two months and $100,000 within six months. The money is to be delivered in Prague with the proviso that the CPs of Czechoslovakia and the Soviet Union not be advised of this arrangement. We will attempt to prevent the delivery of this money by instructing our informant to point out to Eugene Dennis and/or Gus Hall that the Russians would be incensed if they learn of this arrangement and that sufficient funds are being received from the Soviet Union. Informant will be instructed to obtain permission to gracefully decline this money. It is believed that the CPUSA leaders will recognize the possibility of damaging its relations with the CP, Soviet Union, and will agree to informant's suggestion.

Our relations with Mr. Robert Johnson of the Passport Office of the Department of State are such that we will be able to assure that the passport application for informant in the name "Jack Brooks" will be issued promptly without risk to the informant. Through arrangements with Mr. Johnson in December, 1958, we obtained a passport for CG 5824-S in connection with his second Solo mission. On this request Johnson was merely advised that we were interested in seeing that this individual received a passport and there must be no indication in State Department files that the FBI had an interest in this individual.

Bufiles have been reviewed and contain no data which would preclude the use of the name "Jack Brooks" by informant.

Memorandum for Mr. Belmont
RE: SOLO

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That based on the documents furnished by the New York Office, the Laboratory prepare a New York State operator's license in the name "Jack Brooks" as well as an Illinois birth certificate in the same identity.

OK

(2) That New York Office be instructed to perfect the arrangements with [redacted] as set forth in the details of this memorandum and to advise the Bureau immediately upon informant's applying for his passport so that we can follow this matter closely with Mr. Johnson of the State Department to insure the informant receives his passport expeditiously and without endangering his security.

ACTION:

There is attached for your approval an appropriate communication to New York and Chicago in accordance with the above observations and recommendations.

The following information concerning the organizational structure of the Communist Party of China (CPC) was obtained as a result of our over-all coverage of the Communist Party (CP), USA.

The organizational structure of the CPC is similar to that of most communist parties and in particular to that of the CP of the Soviet Union (CPSU). The CPC has a chairman, a vice-chairman, a general secretary and a secretariat. The CPC also has a Standing Committee of the Political Bureau which committee is the most important body in the organizational structure of the CPC. The leadership of the CPC lays down basic policy by working through this Standing Committee of the Political Bureau. The secretariat carries out the orders or tasks of the Standing Committee and could be termed the executive branch of the leadership. The secretariat itself does not make policy. The secretariat is considered a training ground for membership in the Standing Committee and most of its members will be appointed to the Standing Committee of the Political Bureau in the future unless they make some serious error in the meantime.

In regard to the International Liaison Department of the Central Committee of the CPC, it appears that the breakdown is similar to but not identical with that of the CPSU. With the exception of Asia, the English speaking people are believed to come under one section of the

 to SA JOHN E. KEATING on 1/12/60:

MORRIS CHILDS went to the Willard Theater on Jamaica Avenue in Queens, NY, about 40 minutes before 7 p.m. on Tuesday evening, 1/12/60. Shortly prior to 7 p.m. CHILDS walked out of the theater, turned to the right and walked north on 96th Street. After walking more than one block and not seeing anyone, CHILDS reversed the direction in which he was walking. Almost immediately [redacted] was observed walking north on the opposite side of 96th Street. At the first intersection north of Jamaica Avenue, [redacted] turned left and crossed Woodhaven Blvd. When CHILDS caught up with him, [redacted] stated, there is no place to meet in this area so follow me. [redacted] and CHILDS then took the Jamaica BMT Line and got off at the Parsons Blvd. stop. They entered Constantine's Restaurant at 153-35 Hillside Avenue and ordered drinks and dinner.

AIRTEL TO BUREAU

Almost immediately, [] said, are you sure you were not followed as you left Chicago? CHILDS replied he used another name in traveling from Chicago to New York, that he had come into NYC by way of New Jersey and that he was certain that he had not been followed. Then BARKOVSKY stated, it looks like I will keep up connections with you. I will be in touch with you.

Next [] asked CHILDS, can you tell me something about the recent National Convention of the CP, USA? [] who does not make any notes, said that he did not want too many details, but did want CHILDS' interpretations of the convention. CHILDS replied that he could not only give him details of the convention, but also had with him copies of resolutions and other documents published as a result of the convention and that he had these items with him. [] asked, you didn't leave them in your overcoat did you? CHILDS replied that he had them with him on his person.

CHILDS told [] that the main speeches delivered at the convention are printed in the January issue of "Political Affairs" and that additional material in regard to the convention will appear in the February issue of "Political Affairs." Then a booklet containing the proceedings of the convention will be published. CHILDS stated that [] should not believe everything which appeared in the press about the new leadership of the CP, USA, and told [] that the leadership of the CP, USA, has been consolidated and is united. [] said that he does not believe everything he read in the newspapers about the leadership of the CP, USA. At the same time he stated that he thought that the CP, USA, had received a very good press during the convention, that is, the press objectively reported the events of the convention. [] also remarked that he had watched the televised interview of [] and that he thought that HALL did a good job in regard to this interview.

AIRTEL TO BUREAU

[] asked about the illness of EUGENE DENNIS. CHILDS told him about the current physical condition of DENNIS and then proceeded to tell [] that there were some points of disagreement at the National Convention of the CP, USA. CHILDS said that these involved:

1. The interpretation of whether or not the cold war has ended,
2. Whether or not to drop the theory of self-determination in regard to the Negro Question, and
3. Whether to adopt an entirely new constitution or to amend the old constitution and to what extent the concept of democratic centralism should be set out in the constitution.

CHILDS also explained that the entire National Committee had been elected by the convention and that he, CHILDS, was elected to the National Committee. CHILDS also explained that the districts were permitted to nominate persons as National Committee representatives from their districts and that some of those recommended by BEN DAVIS and his supporters as representatives from the New York District were defeated. As a result of this BEN DAVIS at first refused to serve as a national officer of the Party. While DAVIS finally consented, the lengthy argument prevented the election of the National Executive Committee at the first meeting of the National Committee. Thus the National Executive Committee will not be elected until the new National Committee meets some time in March, 1960

AIRTEL TO BUREAU

CHILDS said that he thought that it was a good convention, that the Party is planning to publish a daily paper once again and that the Party will do mass work. [] said, I suppose you will want money for a daily paper and CHILDS answered in the affirmative but said that a subcommittee is working on plans for a daily paper and the report of the subcommittee will not be ready until some time in March, 1960.

CHILDS then discussed the leadership problem in the New York District. He said that several in the National Office have agreed to a "package deal" which would include [] as Chairman, WILLIAM L. PATTERSON and [] as Vice-Chairmen, [] as Organization Secretary and [] as the Educational Director. CHILDS said that the National Office believes that there is a good possibility that the newly elected District Committee of the New York District will accept this "package deal." This would mean that BEN DAVIS would be confined to national work and that his influence in the New York District would greatly diminish. CHILDS also stated that several persons in the National Office are dissatisfied with JACK and [] SHULMAN and that even WILLIAM Z. FOSTER has recently indicated displeasure with SHULMAN. Thus SHULMAN may be relieved of his duties in the National Office and as FOSTER's personal secretary.

[] commented that he thought that it had been pretty generally agreed that the CP, USA, would drop the theory of self-determination in the black belt. He asked who at the convention disagreed with this. CHILDS replied that [] PAUL ROBESON, JR. and quietly BEN DAVIS were opposed to the dropping of this theory.

AIRTEL TO BUREAU

[] then asked if it would be correct to say that most of the resolutions adopted by the National Convention of the CP, USA, were accepted almost unanimously by the convention. CHILDS replied that it would be correct to say this and also to say that the CP, USA, emerged from the convention consolidated to a greater extent than it was prior to the convention.

[] also commented that the cold war is far from over. He said that many negotiations will have to be carried on. He stated that while the Soviet Union is prepared to negotiate, no one knows if the capitalist world will carry through the "spirit of Camp David."

On this CHILDS started to list some complaints. He again reminded [] that the CP, USA, wanted LOUIS WEINSTOCK to attend the Congress of the CP of Hungary in the Fall of 1959 but due to the lack of contact between the CP, USA, and the CPSU it was impossible to get word to WEINSTOCK in Europe in time for him to attend this congress as a representative of the CP, USA. CHILDS told [] that WILLIAM Z. FOSTER has charged that the leadership of the CP, USA, did not want to send any representative to the Congress of the CP of Hungary.

CHILDS also stated that ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG has some problem and has been trying to see CHILDS about this problem, but as yet CHILDS has not seen him and does not know what he wants. [] replied, we received a message from TRACHTENBERG in which he said, work through channels. [] asked, what does he mean, work through channels? CHILDS replied that TRACHTENBERG was indicating that he wants to maintain contact with the CPSU through CHILDS.

AIRTEL TO BUREAU

[] then stated that when TRACHTENBERG returned to the United States from the Soviet Union some money came through from Russia for TRACHTENBERG. [] said that he has not personally handled this matter and does not know how much money is involved. He stated that they were willing to deliver this money to TRACHTENBERG at his office but that TRACHTENBERG is worried about receiving it in this manner. [] commented, since TRACHTENBERG is worried, I guess we should be also. [] then asked if MORRIS and JACK CHILDS would be willing to handle this matter. When CHILDS replied that if [] wanted JACK and MORRIS CHILDS to handle this then they would, [] said that he would contact JACK CHILDS at the latter's office some afternoon between January 20th and January 24th. [] said that it would be up to MORRIS CHILDS, that is to the CP, USA, to turn over to TRACHTENBERG only so much money as TRACHTENBERG needs from the sum that will be delivered to JACK CHILDS.

CHILDS then complained that there are no provisions for an emergency meeting between himself or JACK CHILDS and []. [] replied, I was told to provide for that. [] then asked CHILDS to memorize the following telephone number: Endicott 2-7658. He said that in the event of a real emergency, a call can be placed to this number after 9 p.m. on the day prededing the day when a meeting is desired. If MORRIS CHILDS wants to see [] the meeting will take place the following evening at the Willard Theater at 7 p.m. in the same manner as this meeting on 1/12/60. If JACK CHILDS wants to see [] the meeting will take place at 7 p.m. on the following evening at the Towne House Restaurant. If MORRIS CHILDS wants to see [] the telephone message

AIRTEL TO BUREAU

will be that the caller will fix the refrigerator the following day. If JACK CHILDS wants to see [] the telephone message will be that the caller is an electrician and will look at the fuses on the following day.

With regard to regular contacts, [] stated, we will only make arrangements for one meeting in advance. Our next meeting will be on the second Wednesday in February. 10th The meeting will be at the Forest Hills Theater in Queens. The procedure will be the same as that for the meeting tonight. You will go to the theater about 40 minutes before 7 p.m. About 7 p.m. you will leave the theater and walk to the left and take a left at the first intersection. If for some reason the meeting does not occur on the second Wednesday in February, the alternate date will be the third Wednesday in February.

CHILDS asked if [] had an automobile and if so if he would use it in order to avoid so much walking. [] replied, we don't trust any automobiles including our own. They can be "bugged."

MORRIS CHILDS then told [] that JACK CHILDS is planning to go to Europe to see representative of the CP of Czechoslovakia and a representative of the CP of China, and that the CPSU has been previously informed of this. MORRIS CHILDS also stated that JACK CHILDS will carry with him additional material in regard to the National Convention of the CP, USA, and that it could be arranged for him to deliver this material in Moscow. MORRIS CHILDS said that JACK CHILDS would be making this trip "illegally." [] replied, this is good, but how do you manage it? MORRIS CHILDS replied that he and JACK CHILDS have been making preparations for such eventualities for 20 years and are just now using documents for which preparations had been made many years ago. [] asked if it takes long to obtain a passport. CHILDS replied that normally it does not. The only other question [] asked in this regard was the name which JACK CHILDS will use when he travels to Europe. [] said that he would provide Moscow with this name.

AIRTEL TO BUREAU

MORRIS CHILDS also stated that VICTOR PERLO wants to go to Russia and wants to deliver some lectures while there. He said that JACK CHILDS will probably carry with him the dates when PERLO would like to be in Russia. [] replied that he knew that PERLO wanted to go to Russia. MORRIS CHILDS also stated that JACK CHILDS may carry with him some books printed in the United States which may be of interest to the CPSU and that JACK CHILDS would probably leave the United States some time between January 20 and February 1, 1960.

MORRIS CHILDS also said that contacts of the CP, USA, with the CP's in Latin America are not good therefore JACK CHILDS will ask the CPSU in Moscow for any information it may have in regard to a previously proposed Western Hemispheric Conference. MORRIS CHILDS then complained that the money from the CPSU for the CP, USA, has been coming into the United States too slowly. [] replied, if our situation - that is arrangements for meetings between [] and MORRIS CHILDS are normalized - then you will not have to depend so much on Canada for the transmittal of funds. [] reminded CHILDS that the fact that money has recently been received through the Canadian channels indicates that the CPSU is carrying through on its promise of funds for the CP, USA.

CHILDS had the following documents in regard to the 17th National Convention of the CP, USA, in a package for delivery to []

The Trade Union resolution
The resolution on the Negro Question

AIRTEL TO BUREAU
NY 100-134637

The resolution on youth.
The resolution on women
The statement of aims and purposes
The resolution on Party organization
The resolution on Puerto Rico.

Also in this package was a typewritten list of members of the new National Committee of the CP, USA, and a copy of a nine page report on Puerto Rico scheduled to be delivered by JUAN SANTOS RIVERA to the Secretariat of the CP, USA, on 1/13/60. (A copy of this item will be furnished to the Bureau by separate communication on 1/13/60.)

[] suggested that CHILDS hand this package to him in the washroom of the restaurant, however, CHILDS suggested that they leave the restaurant together and CHILDS would pass the package to him outside of the restaurant. [] agreed to this suggestion. They walked to the Sutphin Blvd. Station of the subway and on the way to the station CHILDS passed the package to []. Both entered the same subway station and the same subway train. CHILDS got off at the Union Turnpike Station and [] stayed on the subway.

This meeting lasted from approximately 7 p.m. to 9:15 p.m.

Opinions of CG 5824-S*

It appears obvious that [] has received additional instructions from Moscow since the last meeting in November, 1959. It also appears obvious that the CPSU plans to carry through on all of its promises to the CP, USA, and that this operation is the only official contact between the CPSU and the CP, USA.

Re Bulet dated December 29, 1959, requesting that the Chicago Division submit a detailed accounting of the expenses of CG 5824-S* on the last trip abroad by January 8, 1960.

Re Chicago letter dated December 31, 1959, stating that this information would be submitted no later than January 15, 1960.

CG 5824-S* had difficulty locating some figures on expenses which were maintained by CG 5853-S, who is now so ill that she is semi-conscious or under sedation most of the time. Also, CG 5824-S* was busy in New York City in regard to captioned case during the week of January 10, 1960. Thus, it will not be possible to submit a detailed accounting on this date. Barring unforeseen developments in regard to [] this will be done during the week of January 17, 1960.

CG 5824-S* originally took $1,000 from the funds previously transmitted to the Communist Party - USA by the Soviet Union for his expenses. This had been authorized by EUGENE DENNIS. The Communist Party of China provided transportation for CG 5824-S* from Moscow to Peking, and from Peking to the United States. The Communist Party of China also provided transportation for [] from Moscow to Peking, and from Peking to Prague, Czechoslovakia. The Communist Party of the Soviet Union provided only housing and meals on this trip.

The detailed accounting will be submitted to the Bureau as soon as it can be worked out with CG 5824-S*.

New York by airtel 1-13-60 advised that at 7:00 p.m., 1-12-60, CG 5824-S and [redacted] counsel, Soviet delegation to the United Nations, held a previously scheduled meet in Queens, New York. They proceeded to Constantine's Restaurant, Hillside Avenue, New York City, where they held a lengthy discussion until 9:15 p.m.

[redacted] was quite interested in the 17th National Convention, Communist Party (CP), USA, and informant at [redacted]'s request discussed the proceedings at this convention in detail including the various resolutions adopted and the leadership elected. In addition, he furnished [redacted] information relating to the leadership problem in the New York State CP District. [redacted] was furnished by informant with copies of resolutions and other documents published as a result of the convention.

[redacted] commented that the cold war is far from over and many negotiations will have to be carried out. He stated that while the Soviet Union is prepared to negotiate, no one knows if the capitalist world will carry through the "spirit of Camp David."

Arrangements were perfected during this meet whereby CG 5824-S and NY 694-S will, in the future, not only receive money from the CP of the Soviet Union (CPSU) for the CPUSA but will receive money from the CPSU for delivery to Alexander Trachtenberg of International Publishers. [redacted] will contact NY 694-S at his New York City office between 1-20 and 1-24-60 to deliver money for Trachtenberg. [redacted] and CG 5824-S will make their next scheduled meet at the Forest Hills Theater, Queens, New York, 2-10-60, or in the alternative, 2-17-60. In addition, an arrangement was entered into enabling CG 5824-S or NY 694-S to contact [redacted] for an immediate meet in the event of an emergency.

CG 5824-S advised [redacted] that NY 694-S will leave the U.S. for Czechoslovakia between 1-20 and 2-1-60. [redacted] was pleased to learn that NY 694-S will travel illegally under an assumed name and [redacted] will furnish the assumed name to Moscow.

Although no money was delivered during this meet, [redacted] indicated that in the future, money will be delivered through meets between [redacted] and CG 5824-S or NY 694-S rather than through Canada. In addition, when informant advised [redacted] that the CP is planning to Solo is the code word utilized for the three missions to the Soviet Union, Red China and other Iron Curtain nations by CG 5824-S as the official representative of the Communist Party (CP), USA. My memoranda 12-14 and 17-59 advised that our second top informant, NY 694-S, would be utilized for a fourth Solo mission and would travel to Prague, Czechoslovakia, to establish contacts between the CPUSA and the Czechoslovakians and would contact the Red Chinese representatives to the "World Marxist Review" in Prague for the purpose of receiving funds promised to the CPUSA by the Red Chinese. The Red Chinese have indicated that they will furnish up to $100,000 to the CPUSA by April, 1960, with immediate delivery of $25,000. It is also quite possible that NY 694-S will travel to Moscow, Russia, to deliver documents to the Soviets from the 17th National Convention, CPUSA.

New York by airtel 1-14-60 advised that this informant will depart New York City 2-3-60 aboard the "Queen Mary" for France. He will arrive in Prague approximately 2-11-60.

With the approval of the Director, we furnished New York by letter dated 12-23-59 specific target assignments for the informant to accomplish on this mission. These assignments have been thoroughly discussed with informant. In addition, with the Director's approval, we have established an assumed identity for the informant which should serve to enhance his security. The exact duration of the informant's stay abroad is not known at this time and will, of course, depend on the circumstances in Czechoslovakia and whether he will continue on to Moscow.

OBSERVATIONS:

We are in the fortunate position today of having both of our top informants engaged in the Solo operations. This will likely result in more frequent trips abroad and in our obtaining very important information on the international level on a more current basis.

Re Chicago letter dated November 20, 1959, containing a report from CG 5824-S* which sets forth information primarily concerning FRANK and [] COE and VICTOR PERLO.

"In regard to VICTOR PERLO, TANG Ming-chao and COE stated that some of the material PERLO has prepared is of no value to them. Yet, if he has worked up something of value in regard to economic matters in the United States, they would like to have it. Also, he should be the one to give guidance to the kind of material they receive in the economic field. They would prefer more statistical material. For example, PERLO should study Congressional hearings and give them the bare facts or direct them to some official Government or other documents dealing with economics and which would give them the bare facts.....

"During this discussion with COE, CHILDS arranged, with the permission of the Communist Party of China, for COE to send written communications to CHILDS at a post office box in Chicago."

On January 18, 1960, SA JOHN E. KEATING received a letter in a Chicago post office box, the number of which had previously been furnished to CG 5824-S* by the Chicago Division and in turn CG 5824-S* had furnished it to the representatives of the Communist Party of China. The letter is dated December 23, 1959, is addressed "Dear Sunny", and is signed "Nancy". CG 5824-S* advised that the name NANCY probably has no significance, although it is noted that TANG Ming-chao has a daughter

Dear Sunny,

I would like to receive by air mail as soon as you can send them the following recent reports:

1. Reports prepared for the U.S. Senate Foreign Relations Committee (Senator Fulbright, Chairman) by various private organizations under contract. Those I have noticed are reports by the Conlon Associates of San Francisco, the University of Pennsylvania (Institute of International Affairs), the (New York) Council on Foreign Relations, the Princeton Center of International Affairs, the Stanford Research Institute(?) and John Hopkins University. I understand there are also some by Harvard, Yale, M.I.T., Michigan State University, etc. There may be others, which should also be sent.

These reports (which have been noted on the press) are presumably being published by the Senate Committee and are available from it or the U.S. Government Printing Office, or perhaps from the organizations which did the work.

2. The fourth (December, 1959) report of the Rockefeller Brothers Fund on U.S. policy. This is on sale at book stores, etc.

3. 1959-60 Policy Declaration on World Affairs published by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, pamphlets under the general title "Decisions for a Better America" prepared by the Republican Committee on Programme and Progress, pamphlets under the title "Programmes for Action" prepared by the Democratic Party Advisory Council, "Republic of China", a pamphlet prepared by the State Department.

In the near future, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee will publish other reports on foreign policy prepared for it by outside agencies. These and whatever other publications on the subject of U.S. foreign policy I too would like to get by air mail.

With Best Regards,

Sincerely yours

Nancy

Re NY letter 12/3/59 and NY airtel 1/13/60 entitled, "SOLO; IS-C".

Referenced letter reflected that the NYO had established a pattern of activities through fisurs concerning subject and would continue to maintain discreet periodic fisurs of subject with the exception that no fisurs would be conducted one week prior or subsequent to scheduled meets with highly placed confidential informants.

Referenced airtel reflected subject engaged in a meet with a highly confidential informant in the NYC area on 1/13/60 and that additional meets probably will be made on a continuing basis.

In view of scheduled meets during the remainder of January, and February 1960 and as subject has not been under surveillance for several weeks, it would appear that subject is not suspicious of FBI activity or the lack thereof. It is recommended that no fisur of subject be conducted until at least the latter part of February, 1960, at which time the matter will be given further consideration.

The above is furnished for information and no fisur of subject will be conducted, UACB.

| 8 bundles of 100 - $20.00 bills | 16,000.00 |

| Estimated amount received: | $72,885.00 |

Informant advised that the odd bundle mentioned above was the "dirtiest" and oldest money he had ever seen. The bills were covered with what appears to be soil, some of them contained a gold seal, and some of them contained the stamp, "Hawaii."

In view of the fact that there is a security risk involved in the informant's transporting this money and furnishing it to an agent, and since the checking of the serial numbers against listed serial numbers maintained by this office has not been productive, UACB, the informant will be instructed to merely furnish us with the total amount of money he received, breaking it down according to denominations, but will not be required to physically furnish the money to us for perusal and recording of serial numbers.

SYNOPSIS:

Solo is the code name for the operation involving CP 5824-S as the official liaison representative between the Communist Party (CP), USA, and top-level leaders of the CPs of the Soviet Union, Red China and other Iron Curtain nations.

Chicago by letter 12-3-59 recommends incentive awards to SAs John E. Keating and Carl N. Freyman in the amount of $1,000 each and incentive award to Stenographer [redacted] in the amount of $150 based on their outstanding performances in connection with the completion of Solo missions Number 2 and 3. In addition, Chicago suggests that informant be given a bonus payment of $1,000 and a personal letter from the Director in appreciation of his services and sacrifices.

In connection with Solo Number 2, informant attended the 21st Congress, CP of the Soviet Union (CPSU) in January and February, 1959, as the official representative of the CPUSA. He conferred with high-ranking officials of the Soviet Union as well as officials of other CPs and obtained valuable information of an intelligence nature including the Russian attitude toward the Berlin situation as well as the Soviet-Union's attitude toward other CPs.

The most recent Solo mission was an outstanding success. Informant met with the top leaders of the CP of China including Liu Shao-chi, president of Red China, and Mao Tse-tung, head of the CP of China; with leading functionaries of the CPSU including members of the Presidium and Central Committee as well as leading functionaries of Latin American CPs and of the CPs of Czechoslovakia, Spain and Japan. Informant successfully re-established direct contact in the U.S. with the Soviets which will be used for transmittal of funds and communications and developed information that Soviets will furnish $200,000 to the CPUSA for 1960. He made arrangements for future contacts with the CPs of Czechoslovakia in Prague, Czechoslovakia, and the possible transmittal of $100,000 to the CPUSA from the CP of China. He developed information concerning the type of reception the President can expect in Russia and through his discussions with Liu Shao-chi and other top Chinese officials, he developed valuable intelligence information regarding Chinese foreign policy, its attitude toward Soviet Russia, the differences existing between China and the Soviet Union and China's attitude toward membership in the United Nations. As a result of informant's contacts with leading functionaries of the CPs of Latin American nations as well as leading CP functionaries of Spain and Japan, informant developed excellent intelligence information concerning the activities of these CPs such as the extensive infiltration by Cuban communists into the Cuban Cabinet and Armed Forces, the pact existing between CP of Argentina and the Peronists and successfully established methods for maintaining future contacts with these CPs, thus assuring the Bureau of a flow of important intelligence information in the future.

OBSERVATIONS:

1. The outstanding information developed as a result of Solo mission Number 3 is due to a large extent to the excellent and careful planning of this operation both in the field and at the Seat of Government. Prior to informant's departure on this mission, the Seat of Government prepared with the Director's approval specific targets for the informant to accomplish which resulted in our obtaining this outstanding and specific information.
2. This information is of inestimable value to the Bureau and the Government not only from an intelligence standpoint but of considerable aid to the President and the Secretary of State in our country's dealings with other nations, particularly the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, Japan and Latin American nations. This information would not be available through any other source and certainly represents the most outstanding achievement in the Bureau's internal security field. The information included such matters as the current thinking of Russia and Red China, our most powerful potential enemies, Czechoslovakian activities in the U.S., the campaign initiated by the CP of Japan against renewal of the security treaty between the U.S. and Japan and CP activities in Spain, Cuba and Argentina.
3. It is quite important to note that informant was able to establish future contacts with the CPs in numerous Latin American and European countries as well as Red China which should assure our receiving valuable information in the future concerning these CPs.

4. The information developed during this Solo operation has been disseminated with the Director's approval to the Vice President, the White House, the Secretary of State, the Director of Central Intelligence Agency and the Attorney General under a "~~Top Secret~~" classification.

5. The outstanding success of this operation and our ability to disseminate information of this type to high-level Government officials without any delay certainly enhances the Bureau's reputation as the outstanding intelligence agency in the world.

RECOMMENDATIONS BY SAC, CHICAGO:

Recommendations deleted in Personnel -
See Original.

The Solo operation pertains to liaison activities of CG 5824-S between the Communist Party (CP), USA, and the CPs of the Soviet Union, Red China and other Iron Curtain nations. Informant was in the Soviet Union during January and February, 1959, in connection with the 21st Congress of the CPSU. While in Russia he conferred with many top-ranking Soviet functionaries including members of the Presidium and the Central Committee of the CPSU and obtained such pertinent information as the Russian attitude toward Berlin.

In connection with the most recent phase of this operation, the informant returned to the U.S. on 11-11-59 following a seven-week stay in Russia and Red China. Upon his return, informant was exhaustively interviewed by the Chicago Office and the results furnished to the Bureau. This information has been carefully analyzed by the Bureau and disseminated under a "Top Secret" classification to high-ranking Government officials. While the information obtained during Solo missions 1 and 2 was extremely valuable, the information developed during the most recent operation was outstanding and of inestimable value to the Bureau and the U.S. Government not only from an intelligence standpoint but of a considerable aid to the President and the Secretary of State in our nation's dealings with other countries, particularly the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, Japan and Latin American countries. The tremendous success of Solo trip number 3 is due to a large measure to the Bureau's decision to prepare specific targets or missions for the informant to accomplish during his trip to the Soviet Union and Red China. A detailed study of this matter was made by appropriate sections within the Domestic Intelligence Division under the coordination of the Internal Security Section. The final objectives were approved by the Director and forwarded to Chicago by letter dated 7-29-59 so that the informant could be properly briefed in advance. The objectives which included matters relating to the CPUSA as well as matters relating to international affairs were followed closely by the informant and resulted in our obtaining the specific valuable information furnished by informant.

Immediately prior to the scheduled departure of informant for Solo number 3, his wife who has suffered from incurable cancer for some time worsened and informant was naturally reluctant to travel for an extended period of time without her. This problem was resolved by the Bureau through the preparation of a suitable birth certificate for informant's wife and through arrangements which enabled her to receive a passport almost immediately. b7D

During Solo mission number 3, informant developed specific and detailed information concerning activities and plans of CPs in a number of countries. He met and had intimate discussions with such top-level communist leaders as Liu Shao-chia, president of Red China; Tang Ming-chao of the International Liaison Department, Central Committee, CP of China; Wang Chia-hsiang, head of the International Department, CP of China; Mao Tse-tung, head of the CP of China; Li Fu-chun, vice-chairman of China; Otto Kuusinen of the Presidium of the CPSU; Boris Ponomarev, head of the International Department, CPSU; Mikhail Suslov, member of the Presidium, CPSU; and Nikolai Mostovets, head of the North and South American Sections, International Department, CPSU. In addition, informant had personal contact with Harry Pollitt, chairman, CP of Great Britain; Luiz Carlos Prestes, CP of Brazil; Apostolos Grozos, chairman of CP of Greece; Khaled Bakdash, leader of the CP of Syria; Tzvi Breitste of the CP of Israel; George Pirinsky of the CP of Bulgaria; Dolores Ibarruri, secretary general of the CP of Spain; and Anibal Escalante, secretary of the CP of Cuba; Victorio Codovilla of the CP of Argentina; and Gustav Soucek, head of the International Department of the Central Committee of the CP of Czechoslovakia.

The following are some of the specific results of Solo number 3:

1. Informant established himself as the CP's international contact with the CPSU, Chinese CP and other CPs of the world and established means of contact with many CPs for communication purposes.
2. Informant re-established direct contact in the U.S. between Soviets and the CPUSA for transmittal of communications and funds which contact had been discontinued earlier by the Soviets. A contact was made as a result of this arrangement on 11-25-59.

Memorandum to Mr. Belmont
100-428091

3. The informant has completed preliminary steps for an apparatus for direct contacts with the CP of China at Prague, Czechoslovakia, and for direct contact between the CP of China and the CPUSA for funds. This apparatus is under consideration by the CPUSA and will possibly involve our second top informant, NY 694-S, if the CPUSA contact apparatus is to be in Prague.

4. Informant determined that the Soviet Union will furnish $200,000 to the CPUSA for 1960 and that the CP of China has offered to furnish $100,000 to the CPUSA within the next six months.

5. As a result of lengthy discussions with top-ranking Chinese officials, informant developed information which should be of assistance to the President during his trip to Southern Europe and Southeast Asia.

6. He determined through his visit to China and the Soviet Union the Chinese attitude toward the Soviets and circumstances indicating that there are definite differences between these countries as they relate to foreign policies and internal affairs. He was able to determine that the Chinese foreign policy is, "Do not give the imperialist a respite."

7. He determined through contact with the secretary of the CP of Cuba that the Cuban revolution is fundamentally deeper than it appears and that the left is in the Armed Forces and it is making inroads into the Cabinet.

8. As a result of discussions with Soviet leadership he determined that the Soviets consider the most important problem that of developing a new relationship between the USA and the U.S.S.R. and that they are willing to make concessions in a diplomatic sense but not in an ideological sense.

9. Informant determined that President Eisenhower will get a tremendous reception in Moscow and that the Soviet people are genuinely fond of the President.

10. He determined through conversations with the chairman of the CP of Japan that this CP is initiating a campaign in coalition with the Socialist Party against the Japanese - American security treaty and against U.S. military bases on Japanese soil.

Memorandum to Mr. Belmont

11. He ascertained through his conversations with a leading CP member from Argentina that this Party is joining forces with the Peronists and in the event the Peronists overthrow the Argentinian Government, the CP of Argentina will demand a coalition Government.

The above examples certainly indicate the extraordinary value of the information developed by our informant during this third Solo mission. It is impossible to put a money value on the information received as it would not be available through any other source. This information which has been disseminated on a high level will certainly enhance the Bureau's reputation as the world's leading intelligence agency.

SOLO

Operation SOLO was a long-running FBI program to infiltrate the Communist Party of the United States and gather intelligence about its relationship to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, China, and other communist nations. It officially began in 1958 and ended in 1977, although Morris and Jack Childs, two of the principal agents in the operation, had been involved with the Bureau for several years prior. The files posted here constitute the first two releases made from the FBI's SOLO file. They range from March 1958 to August 1960. Subsequent releases will be added in the future. Reference is made to my memorandum 1-14-60 concerning a meet between Vladimir Barkovsky, counsel, Soviet Delegation to the United Nations, and CG 5824-S in New York City 1-12-60 and noting that Barkovsky would contact NY 694-S at his New York City office between 1-20 and 1-24-60.

At 3:20 p.m., 1-21-60, Barkovsky appeared at NY 694-S's office in New York City and remained there for approximately 10 minutes. He left informant's office for a matter of minutes and then returned and handed informant a package which was estimated by NY 694-S to contain $72,885. It was necessary for the informant to place the money in a safe-deposit box before the bank closed and therefore he could not furnish a more accurate count of the contents.

Informant observed that Barkovsky apparently had a confederate in the building who made available the package of money. He noted that two odd bundles of ten-dollar bills and five-dollar bills appeared to be covered with soil. Some of them contained the stamp "Hawaii" which currency you will recall was issued for circulation in the Territory of Hawaii early in World War II.

With the delivery of the sum previously mentioned the Communist Party, USA, has received from the Communist Party of the Soviet Union an estimated $348,385.

The New York Division has advised that NY 694-S* plans to leave for Europe during the week of 2/1/60. While in Europe, NY 694-S* plans to be in contact with representatives of the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia.

New York airtel dated 12/11/59 reflects the possibility that the trip of NY 694-S* may establish a courier system between the Communist Party - USA and the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia, since the Czechoslovakians may be anxious to change contacts with the Communist Party - USA as a result of the recent defection in the Czechoslovakian diplomatic corps in the United States.

CG 5824-S* has advised that he had learned from GUS HALL on 1/13/60 that ANTHONY KRCHMAREK was subpoenaed to testify on 1/11/60, presumably in regard to Czechoslovakian intelligence activities in the United States.

REC-92 100-428091-604

If KRCHMAREK did appear before a Congressional committee and was questioned concerning Czechoslovakian intelligence activities in the United States, it might have a bearing on whether the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia would be ready and anxious at this time to establish new contacts in the United States and whether or not NY 694-S* might be selected as a contact.

It is, therefore, suggested that the Bureau advise the Chicago and New York Divisions as soon as possible whether KRCHMAREK did appear before a Congressional committee or Government hearing board; and, if so, the nature of the hearing and of the questioning of KRCHMAREK, since this information might have a bearing on what NY 694-S* and CG 5824-S* may suggest as the best course of action for NY 694-S* to pursue in his dealings with representatives of the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia.

Reference is made to my memorandum 1/15/60 advising that NY 694-S would depart New York City 2/3/60 aboard the "Queen Mary" and would arrive in Prague, Czechoslovakia, about 2/11/60. The purpose of this trip is to establish contacts between the Communist Party (CP), USA, and the Czechoslovakians.

Chicago, by airtel 1/21/60, advises that CG 5824-S has learned from Gus Hall, general secretary of the CP, USA, that Anthony Krchmarek, chairman of the Ohio District, CP, USA, was subpoenaed on 1/11/60, presumably in regard to Czechoslovakian intelligence activities in the United States. It is to be noted that Krchmarek had frequent contacts with the Czechoslovakian Embassy in Washington, D. C., prior to the recent defection of Frantisek Tisler, the former military attache assigned to the Czechoslovakian Embassy.

Krchmarek was originally subpoenaed to appear before the House Committee on Un-American Activities (HCUA) on 12/15/59. This appearance was postponed until 3/7/60.

OBSERVATIONS:

In view of Krchmarek's forthcoming appearance before the HCUA, it is quite probable that the Czechs will discontinue their contacts with him, and if NY 694-S is successful during his forthcoming discussions with the Czechs, it is quite likely that he will be the exclusive contact for the CP, USA, with the Czechs.

ACTION:

For your information. There is attached a letter to New York and Chicago advising these offices of Krchmarek's scheduled appearance before the HCUA. You will be kept apprised of all pertinent developments.

ASAC McCabe of New York called 1-25-60 asking for authority to provide 694 $200 for extra expenses in connection with his trip to Europe and asking that we obtain certain public source material for 694 to take with him to make available to the Chinese.

Ch. 5824, the brother of 694, made a similar trip under a false identity to Europe and strongly recommended to 694 that he acquire special clothes with no markings or other identifications which could be traced to him in the event anyone attempted to make any check. This will cost about $200 and New York recommends that such funds be made available to 694 for this purpose.

Ch. 5824 had also received prior instructions to send through 694 to the Chinese certain public source material put out by the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, and the headquarters of the Republican and Democratic Committees.

ACTION:

1. New York was authorized to make available $200 to the informant for the purpose requested.

This money was counted by the NYO and determined to be exactly $72,885.00.

On 1/26/60, NY 694-S* commented that possibly some of this money has been designated by the Russians for ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG and this will be determined in the future.

The serial numbers of the odd bundle consisting of eighty $10.00 bills and seventeen $5.00 bills ($885.00) have been kept by the NYO and they will be checked against the list of known currency furnished to Soviet establishments in Washington, D.C. and NYC, and the Bureau will be advised of any positive results.

Re Chicago airtel dated January 20, 1960, captioned,

Referenced airtel contained information from CG 5824-S* concerning an oral report given to the Secretariat of the Communist Party - USA and invited guests by JUAN SANTOS RIVERA, Head of the Communist Party of Puerto Rico.

CG 5824-S* has advised that on previous "SOLO" trips, the Communist Party of the Soviet Union had asked him for information about the Communist Party of Puerto Rico, and he had said that he had no information concerning this Communist Party. For this reason, CG 5824-S* feels that he should transmit a written summary of the report of RIVERA to the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, and he plans to do this through NY 694-S*, who is scheduled to leave New York City for Europe on February 3, Reurlet 2/2/60.

Relet notes that NY 694-S had a total of $33,500 in Solo funds in his possession as of 12/21/59. Chicago, by letter 12/18/59, states that on 12/15/59 $2500 from funds in the possession of NY 694-S was transferred to funds in the possession of CG 5824-S. This item of $2500 does not appear to have been accounted for in relet or in your letter dated 12/21/59.

Advise the Bureau by return communication whether the balance on hand in the possession of NY 694-S as of 12/21/59 should be $31,000 rather than the above-noted figure. In addition, advise, if known, the use to which the $25,000 furnished on 1/28/60 to Isadore Wofsy is to be put.

In addition, relet notes that NY 694-S transferred $50,000 to Chicago on 1/28/60. This statement is not entirely clear. Advise whether this sum was transferred to the possession of CG 5824-S or to some other custodian for the Communist Party.

This matter is to receive your immediate attention.

It is noted NY 694-S* contemplates being out of the United States for five to six weeks in connection with his "SOLO" trip abroad.

Re Bulet dated December 29, 1959, requesting that the Chicago Division submit a detailed accounting of the expenses of the last trip abroad by January 8, 1960. Reference is also made to Chicago letters dated December 31, 1959, and January 15, 1960.

During the time CG 5824-S* has been operating in behalf of the Bureau, it has been the practice of the Chicago Division to handle financial matters through [redacted]. This was done because [redacted] was experienced as a bookkeeper and handled all of the finances for both CG 5824-S* and [redacted]. Even [redacted] had difficulty keeping some records accurate, since she could not get detailed statistics from CG 5824-S*. As was the usual custom, [redacted] kept a record of the expenses and moneys received on the third "SOLO" trip. CG 5824-S* has not been able to locate this record. [redacted] entered the hospital as soon as they returned to Chicago from the last trip, [redacted]

CG 5824-S* stated that, without the benefits of the records kept by [redacted] he has on more than one occasion attempted to work out an accounting with her, but found it almost impossible to do so because of her physical condition and mental attitude at this time.

With the above as a preface, the following is the best accounting that can be obtained at this time and may be the only accounting we will have unless the condition of [redacted] miraculously changes.

Prior to the trip, the following estimates had been made:

CG 5824-S* has advised that while he did not know it at the time he left the United States, the Communist Party of China would have provided transportation for Both CG 5824-S* and CG 5853-S from Prague, Czechoslovakia, to Peking, China, and return and, in addition, would have supplied CG 5824-S* with funds for his trip from Prague, Czechoslovakia, to New York City. However, since they had already purchased tickets and arranged for transportation to Moscow from Prague, the Communist Party of China provided transportation for both from Moscow to Peking and from Peking to Prague. In addition, CG 5824-S* was furnished with a sum of money for only his travel expenses at economy rates from Prague to New York City. CG 5824-S* has advised that he has no idea of the amount in cash furnished by the Communist Party of China for his travel expenses from Prague to New York City, since CG 5853-S handled this matter with the Chinese.

The Communist Party of China also furnished housing, meals and transportation inside China. The Communist Party of the Soviet Union furnished housing, meals, and transportation inside Moscow.

CG 5824-S* stated that he firmly believes that he should return $400 of the sum of $1,000 taken from sums furnished to the Communist Party - USA by the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. Thus, the sum of $600 would cover his transportation costs from the United States to Moscow. CG 5824-S* believes that in order to avoid any question that he spent too much in Party funds, it is advisable for him to return $400 so that there will be no questions asked if an opportunity is presented for another trip.

CG 5824-S* further advised that as well as he can determine, he will have $569.60 to return to the Bureau. This sum has not been given to the contacting Agent as yet. Since CG 5824-S* is under heavy medical expenses for [redacted] at the present time, it is not deemed advisable to press him for this amount.

When the $569.60 is obtained from CG 5824-S*, this will mean that the total cost to the Bureau will be $2,269.60, less $569.60, or $1,700, while Communist Party - USA funds used will total $600.00. This total of $2,300 was used approximately as follows:

| Transportation of CG 5824-S* to Moscow..... | $ 600.00 |
| Transportation of [redacted] to Moscow, and from Prague, Czechoslovakia, to Chicago,..... Illinois | 900.00 |

MEETING BETWEEN MORRIS CHILDS AND ALEXANDER
TRACHTENBERG IN NEW YORK CITY ON 1/26/60

On January 26, 1960, MORRIS CHILDS told ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG that the sum of money he had been expecting from the Soviet Union had been delivered. When TRACHTENBERG asked how much had been received, CHILDS asked how much TRACHTENBERG expected. TRACHTENBERG replied that he did not know the exact amount, but estimated the total to be around $78,000.

By way of explanation, TRACHTENBERG stated that while he was in Europe during 1959, he collected $50,000 in royalties, commissions, etc., which were due to International Publishers. This sum of $50,000 had been converted from European currency into dollars, and it was in one package. This money came from the Soviet Union and other Socialist countries in Europe.

Then TRACHTENBERG stated that while he was in China, he collected additional royalties, commissions, etc., from books reprinted in China. TRACHTENBERG said that this money was in yuan and had not been converted into dollars, but he estimated that it should have been approximately $28,000. TRACHTENBERG said that due to the fact that he became ill while he was in Russia, he was unable to complete the details in regard to this transaction, including the conversion of yuan into dollars, while in Moscow.

TRACHTENBERG asked if the money received was in two separate parcels, and CHILDS replied that it was not. TRACHTENBERG said that he expected a portion of it to be in a portfolio.

Then TRACHTENBERG asked CHILDS to promise that CHILDS would not tell anyone, including EUGENE DENNIS, the exact amount received. Furthermore, TRACHTENBERG does not want GUS HALL or "his boys" to know that any amount was received.

Subsequent to this conversation, CHILDS told EUGENE DENNIS the approximate amount received for TRACHTENBERG and International Publishers.

COMMENTS OF CG 5824-S*

The sum of $72,885 will be maintained separately from other funds received from the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. Money from this amount will be furnished to TRACHTENBERG from time to time at his request. TRACHTENBERG probably pays commissions and gives subsidies to Communist authors from this money. While this amount is supposed to be for royalties, commissions, etc., it is possible that the Communist Party of the Soviet Union grants subsidies to Communist authors in the United States through the transmittal of these sums through TRACHTENBERG. Therefore, the entire sum may not consist solely of "royalties and commissions".

February 1, 1960

During the week of January 24, 1960, MORRIS CHILDS and EUGENE DENNIS discussed the proposed meeting between CHILDS, DENNIS, and GUS HALL for the purpose of briefing HALL on some of the details of the current relationship between the Communist Party - USA (CPUSA) and the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU).

DENNIS stated that in mentioning any funds received from the CPSU for the CPUSA, CHILDS should always preface any figure he quotes with the word "about". Furthermore, CHILDS, with DENNIS concurring, should tell HALL that the CPSU insists that 25% of the funds received must be maintained as a "reserve". DENNIS said that before a meeting with HALL, CHILDS and DENNIS should agree on an amount which will be a "reserve" and that HALL will not be told how much is being held in "reserve".

DENNIS said that as a Party leader, HALL should not ask for details in regard to funds received from the CPSU; and that if HALL insists on details, DENNIS may tell him to keep his nose out of this.

DENNIS complained that it is impossible to talk to HALL alone because HALL's shadow, HY LUMER, is always around.

ReBulet, 2/3/60.

In view of NY 694-S' absence from New York, the NYO must assume that he inadvertently failed to record in his own books, and consequently failed to report to the NYO, the transfer of $2500.00 to CG 5824-S on 12/15/59. It is suggested, therefore, that the balance on hand in the possession of NY 694-S as of 12/21/59 be recorded as $31,000.00.

With respect to the $25,000.00 furnished on 1/28/60, to ISADORE WOFY, this money was given to WOFY to defray expenses of the CP National Office.

The $50,000.00 "transferred to Chicago on 1/28/60" was given to CG 5824-S, the latter to be the depository thereof in the absence of NY 694-S.

Upon the return to NY of NY 694-S, this matter will be discussed with him with a view to correcting his records in respect to this transaction.

ANALYSIS OF THE 17TH NATIONAL CONVENTION OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY - USA BEING TRANSMITTED TO OTHER COMMUNIST PARTIES

During the week of January 24, 1960, EUGENE DENNIS was told that JACK CHILDS was going to Europe and would probably go to Russia. DENNIS was asked if he wished to send an analysis of the 17th National Convention of the Communist Party - USA to the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. While DENNIS generally discussed the 17th National Convention, he stated that he did not want to sign his name to any written analysis. He did state that any analysis presented should state that there are still some remnants of factionalism and sectarianism in the Communist Party - USA, particularly in the New York District.

MORRIS CHILDS asked DENNIS if it was all right to see if GUS HALL wanted to send an analysis to the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. DENNIS stated that this would be all right with him.

Subsequently, GUS HALL was told that someone was travelling to Europe and he was asked if he wanted to send an analysis of the 17th National Convention of the Communist Party - USA to the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. HALL stated that a request had been received from the Communist Party of Cuba for an analysis of the 17th National Convention of the Communist Party - USA. HALL did not indicate how this request from the Communist Party of Cuba was received. HALL said that HYMAN LUMER was preparing an analysis for the Communist Party of Cuba, and that this analysis could also be sent to the Communist Party of the Soviet Union.

On February 2, 1960, LUMER, in the presence of CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, gave a typewritten analysis of the 17th National Convention of the Communist Party - USA to MORRIS CHILDS. A copy of this analysis is attached. A copy will be sent airmail to JACK CHILDS in Brussels, Belgium, so that he can deliver it to the Communist Party of the Soviet Union.

In regard to this analysis, CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT stated that it was all right. CHILDS objected to the wording which appears in lines #3 and #4 on page #2. The original read, "...secretariat forming a united, collective team gathered around Comrade Gus Hall as general secretary." CHILDS objected that this phraseology intimated that an entirely new leadership was elected and the old leadership was defeated. LUMER readily agreed with CHILDS, and the wording was changed to read, "...secretariat forming a united, collective team greatly strengthened by the addition of Comrade Gus Hall as general secretary." Subsequently, CHILDS added to the analysis an insert which appears in lines #4 through #8 on page #2. This insert starts, "The secretariat led by Gene Dennis as Chairman and Gus Hall as general secretary was given powers to make political decisions."

"The Worker" article referred to in the analysis appears on pages #3 and #14 of the January 3, 1960, issue under the caption "CP Convention Estimated as Laying Firm Basis for Growth".

The main features of the convention itself are presented in the evaluation printed some weeks ago in The Worker, a copy of which accompanies this document. What should be stressed in addition is the role of the convention in the process of unification of the Party.

At the time of the 16th Convention and during the following year, the Party was sharply split ideologically and wracked with factionalism, which was most strongly manifested in the New York district. There followed, beginning with the February, 1958, meeting of the National Committee, a period of initial consolidation and unification of the Party, leading up to the 17th Convention.

The 17th Convention registered a major advance in that A) it put forward a policy meeting with general acceptance in a real and not merely formal sense -- a policy behind which the Party as a whole is united, B) it ended the period of conducting a "holding operation" and opened a new period in which the Party is imbued with a spirit of moving forward, of expanding Party influence and renewed growth, and C) it administered a sound rebuke to those who sought to carry on factional maneuvers at the convention, and demanded in unmistakable terms an end to all factionalism. In particular, the political line of certain leftist elements in New York and in Washington state and their efforts to promote a factional slate in the elections were strongly repudiated.

The convention also marked an advance in restoring confidence in the Party leadership, which had been seriously shaken in the internal crisis, and in the strengthening of the concept of democratic centralism as the basis of the Party's work. The election of a representative national committee, despite factional and other complications in the elections, contributed greatly to this, as did the subsequent election by the incoming national committee of a set of officers and a secretariat forming a united, collective team, greatly strengthened by the addition of Comrade Gus Hall as general secretary. The secretariat led by Gene Dennis as chairman and Gus Hall as general secretary was given powers to make political decisions. The national executive committee will be elected at the next plenary session of the national committee.

The fact that the Party emerged from the convention with a single policy and line has reflected itself in the conventions of district Party organizations held since. These have been marked by a considerable subsiding of ideological divergences and factional manifestations. Of particular significance in this respect was the election of officers in New York. Here the election of a district committee was marked by further factional maneuvers by a small leftist clique; however, as a result of extended discussions, it proved possible to present a slate of officers to the district committee as the unanimous recommendation of the national secretariat and the retiring district officers. This slate was elected with only one dissenting vote and a few abstentions. The new officers constitute a representative leadership which, under its chairman Clarence Hathaway, a most highly competent and respected leading comrade, offers a prospect of fully uniting the Party in the shortest possible time and rooting out all remnants of factionalism, as well as moving the Party much more into the mainstream of struggle.

Similarly, conventions held in such key districts as Illinois and Southern California witnessed a further decline in influence and activities of leftist factional elements and a continued advance of Party unity. In a few places, pockets of factionalism and opposition to the line of the convention persist, particularly in New York and the Washington state leadership and to a lesser degree in California and Illinois. But it is generally agreed that these are in the process of being liquidated, and will no longer constitute a serious problem for the Party.

The convention has generated great enthusiasm in the Party's ranks and among circles close to the Party. The task now is to elaborate further the policies adopted and to translate them into practical action in each district, section and club. In the course of this, the Party will become further united and strengthened, and will enter a new period of growth and increased influence.

The Bureau agrees with the observations set forth in your referenced airtel that CG 5824-S will leave Chicago immediately for New York City in the event he receives a message from the wife of NY 694-S indicating that a representative of the Communist Party of Cuba is in New York City. The Bureau realizes that informant's ability to make this trip, of course, depend on the condition of his wife, [redacted]. In view of the extremely serious condition of [redacted] the Bureau agrees that it would be inadvisable to insist that informant make this trip in view of the possibility that [redacted] and whether informant makes such a trip should be left to his discretion in this instance.

NOTE ON YELLOW:

CG 5824-S, while in Moscow, Russia, in the Fall of 1959, had a lengthy meeting with Anibal Escalante, secretary of the CP of Cuba. They entered into an arrangement for contacts between the CP of Cuba and the CP, USA, through the office of NY 694-S in New York City. Under this arrangement, the representative from the CP of Cuba would contact NY 694-S and would say that he had been sent by Dr. Jose Valdes. NY 694-S departed New York 2/3/60 for Prague, Czechoslovakia, for an estimated duration of five to six weeks. Therefore, he will be unable to make this contact.

Prior to the departure of NY 694-S, he arranged to have his wife spend a few hours each day in his New York office. If she is contacted by the representative of the Cuban CP she will advise CG 5824-S and if he is unable to depart for New York, she will contact Phil Bart, national organizational secretary, CP, USA. CG 5824-S advises that in view of his close relationship with Phil Bart, Bart will furnish him all details received from the Cuban and informant will quite likely be able to make future contacts with the Cuban representative. In this regard it is noted that CG 5824-S is scheduled to be either chairman or secretary of the International Affairs Commission, CP, USA, and in normal course would handle such contacts in the future as he has in the past.

Re Chicago letter, 2/3/60, and Bureau airtel, 2/8/60. Referenced communications pertain to the possibility that a representative of the Communist Party (CP) of Cuba will be in New York "within the next three or four weeks".

CG-5824-S* was able to communicate this information to NY 694-S* prior to the latter's departure from New York City. Furthermore, NY 694-S* was able to convince his wife to spend a few hours, approximately from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., five days a week, in the office of NY 694-S*.

In regard to the wife of NY 694-S*, both NY 694-S* and CG 5824-S* have advised that she not only does not know of the relationship of NY 694-S* and/or CG 5824-S* to the FBI, but she also does not know that NY 694-S* is active in the CP - USA. She has been told that CG 5824-S* is very active in the CP. The wife of NY 694-S* has not been active in the CP for approximately twenty years. The current trip of NY 694-S* was explained to her as partly a business trip and partly a favor for CG 5824-S* on behalf of NY 694-S* since the ~~former~~ cannot leave the United States at the present time due to the serious illness of CG 5853-S.

The wife of NY 694-S* was also told that almost all of the business of ARISCO has been transferred to the Chicago Office during the absence of NY 694-S*; however, she was convinced to spend a few hours each work day in the office in order to take care of any unexpected business which might arise. Fortunately, a couple of orders have been received by her since the New York informant left for Europe. She also was asked to deliver any other messages to CG 5824-S* as a favor to him. However, in the event that she cannot contact CG 5824-S* she was instructed to contact JEAN SMITH of the National Office of the CP - USA and ask her to deliver the message to PHIL BART.

The above is set forth merely to indicate that we cannot expect the cooperation from the wife of NY 694-S* that we might have received from [redacted] in a similar situation. CG 5824-S* plans to discuss this matter with the wife of NY 694-S* in New York City on this date, 2/10/60.

CG 5824-S* fully realizes that it would be most desirable if he could leave Chicago immediately for New York City in the event he receives a message from the wife of NY 694-S* which will indicate to him that a representative of the CP of Cuba is in New York City. [redacted] b6 b7C b7D

[redacted]
[redacted] Because of this, CG 5824-S* is unwilling to state positively that he will be able to meet the representative of the CP of Cuba in New York City, particularly in view of the indefiniteness of the message concerning his arrival in New York City.

The Chicago Division feels that if it is at all possible CG 5824-S* will try to make the trip to New York City when the message is received. At the same time, it is deemed inadvisable to insist that he make the trip since an irreparable damage to the relationship between CG 5824-S* and the FBI could result if his wife died in his absence and he was not led to believe that it was his decision to make this particular trip.

In the event CG 5824-S* cannot make the trip and it becomes necessary to place the representative of the CP of Cuba in contact with PHIL BART, it is believed that the following will be accomplished:

CG 134-46-Sub B

(1) The CP of Cuba will know that normally the arrangements made between CG 5824-S* and ANIBAL ESCALANTE permit a good means of contact between the CP of Cuba and the CP - USA and, therefore, this "apparatus" may be used in the future.

(2) Since CG 5824-S* and NY 694-S* were very instrumental in placing PHIL BART in the National Office of the CP - USA as the National Organization Secretary and are on very friendly terms with him and since CG 5824-S* will be the Chairman or Secretary of the International Affairs Commission of the CP - USA, BART will give CG 5824-S* a complete rundown on any contact by a representative of the CP of Cuba with the CP - USA in New York City.

PHIL BART is well aware of the condition of [redacted] and knows that CG 5824-S* may not be in a position to come to New York City on a moment's notice. It should also be noted that while CG 5824-S* made the arrangements with ESCALANTE he did so as a representative of the CP - USA, and he received the message concerning the possible arrival of a Cuban representative in New York City through the National Office of the CP - USA. Thus, CG 5824-S* cannot completely cut the National Office out of the picture in this instance.

CG 5824-S* plans to see PHIL BART and no one else in the National Office of the CP - USA on 2/10/60.

The Bureau will be promptly advised of the results of the current trip of CG 5824-S* to New York City not only in regard to this matter but also the scheduled meeting with VLADIMIR BARKOVSKY on 2/10/60.

Reurlet 2/3/60 with copy to New York Division.

Relet notes that CG 5824-S on 2/1/60 was informed by Hy Lumer that Phil Bart had requested that CG 5824-S be informed that a representative of the Communist Party (CP) of Cuba will be in New York "within the next three or four weeks" to make contact with the CP, USA, apparently through NY 694-S. This would be in accordance with arrangements entered into between CG 5824-S and Anibal Escalante, secretary of the CP of Cuba, in Moscow during Solo mission number three.

Relet indicates that CG 5824-S would suggest to NY 694-S that the latter's wife could perhaps spend a few hours each day in NY 694-S' office and that if the Cuban representative appeared at the office she would have instructions to place the Cuban in contact with CG 5824-S or Phil Bart.

Chicago is requested to immediately inform the Bureau whether NY 694-S has been furnished the above information by CG 5824-S and whether this arrangement has been perfected with NY 694-S' wife. In view of the extreme importance of the Cuban situation, it is believed desirable to have NY 694-S' wife contact CG 5824-S immediately in the event the Cuban appears at the New York office of NY 694-S so that CG 5824-S will be able to fly immediately to New York and handle the contact with the Cuban.

COMMENTS OF CG 5824-S*

HY LUMER did not know in what manner PHIL BART had received this message. In attempting to establish the possible time of arrival of the representative of the Communist Party of Cuba in New York City, it is known that BART had not received this message as late as Wednesday, January 27, 1960.

It is unfortunate that JACK CHILDS will not be in New York City when the representative from the Communist Party of Cuba arrives. It will be suggested to JACK CHILDS that perhaps his wife could spend a few hours each day in the office of JACK CHILDS in New York City. If the representative from the Communist Party of Cuba appears at the office, she would have instructions to either call MORRIS CHILDS or JEAN SMITH so that the Cuban could be placed in contact with PHIL BART, if MORRIS CHILDS was unable to make a hurried trip to New York City.

RECEIPT OF $12,500 FROM ELIZABETH MASCOLO

On Wednesday, February 10, 1960, MORRIS CHILDS met ELIZABETH MASCOLO, common-law wife of TIM BUCK, in the vicinity of Fifth Avenue and 17th Street in New York City. MASCOLO stated that TIM BUCK had made two separate trips from Toronto, Canada, to Ottawa, Canada, and obtained money in the Russian Embassy from the Communist Party of the Soviet Union for delivery to the Communist Party - USA. She then turned over to CHILDS a package of money without saying how much was in the package.

MASCOLO stated that she knows that TIM BUCK obtained additional money for delivery to the Communist Party - USA, but she does not know the total amount. She said that BUCK would not permit her to carry more than what was in the package.

CHILDS gave MASCOLO $225 for travelling expenses for herself and TIM BUCK.

An examination of the contents of the package reflects that it contains $12,500. Deducting $225 given to MASCOLO, the net amount received is $12,275.

New York by airtel 2-17-60 advised of letter received from NY 694-S addressed to a fictitious sister in Long Island, New York.

NY 694-S departed New York City 2-3-60 aboard the "Queen Mary" for France. He was expected to arrive in Prague, Czechoslovakia, about 2-11-60 where he would establish contacts between the Communist Party (CP), USA, and the CP of Czechoslovakia and would contact Red Chinese representatives attached to the "World Marxist Review" in Prague.

The afore-mentioned letter from NY 694-S was written in Paris, France, on 2-12-60. It noted that informant was delayed in reaching England due to a severe storm which resulted in a loss of one and one-half days in reaching the English coast. He stated that he "will leave for the next town tomorrow" which would indicate that he intended to depart Paris, France, for Brussels, Belgium, on 2-13-60, and would have arrived in Prague on 2-14 or 15-60.

MEETING BETWEEN MORRIS CHILDS AND VLADIMIR
BARKOVSKY IN NEW YORK CITY ON 2/10/60

On Wednesday evening, February 10, 1960, MORRIS CHILDS went to the vicinity of the Forest Hills Theatre in Queens, New York City, at about 6:00 P.M. After spending some time looking over the area, CHILDS went into the theatre. After some minutes, CHILDS departed at approximately 7:00 P.M. CHILDS turned to the left as he departed the theatre and turned left again at the next intersection. He walked approximately five or six blocks and on one occasion during this walk looked backward and saw no one following him. At the end of the five or six blocks, VLADIMIR BARKOVSKY approached CHILDS from the rear and from the opposite side of the street.

BARKOVSKY walked alongside CHILDS and instructed him to turn left at the next intersection. They walked together on what may be 67th Road, until they came to Queens Boulevard. They turned right on Queens Boulevard, walked to and entered the Seven Seas Restaurant. The meeting between CHILDS and BARKOVSKY in this restaurant lasted from approximately 7:15 P.M. until 9:15 P.M. They left the restaurant together and retraced their steps for a few blocks, and then on the instructions of BARKOVSKY, CHILDS went to the right while BARKOVSKY went to the left at an intersection.

During the meeting in the restaurant, BARKOVSKY stated that before he caught up with CHILDS, he had checked over one automobile in the neighborhood because he was a little suspicious of it. He also looked over everyone who entered the restaurant and looked at every car that passed as they walked to and from the restaurant. While he did not ask CHILDS what method of transportation he used in coming from New York City or where he was staying, he asked if CHILDS thought that he had been followed to the meeting place. CHILDS replied that he thought that he had not been followed. BARKOVSKY also asked if members of the Communist Party - USA (CPUSA) are followed. CHILDS replied that GUS HALL is watched rather closely, and that recently CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT said that he had been followed in Detroit. CHILDS commented that persons like HALL and LIGHTFOOT are well-known Communists and that they travel openly and publicly.

MORRIS CHILDS told BARKOVSKY that JACK CHILDS was in Europe and planned to go to Moscow, Russia. BARKOVSKY intimated that he had informed Moscow that JACK CHILDS would be visiting in Moscow. BARKOVSKY then stated that ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG is confused about the total sum of money due to him and International Publishers from China and that the correct amount has been delivered.

MORRIS CHILDS replied that BARKOVSKY should try to have a message delivered to JACK CHILDS in Moscow or in Prague, preferably the latter, to the effect that JACK CHILDS should not ask any representative of the Communist Party of China the exact amount sent to TRACHTENBERG, since the Chinese might take offense if such an inquiry is made, especially in view of the fact that TRACHTENBERG is confused. BARKOVSKY said that while he could deliver such a message to Moscow, he was not certain that it could be transmitted to Prague before JACK CHILDS left there for Moscow.

MORRIS CHILDS then asked BARKOVSKY to inform the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU) that he had briefed JACK CHILDS on all recent developments in the CPUSA, and that the CPSU should know this while carrying on discussions with JACK CHILDS. MORRIS CHILDS also stated that JACK CHILDS was carrying information concerning the Communist Party of Puerto Rico (CPPR) and that if the CPSU wants to give financial assistance to the CPPR, the CPUSA recommends that it be handled through the CPUSA. In this regard, BARKOVSKY was told that one HAYSAET (phonetic), a former member of the CPPR, is currently residing in New York City, and JUAN SANTOS RIVERA, Chairman of the CPPR, wants HAYSAET to return to Puerto Rico and to work full-time for the CPPR. HAYSAET has a fourteen-year-old son. HAYSAET has said that he is willing to return to Puerto Rico and work for the CPPR if his son can be sent to one of the socialist countries in order to complete his education. CHILDS said that the CPUSA has asked him to present this problem to the CPSU. BARKOVSKY stated that for "technical reasons" he doubts that anything can be done about this.

Concerning possible travel to Russia, MORRIS CHILDS again mentioned that ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN may travel to Europe and to the Soviet Union in the spring of 1960, and that she may be accompanied by GERALDYNE LIGHTFOOT, wife of CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT, Vice-Chairman of the CPUSA. Also, that a trade union delegation from New York and other Eastern states may go to Moscow around May 1, 1960, and that JACK CHILDS is carrying the names of some of the possible members of this delegation. MORRIS CHILDS also stated that there is a possibility that some trade unionists from the Chicago area may want to make a trip to Russia, but included in the group may be some social democrats such as SIDNEY LENS.

However, the CPUSA does not know if it is possible for social democrats to obtain visas for Russia.

BARKOVSKY, while stating that he did not know LENS, said that times have changed and that practically every trade union leader, including social democrats, can obtain a visa to visit Russia at the present time. CHILDS then commented that some members of the CPUSA believe that the Soviet Union made a mistake in the manner in which WALTER REUTHER, of the United Automobile Workers, was treated in the Soviet Press.

CHILDS gave BARKOVSKY a discussion outline of the documents of the 17th National Convention of the CPUSA. This outline had been prepared by the National Education Department of the CPUSA. CHILDS also briefed BARKOVSKY on the results of the Convention of the New York District, the election of officers by the District Committee of the New York District, and the meeting of members of the National Committee who reside in the Midwest area and which was held in Chicago on February 6, 1960. CHILDS also told BARKOVSKY about the contents of an analysis of the 17th National Convention of the CPUSA which was prepared by HY LUMER. BARKOVSKY asked the identities of the factionalists and sectarians in the CPUSA. CHILDS mentioned PAUL ROBESON, JR., ESTHER CANTER, UGER, HILT ROSEN, MORT SCHEER, and BEN DAVIS. CHILDS also said that BURT NELSON did not want to invite CLARENCE HATHAWAY, newly elected Chairman of the New York District who is on a tour of the Far West, to the Northwest District. Further, that NELSON is holding on to his District as a provincial war lord.

CHILDS next told BARKOVSKY that the incoming National Committee will meet in Chicago on March 25, 26, and 27, 1960. BARKOVSKY asked what the agenda would be for this meeting. CHILDS replied that it had not been announced as yet, but undoubtedly the election of the National Executive Committee, the 1960 elections in the United States, and the peace program, including plans to involve trade unionists in the peace program, would be on the agenda. CHILDS commented that at the present time the CPUSA is functioning better, is more united, and is approaching mass work from a unified point of view.

At this point, BARKOVSKY made a significant observation. He said that one reading "The Worker" could conclude that articles in "The Worker" might just as well have been clipped from "Pravda". He asked why this is so. CHILDS replied that while he did not know the reason, he assumes that it either may be a hold-over from the old days or an attempt to answer some criticism that "The Worker" did not carry enough material on international affairs.

Then BARKOVSKY asked if CHILDS had noticed a sharpening in the attitude of the administration in the United States. CHILDS replied, We have noticed it and GUS HALL commented upon it at the meeting in Chicago attended by National Committee members from the Midwest. CHILDS suggested that some of this may be due to the fact that this is an election year in the United States. CHILDS stated that this election year may also bring more pressures by the Government against the CPUSA; however, the United States Supreme Court recently postponed hearings on membership cases under the Smith Act until the fall term or until after the election campaigns are over.

Barkovsky
CHILDS then stated that it has been learned that the Four Continent Book Store has changed ownership recently, but that the CPUSA, specifically ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG, did not know the identity of the new owner. CHILDS asked if BARKOVSKY knew anything about this. BARKOVSKY replied that the new owner is an old Russian. He is not a member of the Communist Party; however, he does want to import and sell Russian literature.

Concerning ~~Imported Publications and Products~~, CHILDS said that the CPUSA wants to re-organize this literature outlet but that there is no capital available to do so and that it cannot be done on the present short-term credit arrangements of the Soviet Union. CHILDS asked BARKOVSKY to determine what could be done in regard to this.

During the discussion, BARKOVSKY indicated that he reads American magazines such as "Harpers" and "The Nation". Also, that he reads recently-published books. For example, a biography of RICHARD NIXON.

Concerning funds, CHILDS again complained that money for the CPUSA from the CPSU is still coming in too slowly. Since the CPUSA is still receiving funds promised for 1959, it is impossible to make any long-range plans. Further, that while the Communist Party of Canada and TIM BUCK deserve a medal for their assistance in transporting funds from the CPSU to the CPUSA, this is a slow and costly procedure, since there is a limit to what can be safely carried on the person from Canada to the United States and each trip involves transportation and other costs.

The following arrangements were made for the next meeting between CHILDS and BARKOVSKY:

A meeting is scheduled for the second Thursday in March. CHILDS will go to the Globe Theatre on White Plains Road and Phelan Parkway in the Bronx, and follow the same procedure in regard to entering and then leaving the theatre at 7:00 P.M. BARKOVSKY said that unless CHILDS has something really important to discuss, it will be all right to skip the scheduled meeting, and BARKOVSKY will understand. The alternate date is understood to be one month following the scheduled date. BARKOVSKY also reminded CHILDS of the procedure for an emergency meeting which was agreed to at their previous meeting.

COMMENTS OF CG 5824-S*

While BARKOVSKY speaks good English, it has been observed that he does not always understand what is being said. In other words, it is apparent that at times he is not "getting the message". While occasionally it is obvious that he does not understand what is being said, he never admits it.

It is possible that BARKOVSKY sends another person to the area of the meeting place some time prior to the meeting. While this is an opinion, it is believed that such a person was observed in the vicinity of the Forest Hills Theatre at approximately 6:00 P.M. on February 10, 1960.

This memorandum is being prepared to point out the probability that NY 694-S, in connection with Solo No. 4, will travel to Moscow, Russia.

NY 694-S departed New York 2/3/60 aboard the "Queen Mary" for France. He was expected to arrive in Prague, Czechoslovakia, about 2/11/60 where he would establish contacts between the Communist Party (CP), USA, and the Czechs and would contact the Red Chinese representatives of the "World Marxist Review" to receive funds promised to the CP, USA, by the Red Chinese. It was not known whether he would be able to travel on to Moscow, Russia.

Chicago airtel 2/12/60 advised that CG 5824-S held a meet in New York City 2/10/60 with Vladimir Barkovsky, counsel, Soviet Delegation to the United Nations. CG 5824-S advised Barkovsky that NY 694-S had been briefed on all recent developments in the CP, USA, as well as information concerning the CP of Puerto Rico and requested that Barkovsky so advise the CP of the Soviet Union. Barkovsky intimated that he had informed Moscow that NY 694-S would be visiting Moscow.

OBSERVATIONS:

It now appears quite probable that NY 694-S will travel to Moscow from Prague, Czechoslovakia; and this could result in his obtaining additional valuable information during this mission.

ACTION:

For your information. We will continue to afford this matter very close attention and to apprise you of all pertinent developments.

The wife of JACK CHILDS stated on February 10, 1960, that she is spending approximately six hours at the Arisco office in New York City each work-day. She was told that if anyone should come to the office and say that he was sent by Dr. JOSE VALDES, as a favor for MORRIS CHILDS she should immediately attempt to contact MORRIS CHILDS at one of several telephone numbers in Chicago. In the event she cannot contact MORRIS CHILDS, she should contact JEAN SMITH and ask her to tell PHIL BART that someone wants to see him. She should then arrange for the person sent by Dr. JOSE VALDES to meet BART at a specific time in the lobby of the Prince George Hotel in New York City. If the person is a man, he should carry "Sports Illustrated" when he goes to the Prince George Hotel. If the person is a woman, she should carry a magazine such as "McCall" or "Woman's Home Companion" when she goes to the Prince George Hotel.

PHIL BART stated on February 10, 1960, that the message to the effect that "JOSE" will be in New York City "within the next three or four weeks" was received by JOE NORTH. BART stated he did not know how nor when NORTH received this message; therefore, he cannot even speculate as to the time when the representative of the Communist Party of Cuba might arrive in New York City. BART was told that because of the physical condition of his wife, MORRIS CHILDS might not be able to meet with the ~~representative of the Communist Party of Cuba~~ and that if BART is to contact this representative, he will receive a message through JEAN SMITH to go to the lobby of the Prince George Hotel. BART was instructed to carry a copy of "Sports Illustrated" when he goes to the hotel lobby. BART was also asked to contact MARTIN YOUNG in the event that it becomes necessary to make arrangements for housing for the representative of the Communist Party of Cuba while he is in New York City.

Also on February 10, 1960, MARTIN YOUNG agreed to obtain housing for an individual in the event he is requested by PHIL BART to do so within the next two or three weeks.

Chicago, by airtel 2/12/60, advised that at 7:15 p.m., 2/10/60, CG 5824-S and Vladimir Barkovsky, counsel, Soviet Delegation to the United Nations, held a previously scheduled meet in Queens, New York. They proceeded to the Seven Seas Restaurant, Queens, where they held a discussion until 9:15 p.m.

CG 5824-S briefed Barkovsky on results of the New York Communist Party (CP) District convention, including the election of officers, and at Barkovsky's request informant furnished him the identities of the factionalists and sectarians in the CP, USA. In addition, Barkovsky was told of the meeting of the national committee, CP, USA, scheduled to be held in Chicago, March 25-27, 1960, and of the items which will probably be included on the agenda.

Concerning trade-union delegations traveling from the United States to Russia, Barkovsky commented that under present conditions practically every trade-union leader, including social democrats, can obtain visas to visit Russia at the present time.

In reference to "The Worker," Barkovsky observed that one reading this paper could conclude that articles in "The Worker" might just as well have been clipped from "Pravda" and asked why this is so.

Barkovsky also queried CG 5824-S as to whether informant had noticed a sharpening in the attitude of the United States Administration.

Concerning the receipt of funds by the CP, USA, from the Soviets through the Canadian CP, informant again complained to Barkovsky that this is a slow and costly procedure.

Informant observed that Barkovsky is extremely security conscious. He looked over everyone who entered the restaurant and looked at every car that passed as they walked to and from the restaurant. Informant is of the opinion that Barkovsky sends another person to the area of the meeting place prior to the meeting and believes that he observed such a person in the vicinity about one hour and 15 minutes prior to the meet.

The next meet is scheduled for 3/10/60 or, in the alternative, 4/10/60.

On 2/17/60, GEORGE B. BURLINSON made available to the NYO a letter from NY 694-S addressed to the latter's fictitious sister, JEAN BROOKS, at 84 Lipton Lane, Williston Park, Long Island, NY. The letter is as follows:

I am sure if all goes well in time his health will be as good as ever." (Note: This is a reference to the contacting agent, who had been ill when NY 694-S sailed.)

"As for my vacation so far - note that I am still in Paris. My original tour called for only 2 days here. But thanks to a very very rough sea which lasted for over 5 days, we were slowed up. Also, when reaching the harbor from which I was to disembark the ship could not get close enough to the dock because of the waves, and according to the captain this was the first time in his 40 years as a "skipper", in which an anchor could not be laid. (This would have to happen to me.) This meant a loss of 1½ days in reaching the English

"Dear P--

"So far I have received all of your letters -- many thanks -- I take it that S. is still the same. Will look again for mail tomorrow morning before I leave for my next stop.

"Got here late on Saturday and enjoyed a much needed rest for the trains here can be just as tiring. On Sunday did what all tourists do, went to see Waterloo.

"Today went to see the Tourist People and was surprised at the warm and wonderful reception they gave me. It was as though they knew me for a long time. I got the 'Grande' tour with no trouble

"February 18, 1960

"Dear Paul,

"Both the family and I wish you and yours our very best --- and that this will also tell you of a very fine reception and greeting.

"As for Langer's opus --- Yes its arrival is but days old and the musicians were more than pleased but have not had the chance in playing it yet and as yet don't know if any of its orchestrations will require changes or for that matter any comment. tune but also of Broadman's pending operetta. The Ph.D's chorus is also here but that must wait until it can be rounded out and not have it sound as a dull solo ----. It's true it's timely but you must admit mechanical notes sounds like a lecture.

"And now! The Maestro strongly suggests it would be much better if Langer's opus which is now in galley proofs and to be put in sheets in March, that it be postponed for the following month so that both overtures may be played at the same time. He intends to play his for the April concert (which will be actually end of March). This would be good for this delay will give the conductors a chance to tell you of any changes or comment.

"Madison too indicates a season for good music and an appreciative audience.

"The very best of wishes,

/s/ "Joseph"

It is suggested that since CG 5824-S* is currently in New York City, that the New York Division consult with him for an interpretation of the letter by NY 694-S*. If this cannot be done while CG 5824-S* is in New York, it will be done by the Chicago Office upon his return to Chicago. It is the opinion of the Chicago Division that the musical double-talk refers to articles written by members of the Communist Party - USA which are being considered by the Editor-In-Chief of the "World Marxist Review" for publication in the magazine.

ANTICIPATED EFFECT OF KRUSHCHEV'S SCHEDULED
VISIT TO PARIS ON 3/15/60. ANTICIPATED
WELCOME TO PRESIDENT EISENHOWER IN MOSCOW.
AN EVALUATION OF USA PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES
BY A SOVIET LEADER

While in Moscow, in February, 1960, NY 694-S conferred with NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS, head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the CCCPSU, and ALEKSEI ANDREEVICH GRECHUKHIN, Assistant to MOSTOVETS, and in charge of North American Affairs, including the USA but not Canada.

The informant asked them how President EISENHOWER's welcome to the Soviet Union would compare with KRUSHCHEV's welcome to the USA; and also how Vice-President NIXON was received in Moscow, and what the Soviet opinion of the latter was.

He was answered as follows:

EISENHOWER would receive a far greater reception in the Soviet Union than KRUSHCHEV received in the US. EISENHOWER was popular with the Russian people even before KRUSHCHEV's visit to the USA. The people are excited already about his visit to the Soviet Union. (The informant noted that MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN appeared genuinely animated and elated as they discussed the EISENHOWER visit.)

With regard to NIXON, he was well received in the Soviet Union, and was popular with the people. They considered him a capable, though "cunning" man. He handled himself exceptionally well. He was most correct in his manners. The Soviets saw in him a man well versed in politics. In his various debates with KRUSHCHEV and other Soviet officials, he exhibited a real understanding of the issues involved. When he asked questions, the Soviets realized that he knew what he was talking about.

Despite his qualifications, however, NIXON to the Soviets was a very ambitious man. He was careful to assume the role of "an EISENHOWER man".

Concerning KRUSHCHEV's scheduled visit to Paris, the Soviet leadership considers that the visit will be as effective in laying a foundation for the Summit Conference as was KRUSHCHEV's visit to the USA. KRUSHCHEV's visit to Paris will constitute the second phase of preparation for the Summit Conference and of a further thawing of the cold war.

The attitude of TRUMAN and ACHESON is strictly anti-Soviet in that they oppose the Summit Conference and desire a continuation of the cold war.

The informant was asked who in his opinion would be elected President of the USA in the next election. NY 694-S replied that in his opinion, if the election were held now, NIXON would be elected in view of his strong "link" with EISENHOWER, and also in view of ROCKEFELLER's withdrawal from the presidential race.

The informant then was asked who the next Vice-President would be, but he replied that he did not know.

NY 694-S then inquired whom MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN would like to see as President and Vice-President of the USA. The reply was "the ideal combination would be STEVENSON as President and HUMPHREY as Vice-President". MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN then proceeded to evaluate presidential USA candidates as follows:

KENNEDY is a wealthy, young and inexperienced politician, supported by the Catholic Church. He would not have the support of the labor movement.

SYMINGTON is nothing but a puppet of TRUMAN's. He could play no role except to foster continuation of the cold war and to oppose world disarmament.

LYNDON JOHNSON is a Southern reactionary who would not be supported by a united Democratic Party.

ADLAI STEVENSON is a man with a deep understanding of the relationship of forces in the world, and he is wise in advocating co-existence. He would support disarmament. His and HUMPHREY's thinking tends toward support of labor and liberal forces.

MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN said that they did not believe that NIXON could be "overwhelmingly" elected, since, in their opinion, the labor and liberal forces in the USA would not support him. They said that the 1960 USA elections are most important; that the election would determine many important matters in the world.

In a separate conversation later with GRECHUKHIN, the informant asked the latter why the Soviets thought so well of President EISENHOWER. GRECHUKHIN's reply was to this effect: EISENHOWER is a man who, as a General, knows the meaning of war, and knows and understands the strength of the Soviet Union and of the other Soviet countries. He acts like a realist. NIXON, an ambitious, practical politician, if "pressured" by reactionary forces supporting him, might go in a direction different from EISENHOWER's, and therefore could be a dangerous man as President of the US,

I thought you would be interested in the following information obtained as a result of our over-all coverage of the Communist Party, USA. This data was obtained from sources which have provided reliable information in the past.

In February, 1960, Nikolai Vladimirovich Mostovets, head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the Central Committee, Communist Party of the Soviet Union, and his assistant, Aleksei Andreevich Grechukhin, stated that President Eisenhower will receive a far greater response in the Soviet Union than Nikita Khrushchev received in the United States due to Eisenhower's tremendous popularity with the Russian people. In speaking of Vice President Nixon's visit to the Soviet Union, these functionaries stated Nixon is considered to be a capable, though "cunning," man who is well versed in politics. When he asked questions, the Soviets realized he knew what he was talking about.

Grechukhin later stated that President Eisenhower knows and understands the strength of the Soviet Union and acts like a realist. Mr. Nixon, according to Grechukhin, if pressured by reactionary forces, might go in a direction different from President Eisenhower's, and, therefore, could be a dangerous man as President of the United States.

Mostovets and Grechukhin stated the 1960 elections in the United States are most important and will determine many important matters in the world. They said the ideal combination for President and Vice President of the United States would be Stevenson and Humphrey, respectively. The Soviets stated Stevenson is a man of deep understanding

My dear Mr. Herter:

I thought you would be interested in the following information obtained as a result of our over-all coverage of the Communist Party, USA. This data was obtained from sources which have provided reliable information in the past.

In February, 1960, Nikolai Vladimirovich Mostovets, head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the Central Committee, Communist Party of the Soviet Union, and his assistant, Aleksei Andreevich Grechukhin, stated that President Eisenhower will receive a far greater response in the Soviet Union than Nikita Khrushchev received in the United States due to Eisenhower's tremendous popularity with the Russian people. In speaking of Vice President Nixon's visit to the Soviet Union, these functionaries stated Nixon is considered to be a capable, though "cunning," man who is well versed in politics. When he asked questions, the Soviets realized he knew what he was talking about.

Grechukhin later stated that President Eisenhower knows and understands the strength of the Soviet Union and acts like a realist. Mr. Nixon, according to Grechukhin, if pressured by reactionary forces, might go in a direction different from President Eisenhower's, and, therefore, could be a dangerous man as President of the United States.

Mostovets and Grechukhin stated the 1960 elections in the United States are most important and will determine many important matters in the world. They said the ideal combination for President and Vice President of the United States would be Stevenson and Humphrey, respectively. The Soviets stated Stevenson is a man of deep understanding of the relationship of forces in the world. He is wise in advocating coexistence, and he would support disarmament. The thinking of Stevenson and Humphrey tends to support labor and liberal forces.

In February, 1960, in Moscow, Russia, Nikolai Vladimirovich Mostovets, head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, and his assistant, Aleksei Andreevich Grechukhin, stated the Soviets consider the Berlin question to be the most important issue of the day. They indicated the Soviet Union and the "socialist" countries will not compromise over the Berlin question. The Soviets are convinced the West Germans are preparing for war and will move against East Germany without consulting the Western powers once they have a sufficient supply of nuclear weapons. The Soviet Union and other "socialist" countries are prepared for war in the event of such a move.

Our sources also reported that members of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia stated in Prague, Czechoslovakia, in February, 1960, that the Berlin question is a most important issue. They said that "hundreds" of West German agents have been causing trouble in Czechoslovakia and the West Germans are hoping to recover former German territory now held by Czechoslovakia.

FROM : SAC, CHICAGO (134-46) (Sub B)
SUBJECT: SOLO
INTERNAL SECURITY - C

DATE: 3/3/60

CG 5824-S* has advised that while VICTOR PERLO was in Chicago during the week of February 14, 1960, he stated that he had received a request in a note from England for certain specific items printed by the United States Government Printing Office in Washington, D.C. PERLO stated that these items were being requested by the Communist Party of China, and he was instructed to mail them to England. PERLO did not identify the sender of the note, nor did he state the address to which he was to mail these items in England.

PERLO said that he did not want to be bothered with this type of request and that while he would fulfill this request, he would not do anything like it in the future. He said that this is public material and he felt that the Communist Party of China could either order it directly or could get someone like HENRY BLACK to obtain it. He asked if CG 5824-S* could send this material directly to the Communist Party of China for him. CG 5824-S* replied that he could, and the Chicago informant will send this material by mail to P.O. Box 509, Peking, China.

The following is a list of this material. It is not known whether all of these items had been requested by the Communist Party of China or whether only some of them had been so requested and that PERLO added others. In some instances where PERLO marked certain passages in the documents with a red vertical line in the margin, this has been indicated:

NY 694-S returned to the United States March 10, 1960, following the fourth Solo mission to Prague, Czechoslovakia, and the Soviet Union. The highlights of this mission were set forth in my memorandum March 11, 1960.

In discussions with Nikolai Mostovets, head of North and South American Sections, International Department, Central Committee, Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU), in February, 1960, informant pointed out that the CPUSA has lost contact with the CPs of Mexico and Latin America. Mostovets claimed that the Soviets' contacts with Latin American CPs are not the best and no active steps are being taken to improve them.

Mostovets noted that the CP of Mexico convention was scheduled for between March 12 and 15, 1960, and if informant returned to the United States in sufficient time CG 5824-S was to be instructed to attend this convention. In the event CG 5824-S was unable to attend the convention, he was to be instructed to go to Cuba and contact the Cuban CP which CP is in contact with other Latin American CPs. Mostovets further instructed that CG 5824-S make a personal report regarding the afore-mentioned contact to the CPSU between May 15, 1960, and the first week of June, 1960.

OBSERVATIONS:

(1) Inasmuch as NY 694-S returned to the United States too late to permit CG 5824-S to attend the CP of Mexico convention, we are presented with an unprecedented opportunity for CG 5824-S to travel to Cuba and confer with officials of the CP of Cuba. This could quite likely result in our obtaining previously unavailable data concerning the Cuban CP as well as other Latin American CPs.

(2) Inasmuch as CG 5824-S would be traveling to Cuba on specific instructions of the CPSU, it is readily apparent that he would be in a position to ask searching questions concerning the Cuban and other Latin American CPs which would not be permissible under other circumstances.

Memorandum for Mr. Belmont
100-428091

(3) Mostovets' instructions that CG 5824-S is to make a personal report to the CPSU between May 15, 1960, and the first week in June, 1960, leaves the door ajar for a fifth Solo mission and inasmuch as this mission would be subsequent to the Summit Conference in Paris May 16, 1960, it could be of tremendous import.

RECOMMENDATION:

Inasmuch as this information is known only to our top informants and to Nikolai Mostovets, it will not be disseminated at this time.

ACTION:

There is attached for your approval an airtel to Chicago instructing that office to immediately discuss with CG 5824-S the data outlined in this memorandum and advising of the extreme import and potential of a mission to Cuba at the present time.

I thought you would be interested in the following information obtained as a result of our over-all coverage of the Communist Party, USA. This data was obtained from sources which have provided reliable information in the past.

In February, 1960, Nikolai Mostovets, head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, stated that there are two major Communist Party groups in Mexico at the present time. He stated that one group is headed by Dionisio Encina and that the second group, which consists of younger Communist Party members, has the support of the Communist Parties of the Soviet Union and of Red China. Mostovets added that following the Communist Party of Mexico convention, which he said had been scheduled for March 12 to 15, 1960, Encina will be removed from leadership and expelled from the Communist Party of Mexico.

The Communist Party of Mexico convention, which had originally been scheduled to be held in March, 1960, was postponed indefinitely on March 10, 1960.

This information is also being furnished to the Honorable Richard M. Nixon, Vice President; the Honorable Gordon Gray, Special Assistant to the President; the Honorable Christian A. Herter, the Secretary of State; and Mr. Allen W. Dulles, Director, Central Intelligence Agency.

In view of the extremely sensitive nature of certain of the sources of our information, it is requested that the contents of this communication be afforded the most careful security and its use restricted to a need-to-know basis.

Dear Dick:

I thought you would be interested in the following information obtained as a result of our over-all coverage of the Communist Party, USA. This information was obtained from sources who have provided reliable information in the past.

In February, 1960, in Moscow, Russia, Nikolai Vladimirovich Mostovets, head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, and his assistant, Aleksei Andreevich Grechukhin, stated the Soviets consider the Berlin question to be the most important issue of the day. They indicated the Soviet Union and the "socialist" countries will not compromise over the Berlin question. The Soviets are convinced the West Germans are preparing for war and will move against East Germany without consulting the Western powers once they have a sufficient supply of nuclear weapons. The Soviet Union and other "socialist" countries are prepared for war in the event of such a move.

Our sources also reported that members of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia stated in Prague, Czechoslovakia, in February, 1960, that the Berlin question is a most important issue. They said that "hundreds" of West German agents have been causing trouble in Czechoslovakia and the West Germans are hoping to recover former German territory now held by Czechoslovakia.

In February, 1960, Nikolai Vladimirovich Mostovets, head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the Central Committee, Communist Party of the Soviet Union, and his assistant, Aleksei Andreavich Grechukhin, stated that President Eisenhower will receive a far greater reception in the Soviet Union than Nikita Khrushchev received in the United States because of his tremendous popularity with the Russian people. In speaking of Vice President Nixon's visit to the Soviet Union, these functionaries stated Mr. Nixon is considered a capable, though "cunning" man who is well versed in politics. When he asked questions, the Soviets realized he knew what he was talking about.

Grechukhin later stated that President Eisenhower knows and understands the strength of the Soviet Union and acts like a realist. According to Grechukhin, Mr. Nixon, with pressure by reactionary forces, might proceed in a direction different from President Eisenhower's and, therefore, could be a dangerous man as President of the United States.

Mostovets and Grechukhin said the 1960 elections in the United States are most important and the election will determine many important matters in the world. They said the ideal combination for President and Vice President in the United States would be Stevenson and Humphrey, respectively. The Soviets stated Stevenson is a man of deep understanding of the relationship of forces in the world; he is wise in advocating coexistence and

The Soviets, the informant reminded them, had indicated that KAUFMAN, particularly, would be contacted with regard to this matter.

MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN were surprised to hear this report from NY 694-S*, and requested that he prepare a formal written report concerning this matter, which they would submit to the CCCPSU.

NY 694-S* did so, and before leaving Moscow, was told by MOSTOVETS that the Central Committee had acted on the report. MOSTOVETS stated that "someone" soon would leave Moscow for the USA to resolve this matter.

They stated that they had read about WINSTON's condition in "The Worker" and had read also a statement in the press by GUS HALL concerning WINSTON.

Informant noted that several days after he submitted the above mentioned report, an article appeared in "Pravda" quoting HALL's statement regarding the alleged barbaric treatment WINSTON had received from USA authorities.

THE PROPOSED REORGANIZATION OF "IMPORTED PUBLICATIONS AND PRODUCTS" IS APPROVED BY "NATIONAL BOOK", DEPARTMENT OF THE SOVIET UNION IN CHARGE OF PUBLICATIONS OUTSIDE THE SOVIET UNION

While in Moscow during February, 1960, NY 694-S* conferred at the Office of "National Book", a department of the Foreign Ministry in charge of all publications outside of the Soviet Union, with ZMEUL (PH), who is the president of this department. The informant, as representative of MORRIS CHILDS, Secretary of the International Affairs Committee of the CPUSA, discussed the proposal that there be a reorganization of "Imported Publications and Products", a company in NYC operated by MARGARET COWL (MARGARET KRUMBEIN). This company handles Soviet publications in the U.S.A. The informant advised ZMEUL that as a condition to such reorganization the CPUSA suggested that there be a moratorium of the money due the Soviets - $35,000.00 - for the stocks sold by them to "Imported Publications and Products". As a further condition the informant stated that the present setup with respect to credit should be liberalized giving "more freedom of movement" to the new management in the initial operations of the new business.

ZMEUL stated that he had no objections to the proposals set forth and that he agreed that there be a moratorium with respect to the amount of money due from "Imported Publications and Products." He said that the credit payments could be extended for a period of six months from the time of billing. According to ZMEUL he was very anxious that a business of this kind in the U.S.A. be successful and in time expand. He further indicated that the Soviets would try to avoid the new company's having competition. He said, however, that there were times when the Soviets would have to negotiate with other companies. As an example he cited the instance of the Soviets having negotiated for the publication of a 450-page book on KHRUSHCHEV with Dutton Publishers.

NY 694-S* informed ZMEUL that the CPUSA would treat this organization as a very serious matter and would do its best to have the new company operate efficiently.

WILLIAM SCHNEIDERMAN, Northern California CP, USA Functionary

While in Moscow, during February, 1960, NY 694-S* conferred with NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS, Head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the CCCPSU, and with ALEKSEI ANDREEVICH GRECHUKHIN, Assistant to MOSTOVETS, in Charge of North American Affairs, including the USA, but not Canada.

According to NY 694-S*, pursuant to instructions he had received from MORRIS CHILDS, Secretary of the CP, USA International Affairs Committee, he had prepared for submission to the CCCPSU, through MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN, a memorandum requesting that the CCCPSU "reject" a statement made in the Soviet periodical "The Communist" that WILLIAM SCHNEIDERMAN was an enemy of the Party. Said article, according to the informant, had been written by FNU PONOMEROV, who is in charge of the International Department of the CCCPSU.

NY 694-S* advised MOSTOVETS and ALEKSEI with respect to the nature of the memorandum he would submit. The latter said, "Why are you doing this?" Before the informant could reply, MOSTOVETS turned to GRECHUKHIN and said in Russian (which the informant understood), "Why is he doing this?" Replying to MOSTOVETS' question, informant stated, "I'm merely carrying out instructions."

On the next day, according to the informant, GRECHUKHIN came to the informant's apartment to pick up the memorandum with respect to SCHNEIDERMAN. NY 694-S* said to GRECHUKHIN, "Why don't you want this memorandum. Will it cause trouble?" ALEKSEI replied, "Yes it will cause trouble with the magazine." Informant stated that he realized that ALEKSEI was attempting to tell him that it would cause trouble with PONOMEROV.

NY 694-S* then said, "we don't want to cause any trouble in this regard so I will withdraw the request." ALEKSEI indicated that he thought the withdrawal/request was a good idea.

Dear Allen:

I thought you would be interested in the following information obtained as a result of our overall coverage of the Communist Party, USA. This data was obtained from sources which have provided reliable information in the past.

In February, 1960, Nikolai Mostovets, head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, stated that there are two major Communist Party groups in Mexico at the present time. He stated that one group is headed by Dionisio Encina and that the second group, which consists of younger Communist Party members, has the support of the Communist Parties of the Soviet Union and of Red China. Mostovets added that following the Communist Party of Mexico convention, which he said had been scheduled for March 12 to 15, 1960, Encina will be removed from leadership and expelled from the Communist Party of Mexico.

The Communist Party of Mexico convention, which had originally been scheduled to be held in March, 1960, was postponed indefinitely on March 10, 1960.

The foregoing is being disseminated to appropriate officials of the Government.

My dear Mr. Gray:

I thought the President and you would be interested in the following information obtained as a result of our over-all coverage of the Communist Party, USA. This information was obtained from sources who have provided reliable information in the past.

In February, 1960, in Moscow, Russia, Nikolai Vladimirovich Mostovets, head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, and his assistant, Aleksei Andreovich Grechukhin, stated the Soviets consider the Berlin question to be the most important issue of the day. They indicated the Soviet Union and the "socialist" countries will not compromise over the Berlin question. The Soviets are convinced the West Germans are preparing for war and will move against East Germany without consulting the Western powers once they have a sufficient supply of nuclear weapons. The Soviet Union and other "socialist" countries are prepared for war in the event of such a move.

Our sources also reported that members of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia stated in Prague, Czechoslovakia, in February, 1960, that the Berlin question is a most important issue. They said that "hundreds" of West German agents have been causing trouble in Czechoslovakia and the West Germans are hoping to recover former German territory now held by Czechoslovakia.

THE BERLIN QUESTION

While in Moscow in February, 1960, NY 694-S discussed the Berlin Question with NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS, Head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the CCCPSU, and ALEXEI ANDREEVICH GRECHUKHIN, MOSTOVETS' assistant, who is in charge of North American Affairs including the USA but not Canada.

The above-named Soviets stated that as far as the Soviet Union is concerned, the Berlin Question is the most important issue of the day. The West Germans, they said, are preparing for war, and the Soviet Union is convinced that when once the West Germans have what they consider sufficient nuclear weapons, they will move against East Germany without consulting the other Western powers. The Soviet Union, however, and also the other Socialist countries, are prepared for war in the event that the West Germans move against East Germany.

GRECHUKHIN, whom the informant characterized as "a more expressive person" than MOSTOVETS, said, while shaking his fist and stamping his feet, "Those West Germans are like the fiend RASPUTIN. After clubbing him enough to kill him and after holding him under the waters of an icy river, he was still alive when they (his assassins) brought him to the surface. When they looked into his bloody face, they saw he was still alive. 'That's the West Germans!'"

From the nature of MOSTOVETS' and GRECHUKHIN's remarks, the informant inferred that he was being told that as far as the Soviet Union and the Socialist countries are concerned, the Berlin Question will not be a matter of compromise.

According to NY 694-S, while he was in Moscow he also discussed the Berlin Question with T. TIMOFIEV (TIMMY DENNIS, son of the CPUSA National Chairman EUGENE DENNIS) who is closely associated with the CCCPSU, working for one of the departments thereof. TIMOFIEV, according to the informant, expressed the same opinion concerning the Berlin Question as did MOSTOVERS and GRECHUKHIN.

While in Prague, NY 694-S conferred with LADISLAV KOCMAN (ph), member of the International Department of the Central Committee (English Section) of the Czech CP and ~~that~~ FNU KADERKA, Deputy in Charge of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Czech CP.

NY 694-S asked them what the position of the Czech CP was with respect to Berlin. KOCMAN stated that to the Czech CP, the Berlin Question was a most important issue. He said that for a long time hundreds of West German agents had been causing trouble in Czechoslovakia. The West Germans, he said, are "dreaming" of recovering former German territory now held by Czechoslovakia.

The informant asked KOCMAN and KADERKA what was the significance of a so-called agricultural conference held in Moscow in February, 1960. He was told that the conference had little to do with agriculture - that after a comparatively short discussion of agricultural matters, there were individual conferences between CPSU leaders and the secretaries of the various other CP's represented at the said conference.

The informant then inquired whether the conference discussed the Berlin Question. He was given no direct answer to the question, but was told, "It was very good for our country."

Our top level informant, CG 5824-S, advised that he had been in contact with Victor Perlo during the week of February 14, 1960. Perlo advised he had received a request from England for certain specific items printed by the U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. Perlo advised the informant these documents were for ultimate transmittal to the Chinese communists by way of England. Perlo has been previously identified by Elizabeth Bentley, a confessed Soviet espionage agent, as a Soviet agent who headed up an underground group of Government employees during the middle 1940s. Recently Perlo has been preparing articles on economic matters for Communist Party, USA, publications.

Perlo indicated to CG 5824-S that he did not wish to be bothered with this type of request and that while he would fulfill this request, he would not do anything like it in the future. He asked the informant if he could forward the material directly to Communist China and the informant agreed to do this; thereafter transmitting the documents obtained by Perlo to a Post Office box in Peking, China, which the informant uses for mailing purposes to the Red Chinese.

The informant provided a list of the documents collected by Perlo and a review of this list discloses that the Chinese are interested in public statements relating to peace and other matters concerning which various individuals have testified before Congressional committees relating to Communist China. All the documents transmitted are public source information. In this respect it is noted that the Chinese requested a number of specific clippings from the "Congressional Record."

STATEMENTS BY ANASTAS MIKOYAN
DEPUTY PREMIER OF THE SOVIET UNION
CONCERNING THE CUBAN POLITICAL SITUATION

Sources which have furnished reliable information in the past to the Federal Bureau of Investigation have reported that Anastas Mikoyan, deputy premier of the Soviet Union, made the following statements upon his return to the Soviet Union from his recent visit to Cuba concerning his appraisal of the Cuban political situation.

Mikoyan stated that the Soviet Union is very pleased with the situation in Cuba today. The Cuban revolutionary movement is considered by the Soviets to be a genuine nationalist movement supported overwhelmingly by the peasantry and by certain groups of city workers. He said that the Cuban revolution is in good hands and that Fidel Castro is going in the right direction.

Mikoyan noted that the Communist Party of Cuba had made certain mistakes before and after the revolution, which mistakes could result in isolating the Communist Party of Cuba from the revolutionary movement. For example, Mikoyan said that the Communist Party of Cuba attempted to exert too much pressure on Fidel Castro to accelerate the movement. Mikoyan told the Communist Party members in the Cuban leadership that there is no need to exert undue pressure on Fidel Castro at this time because of the Communist Party of Cuba's strength in the trade unions and in the agrarian reform movement. Mikoyan added that in view of the current situation in Cuba, the trade unions and agrarian movement will be able to exert their own natural pressures. Mikoyan characterized Castro's brother, Raoul Castro, and the Cuban ministers of finance and agriculture as Communist Party members.

Mikoyan opined that the agreement under which the Soviet Union will purchase Cuban sugar will not assist in solving the Cuban sugar crisis. However, it will afford an excellent opportunity for the Soviets to barter with Cuba and is interpreted by the Soviets as a method of improving relations between Cuba and the Soviet Union. In addition, the Soviets believe that this situation will also improve relations between the Soviet Union and other Latin American countries that are in sympathy with the Cuban revolution.

The Soviet Union and Cuba have agreed that it would not be feasible to establish diplomatic relations between the two countries at this time as it might antagonize the United States prior to the Summit Conference. Mikoyan added, however, that diplomatic relations between the Soviet Union and Cuba will be effected at the proper time.

TIMOTHY DENNIS, also known as
TIMOFIEV

While in Moscow, February, 1960, NY 694-S* spent considerable time conferring with the son of the CP, USA National Chairman EUGENE DENNIS. According to NY 694-S* this person is known in the Soviet Union solely as TIMOFIEV or T. TIMOFIEV, with no mention of his American name ever being made. During his conferences with TIMOFIEV, whom he knew as a boy, he ascertained the following information concerning his personal life:

TIMOFIEV is presently about 30 years old. It is the independent recollection of NY 694-S* that he was left in Russia by EUGENE DENNIS and his wife, PEGGY, about 1936-1937, at the time they were entering the illegal apparatus. It is also NY 694-S*'s recollection that the DENNIS' left him in Russia since they did not have anything else to do with him, and he recalls having been told that once they made their decision to leave their son in Russia, they simply walked out of the room, leaving TIMOTHY there kicking and screaming.

From his discussions with TIMOFIEV, he learned he was brought up as a state ward, and being parentless, was sent to school with sons of Soviet leaders, such as ANASTAS MIKOYAN, and sons of foreign CP leaders, who were in Russia at the time, such as MAO TSE TUNG. When his primary schooling was completed and time came to specialize in his training, he chose the international field and specialized in the North American area.

Subsequently, TIMOFIEV worked on the North American Radio for six years becoming a specialist in this field. When the "World Marxist Review" started, TIMOFIEV went to Prague, Czechoslovakia, where he worked on this publication for a year and a half.

TIMOFIEV has worked closely with the Central Committee of the CPSU and currently is a member of a committee referred to as "The World Institute of Human Affairs" which is a department of the Central Committee of the CPSU.

NY 694-S* further reported that TIMOFIEV works closely with the Central Committee, CPSU, and includes among his friends, the sons of top Soviet and Chinese leaders with whom he attended school.

From other sources contacted, NY 694-S* learned TIMOFIEV has earned quite a reputation as an author, and has written for "Pravda." He is considered a wealthy man having recently written a book from which he derived considerable royalties. Further, he has recently written a theoretical article which appeared in "Pravda" on International Revisionism in which he cited JOSEPH STAROBIN as a symbol of international revisionism.

TIMOFIEV is considered a brilliant man and one of the rising younger leaders in the Soviet Union. In informant's opinion, he will in time become one of the members of the Central Committee CPSU.

Informant pointed out that TIMOFIEV was raised by the Soviet Union and considers himself strictly a Soviet.

Dear Dick:

I thought you would be interested in the following information obtained as a result of our over-all coverage of the Communist Party, USA. This data was obtained from sources which have provided reliable information in the past.

In February, 1960, Nikolai Mostovets, head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, stated that there are two major Communist Party groups in Mexico at the present time. He stated that one group is headed by Dionisio Encina and that the second group, which consists of younger Communist Party members, has the support of the Communist Parties of the Soviet Union and of Red China. Mostovets added that following the Communist Party of Mexico convention, which he said had been scheduled for March 12 to 15, 1960, Encina will be removed from leadership and expelled from the Communist Party of Mexico.

The Communist Party of Mexico convention, which had originally been scheduled to be held in March, 1960, was postponed indefinitely on March 10, 1960.

The foregoing is being disseminated to appropriate officials of the Government.

To Live or to Work

In a discussion in Prague on 2/29/60, with LADISLAV KOZMAN (ph), member of the International Dept. of the Central Committee (English Section) of the Czech CP, informant was told by KOZMAN that he should inform MORRIS CHILDS, Secretary of the CP, USA Committee on International Affairs that the following should be given most serious consideration by the CP, USA:

1. He stated that the Czech CP is most anxious that American writers, actors and artists who are talented, popular and progressive come to Czechoslovakia, either to live or to work there.
2. He stated he would appreciate the CP, USA's advising him concerning any important novels, or other serious works written by American authors, which would be of benefit to Czechoslovakia. The Czechs, he stated, would be more than pleased to make translations of such works.
3. He stated that the Czech CP would appreciate the CP, USA's submitting to them a list of outstanding public figures, particularly of outstanding progressive individuals. The list is important, he stated, inasmuch as the Czechs would like to invite such people to their affairs at their Embassy in the USA.
4. The Czech CP is most appreciative of the material already sent to it by MORRIS CHILDS and would appreciate his continuing to send to them important books and other material which would give them a picture of the US, both economically and politically.
5. The Czechs would welcome any delegations that could be sent to them, and even though such delegations be unofficial, the members thereof would be guests of various Czech "institutions" in which they might be interested.

Delegations Scheduled to Visit the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia

On 2/19/60, in Prague, NY 694-S* contacted LADISLAV KOCMAN (ph), member of the International Department of the Central Committee (English Section) of the Czechoslovakian CP. Among other matters discussed, the informant advised KOCMAN that he had been instructed by the International Department of the CP, USA to inform the Czechoslovakian CP that within the next few months, various delegations and individuals from the USA would visit the Soviet Union, after which they would visit Czechoslovakia. Informant advised KOCMAN that these delegations would have to be approved by the Soviet Union and that upon his return to Prague after a trip to Moscow, he would further advise KOCMAN with respect to specifically what delegations had been approved by the Soviet Union. (S)

In Moscow, the informant submitted to NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS, Head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the CPSU, a list of delegations and individuals scheduled to visit the Soviet Union. MOSTOVETS submitted this list to the Central Committee of the CPSU and subsequently, MOSTOVETS advised the informant that the list had been approved by the Central Committee as follows:

New York Trade Union Delegation

MOSTOVETS stated that the New York Trade Union Delegation, consisting of eleven members scheduled to arrive in Moscow on or before 5/1/60, to spend a period of two to three weeks in a tour of the Soviet Union, would be the guests of "The Trade Union Institution" and that their visas could be obtained in the USA.

Women's Delegation Headed by ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN

MOSTOVETS stated that a Women's Delegation, headed by ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN, could come to Moscow after the

~~SECRET~~

Copenhagen Conference, which the said delegation would attend on 4/21/60. He said that this delegation would be welcomed by the women's organizations in the Soviet Union and that the length of their stay was not in question. He further remarked that the Soviets would be glad to extend all courtesies, including medical care and rest, to this delegation, particularly to ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN.

Chicago Mid-West Delegation

MOSTOVETS reported that the Chicago Mid-West Delegation, consisting of important Negro intellectuals and officials, would be acceptable. He urged that all details and important data concerning the individuals in this delegation be sent to Moscow immediately so that visas could be prepared and the institutions, which they would be interested in contacting, notified.

Cleveland Steel Delegation

MOSTOVETS stated that the Cleveland Steel Delegation would be accepted and welcomed, and that also, with respect to this group, all important details and important data concerning them be sent immediately to the Soviet Union so that visas could be prepared and institutions, which they may wish to contact, notified.

Broad Mid-West Delegation

MOSTOVETS stated that the Broad Mid-West Delegation, consisting of trade union officials, textile workers, steel workers, auto workers, harvester workers, packing workers, and butchers, who were scheduled to go to Moscow in July, were acceptable. He said that it was most urgent that their names, biographies, and pertinent data concerning them be sent at once to Moscow so that visas could be prepared for them and the institutions, which they wished to contact, be notified.

~~SECRET~~

Women's Delegation to Ghana

MOSTOVETS stated that the Women's Delegation to the Ghana Conference was acceptable. He stated that they would be welcomed to come to Moscow before or after the said conference. He urged that this delegation include no more than 15 people and that all details regarding this delegation be furnished in advance.

LIL GREEN

MOSTOVETS reported that the Soviet Union would welcome LIL GREEN, wife of GIL GREEN, to the Soviet Union. They would like to show her all honors. She may go there as the guest of the Soviet Union for as long a period as she may desire; however, the Soviet Union is to be notified in advance so that proper receptions can be arranged for her and her trip made successful.

According to MOSTOVETS, he was at a loss to know whether or not BEN GREEN (brother of GIL GREEN) and the latter's wife, FLORENCE, could be accepted, inasmuch as there was no "category" in which they could be placed. The problem concerned the institutions whose guests they should be. However, since they have been most active in the Amnesty Campaign for Political Prisoners, it would be well that they be accepted as guests of a similar committee in the Soviet Union. It was suggested, therefore, that the CP, USA create an amnesty commission around them. MOSTOVETS requested that Soviets be informed as soon as possible with respect to what action the CP, USA may take in this matter.

CHARLENE MITCHELL

According to MOSTOVETS, the CP, USA would welcome to Moscow, CHARLENE MITCHELL, Negro woman, member of the CP, USA National Committee. He said that while in Moscow, she would be afforded the opportunity of receiving whatever medical treatment and rest that she might require. He said that "her case would be considered entirely medical."

VICTOR PERLO

VICTOR PERLO, MOSTOVETS reported, would be accepted as an economist and writer. It was desired that the CP, USA furnish immediately data on his background and age. PERLO would be the guest of economic institutions and publishing houses while in the Soviet Union.

MOSTOVETS stated that with respect to delegations, in order that these delegations be successful and that proper attention and courtesy be extended to them, it was requested that a large delegation should consist of no more than 15 people; that a medium size delegation consist of about ten people; and that an average delegation consist of seven or eight people.

MOSTOVETS continued that he realized that these delegations were unofficial, but nevertheless it was important that the arrival of these delegations in Moscow be known well in advance so that they could be referred to "pertinent institutions" and that their tour be made successful. MOSTOVETS also suggested that the CP, USA furnish detailed information regarding the individual delegations and the organizations to which they belong, such information to include background information and information regarding the ages and attitudes of the persons involved. (X)

MOSTOVETS further advised that it was imperative that in the event any of the delegates desire to stay longer in the Soviet Union, such information should be reported well in advance to Moscow. He further stated that if anyone should desire to visit friends or relatives in the Soviet Union, such information also should be furnished well in advance and reflect exactly where such relatives live. He explained that there are many places in the Soviet Union that are restricted and that these people should be advised in advance with respect to whether or not they would be permitted to visit such relatives.

I thought you would be interested in the following information which was obtained as a result of our over-all coverage of the Communist Party, USA, concerning statements made by Nikolai Mostovets, Head of the North and South American Sections of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU) in February, 1960.

Mostovets stated that the CPSU is interested in having Negroes and Puerto Ricans of university age attend the Friendship of the Peoples' University in Moscow, Russia. According to Mostovets the course would last approximately five years and all of the expenses incidental to the travel of the Negro and Puerto Rican students would be paid by the CPSU. He added that the students should arrive in Moscow prior to September, 1960.

A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that a recent issue of the "Moscow News" stated that the above university is being organized under the auspices of the Soviet Afro-Asian Solidarity Committee, the Union of Soviet Societies of Friendship and Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries and the All-Union Central Council of Trade Unions.

Concerning the Communist Party of Puerto Rico (CPPR), Mostovets said that the Soviets have recently received information that this Communist Party desires

JOHN PITTMAN and MARGARET PITTMAN

While in Moscow in February, 1960, NY694-S* discussed ~~JOHN PITTMAN~~, "Daily Worker" correspondent, in Moscow, and the latter's wife, ~~MARGARET~~, with NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS, Head of the North and South American Sections of the International Dept. of the CCCPSU and with ALEKSEI ANDREEVICH GRECHUKHIN, Assistant to MOSTOVETS, and in charge of North American affairs, including the USA but not Canada. US 105514 Pittman miss Jones Pittman

Informant noted that at the time he was in Moscow, JOHN PITTMAN was out of town. He was asked by the above-named CPSU functionaries whether he desired to see PITTMAN while he was in Moscow. Informant told them that for security reasons, he thought it better that he should not see PITTMAN. MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN agreed that this was probably a good idea.

It was agreed that when NY 694-S* should go to Prague from Moscow, he would prepare a letter to PITTMAN which would be mailed from Prague. This note would contain a brief discussion of the recent CP, USA Convention, the results thereof, and some of the plans for reorganizing "The Worker," including change of content and format. The informant would also request that PITTMAN keep a record of all the articles that he writes in Moscow and that a year from now he write a book based upon these articles. Also included in the proposed note would be instructions to PITTMAN that he study and learn the Russian language, which would make him a more effective correspondent in Moscow.

MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN told the informant that they would like PITTMAN to stay in Moscow for two more years. They noted that PITTMAN and his wife are studying the Russian language with a very competent instructor.

TO AIRTEL/BUREAU
NY 100-134637

They stated that they are concerned about the fact that MARGARET PITTMAN has "made herself" the correspondent of the "People's World." They said this is a cause of embarrassment since other accredited newspapers, such as the "New York Times" and the "Herald Tribune" may raise the question that they are entitled to a larger quota of correspondents if she is being regarded as an accredited correspondent.

They stated that they are also concerned about the matter of PITTMAN's Federal income taxes, which are due on 4/15/60. They requested that MORRIS CHILDS look into this matter, as well as the matter of V. J. JEROME's taxes.

Our top level informant, NY 694-S, on his return from the recent trip to Prague, Czechoslovakia, and Moscow, reported the attitude of Russian and Czechoslovakian spokesmen relating to the Berlin situation.

The Soviets and Czechs consider the Berlin Question to be most important and the informant received the impression the Soviets will not compromise over Berlin. The Soviets are convinced the West Germans are preparing for war and will move against East Germany without consulting the Western powers once they feel they have sufficient nuclear power to do so. The Soviets are prepared for any such move. The Czechs stated West German agents have been causing trouble in Czechoslovakia and the West Germans are "dreaming" of recovering former German territory now held by Czechoslovakia.

OBSERVATIONS:

It is believed the foregoing information relating to Berlin and the West German situation is of interest to and should be disseminated to the Honorable Gordon Gray, Special Assistant to the President; the Honorable Richard M. Nixon, the Vice President; Honorable Christian A. Herter, the Secretary of State; Mr. Allen Dulles, Director, Central Intelligence Agency; and the Attorney General.

STATEMENTS MADE BY LEADING SOVIET AND RED CHINESE OFFICIALS IN MOSCOW, RUSSIA, AND PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA

Sources which have furnished reliable information in the past have reported that Nikolai Mostovets, head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU), made the following statements in Moscow, Russia, during the month of February, 1960. Mostovets stated that the Soviets would like to re-establish normal relations with the Communist Party of Yugoslavia (CPY) so that the latter group might be "neutralized as a buffer." An important member of the CPY, Politburo, recently conferred with the Secretariat of the CPSU in regard to this matter. Communist China is a barrier to the re-establishment of normal relations between the two countries, as the communist Chinese are absolutely opposed to such relations. According to Mostovets, the real policy maker of Yugoslavia is Edward Kardelj, Vice President of Yugoslavia.

In regard to this matter our sources have reported that Chao yi-Min, a member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China (CPC), and one of the editors of the international communist journal, "World Marxist Review," emphatically stated in Prague, Czechoslovakia, in February, 1960, that the CPC will not recognize Tito and the CPY in the future. Chao accused Tito and his agents of engaging in anticommunist and anti-Soviet activities in the Near East. Chao related that Tito could not establish the same relationship with Abdel el-Kassem, Premier of Iraq, that he had with Gamal Abdel Nasser, President of the United Arab Republic. Tito, therefore, plotted with Nasser to assassinate Kassem. A colonel in the Yugoslav Army was assigned to arrange the assassination of Kassem. However, the plot was never consummated and was exposed by secret Soviet agents in Iraq. Chao concluded that on the surface cordial relations exist between the CPC and the CPSU and there are no problems existing in the economic field. However, he added that Yugoslavia is responsible for some of the differences between the CPC and the CPSU.

With respect to the present whereabouts of Wan Min, reportedly a top Chinese Communist Party leader during the formation of the CPC, Chao stated that he is in Moscow and is "sick in the head." Chao added that the present Chinese Ambassador to Czechoslovakia is also "sick in the head" and unlikely to retain his position much longer.

According to our source, Timmy Dennis, son of the Communist Party, USA, national chairman, Eugene Dennis, was heard to make the following statements in Moscow, Russia, in February, 1960. Dennis reportedly works closely with the Central Committee of the CPSU and includes among his friends the sons of the top Soviet and Red Chinese leaders. Dennis confirmed the foregoing statements of Mostovets regarding the desires of the CPSU to re-establish normal relations with the CPY. He said that another disagreement between the Red Chinese and the CPSU revolves around Prime Minister Nehru of India. The Red Chinese consider Nehru a confused nationalist and a weakling who has a tendency toward United States imperialism and the Chinese have no respect for him.

Dennis added that the Soviet Union's political relations with Nasser and the United Arab Republic are changing. Owing to political pressure of the CPC and the CPSU, there is "a thinning out" of the political relations between the Soviet Union and Nasser.

Dennis further related there is "cult of the personality" problem developing in the CPC with respect to Mao-tse-tung. The Chinese, however, have been able to conceal this situation perfectly.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION IN CUBA, AND MIKOYAN'S INSTRUCTIONS TO COMMUNISTS
IN THE CUBAN LEADERSHIP AND HIS EVALUATION OF THE CUBAN CP SITUATION

In Moscow, in February, 1960, NY 694-S discussed with T. TIMOFIEV (TIMMY DENNIS, son of the CP, USA National Chairman EUGENE DENNIS) the Cuban situation. TIMOFIEV furnished the informant with information he said he had obtained from his close friend and fellow worker at the "World Institute of Human Affairs" - SERGEI MIKOYAN, son of ANASTAS MIKOYAN. SERGEI, according to TIMOFIEV, had accompanied his father to Cuba. SERGEI is being groomed for political and diplomatic work.

TIMOFIEV advised as follows:

The Soviets are very pleased with the situation in Cuba, which can be characterized as a genuine nationalist movement. There was a discussion between MIKOYAN and the Communists in the Cuban leadership regarding whether the Cuban revolt could be characterized as a bourgeois democratic revolution. It was agreed that at the moment this would not be a true characterization inasmuch as Cuba is an agrarian nation and also a nation most of whose industries were owned and controlled by non-Cuban interests.

MIKOYAN stated that since the Cuban bourgeoisie is not wholeheartedly supporting FIDEL CASTRO, the revolution could not be characterized as a bourgeois democratic revolution. There is, however, a genuine nationalist movement, supported overwhelmingly by the peasantry and sections of city workers.

MIKOYAN said that the Cuban CP made mistakes before and after the revolt, mistakes that could result in isolating the Cuban CP from the revolutionary movement. The Cuban CP was exerting too much pressure on CASTRO to accelerate the movement. The CP in Iraq had made the same mistake, that is it pushed the Kassim forces too fast. The result was that KASSIM was compelled to react against the CP, and had to slow the pace of the movement considerably.

A further result of the Iraq CP's mistake was that it did not secure the position of strength which it had hoped to obtain.

MIKOYAN told the Communists in the Cuban leadership that there was no need to exert undue pressure on CASTRO at this time because CP strength exists in the trade unions and in the agrarian reform. In view of the current situation in Cuba, there is no need for further pressure on CASTRO, for in time these movements (trade union and agrarian reform) will exert their own natural pressures.

According to SERGEI, TIMOFIEV told the informant, it was understood that the 2½ cents per pound paid by the Soviets for Cuban sugar was a ridiculous price and did not assist in solving the Cuban sugar crisis. However, the sugar situation afforded an excellent opportunity for the Soviets to barter with Cuba - sugar for military and farm equipment. This was a friendly gesture to improve relations between Cuba and the Soviet Union and also to improve relations between the Soviet Union and the Latin American countries in sympathy with the Cuban revolt.

It was agreed that establishment of diplomatic relations between Cuba and the Soviet Union at the time of the barter would not be feasible - that/so might tend to antagonize the US Government and President EISENHOWER in a period prior to the Summit Conference. The Soviets did not want this to happen. The "Summit spirit" had to be preserved. The establishment, however, of diplomatic relations between Cuba and the Soviet Union undoubtedly would be effected at the proper time.

MIKOYAN believes the Cuban situation is in "good hands". He thinks highly of FIDEL CASTRO and believes the latter is "going in the right direction". CASTRO's brother RAOUL is a CP member, as are the Cuban Ministers of Finance and Agriculture.

NY 694-S returned to United States on 3-10-60 following the fourth Solo mission to Prague, Czechoslovakia and the Soviet Union. My memorandum 3-11-60 set forth the highlights of information received by informant during this most recent mission. The Director noted that dissemination of this memorandum should be expedited on receipt of details.

By airtel 3-13-60, New York advised of informant's conversation with Timmy Dennis, a son of Eugene Dennis, chairman, Communist Party, USA, which conversation was held in Moscow in February, 1960. Timmy Dennis has resided in Russia since about 1936 or 1937.

Dennis furnished informant with information he received from Sergei Mikoyan, the son of Anastas Mikoyan, deputy premier of the Soviet Union.

According to information attributed to Anastas Mikoyan, the Soviets are very pleased with the situation in Cuba, which they consider to be a nationalist movement supported overwhelmingly by the peasantry and sections of city workers. Mikoyan thinks highly of Fidel Castro and believes that Castro is going in the right direction. Mikoyan characterized Castro's brother Raoul and the Cuban ministers of finance and agriculture as Communist Party (CP) members. Mikoyan instructed the Cubans not to exert undue pressure on Fidel Castro at present in view of the CP strength in trade unions and the agrarian reform movement which will result in these movements exerting their own natural pressures.

Mikoyan claimed that the agreement by which the Soviet Union will purchase Cuban sugar will not assist in solving the Cuban sugar crisis. However, it will afford an excellent opportunity for the Soviets to barter with Cuba and is interpreted by the Soviets as a method of improving relations between Cuba and the Soviet Union. In addition, Mikoyan believes that this agreement will also improve relations between the Soviet Union and the Latin American countries, who are in sympathy with the Cuban Revolution.

Honorable Richard M. Nixon
The Vice President

Dear Dick:

I thought you would be interested in the following information which was obtained as a result of our over-all coverage of the Communist Party, USA, concerning statements made by Nikolai Mostovets, Head of the North and South American Sections of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU) in February, 1960.

Mostovets stated that the CPSU is interested in having Negroes and Puerto Ricans of university age attend the Friendship of the Peoples' University in Moscow, Russia. According to Mostovets the course would last approximately five years and all of the expenses incidental to the travel of the Negro and Puerto Rican students would be paid by the CPSU. He added that the students should arrive in Moscow prior to September, 1960.

A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that a recent issue of the "Moscow News" stated that the above university is being organized under the auspices of the Soviet Afro-Asian Solidarity Committee, the Union of Soviet Societies of Friendship and Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries and the All-Union Central Council of Trade Unions.

Concerning the Communist Party of Puerto Rico (CPPR), Mostovets said that the Soviets have recently received information that this Communist Party desires financial assistance from the CPSU. He added that if the CPPR will submit an authoritative proposal with regard to the exact amounts needed the CPSU will give

In Moscow, during February, 1960, NY 694-S* was told by NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS, head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the CCPSU, that the CPUSA should attempt to send to Moscow, for attendance at the "Friendship of the Peoples University," some young Negro and Puerto Rican students. "The Friendship of the Peoples University is being organized under the auspices of the Soviet Afro-Asian Solidarity Committee, the Union of Soviet Societies of Friendship and Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries and the All-Union Central Council of Trade Unions."

"Men and women up to 35 years of age, irrespective of race, nationality and religion, will be considered for entrance to the University. Applications may be submitted through public

"organizations or government institutions in the countries concerned, through the Embassies and Consulates of the U.S.S.R. in those countries, or directly to the University."

"In 1960 it is expected to take in 500 applicants, with a view to increasing the total number of students to three or four thousand in the next few years."

"Training at the Friendship of the Peoples University will be free of charge. The University will provide stipends, free medical aid and hostel accommodation to all students, and pay the travelling expenses of the students to Moscow and back."

"The necessary textbooks and educational aids for students will be published in Russian and in the respective languages of the Asian, African and Latin American peoples."

"The University will invite eminent scientists and scholars from the countries of Asia, Africa, Latin America and other countries to take part in teaching work."

CPSU Desires that CP, USA Send to Moscow Competent Translators

While in Moscow during February, 1960, NY 694-S* among other matters, discussed the question of translators with NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS, Head of the North and South American Sections of the International Dept. of the CCCPSU, and ALEKSEI ANDREEVICH GRECHUKHIN, Assistant to MOSTOVETS, and in charge of North American affairs, including the USA but not Canada.

MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN stated that they would be pleased to translate for the CP, USA works from Russian into English, but that unfortunately at that time there was a shortage of translators. They stated that they requested that the CP, USA, if possible, send to Moscow competent translators who could stay there for a period of from six months to one year. It was important, however, they stated, that such people be well groomed in Marxism-Leninism and be staunch Communists.

They stated that V. J. ~~AT~~ JEROME, who is now in Moscow, is a translator, but to use him now for such a purpose is out of the question. He has more work than he can handle and the task in which he is now involved will require at least another year of his time. They said they had in mind requesting that ~~GEORGE MORRIS~~ be sent to Moscow for translation work.

NY 694-S* informed them that in view of the fact that MORRIS is now Labor Editor of "The Worker," it would seem that the CP, USA would not release him for translation work in Moscow.

According to the informant, he submitted to MOSTOVETS and ALEKSEI, for transmittal to the CCCPSU, a memorandum that the Chicago periodical "Maverick", edited by CP Revisionists (FRED FINE, etc.) had received a telegram from the Soviet magazine "Crocodile", requesting that "Maverick" submit an article concerning KHRUSHCHEV's visit to the USA. "Maverick" did submit to "Crocodile" the requested article.

The telegram in question was used by "Maverick" to establish that "Maverick" was a periodical approved by the Soviets.

The informant, in the memorandum, further advised that the CP, USA requested that from now on the Soviets should consult previously with the International Affairs Committee of the CP, USA before becoming involved in any such transaction.

MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN thanked informant for the memorandum and stated that they were sure that the CCCPSU, in the future, would check with the International Affairs Committee of the CP, USA before making any such commitments as had been made in the case of "Maverick."

REPRESENTATIVE OF CHINESE CP GAVE TO NY 694-S*,
IN PRAGUE, $50,000.00 FOR TRANSMITTAL TO CP, USA

In Prague, in February, 1960, before going to Moscow, NY 694-S* contacted CHAO YI MIN, member of the Central Committee of the Chinese CP, who also is a representative of the Chinese CP to the "World Marxist Review" and one of the editors of said publication.

Pursuant to instructions from MORRIS CHILDS, Secretary of the International Affairs Committee of the CP, USA, NY 694-S* contacted CHAO YI MIN in Prague for a two-fold purpose: (1) To receive from MIN money being given to the CPUSA by the Chinese CP, and (2) To furnish MIN, for transmittal to the Chinese CP, information regarding the CP, USA.

The informant told MIN that he was contacting the latter with regard to matters previously discussed in China with the Chinese CP leadership by MORRIS CHILDS. CHAO stated that he was aware of the purpose of NY 694-S*'s visit to him. (After discussion of matters reported to the Bureau in other communications, the informant and MIN discussed the subject of money to be given by the Chinese CP to the CP, USA.)

MIN offered to transfer to the informant immediately $50,000 in $100 bills. NY 694-S* told MIN that since the informant would leave shortly for Moscow, he would not accept the money at that time, but would do so on his return to Prague from Moscow. They agreed that it would not be wise for the informant to have $50,000 in his possession while in Moscow, inasmuch as the CPSU had no knowledge of this money transaction between the Chinese CP and the CP, USA.

MIN told NY 694-S* that had the informant arrived in Prague during the past Christmas week, as originally planned, MIN would have had only $25,000 to transfer to the informant. MIN said that the Chinese CP had experienced difficulty in accumulating $100 bills, which were what they desired the $50,000 to consist of. When it became apparent that NY 694-S* would not arrive in Prague as per scheduled, MIN made a short trip to China, and while there, ²he was given an additional $25,000 in $100 bills for transmittal to the CP, USA through NY 694-S*.

It was agreed that NY 694-S* would be given the $50,000 by MIN upon the informant's return to Prague, provided, however, that NY 694-S* arrive in Prague before March 3, 1960, at which time, MIN was scheduled to go to China again.

NY 694-S* suggested to MIN that, "If by some chance, the informant should be delayed in Moscow, MIN, who would return to China via Moscow, meet NY 694-S* at the Chinese Embassy in Moscow for the transfer of the money.

MIN said, "That is not a good idea. Even though the Chinese Ambassador is a good friend, this transaction of ours must be handled here--by only the two of us. Nobody else knows, or should know, the nature of our business." MIN indicated that since he had obtained possession of the $50,000, he had exercised extreme caution to safeguard it, never leaving it out of his sight.

After a trip to Moscow, where he stayed about ten days, NY 694-S* returned to Prague, where MIN delivered to him the aforementioned $50,000 in $100 bills.

NY 694-S* noted that in his conversations with MIN concerning the money, MIN gave no indication whether the Chinese CP intended to make further donations to the CP, USA.

The serial numbers on the aforementioned bills are being checked by the NYO against the list of serial numbers on bills issued to Soviet establishments in New York City and Washington, D. C. The Bureau will be advised concerning any positive identification of these bills by the NYO.

I thought that you would be interested in the following information obtained as a result of our over-all coverage of the Communist Party, USA, concerning statements made by Nikolai Mostovets, the head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department, Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU).

In February, 1960, Mostovets stated that the Central Committee of the CPSU is engaged in preparing a new program for the 22nd Congress of the CPSU in 1961. The draft of this new program is expected to be finished in September, 1960, and will contain two main points: (1) the new domestic program (Way to Communism) and (2) the international relationship between the Soviet Union and socialist countries with capitalist countries.

Mostovets indicated that a number of older Communist Party (CP) leaders will be removed from their present positions; however, the individuals to be removed are not members of the present Presidium. He continued that in the near future certain young CP leaders will appear in positions of prominence. He added that Dmitry Stepanovich Polyansky is the most promising potential top leader among the young CP members. Informant Advised Foreign CP, USA
Functionaries Regarding Limitations on Authority of CP, USA Functionaries to Speak Officially for the CP, USA

NO 600
On the instructions of the CP, USA, NY 694-S* advised Czech CP functionaries and a Chinese CP functionary, whom he contacted in Prague, and CPSU functionaries, whom he contacted in Moscow, with respect to limitations on the authority of individual CP, USA functionaries or others who, in the future, would make contact with the Czech, Soviet, and Chinese Communist Parties. The CP functionaries to whom the informant furnished the information were: LADISLAV KOCHAN (ph), member of the International Department of the Central Committee (English Section) of the Czech CP; FNU KADERKA, Deputy in Charge of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Czech CP; CHAO YU-MIN, member of the Central Committee of the Chinese CP, one of the editors of the "World Marxist Review", and a representative of the Chinese CP to the "World Marxist Review"; NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS, Head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the COCPSU; and ALEKSEI ANDREEVICH GRECHUKHIN, Assistant to MOSTOVETS, in Charge of North American Affairs, including the USA, but not Canada. CHINA

The informant advised these persons to inform their respective parties that no one from the CP, USA, national functionary or otherwise, has authority to represent the CP, USA officially in contacts with other parties unless such person has specific authority to do so from the CP, USA Secretariat, through the International Affairs Committee of the CP, USA, of which MORRIS CHILDS is Secretary. The informant told them that there were three members of the CP, USA International Affairs Committee: GENE DENNIS, Chairman; GUS HALL; and MORRIS CHILDS, Secretary. He told them it should be clear that persons without such specific authority would speak only for themselves as individuals and in no way represent the CP, USA officially.

The foreign CP functionaries, to whom the informant furnished the above information, stated that in the past they had, on occasion, been embarrassed by reason of not knowing whether a particular individual contacting them had authority to speak officially for the CP, USA. They said they were pleased to have this matter finally resolved.

Soviets Not Interested in Establishing Fur Agency in USA, But Are Willing to Sell to USA Furriers

During February, 1960, NY 694-S* had a meeting at the Office of the Foreign Ministry in Moscow with NIKOLAI IVANOVICH MOURAVIEV, former head of the Amtorg Trading Corporation in NYC, and presently head of the Fur Department of the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

Before this meeting, the informant had submitted to the Central Committee of the CPSU a memorandum reflecting the following:

A group of businessmen headed by Mr. HENRY KATCHEN, an important furrier with interests in Maximilian Furs and Saks Fifth Avenue in NYC, represent a group of fur manufacturers who would like to secure an exclusive fur agency from the Soviet Government. It was desired that this agency include Canada as well as the US. This group of furriers had outlets and warehouse space available and had the support of Maximilian Furs and Saks Fifth Avenue.

Upon meeting with MOURAVIEV, the subject matter of the above memorandum was discussed. MOURAVIEV stated that the proposal was neither feasible nor legal and that the Soviet Government did not give such agencies as this to anyone, despite whatever good recommendations that they may have. MOURAVIEV further stated that KATCHEN was no stranger to him and that the latter is well thought of in the Soviet Union, that his name is on a "preferred list." MOURAVIEV also exhibited to the informant a catalogue on which appeared the names of all prominent manufacturers and businessmen in the fur industry. KATCHEN's name appeared on this list.

MOURAVIEV noted that all products with which his department deals must be paid for in cash before delivery, particularly the kind of furs in which KATCHEN is interested, namely, broadtail, Persian lamb, and sables. He stated that at the last auction held in Leningrad, furs of these types were sold for cash before the auction began.

MOURAVIEV stated that his department would be very appreciative if the fur manufacturers and the fur unions in the USA, and all other people involved in the fur industry in the US, would increase their activities with respect to lobbying in Washington for lifting of the embargo on the sale of furs banned in the US, namely mink, ermine, kolinsky, stone marten, bone marten, vicelle, and red foxes. MOURAVIEV said that if this embargo could be withdrawn, it would be beneficial to his department, to the fur industry, and to workers and merchants alike.

MOURAVIEV said that even though he could not give to Mr. KATCHEN and his associates a fur agency, he would be pleased to do business with Mr. KATCHEN and the latter's associates even to the extent of selling to them prior to the Leningrad auction. He said that he could sell to them the entire shipment of the particular furs that KATCHEN and his associates desire.

Informant told MOURAVIEV that he would advise KATCHEN with regard to the information MOURAVIEV had given him and asked whether or not MOURAVIEV would object to KATCHEN or one of his colleagues continuing the discussion with MOURAVIEV regarding this matter. MOURAVIEV replied that there would be no objection on his part nor on the part of the Ministry, which is in over-all charge of this department. He said, in fact, he would be most pleased to meet with KATCHEN and his associates. He stated that he could now offer to KATCHEN $50,000.00 worth of sables.

WORLD FEDERATION OF TRADE UNIONS

On Tuesday, February 16, 1960, in Prague, it was arranged that NY 694-S* meet with LOUIS SALLIENT, Secretary of the World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU), and (FNU) GRACCI and (FNU) APERICIO, also associated with the WFTU. The informant gave them "greetings" from the CP, USA National Secretariat and from the CP, USA International Affairs Committee, of which MORRIS CHILDS is secretary, and told them that he was there to report, pursuant to the request of LOUIS SALLIENT, concerning placing someone to represent the WFTU in the United Nations.

NY 694-S* told them that he was reporting in behalf of MORRIS CHILDS, particularly, the Secretary of the CP, USA International Affairs Committee. The informant advised them as follows:

So far, the CP, USA has succeeded in contacting LEN de CAUX, former editor of the "CIO News" and of the "March of Labor." LEN de CAUX now resides in California. It was proposed to DE CAUX that he work in the United Nations, and the latter is giving serious consideration to this matter, but at the moment, has not decided whether or not to accept the post. SALLIENT and his associates, the informant stated, would be advised as soon as possible with respect to DE CAUX's decision.

SALLIENT thanked the informant for his information and requested that NY 694-S* convey the greetings of himself and the other two members of the WFTU Secretariat to the CPUSA leadership. He requested also that their congratulations be offered to the CP, USA leadership elected at the recent 17th National Convention of the CP, USA.

According to SALLIENT, the WFTU Secretariat is anxiously awaiting reports that may be forthcoming concerning the labor movement in the USA, and, at the moment, are intensely interested in the development of the trade union movement in the United States and in the A. PHILLIP RANDOLPH fight with GEORGE MEANY at the AFL-CIO leadership conference held in Florida. He said that RANDOLPH's fight was particularly interesting, inasmuch as he and other leading Negro trade unionists are fighting segregation in the USA.

SALLIENT asked whether the informant had any other information regarding this matter which he might be able to furnish in a report. NY 694-S* told them that his objective in meeting SALLIENT and the other secretaries was to furnish the report concerning LEN DE CAUX and to transmit to them greetings from the top leaders of the CP, USA. He stated he personally had no information concerning the RANDOLPH fight with GEORGE MEANY. Informant advised that on his return to the United States, he would advise the CP, USA of SALLIENT's interest in this matter and would request that the CP, USA furnish him pertinent information as soon as possible.

SALLIENT and the other secretaries indicated that they were familiar with the development of various Negro trade union committees which are being formed in Detroit, in the South and on the West Coast and ^{which} are fighting the top leadership in the AFL-CIO for a truer representation of Negro labor leaders in labor councils, federations, etc., in the United States. They indicated that they are aware of the fact that a sharp struggle is developing against the "labor fakers" who pursue a policy of segregation of top Negro leaders.

Dear Allen:

I thought that you would be interested in the following information obtained as a result of our over-all coverage of the Communist Party, USA, concerning statements made by Nikolai Mostovets, the head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department, Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU).

In February, 1960, Mostovets stated that the Central Committee of the CPSU is engaged in preparing a new program for the 22nd Congress of the CPSU in 1961. The draft of this new program is expected to be finished in September, 1960, and will contain two main points: (1) the new domestic program (Way to Communism) and (2) the international relationship between the Soviet Union and socialist countries with capitalist countries.

Mostovets indicated that a number of older Communist Party (CP) leaders will be removed from their present positions; however, the individuals to be removed are not members of the present Presidium. He continued that in the near future certain young leaders will appear in positions of prominence. He added that Dmitry Stepanovich Polyansky is the most promising potential top leader among the young members. He described Polyansky as an alternate member of the Presidium and Premier of the Russian Federated Republic.

CPSU AND CZECH CP FUNCTIONARIES REQUESTED DETAILED INFORMATION CONCERNING MEMBERS OF THE NEWLY ELECTED SECRETARIAT AND THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE CP, USA.
THEY ALSO REQUESTED A LIST OF TROTSKYITES IN THE USA.

While in Prague, in February, 1960, NY 694-S* conferred with LADISLAV KOCMAN (phonetic), member of the International Department of the Central Committee (English Section) of the Czech CP, and with (FNU) KADERKA, Deputy in charge of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Czech CP. These Czech CP functionaries requested that the informant furnish, for transmittal to the Central Committee of the Czech CP, a detailed written report reflecting background information concerning the members of the new Secretariat and National Committee of the CP, USA elected at the recent CP, USA Convention. They requested further that the report contain a breakdown with respect to race, sex, and "left or right" position of these individuals. To the extent that he could, NY 694-S* submitted to KOCMAN, by memorandum, the information requested.

In Prague, also, at the request of CHAO YI MIN, member of the Central Committee of the Chinese CP, one of the editors of the "World Marxist Review," and representative of the Chinese CP to the "World Marxist Review," the informant furnished MIN with a list of the new CP, USA National Secretariat and National Committee. The informant also furnished to MIN biographical information concerning the names on this list.

In Moscow, also during February, 1960, NY 694-S* conferred with NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS, head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the CCCPSU, and with ALEKSEI ANDREEVICH GRECHUKHIN, assistant to MOSTOVETS and in charge of North American Affairs, including the USA, but not in Canada. MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN also requested detailed information, in memorandum form, regarding the new CP, USA Secretariat and National Committee. They requested that the information furnished include a breakdown with respect to race and sex. The informant furnished to them, in memorandum form, and to the extent that he was able to do so, the information they requested.

NY 694-S* noted that MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN had desired information concerning the number of votes which each member of the newly elected CP,USA National Committee had received. NY 694-S* advised them that he was not in a position to give them such information.

MOSTOVETS stated that, if possible, he would like to obtain from the CP,USA a list of Trotskyites in the USA, together with all information available concerning such persons. He requested that this matter be brought to the attention of MORRIS CHILDS, Secretary of the CP,USA International Affairs Committee. The informant was unable to tell MOSTOVETS whether the CP,USA had available such information concerning Trotskyites.

MOSTOVETS remarked that, "The Trotskyites still receive top priority as dangerous and cunning foes."

This memorandum is prepared to inform you that the Communist Party of China is interested in having Mary Jane and Philip Olin Keeney come to China to live and work.

The Keeneys have ^{US} been previously identified as members of the Communist Party and they have a long history of Communist Party association. Their associates include such individuals as Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, who was identified by Elizabeth Bentley as a Soviet espionage agent; Gerhardt Eisler, present East German communist official; and other individuals suspected of espionage against the U.S. The Keeneys have both previously utilized the Fifth Amendment before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.

On March 11, 1960, NY 694-S advised the New York Office that while in Prague, Czechoslovakia, during February and March, 1960, he conferred with Chao Yi Min, a member of the Central Committee of the Chinese Communist Party who is also a representative of the Chinese Communist Party to the "World Marxist Review" and one of the editors of that publication.

Min told NY 694-S that the Chinese Communist Party requested that he locate Philip Keeney and his wife, Mary Jane Keeney, and advise them that the Chinese Communist Party desires them to come to China to live and work; that they were to be told their traveling expenses would be paid by the Chinese; that airplane tickets are presently awaiting them in Bern, Switzerland, and that they will be reimbursed for their travel from the United States to Bern.

RECOMMENDATION:

The above is submitted for information and is not being disseminated outside the Bureau in view of the highly delicate source through which the information was obtained. The New York Office is alert to the possibility that the Keeneys may consider this offer.

CLARENCE HATHAWAY Charged by CCCPSU Functionaries With Having Been in Contact With the FBI

While in Moscow, during February, 1960, NY 694-S* conferred with NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS, Head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the CCCPSU, and with ALEKSEI ANDREEVICH GRECHUKHIN, Assistant to MOSTOVETS, in Charge of North American Affairs, including the USA, but not Canada.

MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN asked the informant to tell them exactly what he knew about CLARENCE HATHAWAY, currently Chairman of the NYS CP. They professed to know little about HATHAWAY and indicated that as a matter of interest, they would appreciate learning more about him. They also requested that the informant submit to them a written report concerning his knowledge of HATHAWAY, which report, they stated, they wished to furnish to the CCCPSU.

Shortly before the informant left Moscow to go to Prague, he had another conference with MOSTOVETS and ALEKSEI. At this time, they told him that according to their "archives", HATHAWAY had been an "Agent" of the FBI in 1920; that in 1941, he had been seen in contact with an FBI Agent; and that in 1947, in San Francisco, he again had been seen speaking to an FBI Agent. They told the informant that it was imperative that immediately upon his return to the USA, he furnish this information to MORRIS CHILDS, Secretary of the CP, USA International Affairs Committee.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. TOLSON
MR. PARSONS
MR. BELMONT
MR. DELOACH

I returned an earlier telephone call from the Attorney General who stated he had been looking over the top secret memorandum dated March 21, 1960, re "Communist Party, USA, International Relations - C" concerning the recruiting program of Negroes and Puerto Ricans of university age to the "Friendship of the Peoples" University in Moscow, Russia. He thought it would be a wonderful opportunity if we could get someone in this program, perhaps a young Puerto Rican who could attend the school for a period of five years as he felt this would be a big strike for our side if this could be accomplished. I commented that we might be able to work something out along this line; that either a Negro or a Puerto Rican might be worked in, that this school is to all intents and purposes an espionage school and the individuals attending are indoctrinated with communist theories and a young man subjected to this for five years would be pretty well brainwashed. I commented I thought this was an excellent suggestion.

I told the Attorney General that one of our informants is a top level functionary of the Communist Party here and he recently came back and brought with him considerable money and only Dennis, Hall and our informant know of this and no one else in the Party is aware of it. I commented such activity made one sick when the Russians are talking of peaceful co-existence while all the time the Soviet government is actually mixing into communist affairs in this country. The Attorney General then commented that I might consider getting the latest information from this informant and putting it into one memorandum, having it broken down into subject matter so that it could be easily read for the President's use. He thought it might be a good idea for me to take this over to the President and call it to his attention so he will read it, as he felt that much of the material which was given to others for circulation to interested parties was not always read. I commented that many of these persons underrate the information because they do not know the exact source and perhaps feel that it comes from down the line whereas actually this information comes direct from the inside and at the highest level. I stated we have been talking with our informant since he got back and we have been getting more and more information from him each day and I would have this all assembled, by topics, and pinpoint it down so it could be simply read like the material which was prepared for the President's use at Camp David. I stated it might be well to add a page or two on some recent activity at the Embassy and its staff and the United Nations Staff which is highly top secret and some of which we cannot disseminate. I commented some of this involved some blackmailing and framing of young Americans, on homosexual charges, who were going to Moscow. The Attorney General was advised that we had three such cases just recently; that these youths were going over on an exchange tour and some of the guides at the Exposition approached them and they indulged in homosexual activities and pictures were taken and they were confronted with these pictures and threatened with exposure unless they agreed to carry out espionage in this country and also get scientific material from our government. The Attorney General was further advised that it so happened that we had gotten the picture of the man who framed Joseph Alsop; that Alsop had identified this individual from a picture in Allen Dulles' Office. I stated the man who framed Alsop is one of the top advisors in intelligence in this country to the Kremlin and the material he prepares comes to the personal attention of Khrushchev. I stated they picked a high official to do this which again shows the viciousness of the Soviet setup.

I told the Attorney General that I would get started on both of these items, to get someone into the school, and also to prepare the memorandum for him.

Very truly yours,

Operation SOLO was a long-running FBI program to infiltrate the Communist Party of the United States and gather intelligence about its relationship to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, China, and other communist nations. It officially began in 1958 and ended in 1977, although Morris and Jack Childs, two of the principal agents in the operation, had been involved with the Bureau for several years prior. The files posted here constitute the first two releases made from the FBI's SOLO file. They range from March 1958 to August 1960. Subsequent releases will be added in the future. The following information was obtained as a result of our over-all coverage of the Communist Party (CP), USA, and concerns statements made by Aleksey Runyantsev, editor in chief of the "World Marxist Review," the theoretical journal of international communism published in Prague, Czechoslovakia.

In February, 1960, Runyantsev stated that he considers the circulation of the "World Marxist Review" in the United States to be most important and urged that every effort be made to increase its circulation in this country and to reach a wider range of readers. He advocated that this publication be made available to libraries, universities and to serious students throughout the United States.

According to Runyantsev, the "World Marxist Review" is particularly interested in publishing articles written by ranking members of the CP, USA, and pointed out that articles by Eugene Dennis, chairman, CP, USA, and Gus Hall, general secretary, CP, USA, will be included in issues of this publication in the immediate future.

In view of the extremely sensitive nature of certain of the sources of our information, it is requested

"WORLD MARXIST REVIEW"

On February 16 and 29, 1960, NY 694-S* conferred, in Prague, with ~~(CNS) RUMYANTSEV~~, Editor of the "World Marxist Review" and also a member of the Central Committee of the CPSU.

ALEXSEY RUMYANTSEV
At a meeting in RUMYANTSEV's office, the latter told the informant that he considers the magazine ("World Marxist Review") in the U. S. most important and that every effort should be made to increase its circulation there to even a wider range of readers. It should be available at libraries, universities, and to serious students throughout the United States. He said that, unfortunately, the circulation is limited, but that he understood the handicaps involved, such as State Department regulations, mailing of material to readers, and the general situation in the CP, USA, which, at the moment, is not of assistance to the circulation of the "World Marxist Review."

RUMYANTSEV said that he saw, however, a change for the Party in the U. S., since the visit of KHRUSHCHEV. A good example was the recent TV interview of GUS HALL and the radio broadcasting of the convention proceedings of the American Party.

He said it was true that there was not an overwhelming acceptance of these programs, but that, nevertheless, it was a happy event and most important that at this time the leader of the American Party could be televised to twenty million viewers.

RUMYANTSEV also ^{ex-}pressed pleasure at the fact that in recent weeks a "Hollywood 10 writer" (reference is probably to DALTON TRUMBO), who was ostracized and persecuted in the days of Mc Carthy, was reported in the press as having written an important script to be made into a movie picture.

In a subsequent meeting at RUMYANTSEV's office on the same date, there were present RUMYANTSEV, his assistant, ALEXEI MATREEVICH, and CHAO-YI-MIN, who is an Assistant Editor of the "World Marxist Review," and also the representative of the Chinese CP to the "World Marxist Review." CHAO, furthermore, is a "candidate" member of the Central Committee of the CP of China.

NY 694-S* initiated the conversation by extending to the entire group the greetings of the new General Secretary of the CP, USA, GUS HALL, and of the other members of the CP, USA Secretariat.

The informant advised them that they would receive an article for publication in the "World Marxist Review" written by EUGENE DENNIS, that this article was being sent to them without comment, and that, if any changes should be made therein, the CP, USA should be advised immediately, since the article had already been set up in a galley form for publication in "Political Affairs." RUMYANTSEV expressed pleasure that such an article by DENNIS had been sent to them. He said that actually the article had arrived on that very morning, and that as yet he had not had a chance to have it translated. He said that he was sure that any article coming from the CP, USA, particularly from EUGENE DENNIS, was most important and would be most welcome.

RUMYANTSEV suggested, however, that it would be best if both printings of the DENNIS article be made at the same time. He said that if by some chance it was planned to print the article in "Political Affairs" in the March issue of that magazine, it would perhaps be wise to delay such printing until the April issue, which would coincide with the date of the printing in the "World Marxist Review."

NY 694-S* told RUMYANTSEV that he could give him no guarantees with respect to when the article would be printed in "Political Affairs" and said that he would, however, notify the CP,USA as soon as possible with respect to RUMYANTSEV's request. He felt that if there were time, the CP,USA would be pleased to conform with RUMYANTSEV's suggestion.

It was agreed that NY 694-S* and the "World Marxist Review" staff named above would meet again before the informant would leave for the United States. It was understood that at that later date the DENNIS article would have been translated and RUMYANTSEV would be in a position to inform NY 694-S* concerning any suggested changes in the DENNIS article.

On the informant's return to Prague on February 29, 1960, he was notified by ALEXEI MATREEVICH that RUMYANTSEV and another of his chief assistants, (FNU) TKATSHENKO, would like to confer with the informant as soon as possible and would come to the latter's hotel to talk with him there. RUMYANTSEV and MATREEVICH/and TKATSHENKO came to the informant's hotel and the informant was told that the DENNIS article had been translated and was considered to be most timely and important. However, they stated that, by reason of the fact that the article was 39 pages in length, it was much too long. They said, since time is of the essence, did the informant have the authority to authorize that the article be cut in half to approximately twenty pages. NY 694-S* told them he could not assume responsibility in that regard, having no authority to do so, and he suggested that the article be printed in full, despite its length. He stated that should they cut the article down to twenty pages, it might lead to a serious misunderstanding. The CP,USA leaders might think that the editors of the "World Marxist Review" disagreed with the contents of the article.

After a lengthy discussion about this matter between themselves, the "World Marxist Review" representatives agreed that perhaps the article should be printed in full and that no serious changes should be made therein. However, they requested that they be allowed to make one change, which would constitute an omission. They desired to eliminate a paragraph which quoted KENNON (the DENNIS article was based upon KENNON's speech), in which paragraph it is stated that the Red Army had occupied Finland in 1940. This was after the Finnish-Russian war of that year. NY 694-S* told them that he was sure that it would be permissible for them to do that and said he assumed the responsibility to authorize them to make the said omission.

It was further agreed that the following would be done: That the article be printed in two installments because of its length--the first half to be printed in the March issue and the other half in the April issue. It was further agreed that the "World Marxist Review" representatives would mail the translation of this article to MORRIS' CHILDS, the Secretary of the International Affairs Committee of the CP, USA.

RUMYANTSEV told the informant that HY LUMER's article, which actually was the speech the latter made at the 17th Convention of the CP, USA concerning the economic situation in the USA, had been translated and would be printed. He stated that the content of the article would be the same but "rounded out" to read in a more popular vein. RUMYANTSEV stated further that the "World Marxist Review" was anxiously awaiting the article by GUS HALL, which would be entitled "The 17th Convention of the CP, USA and Its Tasks."

CHAO YI MIN and NY 694-S*
Have Mutual Friends

In Prague, in March, 1960, NY 694-S* conferred with CHAO YI MIN, member of the Central Committee of the Chinese CP, who is also a representative of the Chinese CP to the "World Marxist Review", and one of the editors of the said publication.

During the conversation with CHAO YI MIN, NY 694-S* and MIN reminisced about their past activities in the CP. They discovered they had mutual friends, who MIN had known when he was in the Chinese CP underground in Shanghai before the revolution. These friends included HARRY KWIET and GRACE and MANNIE GRANICH.

MIN was particularly interested in obtaining information about KWIET and expressed sorrow to learn that the latter is dead. KWIET, the informant told MIN, had been a radio operator aboard a US ship that was torpedoed by a German submarine.

MIN stated that the GRANICHes were not apparatus people, but had edited a magazine in Shanghai in 1934. He said he had great respect for them. Also, MIN reported he had known AGNES SMEDLEY and ANNA LOUISE STRONG.

MIN disclosed that he is 57 years of age, married, and the father of a 35 year old son who works for the Chinese CP. MIN is also a grandfather.

The informant remarked to MIN, "according to the Capitalist press, you (the Chinese) are now making rockets." MIN laughed and replied, "we are not making them now, but we will."

NY 694-S* asked MIN whether, on the death of CHIANG KAI SHEK, the Nationalist Government on Formosa would topple. MIN replied, "no-his son will take over."
(CHIANG KAI SHEK'S)

The informant said his son was a Lenin school student and a roommate of MORRIS CHILDS.

NY 100-134637

MIN added, "yes, he was also in OGPU when he was in Russia."

MIN also told the informant that ALFRED DEWHURST, Canadian CP representative to the "World Marxist Review", had completed his assignment on the said publication and would return to Canada after a visit to China.

MIN was extremely friendly with NY 694-S*. He apologized profusely for his poor English and said he would make an effort to improve it since he and NY 694-S* had so many matters of mutual interest that they could discuss. He hoped that NY 694-S* would return to Prague in the near future.

While in Moscow, Russia, in connection with Solo operation number four, NY 694-S had the occasion to converse with Nikolai Mostovets, head, North and South American Sections, International Department, Central Committee, Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU) in February, 1960. The details of this discussion are set forth in New York airtel March 13, 1960.

In reference to the CP of Mexico, Mostovets related that there are two CP groups in Mexico, one headed by Dionisio Encina and a second headed by younger CP members which has the support of the CPSU and the CP of China. Mostovets said that following the CP of Mexico convention which Mostovets stated had been scheduled for March 12 to 15, 1960, Encina will be removed from leadership and expelled from the CP of Mexico. (The Bureau has received previous information that this convention had been scheduled for March, 1960, but on March 10, 1960, it was postponed indefinitely.)

OBSERVATIONS:

In view of the increasing interest in Latin America brought about by Anastas Mikoyan's recent visits to Mexico and Cuba and the President's recent tour of South America, this information is quite pertinent. Despite statements by Khrushchev and other Soviet leaders to the contrary, it is quite evident that the CPSU not only has interest in other CPs but is making every effort to control these CPs.

There are attached for your approval appropriate communications incorporating pertinent data furnished by this informant. If you agree, these communications with a "~~Top Secret~~" classification will be furnished to the Honorable Richard M. Nixon, the Vice President; Honorable Christian A. Herter, the Secretary of State; Mr. Allen Dulles, Director, Central Intelligence Agency; Honorable Gordon Gray, Special Assistant to the President; and the Attorney General.

ALFRED K. STERN, aka

While in Prague, Czechoslovakia, 2/16-18/60 and 2/29-3/2/60, NY 694-S* conferred with LADISLAV KOCMAN (ph), member of the International Department of the Central Committee (English Section) of the Czechoslovakian CP, as well as (FNU) KADERKA, Deputy in Charge of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Czechoslovakian CP.

While in conference with either KOCMAN or KADERKA, informant was asked to speak with ALFRED K. STERN and MARTHA DODD STERN; however, he pointed out that since he was operating in an illegal status, he could not very well contact these two individuals or else his status would become known. Informant advised contacting Agents that should he have spoken with the STERNS, his cover would have been dissipated at once.

The question of his contacting the STERNS was not raised again, however, through discussions with KOCMAN and KADERKA, he gained the impression that the STERNS were living in Prague like millionaires and the Czech Government wished it could rid itself of them. He also was told by an unrecalled source that ALFRED K. STERN had tired of inactivity and had interposed himself upon the Czech Government setting himself up as a building construction expert, thus becoming involved in the building construction program of the Czech Government. Informant recalled he had been told STERN had botched up his part of the building construction program and had cost the Czech Government about a million dollars.

Solo is the code name for the operation involving our top informants, CG 5824-S and NY 694-S, as the liaison representatives between the Communist Party (CP), USA, and top level leaders of the CPs of the Soviet Union and other Iron Curtain countries.

NY 694-S went abroad on 2/3/60 in connection with Solo mission number four and returned to the United States on 3/10/60. While abroad, he contacted important functionaries of the Czechoslovakian, Chinese and Soviet CPs from whom he obtained information of considerable import, particularly concerning matters of current international interest.

Despite being away from his wife and children for this extended period of time, informant, immediately upon return to New York, was interviewed at length regarding this mission and all important information developed has been obtained. This information has been analyzed by the Bureau and disseminated with the Director's approval on a selective basis to high-ranking officials of our Government.

New York, by airtel 3/22/60, suggests that the Bureau may desire to express its appreciation to the informant for his unusual service by giving him a bonus payment of $1,000.

OBSERVATIONS:

It is to be observed that subsequent to Solo missions one and three, CG 5824-S was given a personal letter from the Director and a bonus payment of $1,000. There is no question but that Solo mission number four developed very important information and that the informant endangered his life in undertaking this mission.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That NY 694-S be afforded a bonus payment in the amount of $1,000. It is believed that informant certainly merits recognition for his outstanding services in this operation above and beyond his usual remuneration.

NY 694-S* returned to the United States 3-10-60 following a solo mission to Prague, Czechoslovakia, and the Soviet Union. The highlights of this mission were set forth in my memorandum 3-11-60. The Director noted that the information developed should be disseminated expeditiously on receipt of details.

New York by airtels 3/13, 15/60 advised of informant's conversations with Nikolai Mostovets, Head, North and South American Sections Central Committee Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU) in Moscow, February, 1960. Mostovets stated that the CPSU will give serious consideration to providing financial assistance to the Communist Party of Puerto Rico (CPPR) upon receipt of a proposal outlining the exact amounts needed. He added that the Communist Party of Cuba has agreed to organize a "Friends Committee" to assist the CPPR and this group would be able to furnish any immediate financial assistance needed by the CPPR.

Mostovets also stated that the CPSU desires that the Communist Party, USA, send young Negro and Puerto Rican students to Moscow prior to September, 1960, to attend the Friendship of the Peoples' University in Moscow for a course to last about five years. The travel expenses of the students will be paid by the CPSU. A recent issue of the "Moscow News" stated that the above university is being organized under the auspices of the Soviet Afro-Asian Solidarity Committee, the Union of Soviet Societies of Friendship and Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries and the All-Union Central Council of Trade Unions.

Chicago, by attached airtel 3/14/60, advised of the secret meeting held in the Sheraton-Atlantic Hotel, New York City, 3/11/60, between Eugene Dennis, chairman, Communist Party (CP), USA, Gus Hall, general secretary, CP, USA, and our informant, CG 5824-S. The primary purpose of this meeting was to enable Dennis and our informant to brief Hall concerning the CP, USA's relationship with foreign communist parties, particularly in regard to the receipt of funds.

This meeting was held under stringent security with the major portion of the meeting conducted through written notes which were immediately destroyed.

Hall was advised concerning the funds being received from the CP of the Soviet Union and the fact that $200,000 is expected for 1960. He was given a general run-down on the condition of the CP, USA, finances with emphasis on the depletion of its reserve fund since 1956. Hall was also advised of the function of the auditing committee, CP, USA, of which committee CG 5824-S is a ranking member. In connection with CP, USA, relations with other CPs, it was decided that a small secret commission to be known as the International Affairs Commission will be established, consisting of Eugene Dennis, Gus Hall and CG 5824-S. This commission will act in behalf of the Secretariat, CP, USA, but will not consult with the Secretariat. The CP, USA, members will not be informed of the commission's existence; however, its composition will be made known to foreign CPs.

It was agreed at this meeting that the matters discussed, especially the receipt of funds from the Soviet Union, will be known only to Dennis, Hall and our informant. It was also agreed that with the exception of emergency situations, any expenditures of funds received from the Soviet Union will have to be authorized by Dennis, Hall and informant.

OBSERVATIONS:

ENCLOSURE

We are extremely fortunate that our informant, CG 5824-S, is in a position where he will be able to keep the Bureau fully apprised of funds received from foreign CPs as well as the relationship of the CP, USA, with foreign CPs. This is especially significant in view of the fact that this information is being restricted to Hall and Dennis, the two top CP functionaries in this country, and our informant.

MEETING BETWEEN MORRIS CHILDS, EUGENE
DENNIS, AND GUS HALL IN NEW YORK CITY
ON MARCH 11, 1960

On Friday, March 11, 1960, there was a meeting in New York City between MORRIS CHILDS, Secretary of the Foreign Affairs and Peace Commission of the Communist Party - USA (CPUSA); GUS HALL, Executive Secretary of the CPUSA; and EUGENE DENNIS, Chairman of the CPUSA. This meeting was held in Room #800 of the Sheraton-Atlantic Hotel in New York City. The room had been rented by JACK CHILDS, using the name of JACK BROOKS. The meeting started shortly after noon and lasted until about 6:00 P.M. EUGENE DENNIS felt that since this hotel room was located on a floor where a toy convention was in progress, it offered good security. However, he still insisted that the major portion of the meeting be conducted in writing and that the notes be immediately destroyed because of the subject matter under discussion.

Agenda

This meeting was held primarily to acquaint GUS HALL with the relationship of the CPUSA with other Communist Parties, particularly in regard to the receipt of funds. Most of the briefing in regard to funds was done by CHILDS, who was following the instructions of DENNIS in regard to the amounts mentioned.

The agenda for the meeting was as follows:

- I. Report on the General Status of Finances of the CPUSA.
- II. Functioning of the Foreign Affairs and Peace Commission of the CPUSA.
- III. Miscellaneous Items of Information from CHILDS.

I. REPORT ON THE GENERAL STATUS OF FINANCES OF THE CPUSA

Remarks of MORRIS CHILDS

CHILDS indicated in writing that the prospects are that the CPUSA will get $200,000 in 1960. He also indicated that this prospect is based on promises made in 1958. He explained that the original request for financial assistance for the CPUSA was presented to the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU) in 1958. He wrote that he had been informed that an international commission of all socialist countries who make contributions to a fund to assist other Communist Parties had to vote on the request. CHILDS indicated that the first money received did not arrive until late 1958 or early 1959.

Continuing, CHILDS indicated that if $200,000 is received in 1960, it will be earmarked as follows:

- $75,000 for "The Worker"
- $50,000 for general Party work
- $40,000 for trade union concentration
- $25,000 for Negro work
- $10,000 for miscellaneous items, which includes travel expenses.

CHILDS also stated that for the first time, the CPUSA has in its possession some of the money received from the socialist countries for ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG and International Publishers. Further, that the CPSU has stated that if the CPUSA wants to use some of this money for the Party, it is all right to do so.

Again per instructions of DENNIS, CHILDS told HALL that, in round numbers, the CPUSA has $75,000 on hand, and this includes the funds in the possession of ISADORE WOFSY. There was also a "reserve" of $75,000, but some of this money is not in this country at the present time but will be received later. Again on instructions of DENNIS, CHILDS told HALL that of the sums received from the Soviet Union, at least 25% has to be put away as a "reserve" until the Party can build up its "reserve". CHILDS also told HALL that up to the present time, DENNIS had given the orders and/or permission for any expenditures of funds received from the Soviet Union.

During this discussion, it was agreed that henceforth, any expenditures of sums received from the Soviet Union will have to be authorized by HALL, DENNIS, and CHILDS. However, if it is not possible during some emergency for all three to meet, then any one of the three may, without prior consultation with the other two, authorize an expenditure of up to $1,000. Subsequently, the other two would be notified and the amount would be taken from the sums received from the Soviet Union.

CHILDS also indicated that it may take as many as ten trips a year to bring the money from the Soviet Union into the United States. Some of the money comes in from Canada. Furthermore, the Central Committee of the CPSU will only deal with certain persons in regard to financial matters. In Canada, TIM BUCK is the only person who can receive the money directly from the Soviets.

Remarks of EUGENE DENNIS

EUGENE DENNIS supplemented the written statements of CHILDS. DENNIS said that the CPUSA is in worse shape financially at the present time than it was in the late 1940's and early 1950's. DENNIS indicated in writing that there were times up to 1956 when the CPUSA had as much as $350,000 in reserve and, in addition, had businesses and an income from the funds handled by ISADORE WOFSEY.

DENNIS said that from $100,000 to $150,000 was dissipated by the Right wing, certain leaders in the New York District, and then by the ultra-Left. He said it is now necessary to build a reserve that will not be dissipated.

Then DENNIS said that he has talked with ISADORE WOFSEY since the first of the year, and WOFSEY said that his annual income from his sources is now under $20,000, while the fund being handled by WOFSEY is being used up at the rate of $4,000 to $5,000 per week.

Remarks of GUS HALL

GUS HALL said he understands the situation in regard to the receipt of funds from the Soviet Union. He stated he knows the difficulties involved and that it is necessary to be careful.

Then HALL stated that it will be necessary to create a different atmosphere in the National Office of the CPUSA in regard to the handling of funds. He explained that there is presently an atmosphere in the National Office that money will be made available by WOFSEY for the asking. HALL cited the following individuals as being primarily responsible for creating this atmosphere: JAMES JACKSON, WILLIAM L. PATTERSON, PHIL BART, IRVING POTASH, and CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT.

HALL reiterated that it is necessary to create a different atmosphere concerning funds. He cited an example to illustrate his point. He stated that recently he issued orders that those receiving their salary from the National Office would receive only half pay. Shortly thereafter, the New York District came in with a big dues payment to the National Office. RUTH ROBERTS stated immediately that with this money, it would now be possible to pay everyone his full salary.

Auditing Committee

HALL said that there has to be a different system for the control of funds. He said that there really has been no audit, and that the Auditing Committee will have to get to work.

It was then agreed that in the near future, an Auditing Committee, consisting of MORRIS CHILDS, JACK KLING, and possibly IRVING HERMAN, or, as an alternate for HERMAN, HELEN WINTER, will look over the national budget and will try to work out ways and means of raising money.

12th-13 Realty Corporation

DENNIS stated that the Party still has an interest in the building on 12th Street. He stated that the Party has an income of approximately $6,000 a year from this building. DENNIS also said that there is an opportunity to sell this building, but some people believe that it would be wise to keep the building for another year or two. He said that it might be possible to sell the building for approximately $250,000. There is a mortgage of approximately $100,000. Thus, if the building were sold, the Party may have a net of $100,000 to $150,000 in cash.

Discussion of Methods to Raise Funds

HALL said that it will be necessary for the Party to consider the establishment of businesses to raise money. However, it will be necessary to find specialists for this purpose. He said that PHIL BART is not doing enough organizing to raise funds, and that ISADORE WOFSY has said that new blood is needed in the Finance Committee. HALL said that it will be necessary to prepare a list of people and see if it is possible to obtain donations from these people. He stated that he will see some persons of this type, discuss the Party and Communism with them, and attempt to get donations from them. He went on to say that other Party leaders should also see persons whose names will be placed on this list.

Then GUS HALL said that he had asked BEN DAVIS if DAVIS was receiving any money from FRANCES DALON. DAVIS said that he was not. HALL said he had learned that DAKON said that she had tried to see DENNIS for six months, but was unable to do so. DENNIS denied this. He said he had seen DAMON in July, and at that time she said that she had some personal problems. In general, DENNIS indicated by his remarks that he was thoroughly familiar with the situation in regard to DAKON.

It was agreed at this meeting that the Party must try to obtain business experts to advise it in regard to investments. Also, that an effort must be made to get people to invest capital for Party business enterprises, and that it is necessary to have the entire Party organization try to raise money. Further, that there has to be a strict control of the Party budget and especially the expenditures. Also, that once every three months HALL, DENNIS, and CHILDS will meet to discuss finances.

Request that KORRIS CHILDS Move to New York City

At this point, HALL asked CHILDS to move from Chicago to New York City. He said that CHILDS could be a big help generally in New York. CHILDS complained that he was already being misused by the Party. Further, that he has a job outside the Party in Chicago and that right now it would be better from his personal standpoint if he stayed in Chicago. HALL asked if CHILDS could get a transfer of his job assignment outside the Party from Chicago to New York City. CHILDS replied he thought that it was unfair to ask him to do this and that this would be taking unfair advantage of him. He urged further consideration be given to this matter before he is asked to move from Chicago to New York.

The Handling of Funds from Physical and Bookkeeping Standpoints

It was then agreed that it will be necessary to work out bookkeeping methods for the funneling of funds received from the Soviet Union into the funds handled by ISADORE WOFSEY and from WOFSEY into the Party and "The Worker". One possibility is the preparation of a list of names of individuals and the securing of their permission to list them as contributors of sums of money to the Party.

HALL also stated that he knows a Finnish woman who lives in Upstate New York. He said that she knows OTTO KUUSINEN and his family. In the past, she has held funds for the CPUSA. HALL said that he would swear by her. He suggested that CHILDS might want to consider using this woman to act as a courier, handle funds, act as a depository for funds, etc. Both HALL and DENNIS said that they will try to get people who will work with CHILDS in the handling of funds, act as couriers, etc.

Discussion of ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG, of
of New Century Publishers

Both HALL and DENNIS stated that ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG is still regarding International Publishers as his personal business and personal property. They stated that TRACHTENBERG has got to be convinced that this is the property of the CPUSA. They also stated that the Party has a program for publications which TRACHTENBERG cannot stop. They stated that an effort was made to create a committee to look into International Publishers. No one wanted to volunteer for this committee except BEN DAVIS. HY LUMER objected to DAVIS as a member of this committee. HALL said he told LUMER that it was incorrect to object when a Negro volunteers for a committee.

HALL also complained that TRACHTENBERG, who also controls some funds resulting from the liquidation of the Jefferson School of Social Science, would not even authorize an expenditure from those funds for a telephone for a Party school in New York.

HALL complained that JOE FIELDS is a "moss back"; that is, FIELDS has no initiative and sits on his behind most of the time.

CHILDS said that he agreed that TRACHTENBERG cannot continue to operate International Publishers as a private domain. CHILDS stated, however, that TRACHTENBERG has complained that the Party leadership has not made him a member of even a minor committee. CHILDS suggested that since TRACHTENBERG is an old man, that TRACHTENBERG be treated gently and be given some assignment to compensate for the loss of exclusive control of the affairs of International Publishers.

Conclusion of the Discussion on CPUSA Funds and Businesses

This phase of this meeting was concluded by DENNIS telling HALL that he now knows as much as DENNIS and CHILDS about the financial situation in the CPUSA. DENNIS said that he had been anxious for HALL to have this information. It was agreed that the financial matters discussed at this meeting, especially the information concerning the receipt of funds from the Soviet Union, will be the knowledge of the three persons present at this meeting.

II. FUNCTIONING OF THE FOREIGN AFFAIRS AND PEACE COMMISSION OF THE CPUSA

CHILDS started the discussion of the second item on the agenda by stating that he had heard that some people had raised the question as to the usefulness of the Foreign Affairs and Peace Commission of the CPUSA, of which DENNIS has been the Chairman and CHILDS the Secretary. CHILDS said he had also heard that HALL was in agreement with those who opposed this commission.

HALL replied and said that it is true that he is opposed to this commission. He stated he did not see any need for the commission. He said that for the most part, this commission has been composed of armchair philosophers, such as ABE MAGIL, JIM ALLEN, JOE NORTH, etc. HALL also stated he felt that foreign affairs are so important that they should be considered by the Secretariat and/or the National Executive Committee.

DENNIS said he thought that it was not proper for HALL to make the statement that he was opposed to the Foreign Affairs and Peace Commission without first discussing the commission and its functions with him. DENNIS said it was because of this that he had refused to agree to continue to serve on this commission.

CHILDS then discussed how the Foreign Affairs and Peace Commission operated in the past. He said that as Secretary of this commission, he had made reports to the National Executive Committee and at other meetings. He said that through the efforts of this commission, the CPUSA has established contacts with the major Communist Parties throughout the world. He also stated that if BEN DAVIS said that this commission was the personal arm of GENE DENNIS, then it was an error on the part of HALL not to deny this allegation and to point out that as a result of the efforts of this commission, the CPUSA has earned the respect of the Communist Parties of the Soviet Union, China, Czechoslovakia, and, in fact, of Communist Parties the world over.

HALL then stated he felt that the things CHILDS was talking about -- that is, the relationship of the CPUSA with other Communist Parties -- should not be discussed in a large commission such as the International Affairs and Peace Commission has been.

Therefore, he proposed that the large International Affairs and Peace Commission be abolished. However, there should be a small, secret commission which will deal with the relationship of the CPUSA with other Parties, contacts between the CPUSA with other Parties, etc. While this would be a secret commission inside the CPUSA, its composition would be known to other Communist Parties.

DENNIS and CHILDS agreed with this proposal of HALL. It was agreed that this secret commission will be known as the International Affairs Commission. It will act in behalf of the Secretariat of the CPUSA, but without consulting the Secretariat, except in some instances when members of the Secretariat may be contacted on an individual basis. EUGENE DENNIS will be the Chairman, MORRIS CHILDS the Secretary, and GUS HALL a member of this commission. There may or may not be a large International Affairs and Peace Commission in addition to this small International Affairs Commission.

III. MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS OF INFORMATION FROM MORRIS CHILDS

CLARENCE HATHAWAY

CHILDS saved a "bomb-shell" for the last item on the agenda. CHILDS stated he had learned, without naming his source, that when the Central Committee of the CPSU received the names of members elected to the National Committee of the CPUSA, the following comment was made: The archives of the Central Committee of the CPSU reflect that CLARENCE HATHAWAY was a spy for the FBI in 1920; that he was seen in contact with an FBI Agent in 1941 in Pittsburgh, and that in 1947 he was in contact with and speaking to an FBI Agent in San Francisco.

This statement by CHILDS all but knocked out both DENNIS and HALL. DENNIS said he had not slept the night before. Now he knows that he will not sleep for the rest of the week. He also stated that he would not be able to make the main report at the meeting of the National Committee in Chicago. HALL said he thought he might make another trip to California.

HALL said that a meeting of the Secretariat and invited guests is scheduled to be held on Monday, March 14, 1960, and that CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT has already been asked to come in to New York City for the meeting. The main item on the agenda was to have been the composition of the National Executive Committee and, of course, CLARENCE HATHAWAY was being considered for the National Executive Committee. HALL said that it may be necessary to change the invitations to this meeting of the Secretariat or to postpone a discussion of the selections for the National Executive Committee.

HALL then stated that in a recent conversation with ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN, she said that recently the wife of ARNOLD JOHNSON said to her: You have named CLARENCE HATHAWAY as the leader of the New York District. Do you know that he was once accused of being an agent of the FBI? FLYNN said that she told Mrs. JOHNSON not to say this to anyone else or she would accuse her of spreading rumors about HATHAWAY.

HALL said that after his conversation with FLYNN, he attended an anniversary party for CLARENCE HATHAWAY. At this party, HATHAWAY took a drink, supposedly for the first time in sixteen years. HALL said that in the presence of HATHAWAY's wife, VERA, he told CLARENCE that the other day someone had said that HATHAWAY is an agent of the FBI. HALL said he now recalls that neither CLARENCE nor VERA HATHAWAY reacted in any manner to this statement. That is, that neither became indignant nor laughed it off as a joke.

In writing, DENNIS said, We are in a hell of a fix. We have to use a cleaver, but we cannot use it now. Should we chop off his head now and lose the New York District? It looks like the Left has not given up on the New York District. HALL agreed with the last statement by DENNIS. HALL said that despite the fact that DAVIS was persuaded not to fight to be re-elected Chairman of the New York District, the other day DAVIS walked into the National Office and announced that he is now the Chairman of the Harlem Section of the New York District. HALL asked, Can you imagine, DAVIS going down to a Section to be elected Chairman?

DENNIS then stated that he now recalled that in about 1939 or 1940, LEON JOSEPHSON was assigned to conduct an investigation of CLARENCE HATHAWAY. At that time, the charges against HATHAWAY were drunkenness, carousing with women, and a story that in 1919-1920 HATHAWAY was a private detective. That is, in 1919-1920, HATHAWAY had worked for a detective agency and during this period most detective agencies did strike breaking investigations. DENNIS said that during this investigation, someone had talked to HATHAWAY's first wife, and she verified that HATHAWAY had worked for a detective agency and she gave the name of the agency. An effort was made to verify the information with the detective agency, but by this time it had gone out of existence. However, the LaFollett Civil Liberties Committee had compiled a list of detective agencies which had done strike-breaking work and the name of the detective agency for which HATHAWAY allegedly worked appeared on this list. By infiltrating the LaFollett Civil Liberties Committee, the Communist Party had been able to compile a list of the names of 3,500 people who were supposed to be "spies", private detectives, strike breakers, etc. However, HATHAWAY's name did not appear on this list and nothing ever resulted from the investigation conducted by LEON JOSEPHSON in 1939-1940.

DENNIS then stated that in 1943, HATHAWAY absconded with some money and ran off to Arizona with some woman. It was at that time that HATHAWAY was expelled from the Communist Party. DENNIS said that the Party leadership was of the opinion at that time that there was something wrong with HATHAWAY and that perhaps there should have been a follow-through on the old charges against him.

GUS HALL asked, Why does the CPSU raise this problem now? They have given us a "hot potato" and we cannot ignore it. He then asked, Didn't we publicize HATHAWAY's name when he was taken back into the Communist Party a few years ago? DENNIS said that there had been no publicity when HATHAWAY's membership was reinstated. Thus, when he was named to the National Committee of the CPUSA, the CPSU must have checked its records on him.

HALL and DENNIS agreed that they will have to try to keep HATHAWAY from gaining membership on the National Executive Committee. HALL said that he will have to talk to HATHAWAY. He may tell HATHAWAY that some forty people have complained that HATHAWAY may be a spy for the FBI. If only a couple of people had made this allegation, then it might be ignored. But some forty people cannot be ignored. Both HALL and DENNIS agreed that while they will have to put a stop to HATHAWAY's climb to the leadership of the Party, they will have to lay the ground work for a change-over in the leadership of the New York District. Meanwhile, an effort will be made to restrain HATHAWAY.

At about this point in the discussion, DENNIS exclaimed, "I am sick".

CHILDS stated he remembered that IRVING HERMAN had questioned the selection of CLARENCE HATHAWAY as a member of the National Committee and as Chairman of the New York District in view of the circumstances surrounding the expulsion of HATHAWAY from the Party. CHILDS said he had mentioned HERMAN's comments to PHIL BART. HALL stated, I know this, BART told me. It was then decided to call IRVING HERMAN into the National Office of the CPUSA to ascertain if HERMAN has any information concerning HATHAWAY and, if so, why he did not raise it previously with the National Office.

During this discussion, it was brought out that LEON JOSEPHSON and ARNOLD JOHNSON are close personal friends. Since JOHNSON was a candidate for the chairmanship of the New York District, JOSEPHSON might have told him about the prior investigation of HATHAWAY and JOHNSON may have, in some manner, brought this to the attention of the CPSU.

HALL then recalled that when he was on the West coast recently, he talked with BURT NELSON at a meeting of National Committee members from the West coast. NELSON had stated that he had previously crossed over the border and had seen TIM BUCK, who was on a cross-country tour of Canada. NELSON said that BUCK had asked about the election of HATHAWAY to the National Committee. NELSON said that BUCK stated that there were some questions about HATHAWAY's suspicious role after World War I. BUCK stated, In fact, I may have been the one who first raised the issue at that time. NELSON said he told BUCK that he did not know anything about this.

This concluded the discussion about CLARENCE HATHAWAY at this meeting.

Biographies of Members of the National Committee of the CPUSA for the CPSU

CHILDS then told HALL and DENNIS that he had learned that the Central Committee of the CPSU wants biographies of members of the National Committee of the CPUSA. HALL said, Here we go again. Then he commented that he did not know the backgrounds of many of the members of the National Committee. EUGENE DENNIS also admitted this fact.

It was then decided that MORRIS CHILDS, PHIL BART, and JACK KLING will try to obtain biographies of the members of the National Committee at the meeting of the National Committee in Chicago on March 25-27, 1960. The members of the National Committee will be told that this information is for the National Office of the Communist Party - USA.

Overseas Trip of JOE NORTH

Both HALL and DENNIS told CHILDS that they want him to let the CPSU know that JOE NORTH, who has a passport, will cover both the summit meeting and President EISENHOWER's trip to the Soviet Union for "The Worker". The suggestion should be made that NORTH be permitted to be in Moscow by May Day. He would then leave Russia to cover the summit meeting starting on May 15, 1960, and later would return to Russia to cover President EISENHOWER's trip. While in Europe, NORTH would visit Moscow, Paris, Rome, and other cities.

It is expected that while in Russia, NORTH will be a guest of the "Literature Gazette" and will be treated royally, since this publication, as well as "Pravda" and other publications of the Soviet Union, printed everything NORTH wrote about NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV's trip to the United States.

MAO-Tse-tung REGARDS KHRUSHCHEV
OF THE PERSONALITY" PROBLEM TO THE CHINESE CP

In Moscow, in February, 1960, NY 694-S talked with T. TIMOFIEV (TIMMY DENNIS, son of the CPUSA National Chairman EUGENE DENNIS). TIMOFIEV, according to the informant, works closely with the Central Committee of the CPSU, and includes among his friends the sons of top Soviet and Chinese leaders, with whom he attended a university. Currently he is a member of a committee referred to as "The World Institute of Human Affairs", which is a department of the Central Committee of the CPSU.

According to TIMOFIEV, today in the Chinese CP there is a problem with respect to MAO, such as existed in the CPSU during the three-year period before STALIN's death. It is a "cult of personality" problem. The Chinese CP's concealment of this situation, however, is "perfect".

Also, according to TIMOFIEV, the Chinese consider themselves cultured and correct with respect to manners and protocol. KHRUSHCHEV, in Chinese eyes, is not a diplomat. He is crude and boisterous. MAO, who considers himself a sage, regards KHRUSHCHEV with contempt. This explains the Chinese lack of enthusiasm for KHRUSHCHEV when the latter is in China, and KHRUSHCHEV's subdued attitude when he is there.

On the surface it is impossible to see any flaws in the Soviet-Chinese relations. On the surface, everything is "correct". Economically, however, there are no disagreements.

In Prague, in talk with CHAO YI MIN, member of the Central Committee of the Chinese CP, Representative of the Chinese CP on the "World Marxist Review", and one of the editors of the said "World Marxist Review", the informant inquired about the whereabouts of WAN MIN.

(WAN, according to NY 694-S was the top Chinese CP leader during the formation of the CP in China. He favored establishing the CP in the cities, whereas MAO proposed to do so in the country. As a result of MIN's leadership the CP in China was almost annihilated, and MAO subsequently became a top leader.)

To the informant's inquiry, CHAO replied, "He's in Moscow - 'sick in the head'." He followed this remark by stating that the present Chinese Ambassador to Czechoslovakia is "sick in the head" and unlikely to retain his position very long.

The informant believes there may be some connection between "the sickness in the head" allegations with respect to Chinese leaders and the present alleged "cult of the personality" problem concerning MAO.

TITO AND NEHRU ARE CAUSES OF DISAGREEMENT
BETWEEN THE CPSU AND THE CHINESE CP. TITO HAS ENLISTED AID OF NASSER IN COMBATING INTERNATIONAL COMMUNISM.

While in Moscow during the period 2/10/60 to 2/29/60, NY 694-S conferred with T. TIMOFIEV, (TIMMY DENNIS, son of the CP, USA National Chairman EUGENE DENNIS) who is now approximately 30 years of age. TIMOFIEV, the informant learned in Moscow, is considered one of the rising younger Soviet leaders and works closely with the Central Committee of the CPSU, among whom he has many important contacts. He includes among his friends the sons of top Soviet and Chinese CP leaders. The sons of these leaders had attended schools and universities where TIMOFIEV had been a student. Currently he is a member of a committee referred to as "The World Institute of Human Affairs" which is a department of the Central Committee of the CPSU.

Regarding TITO and Yugoslavia, TIMOFIEV told the informant the following:

The CPSU would like to re-establish normal relations with the Yugoslav CP, and thereby "neutralize" TITO, keeping him from working in behalf of the Western bloc. TITO has been attempting to assume leadership of "the third force" in his struggle against international communism on the one hand, and against the imperialist nations on the other. The "third force" is Yugoslavia, representing national communism, plus the central bloc of nations which are neither in the international communist "orbit" led by the Soviet Union, or in the imperialist "camp" led by the US.

TITO is trying to unite this "third force" on the basis of nationalism as such. He succeeded in inducing NASSER to join forces with him in combating international communism. The CPSU's desire to re-establish normal relations with the CP of Yugoslavia constitutes a basic political difference between the CPSU and the Chinese CP.

The Chinese consider TITO a revisionist, and since they regard revisionism as "the root of all evil", and the mortal enemy of communism, they firmly believe that revisionism cannot be "neutralized". The Chinese position is that "revisionism should be cauterized with a flaming sword of steel". They therefore strongly oppose the re-establishment of normal relations between the CPSU and the Yugoslav CP.

Another disagreement between the Chinese CP and the CPSU revolves around NEHRU of India. The Chinese would not deal with NEHRU whom they consider a confused nationalist, a weakling tending toward US imperialism. They have no respect for him.

With regard to NASSER and the United Arab Republic, the Soviet Union's economic relations with this group have been, and are remaining, normal. It is evident, however, that the political relations have changed. NASSER had sent a personal invitation to KRUSHCHEV to attend ceremonies incident to breaking ground for the Aswan Dam. KRUSHCHEV, replying to the invitation, told NASSER that if the people of Egypt had sent him the invitation, he would have accepted gladly, but that he would not accept a personal invitation from NASSER, "a near enemy of our country".

Owing to the political pressure of the Chinese CP on the CPSU, there is "a thinning out" of the political relations between the Soviet Union and NASSER.

With respect to TITO and Yugoslavia, NICOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS, head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the CCCPSU told the informant, while the latter was in Moscow, the following: The Soviets would like to re-establish normal relations between the CPSU and the CP of Yugoslavia, and they would like to do so soon, so that Yugoslavia might be "neutralized as a buffer". Recently an important member of the Yugoslav CP Politburo, who was also head of the Yugoslav trade unions, conferred with the Secretariat of the CPSU concerning the re-establishment of normal relations between the CPSU and the Yugoslav CP. There is one barrier, however, to establishing such normal relations, and that barrier is China. China is absolutely opposed to the CPSU's establishing normal relations with the Yugoslav CP.

TITO is not the real policy maker of Yugoslavia. He is completely under the domination of KARDAJL (ph), his political mentor. Should KARDAJL change his "line" tomorrow, TITO would do likewise.

EDWARD KARDELT
J.P. 1/10

In Prague, according to NY 694-S, he discussed TITO and the Yugoslav situation with CHAO-YI-MIN, member of the Central Committee of the Chinese CP, who was also a representative of the Chinese CP to the "World Marxist Review" and one of the editors of the aforesaid publication. The informant asked CHAO whether the Chinese CP in the future might "recognize" TITO and the Yugoslav CP. CHAO replied, "Emphatically no!" CHAO then told NY 694-S the following:

TITO and his agents are engaged in anti-Communist and anti-Soviet activities in the Near East. In Iraq, TITO could not establish with KASSIM the same relations he had established with NASSER for the development of the anti-Communist bloc. TITO plotted with NASSER to assassinate KASSIM, and a colonel of the Yugoslav Army was assigned to arrange the assassination of KASSIM.

The Soviet Union had presented identical limousines to NASSER and KASSIM, both cars having presumably bullet proof glass. From NASSER the Yugoslav colonel ascertained that there was a vulnerable spot in the glass which a bullet could penetrate. With the assistance of NASSER's agents, the Yugoslav colonel arranged for an assassin to be in a position where he could shoot KASSIM, as the latter seated himself in his limousine. At the moment when the assassin was in a position to fire a shot at KASSIM, the latter walked away from the car instead of entering it. The aforesaid plot was exposed by secret Soviet agents in Iraq.

CHAO concluded by saying that on the surface cordial relations exist between the CP of China and the CPSU. In the economic field, there are no problems. Yugoslavia, however, is responsible for some of the differences between the CPSU and the CP of China.

NY 694-S returned to the United States on 3-10-60 following the fourth Solo mission to Prague, Czechoslovakia, and the Soviet Union. My memorandum 3-11-60 set forth the highlights of information received by the informant during this mission. The Director noted that dissemination of this information should be expedited on receipt of details.

By airtels 3-13-60, New York advised of the following information from NY 694-S. Soviet officials stated that the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU) desires to re-establish normal relations with Yugoslavia so that that country might be "neutralized as a buffer" and a discussion has been held by the Soviets and the Yugoslavians regarding this matter. The Chinese communists are opposing the re-establishment of this relationship because they feel the Yugoslavs are "revisionists." The opposition of the Chinese communists was verified by Chao Yi Min, member of the Central Committee of the CP of China with whom informant talked in Prague. Chao accused Tito and his agents of engaging in anticommunist tactics in the Near East. He alleged that Tito could not establish a relationship with Iraq similar to that in Egypt and had plotted with Gamal Abdel Nasser, President of the United Arab Republic, to assassinate Abdel el-Kassem, Premier of Iraq. The plot was never fulfilled and was exposed by Soviet agents in Iraq.

The informant was told in Moscow that another disagreement in the CPSU revolves around Nehru of India. The Chinese consider Nehru to be a confused nationalist and a weakling who is tending toward U. S. imperialism.

PUERTO RICAN CP AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT THEREOF

While in Moscow in February, 1960, NY 694-S* conferred with NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS, Head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the CCCPSU.

MOSTOVETS informed NY 694-S* that the CCCPSU had received the Puerto Rican CP reports from the CPUSA and were very grateful therefor. He said that he was happy that contact with the Puerto Rican party had once again been established and is grateful that the CPUSA would cooperate and assist with the Puerto Rican CP. MOSTOVETS stated that with respect to financial assistance needed by the Puerto Rican CP if an authoritative proposal should be submitted with respect to the exact amounts needed serious consideration would be given the said proposals. MOSTOVETS further said that if any immediate financial assistance be needed by the Puerto Rican Party, the CPUSA, through the Secretary of the International Affairs Committee of the CPUSA, should contact the Cuban CP informing the latter of the financial needs of the Puerto Rican Party and that the Cuban Party, as a friend of the Puerto Rican Party should be willing to lend financial assistance.

NY 694-S* inquired exactly what MOSTOVETS meant by this statement and was told that the matter had been discussed some time ago with the Cuban CP, which agreed to organize a "Friends Committee" for the assistance of the Puerto Rican CP.

MOSTOVETS instructed that the CPUSA ask the Puerto Rican CP leadership whether the latter could send young Puerto Ricans of university age to the new "Friendship University. (by airtel dated 3/13/60, the Bureau was advised with respect to the "Friendship University", the correct title of which is "Friendship of the Peoples' University")

I thought you would be interested in the following information which was obtained as a result of our over-all coverage of the Communist Party, USA, concerning statements made by Nikolai Mostovets, Head of the North and South American Sections of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU) in February, 1960.

Mostovets stated that the CPSU is interested in having Negroes and Puerto Ricans of university age attend the Friendship of the Peoples' University in Moscow, Russia. According to Mostovets the course would last approximately five years and all of the expenses incidental to the travel of the Negro and Puerto Rican students would be paid by the CPSU. He added that the students should arrive in Moscow prior to September, 1960.

A source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that a recent issue of the "Moscow News" stated that the above university is being organized under the auspices of the Soviet Afro-Asian Solidarity Committee, the Union of Soviet Societies of Friendship and Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries and the All-Union Central Council of Trade Unions.

Concerning the Communist Party of Puerto Rico (CPPR), Mostovets said that the Soviets have recently received information that this Communist Party desires financial assistance from the CPSU. He added that if the CPPR will submit an authoritative proposal with regard to the exact amounts needed the CPSU will give the proposal serious consideration. He added that the Communist Party of Cuba has agreed to organize a "Friends Committee" for the assistance of the CPPR and this organization will be able to furnish any immediate financial assistance needed by the CPPR.

ReNYairtel March 13, 1960, with a copy to your office advising of Nikolai Mostovets' instructions for CG 5824-S to go to Cuba or Mexico City and to report thereon personally to the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU) between May 15 and the first week in June, 1960.

Inasmuch as NY 694-S did not return to the United States in sufficient time to enable CG 5824-S to attend the CP of Mexico convention which had been scheduled for March 12 to 15, 1960, the Bureau believes that there is unprecedented opportunity for informant to travel to Cuba and consult with various leaders of the Cuban CP. In view of the current tense situation existing in Cuba and the recent trip of Anastas Mikoyan to Cuba, the information that informant could develop through this trip cannot be over emphasized.

In addition, Mostovets' instruction that CG 5824-S is to make a personal report to the CPSU in May or June, 1960, certainly points up the opportunity for a fifth Solo mission and inasmuch as this trip would be subsequent to the Summit Conference, it could quite likely be of tremendous import to this country.

You are instructed to immediately contact CG 5824-S concerning the proposed trip to Cuba. You should point out to informant that the Bureau considers this trip to be of utmost importance as well as a method of keeping the door open for a fifth and quite important Solo mission to the Soviet Union.

Contact with Latin American CP's and Mexican CP

In a conference with MORRIS CHILDS, in charge of the CP, USA, International Affairs Committee, the informant was instructed to advise the CCCPSU representative in Moscow that the CP, USA, had lost contact with the Mexican CP and Latin American CP's. Further, NY 694-S*, was instructed to inform representatives of the CCCPSU that the CP, USA, had read documents describing the internal political situation of the Mexican CP, but that it had no knowledge concerning where or when the Mexican CP Convention would be held.

In Moscow, during February, 1960, NY 694-S* furnished the above information to NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS, Head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the CCCPSU. MOSTOVETS told the informant the following:

The Soviets did not have the best of contacts with the Latin American CP's and are not, at this time, taking any active steps to improve such contacts. MOSTOVETS suggested that NY 694-S* tell MORRIS CHILDS, aforementioned, that the Mexican CP would hold its convention between the 12th and 15th of March, 1960, and that it was expected that delegates from other Latin American CP's would attend the said convention as delegates.

MOSTOVETS suggested that if NY 694-S* should arrive in the United States in time to give MORRIS CHILDS sufficient notice concerning the Mexican Convention, CHILDS should attend the convention. If, however, CHILDS should be unable to attend the Mexican Convention, then he should go to Cuba to contact the Cuban CP which is in contact with the Latin American CP's.

In the event that CHILDS should go to Mexico, he should contact "the CP group outside Mexico City." (The informant explained that there are two CP groups in Mexico, one headed by DIONISIO ENCINA, who is opposed to a younger element of the CP in control of the CP outside Mexico City. The younger group has the support of the CPSU and the CP of China.)

AIRTEL TO BUREAU
NY 100-134637

According to MOSTOVETS, ENCINA will be removed from leadership and expelled from the Mexican CP after the Mexican Convention.

MOSTOVETS, also instructed that MORRIS CHILDS should make a personal report to the CPSU regarding the aforementioned contacts between May 15th and the first week of June, 1960.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF THE CPSU IS PREPARING AND DRAFTING NEW PROGRAM FOR 22ND CPSU CONGRESS

While in Moscow, in February, 1960, NY 694-S* conferred with NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS, head of the North and South American Sections of the International Department of the CCCPSU, and with ALEKSEI ANDREEVICH GRECHUKHIN, assistant to MOSTOVETS and in charge of North American Affairs, including the USA, but not Canada.

MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN told the informant that the Central Committee of the CPSU already is preparing and drafting a new program for the 22nd CPSU Congress in 1961. They stated that drafts for the new program would be ready in September, 1960, and would contain two main points: 1) The new domestic program (Way to Communism); 2) The international relationship between the Soviet Union and socialist countries with the capitalist countries.

MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN further advised that there should be no surprise if new young CP leaders appear in the near future. They stated that the most promising potential top leader on the "horizen" now, whom they refer to as their "shining star," is (FNU) ~~POLANSKY~~ (phonetic). The informant advised that POLANSKY is an alternate member of the Presidium and Premier of the Russian Federated Republic. Informant also stated that POLANSKY has been in the United States.

MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN also noted that there should be no surprise if "a number of the old leaders" should be removed. They said these old leaders, however, would not include members of the present Presidium.

TRACING OF AMERICAN MONEY USED BY SOVIETS
IN ESPIONAGE OPERATIONS ESPIONAGE-R
(OO:New York)

As the Bureau is aware NY 694-S* received in early March, 1960, $50,000.00 in one hundred dollar bills from the Chinese. This money was turned over to him in Prague, Checkoslovakia.

On 3/15/60, a comparison of the serial numbers of the above bills against the serial numbers of bills issued to the Soviet establishments in NY and WFO produced negative results.

The above bills were also compared against the index of bills maintained in this case. The following is the result:

It is noted that the symbol B preceding the following serial numbers signifies the bills were issued by the NY Federal Reserve Bank.

| Serial Numbers | Series | Source |
|-----------------------|---------------|---------------|
| B06559975A | 1950A | Soviet |
| B06559974A | 1950A | Soviet |
| B06559973A | 1950A | Soviet |
| B06559938A | 1950A | Chinese |

Note that only 36 bills fall in between the bills received from the Soviets and the Chinese.

| B03153472A | 1950 | Soviets |

Note that 316 bills fall in between the bills received from the Soviets and the Chinese.

While no significance can be placed on the above at the present time, due to the limited nature of the hundred dollar bills recorded in the index, it does point out either an unusual coincidence or the possibility that the Chinese money was obtained from the same source as the Soviet money. Possibility does exist that the aforementioned bills came into the hands of the Chinese through normal trade transactions, however.

When one considers the tremendous amount of money issued through-out the years on the public market, it is indeed a coincidence to end up with bills separated only by 36 other bills, particularly, in that the Soviet bills were consecutive by three.

It was further noted that the largest number of bills (169) was issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, the same bank that issues the majority of Soviet money.

The above bills received from the Chinese have been placed in the index.

No other patent or coincidence was noted. Above for information.

NY 694-S returned to the United States on 3-10-60 from the fourth Solo mission to Prague, Czechoslovakia, and the Soviet Union. My memorandum 3-11-60 set forth the highlights of information developed and the Director noted that dissemination of this information should be expedited on receipt of details. By airtel 3-18-60 New York advised of informant's conversation February, 1960, with Nikolai Mostovets, head of the North and South American Sections, International Department, Central Committee, Communist Party, Soviet Union, (CPSU). Mostovets advised informant that the Central Committee of the CPSU is presently preparing a new program for the 22nd Congress, CPSU, in 1961. The new program contains two main points: (1) A new domestic program (Way to Communism) and (2) The international relationship between the Soviet Union and the socialist countries with the capitalist countries. Mostovets told informant not to be surprised if "a number of old leaders" are removed and if new young CP leaders appear in the future.* He described Dmitry Stepanovich Polyansky as the young CP leader with the most promising potential.

Polyansky is an alternate member of the Presidium and Premier of the Russian Federated Republic. He was the head of a delegation of Soviet officials which traveled in the United States during February, 1960.

GUS HALL, General Secretary of the Communist Party (CP) USA, stated on March 24, 1960, that when CLARENCE HATHAWAY was in California recently, he asked several CP members for their biographies and stated that people should be discussing biographies of individuals. HATHAWAY told those from whom he requested biographies that he had been instructed to do this by the National Office or Center of the CP, USA. HALL asked MORRIS CHILDS if he had instructed HATHAWAY to do this. CHILDS replied that he had not. Then HALL said that he has one other person to ask about this and that person is PHIL BART. If PHIL BART did not instruct HATHAWAY to do this, then something is fishy.

HALL said that at the present time the CP, USA, is in no position to do anything about HATHAWAY. He said that he had discussed HATHAWAY with IRVING HERMAN but HERMAN had nothing new to add. HERMAN was merely aware of the allegation that HATHAWAY was a private detective in the 1920's for a detective agency which was engaged in strike breaking.

HALL said that while the CP, USA is maneuvering to find some way to quietly remove HATHAWAY from the leadership of the Party, it will have to elect HATHAWAY as a member of the National Executive Committee, of the CP, USA.

HALL requested MORRIS CHILDS to ask the CP of the Soviet Union if it has any substantial or concrete information concerning HATHAWAY. The CP of the Soviet Union should also be asked if it is sure that the information it has in regard to HATHAWAY is accurate. In addition, the CP of the Soviet Union should be told that, for tactical reasons, the CP, USA cannot do anything about HATHAWAY at the present time.

My memorandum 3/17/60 pointed out that CG 5824-S was instructed by Nikolai Mostovets, head of the North and South American Sections, International Department, Central Committee, Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU), in February, 1960, to go to Cuba and contact the Cuban CP which CP is in contact with other Latin American CPs. Mostovets further instructed that CG 5824-S make a personal report regarding this contact in Cuba to the CPSU between 5/15/60 and the first week in June, 1960.

Chicago airtel 3/30/60 discloses that CG 5824-S plans to make this trip to Cuba but that a definite date has not as yet been set. It is expected, however, that the trip will be made in the immediate future.

OBSERVATIONS:

Informant's planned trip to Cuba on specific instructions of the CPSU will furnish us a good opportunity to gather data concerning CP activities in Cuba and in other Latin American countries. It is felt that we should prepare specific targets for CG 5824-S to aim at during his trip to Cuba.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the Nationalities Intelligence Section prepare specific targets for CG 5824-S to cover during his contemplated trip to Cuba.

2. That the CPUSA Desk, Internal Security Section, prepare targets for informant in order to develop relationships between the CPUSA and the CPs of Latin America.

3. That attached airtel to Chicago be approved advising Chicago that specific targets are being prepared for informant's trip to Cuba.

NY 694-S* was reinterviewed 3/11/60 re information concerning his trip abroad. In connection with the information set out in the second full paragraph, page two, reairtel, wherein he discussed a conference of CP leaders of various socialist governments, the informant furnished the following corrective information, which should replace the entire paragraph:

When returning to the United States from Russia, while in Prague, Czechoslovakia, informant spoke at some length with LADISLAV KOCMAN, a member of the International Department of the Central Committee (English Section) of the CP of Czechoslovakia. At one stage of their conversation, KOCMAN advised that a conference of CP leaders of various socialist governments had been held in Moscow during the month of February, 1960. While this conference received publicity and press comment as an agricultural conference, the portion of the conference devoted to agriculture was very brief. After the agricultural discussions, there were a series of individual conferences of the Russian Party heads with the

NY 694-S* returned to New York from a trip abroad on March 10, 1960, via the "S.S. United States." In an interview on 3/10/60, he furnished to SAS THORNTON M. WOOD, JOHN E. KEATING and [REDACTED] the following highlights of his trip abroad:

NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS, head of the North and South American Section of the International Department of the CCCPSU, and the latter's assistant, ALEKSEL ANDREEVICH GRECHUKHIN, furnished the following information to the informant:

As far as the CPSU is concerned, KHRUSHCHEV's contemplated trip to Paris will be of the same importance as was his recent visit to the United States. The Russians expect that the Paris visit will be "tremendous." It is a step leading to "the Summit."

The German question is of utmost importance to the Russians today: They are convinced that the West Germans are preparing for war. They are convinced that the West Germans, when once they have sufficient nuclear power, will move on East Germany without previously consulting with the western powers with respect to this matter. The Russians, however, and the other socialist countries are prepared to deal with the West Germans.

According to the informant, when he was in Prague, he received a similar story regarding the German question from one "KADERKA" (phonetic), Deputy Director of the International Committee of the Central Committee of the Czechoslovakian Party.

Also, according to MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN, there was recently a conference of CP leaders of various socialist governments in Moscow during the month of February. They pointed out that this was not an agricultural conference which had received some publicity. According to MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN, this conference did the Russians "a lot of good." The discussion was with respect to the German situation.

 The informant stated that he had a conference with TIMMY DENNIS, son of EUGENE DENNIS, Chairman of the CP, USA. He noted that TIMMY DENNIS contacts officials in the CPSU and fraternizes with relatives of leading members of other Communist Parties, including the Communist Party of China. TIMMY DENNIS stated that he was told by SERGEI MIKOYAN, son of ANASTAS MIKOYAN, Deputy Premier of the Soviet Union, that the Cuban situation is "very good and happy" for the Russians. He said it is in "good hands." The Russians think highly of FIDEL CASTRO--and believe that he's going "in the right direction." The Cuban situation can be characterized as "a genuine Nationalist movement, led by CASTRO, his brother, RAOUL CASTRO, who is a Party member, by the Minister of Finance, who is a Party member, and by the Minister of Agriculture, who is also a Party member."

According to SERGEI MIKOYAN's report, the CP in Cuba has been instructed by the CPSU not to make the mistake (which had been made in the past) of "having things happen too fast." The order was "to slow down, since strategically it is in a good position." The order was further not to force CASTRO to "make any fast moves."

Further, according to SERGEI MIKOYAN's report, the Russians and the Cubans deliberately have not announced recognition of the Soviet Union by Cuba. The reason for this decision is that Russia does not want to do anything which might antagonize the United States prior to the scheduled Summit meeting.

NY 694-S* also advised that he learned from NIKOLAI MOSTOVETS that in order not to antagonize EISENHOWER or the United States before the Summit conference, there has been "loose contact" with Latin American Communist Parties. MOSTOVETS instructed NY 694-S* that upon his return to the USA, he instruct MORRIS CHILDS, member of the International Affairs Department and the National Committee of the CP, USA, to make direct contact with the Mexican CP and the Cuban CP to ascertain the inner situation in those Parties. MOSTOVETS noted that the Mexican CP will hold a national convention on March 12, 1960. MOSTOVETS further stated that he would await a personal report from MORRIS CHILDS between the fifteenth of May and the first week in June with respect to the aforesaid requested contacts.

According to the informant NICOLAI MOSTOVETS told him that there have been high level conferences between the Yugoslav Party and the CPSU with respect to re-establishing normal relations between the two Parties. The Russians would like to accomplish this soon, in order to "negate" Yugoslavia as a "buffer". Recently, he stated the head of the Yugoslavian trade unions, who was also an important member of the Politburo of the Yugoslav Party, conferred with the Secretariat of the CPSU to discuss the establishment of normal relations immediately. The one barrier however is China. China is unwilling that a normal relationship be re-established between the CPSU and the Yugoslav Party.

According to MOSTOVETS, TITO is not the policy maker in Yugoslavia. He is completely under the domination of one "KARDAJL" (PH), Deputy Leader of the Communist Party in Yugoslavia and political mentor of TITO. He indicated that if KARDAJL should change his line TITO would do likewise.

The informant stated that in his discussion with TIMMY DENNIS the latter stated that today in China, there exists a situation comparable to that which existed in the Soviet Union for three years prior to STALIN's death in that there is a "cult of personality situation" revolving about MAO TSE-tung. He stated that the Chinese, however, are successfully concealing this situation.

TIMMY DENNIS, quoting Chinese sources, stated, "The Chinese consider themselves very cultured and correct with respect to manners and protocol. KHRUSHCHEV, in their eyes, reflects none of this culture or correctness. He is not a diplomat, he is crude, and he is very boisterous. MAO, who considers himself a sage, looks down upon KHRUSHCHEV. This explains why KHRUSHCHEV is subdued when he is in China. On the surface, there appears to be no economic disagreements between the Chinese and the Russians. It is impossible to see any flaw in Soviet-Chinese relations.

In Prague, according to the informant, he conferred with CHAO YI-min, CP of China representative to, and ^{editor of} "World Marxist Review - Problems of Peace and Socialism." CHAO told him that had the informant arrived in Prague during Christmas week he was prepared to give to the informant $25,000.00 for the CPUSA. However, when the informant did not arrive in Prague at that time CHAO YI-min made a trip to China where he was given an additional $25,000.00 by the Chinese CP for transmission to the CPUSA through the informant. He gave NY 694-S* $50,000.00 in $100 bills and mentioned that not even the Chinese Ambassador to Czechoslovakia was aware of this transmission.

According to the informant he was questioned by MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN regarding his knowledge of CLARENCE HATHAWAY, recently elected Chairman of the NY District of the CPUSA. (CG 5824-S* had previously furnished to the CPSU a list of the members of the National Committee elected at the 17th National Convention of the CPUSA.) He furnished them with whatever information he could with respect to this individual. According to the informant MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN reported what he had told them to the Central Committee of the CPSU. At a subsequent meeting they told the informant the following: "Our archives reflect that HATHAWAY was an agent of the FBI in 1920; that he was seen in contact with an FBI agent in 1941 in Pittsburgh, and that in 1947, in San Francisco, he was in contact with, and seen speaking to, an FBI agent." According to the informant he was instructed by MOSTOVETS to report this information to MORRIS CHILDS, mentioned above.

(The matter of HATHAWAY was mentioned to CG 5824-S* who is presently in NY. He stated that in his opinion this matter would "create an explosion in the Party". It is a situation which they cannot ignore and which will be difficult to handle particularly since HATHAWAY was placed in leadership of the NY District through the efforts of GUS HALL and EUGENE DENNIS and other members of the CPUSA Secretariat.)

With respect to President EISENHOWER's scheduled trip to the Soviet Union, NY 694-S* was told by MOSTOVETS that EISENHOWER was popular with the Russian people even before he became President. He said that EISENHOWER's visit to Soviet Union would be "terrific" - that he would receive an overwhelming reception. He said that the Russian people are looking forward to the said visit. MOSTOVETS and GRECHUKHIN stated that EISENHOWER is a General who understands the strength of their country and its society. On the contrary they stated NIXON is one about whom they are very much concerned. They admitted that he did make quite an impression when in the Soviet Union; that he had personality and was very popular. They noted however that he is very ambitious and that while currently he is an opportunist in that he "follows" EISENHOWER, his becoming President "might cause trouble." They stated that the ideal ticket would be STEVENSON as President and HUMPHREY as Vice President. STEVENSON, they said, has depth and understanding and is the most advanced of the bourgeois leaders.

MOSTOVETS also told the informant that the Central Committee of the CPSU already is preparing for the 22nd Congress to be held in 1961, and that in connection therewith a new draft program is being prepared. The said draft program will be ready in September, 1960, and will have as part of its agenda two principal points: 1.) A new domestic program (a way to Communism); 2.) The international relationship between the Soviet Union and the capitalist countries.

MOSTOVETS stated that NY 694-S* should not be surprised if there appear openly new young leaders in the CPSU. He said the most promising potential top leader now on the "horizon", is "POLANSKY" (PH), alternate member of the Presidium whom they refer to as "their new shining star."

Detailed information concerning the informant's trip abroad will be submitted as soon as possible.

For second paragraph, page two, substitute the following per NYairtel 3/11/60:

"When returning to the United States from Russia, while in Prague, Czechoslovakia, informant spoke at some length with LADISLAV KOCMAN, a member of the International Department of the Central Committee (English Section) of the CP of Czechoslovakia. From the very limited information available to us at this time it appears likely that we will desire to disseminate to Government officials on a high level certain of the data obtained by the informant while in Czechoslovakia and in Russia. Of considerable interest is the fact that Mostovets instructed NY 694-S* that our informant, CG 5824-S*, should make direct contact with the Mexican and Cuban Communist Parties in order to ascertain the inner situation in these Parties. This will afford us an opportunity to determine what is going on inside Cuba. ~~S~~ (U)

ReBuairtel 3/17/60, instructing the Chicago Division to immediately contact CG 5824-S, concerning a proposed trip to Cuba. While this matter was discussed in general terms telephonically with CG 5824-S during the week of 3/20/60, the first opportunity to discuss it with him in person was not presented until 3/28/60, due to the meeting of the National Committee of the CP, USA, and the presence of the leadership of the CP, USA, in Chicago.

CG 5824-S plans to make the trip to Cuba but has not decided on a definite departure date as yet. He did not want to leave Chicago until after the meeting of the National Committee of the CP, USA. Presently he has some personal problems in connection with the settling of the estate of [redacted] and hopes to be able to handle some of these matters with the assistance of NY 694-S during the week of 3/27/60. CG 5824-S would like to see some of these problems settled before going to Cuba.

CG 5824-S would like to go to Cuba using the name and documents of identification which were used in the first solo trip, since he met ANIBAL ESCALANTE under secure conditions and believes that this procedure should be continued.

The Bureau is being advised by separate communication that DANNY QUEEN, Member at Large of the National Committee of the CP, USA, plans to depart Chicago for Cuba to attend a Communist youth conference during the weekend of 4/2-3/60. CG 5824-S is considering giving QUEEN a sealed envelope for delivery to ESCALANTE, in order to inform ESCALANTE that "CARTER" plans to be in Cuba in the near future.

The next scheduled meeting between CG 5824-S and VLADIMIR BARKOVSKY in New York City is Thursday evening, 4/14/60. CG 5824-S does not want to lose this contact with the CPSU and thus the trip to Cuba will have to be made at such a time as to permit CG 5824-S to be in New York City on 4/14/60.

The Bureau has been previously advised that GUS HALL has promised to add CG 5824-S as a secret member of the National Executive Committee (NEC), which was just elected at the meeting of the National Committee in Chicago. Before leaving Chicago to return to New York City, HALL reminded CG 5824-S to be available for the next meeting of the NEC although the date for this meeting has not been set as yet.

As can be seen from the above, CG 5824-S is making plans for a trip to Cuba but has as yet not been able to decide on the best date to make this trip. The Bureau will be promptly advised of any developments in this matter.

"HALL also stated he knows a Finnish woman who lives in upstate New York. He said that she knows OTTO KUUSINEN and his family. In the past, she has held funds for the CP, USA. HALL said that he would swear by her. He suggested that CHILDS might want to consider using this woman to act as a courier, handle funds, act as a depository for funds, etc."

ReBuairtel 4/1/60.

In connection with the anticipated trip of CG 5824-S to Cuba at the instructions of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU), the Bureau feels that certain general objectives can be assigned to the informant involving matters which would be of interest to the Bureau and to the United States Government. These objectives can be placed in two main categories; namely, (1) matters relating to international affairs and (2) matters pertaining to the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA).

Of course, the Bureau realizes that the informant may not be in a position to obtain information on all of the topics listed below; however, it is felt that some of the data might be obtainable through proper guidance and direction of discussions between the informant and representatives of the Cuban CP. Although the informant will be traveling to Cuba on specific instructions of the CPSU and may, therefore, feel he is entitled to ask searching questions concerning Cuban and other Latin American CPs, caution must be used so that the informant will take no action that might jeopardize his security.

The following items are listed for your guidance in briefing the informant relative to matters of interest to the Bureau.

Matters Relating to International Affairs:

1. To what extent are the Red Chinese, Soviets and satellite nations active in Cuba and in other Latin American countries? Identities of personnel from these countries who are active in Cuba would be helpful.
2. Does Cuba plan to send students to Russia to attend the Friendship of the Peoples University?

3. What financial assistance is given to Cuba by Red China, Russia and its satellites?
4. What is the extent of Cuban CP influence in the Government of Cuba? Identities of Cuban CP members and sympathizers in the Cuban Government: military and civilian.
5. Are any plans being formulated to send Cuban CP leaders to Puerto Rico? Are there any Puerto Rican leaders in Cuba studying revolutionary tactics?
6. What is Cuba's reaction to the visit of Anastas Mikoyan to that country and consummation of trade agreement (sugar) between Russia and Cuba?
7. What is Cuba's reaction to the visit of President Eisenhower to certain Latin American countries?
8. Are there any Cuban plans to establish diplomatic relations with Russia and Red China? Are there any commercial agreements in effect between Cuba and Russia (other than the sugar agreement) and between Cuba and China?
9. Is there any part of the Cuban CP in possession of arms or any part organized along military lines?
10. What are the future plans of the Cuban Government and of the Cuban CP toward United States citizens, United States property and Guantanamo Bay?
11. What are the connections between the Cuban CP and the CPs of other Latin American countries?

Letter to SAC, Chicago
RE: SOLO
100-428091

Matters Relating to the CPUSA:

1. Nature of future contacts between the CPUSA and the Cuban CP.
2. Will the CPUSA be used to relay messages between Latin American CPs and the CPSU or will Latin American CPs establish their own lines of communication with the Russians?
3. Will the Cuban CP expect financial assistance from the CPUSA? If so, how will this be accomplished?
4. Are there any indications that CP members in the United States are currently being utilized by the Cubans in espionage and sabotage activities?
5. Have any arrangements been made between the CPUSA and the Cuban CP to spread Cuban CP propaganda in the United States?

The foregoing suggestions are not to be considered all inclusive but only as a guide to the type of information in which the Bureau is particularly interested. Informant should not feel that his quest for information should be limited to the matters suggested herein. Under no circumstances should the informant make any written notes of the objectives nor should he ask any direct questions which might place him under suspicion.

You are instructed to brief the informant thoroughly on the above matters in preparation for his trip to Cuba. The purpose of the briefing should be made clear and the informant should be impressed with the fact that the Bureau considers his security of primary importance.

ReBulet, 3/31/60, requesting that NY 694-S be interviewed to determine whether he developed any information regarding future contacts between the CP, USA and the CPs of Czechoslovakia and Red China.

On 4/5/60, NY 694-S advised that with respect to the matter of future contact with the CP of Red China, neither he, as a representative of the CP, USA, nor CHAO YI MIN, as a representative of the Chinese CP, had authority to discuss this subject when they met in Prague. The purpose of their meeting was essentially the transfer of $50,000 from the Chinese CP to the CP, USA. During the meetings between NY 694-S and CHAO, the latter's attitude was that he was handling a specific, isolated transaction for the CP of China.

NY 694-S noted that CG 5824-S, when in China, undoubtedly discussed the matter of future contact between the CP, USA and the CP of China with top Chinese CP functionaries, and that negotiations in this regard probably would be handled by a functionary other than CHAO YI MIN.

With regard to future contact between the CP, USA and the CP of Czechoslovakia, the informant reported the following:

LADISLAV KOCMAN, ^{Czech} stated that if the CP, USA should desire to send to the Czechoslovakian CP material of a non-confidential nature, it could be sent to the following address:

KOCMAN mentioned that MICHAL LEHOTSKY is a woman.

With regard to confidential material, KOCMAN stated that, until better arrangements should be perfected, the CP, USA should send such confidential material through TIM BUCK, Canadian CP leader. KOCMAN also stated that MORRIS CHILDS, in behalf of the CP, USA, could designate any trusted CP member to contact the Czech Embassy in Washington, D.C. for discussion of confidential matters.

Concerning future contacts between the CP, USA and the Czechoslovakian CP abroad, KOCMAN indicated that, in the absence of other arrangements, he expected either CG 5824-S or NY 694-S to contact him in Prague regarding highly confidential matters that might require personal contact. With regard to NY 694-S, KOCMAN stated it would be arranged that, when in Prague, the informant would be presumably an American businessman contacting "Exactor Camera Enterprises," a Prague company that exports photographic equipment.

According to the informant, NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS of the CCCPSU and the latter's assistant ALEKSEI ANDREEVICH GRECHUKHIN are aware of, and approved, the above described arrangement made with KOCMAN. They stated that in the event time should be of the essence with respect to a meeting between them and the informants, they would be willing to meet the informants in Prague rather than in Moscow.

On 4/15/60, CG 5824-S, who is currently in NYC, furnished telephonically the following information to SA [redacted]

When CG 5824-S visited NY 694-S at Mt. Sinai Hospital on the afternoon of 4/15/60, ELIZABETH MASCOLO, TIM BUCK's girl friend, was there. She had delivered to NY 694-S $12,800 in $20 bills which TIM BUCK had received from the Soviet Embassy in Canada for transmittal to the CP, USA. MASCOLO said she had arrived from Canada on 4/15/60, and after spending the weekend with her sister in NYC, would return to Toronto.

CG 5824-S stated he had put the $12,800 in NY 694-S' safe deposit box in the bank because, by reason of his commitments, he could not deliver the money to a representative of the NY Office on 4/15/60, and did not wish to carry so large a sum of money on his person until such time as he might be able to do so. He said he had so identified the money that NY 694-S, at a later date, may deliver it to the New York Office for processing.

Pursuant to arrangements previously made, CG 5824-S* was to have met VLADIMIR BARKOVSKY in the area of the Globe theatre or Pelham Parkway, Bronx, at 7 P.M. on the evening of 4/14/60. CG 5824-S* entered the Willard theatre at 6:20 P.M. on 4/15/60, and came out at 7 P.M. On 96th St. he observed BARKOVSKY, who upon seeing the informant, started walking briskly down the street. The informant walked at some distance behind BARKOVSKY. BARKOVSKY rode to the end of the line, which was at 169th St., and, after leaving the elevated, walked for about twenty minutes. On a dark street in the area of Hillside Ave. he stopped and waited for the informant to reach him. He said, "We'll go to Constantine's" (a seafood restaurant at 153-35 Hillside Ave.).

In the restaurant, BARKOVSKY opened the conversation by inquiring why CG 5824-S* had not kept their appointment on March 10th at the Globe theatre. The informant explained that he had not been well, that his wife had died a few weeks before, and that by reason of the fact that he had attended a CP Secretariat meeting about that time, he felt he might be under surveillance, and that the security of a meeting with BARKOVSKY might be jeopardized.

BARKOVSKY agreed that the informant had acted wisely in not keeping the appointment. The Russian then said that he had been particularly anxious to contact CG 5824-S* to obtain from the latter background information concerning various delegations from the USA scheduled to go to Moscow. He noted that when NY 694-S* was recently in Moscow, he had furnished the Soviets with information to the effect that certain delegations would be going to Moscow. (This matter is referred to in detail in NY airtel to Bureau and Chicago, dated 3/15/60).

BARKOVSKY stated that failing to contact CG 5824-S*, he had tried unsuccessfully to contact NY 694-S* telephonically. (NY 694-S* has been in Mt. Sinai Hospital for observation since April 11th). BARKOVSKY said he then contacted ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG, informing the latter of his problem, and requesting that TRACHTENBERG get word to the informant that the Soviets desired information regarding the aforesaid delegations. (As the Bureau has been advised, TRACHTENBERG transmitted the message to CG 5824-S* through EUGENE DENNIS).

The informant then furnished BARKOVSKY the information the latter desired about the delegations, and mentioned that some women in the delegations had no visas. BARKOVSKY said he would take care of that matter.

BARKOVSKY requested that the informant brief him regarding a recent National Committee meeting in Chicago. After the informant had so briefed him, BARKOVSKY said, "Who are the factionalists?" The informant replied that in his opinion BEN DAVIS, Jr. and ARNOLD JOHNSON were the principal factionalists.

At this point, CG 5824-S* asked BARKOVSKY why the latter had not kept his appointment with the informant on the evening of April 14th. BARKOVSKY said that he had not intended that there be a meeting on April 14th, that CG 5824-S* obviously had misinterpreted his words "a month from today" with respect to setting the date for a subsequent meeting. Whereas, CG 5824-S* apparently had interpreted "a month" to mean 30 days, BARKOVSKY meant "a month" to signify 28 days, or in other words, four calendar weeks. Hereafter, CG 5824-S* was to so interpret the word month.

BARKOVSKY then inquired whether the informant desired TRACHTENBERG "to work with us". CG 5824-S* replied that there was no need for TRACHTENBERG to be part of his apparatus; that as secretary of the International Affairs Committee, it was his function to represent the CP, USA in contacts with BARKOVSKY; and that NY 694-S* could give him any assistance he needed. BARKOVSKY then said TRACHTENBERG henceforth would be "out".

BARKOVSKY then said he desired to make a change in the coded language used by CG 5824-S* and NY 694-S* at such time when they might have occasion to telephone him to arrange a meeting. Hereafter, if CG 5824-S* should call, he should say, "I want my refrigerator fixed". If NY 694-S* should call, he should say, "I want my fuses fixed".

With regard to NY 694-S*, it is to be understood that on the night following his call to BARKOVSKY he will go to the Town House Restaurant in Queens, at 6:30 P.M. and come out at a minute before 7 P.M. He is then to "walk left and left again". BARKOVSKY will "catch up" with him.

BARKOVSKY further stated that in future, if CG 5824-S* should not keep a scheduled appointment, the next meeting would be four calendar weeks later. However, if BARKOVSKY should not appear for a scheduled appointment, the next meeting would be on the following evening.

BARKOVSKY then stated that he would next meet the informant on 5/19/60, at the Bainbridge Theatre, 286 East 204th St., Bronx, NYC. The time arrangement would be the same as in former meetings (7 P.M.). On leaving the theatre, CG 5824-S* is to turn left on 204th St., and walk to 208th St., where he should turn left. BARKOVSKY would contact the informant while the latter walked on 208th St. In the event CG 5824-S* should not keep this appointment, the next meeting should take place on 6/16/60.

CG 5824-S* then told BARKOVSKY that he had with him, for delivery to BARKOVSKY, a copy of the speech GUS HALL delivered at the recent National Committee meeting in Chicago. The Russian said he did not wish to accept it from the informant in the restaurant, but would do so later. BARKOVSKY inquired whether the HALL speech reflected the current CP political line, and the informant assured him that it did.

Noting that the document containing the speech was "bulky", BARKOVSKY asked whether the informant in the future could put such documents on microfilm. CG 5824-S* replied that he thought NY 694-S* could do so. BARKOVSKY said he would request permission from his superiors to follow such procedure, but warned CG 5824-S* not to follow the said procedure until BARKOVSKY should authorize him to do so.

The informant then referred to the proposed re-organization of "Imported Publications and Products", a company in NYC operated by MARGARET KRUMBEIN, and handling Soviet publications in the USA. (This matter, discussed with the Soviets by NY 694-S*, is reported in NY airtel to Bureau and Chicago, dated 3/15/60).

N.Y.

The informant told BARKOVSKY that the CP, USA had decided to replace KRUMBEIN with SYLVIA HALL, and that HALL desired to discuss the proposed re-organization of the company with an official representative of the Soviets. BARKOVSKY said that HALL should be instructed to go to the Soviet Embassy in Washington, DC, to advise the interested official there that she had been sent by CG 5824-S*, and to also tell the said official that Moscow already has approved the re-organization of the company. n. 7

BARKOVSKY then inquired whether the CP, USA was preparing to publish a daily paper. The informant replied that the Party at this time does not have sufficient money to do so; that funds from Moscow are coming in too slowly. The informant said that if Moscow could expedite the money to the CP, USA, a reserve could be built up out of which funds for the paper would be available. BARKOVSKY was told that the informant doubted that, at least for the rest of 1960, a daily paper would be published. BARKOVSKY said he would request Moscow to "speed up" the money.

BARKOVSKY next asked what important cases of interest to the CP, USA were scheduled to be reviewed by the Supreme Court. The informant briefed him as well as he could regarding such cases.

The informant mentioned that in the immediate future he may have to leave the country to contact other Communist Parties with which the CP, USA currently does not have good contact. CG 5824-S* asked whether, if he should be away at the time of a scheduled meeting with BARKOVSKY, NY 694-S* should appear for the meeting with BARKOVSKY. BARKOVSKY said that in such case, NY 694-S* should follow the "emergency procedure". He should telephone to BARKOVSKY prior to the time of the meeting scheduled, announce that he desired his fuses to be fixed, and on the following night go to the Town House Restaurant, following the following procedure: He should arrive there at 6:30 P.M., come out at a minute before 7 P.M., and walk left and left again. BARKOVSKY would "catch up" with him.

BARKOVSKY then inquired what the CP, USA proposed to do about CLARENCE HATHAWAY. (This refers to the Soviet allegation to NY 694-S* that HATHAWAY is an FBI contact. The matter is discussed in detail in NY airtel to Bureau and Chicago, dated 3/17/60). CG 5824-S* told BARKOVSKY that he had been instructed by GUS HALL and EUGENE DENNIS to tell the Soviets that the CP, USA could not act in this matter until the Soviets furnished more specific and detailed information. The information furnished is "too vague". BARKOVSKY said he would so advise Moscow.

BARKOVSKY next inquired what was being done about sending to Moscow the son of JORGE W. MAYSONET - HERNANDEZ. (This matter is mentioned in NY airtel to Bureau and Chicago, dated 3/14/60). BARKOVSKY wanted to know where the boy was, background information regarding him, and when it was planned to send him to Moscow. CG 5824-S* was not in a position to furnish the desired information, which he must obtain from PHIL BART. BARKOVSKY told CG 5824-S* that the Soviets must be given advance notice concerning the boy's leaving for Moscow. Confidential

Before leaving the restaurant, CG 5824-S* told BARKOVSKY that he had intended to give the latter a copy of BEN DAVIS' speech at the recent National Committee meeting in Chicago, but that he had forgotten to bring it with him. He mentioned that DAVIS and CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT had discussed the Negro Question. The informant promised to give BARKOVSKY a copy of the DAVIS' speech at a later date.

BARKOVSKY and CG 5824-S* left the restaurant at 9:45 P.M. and walked for about fifteen minutes on side streets. On one particularly dark street, CG 5824-S* gave BARKOVSKY the HALL speech, after which they bid each other good-bye and went in opposite directions.

Agents on a stationary surveillance in the area of the theatre reported the following:

At 6:40 P.M. on 4/15/60, a blue, four-door Ford sedan, License Number 8N-1906, appeared in the area of the scheduled meeting. In the front seat were NIKOLAI V. ~~TRUSSKIKH~~, believed to be either the First or Second ~~Secretary~~ of the Soviet U.N. Delegation, and his wife. In the back was a man whose face was not seen, but who is believed to have been BARKOVSKY. N.Y.

NY 100-134637

Shortly after CG 5824-S* began to follow BARKOVSKY, the aforesaid car again appeared in the area. At this time only RUSSKIKH and his wife were seen in the car.

Re San Juan letter dated 4-13-60 captioned
"Communist Party of Puerto Rico, Internal Security - C."

The Bureau desires that the New York Office attempt to learn through appropriate investigation the current whereabouts of the wife and son of Jorge Kaysonet and to discreetly learn any plans which might indicate that the son of Kaysonet will be traveling to the Soviet Union for educational purposes.

Any investigation undertaken by the New York Office in this regard should be most circumspect and discreet in order that the position of the Bureau's top-level informants, CG 5824-S and NY 694-S, will not be jeopardized. In this connection it is noted that at his most recent meeting with Vladimir Barkovsky, CG 5824-S was questioned as to what action was being taken with respect to sending the son of Kaysonet to Moscow.

This matter must be given continuous attention in order that the Bureau may be advised of Kaysonet's plans for his son in connection with his possible future travel to the Soviet Union.

By airtel 4/16/60 New York advised that CG 5824-S and Vladimir Barkovsky, counsel, Soviet Delegation to the United Nations, met in Queens, New York, at 7 p.m. on 4/15/60 in accordance with prearranged plans. They proceeded to Constantine's Restaurant in Queens where they held a discussion until approximately 9:45 p.m.

Informant provided Barkovsky with information which the latter desired relating to trade-union delegations to the Soviet Union. Barkovsky said he would take care of several cases where female members of the delegations did not have visas for travel to Russia.

The informant then briefed Barkovsky concerning the national committee meeting held in Chicago 3/25-27/60. Barkovsky asked who the "factionalists" in the Party are and informant said in his opinion Benjamin J. Davis, Jr., and Arnold Johnson are the principal factionalists.

Barkovsky inquired as to whether Alexander Trachtenberg should be brought in the apparatus to work with the informant, NY 694-S and Barkovsky. Informant advised there was no need for this and Barkovsky said that henceforth Trachtenberg would be "out."

Informant furnished Barkovsky with Gus Hall's speech at the national committee meeting. Barkovsky would not accept the document in the restaurant but waited until later when the two were walking on a dark street. Barkovsky asked if the informant could put such bulky documents on microfilm in the future and said he would request permission from his superiors for use of such a procedure.

Informant told Barkovsky the Communist Party (CP), USA, had decided to place Sylvia Hall in charge of Imported Publications and Products in New York City and Barkovsky said Hall should be instructed to visit the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D. C., to discuss the proposed reorganization of this outlet for Soviet publications in the United States.

Barkovsky inquired as to CP plans to publish a daily newspaper and CG 5824-S told Barkovsky sufficient funds are not available. Barkovsky said he would request Moscow to "speed up" money to enable the Party to resume publication of a daily paper.

100-428091

On inquiry by Barkovsky, informant briefed him on what important cases of interest to the CP, USA, are scheduled to be reviewed by the Supreme Court.

Barkovsky inquired what the CP, USA, proposed to do about Clarence Hathaway, present chairman of the New York CP District. (This was a reference to prior Soviet allegations that Hathaway is an FBI informant.) CG 5824-S told Barkovsky the CP, USA, can take no action until the Soviets provide more specific and detailed information regarding their allegations.

Barkovsky inquired as to what is being done about sending the son of Jorge W. Maysonet (member of the CP of Puerto Rico) to Moscow for his education, where the boy is residing and background information concerning him.

During this meet Barkovsky stated he desired to change the prearranged signals for future meetings and alternate meetings with CG 5824-S and NY 694-S and he briefed the informant on the new signals and methods of contact.

The next meet is scheduled for May 19, 1960, in the Bronx.

Re New York letter 5/3/60, copy furnished Chicago, and Chicago letter 4/22/60, no copy furnished New York, setting forth receipts and disbursements of "Solo funds" being handled by CG 5824-S and NY 694-S.

New York letter to Bureau 4/19/60 entitled "Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, IS-C, ISA-150, Weekly Summary 4/11-18/60, Cinal," no copy furnished Chicago, discloses that on 4/14/60 CG 5824-S gave Elizabeth Gurley Flynn $500 for expenses in connection with her European trip. Neither of the referenced letters show this amount as a disbursement from "Solo funds." Advise the Bureau by return mail whether or not this amount should be deducted. If it is to be deducted, advise from which account this amount should be shown as a deduction.

In the future, Chicago and New York should prepare and forward the monthly "Solo funds" letters to the Bureau no later than the fifth of the month following the month being reported. The reports should include all receipts and disbursements for the entire month. If no activity has taken place during any particular month, a letter to the Bureau to this effect will still be necessary.

Attached airtel from Chicago 4/28/60 discloses that our informant, CG 5824-S, plans to leave Chicago for Cuba on or about 5/6/60 and expects to leave Cuba for New York City on or about 5/10/60. My memorandum 4/1/60 pointed out that CG 5824-S was instructed by Nikolai Mostovets, head of the North and South American Sections, International Department, Central Committee, Communist Party (CP) of the Soviet Union, in February, 1960, to go to Cuba and contact the Cuban CP, which CP is in contact with other Latin American CPs. Mostovets further instructed that CG 5824-S make a personal report regarding his Cuban contacts to the CP of the Soviet Union between 5/15/60 and the first week in June, 1960.

CG 5824-S has already made arrangements to meet with Vladimir Barkovsky, Counsel, Soviet Delegation to the United Nations, on 5/19/60 in New York City, at which time informant will report to Barkovsky concerning his contacts with the Cuban CP.

Before CG 5824-S departs for Cuba, the Chicago Office will discuss with him in detail specific targets to be aimed at while in Cuba. These targets, mentioned in my memorandum 4/1/60, were furnished the Chicago Office by letter 4/6/60.

Informant, after his return to the United States, plans to attend a meeting of the National Executive Committee (NEC), CP, USA, in New York City on 5/14-15/60 and hopes to be added to the NEC by cooptation at this meeting. If successful, this will be the first time we have been able to get an informant on the NEC.

INTERNATIONAL DEPARTMENT OF THE
OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF THE SOVIET UNION

The following statements and opinions were received from sources who have furnished reliable information in the past.

Nikolai Vladimirovich Mostovets, who is in charge of the North and South American Section of the International Department of the Secretariat of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CCPSU), visited the United States in 1958 as a member of a Soviet Education Delegation. At one time, Mostovets was a school teacher in the Soviet Union.

Aleksei Andreevich Gruchukin, assistant to Mostovets, visited the United States in 1958 as a member of a delegation of Soviet editors of student and youth newspapers. It is understood that at one time Gruchukin was the editor of a student newspaper or school paper in the Soviet Union.

Mostovets is in charge of the North and South American Section of the International Department of the Secretariat of the CCPSU. While this is one and not two sections, normally representatives from Communist Parties in North and South America meet separately with representatives of the International Department of the Secretariat of the CCPSU.

While Gruchukin, as assistant to Mostovets, would be concerned with developments in both North and South America, it is known that his speciality is the United States.

It is not known whether or not either Mostovets or Gruchukin have ever visited South America. It is believed doubtful that either has made such a trip.

Mostovets and Gruchukin have been in the International Department of the Secretariat of the CCCPSU for approximately 10 years. The dates when they assumed their present functions within this department are not known.

Canada is considered part of the British Commonwealth Section of the International Department of the Secretariat of the CCCPSU. While Canada is not formally included in the North and South American Section, it has to be included in the discussions of the problems in the section since it is located in North America. It is known that the Communist Party of Canada has in the past and is currently attempting to have the CCCPSU place Canada in the North and South American Section. The present alignment is a holdover from the days of the Comintern.

V. Korionov, possibly Vitali Korionov, was in the North and South American Section of the International Department of the Secretariat of the CCCPSU and worked with Mostovets prior to the time Korionov went to Prague, Czechoslovakia, as the Executive Editor of the "World Marxist Review - Problems of Peace and Socialism". It is not known whether Korionov was Mostovets' superior or visa versa prior to the time Korionov went to Prague. Korionov has returned to Moscow from Prague and is working on matters pertaining to the United States and Canada in the International Department, possibly in the capacity of a journalist and foreign affairs specialist.

The "International Department" is referred to as the International Department of the Secretariat of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. With all spelling phonetic, this title would be approximately as follows in the Russian language: Internatsionalnaya Otdel Secretariat Tse Ka Kommunisticheskaya Party Sovietskaya Soyus.

The International Department of the Secretariat of the CCCPSU could be considered as a party counterpart to the USSR Ministry of Foreign Affairs. It deals primarily with the relationship between the CPSU and other Communist Parties. However, in this capacity it also gathers information concerning the internal and international developments in each country and makes this information available to the Presidium, the Central Committee and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. The Presidium of the CCCPSU is the highest authority in the Soviet Union in regard to the foreign affairs of the USSR as well as all other Soviet affairs. The International Department has no responsibilities in state-to-state relations.

The International Department of the Secretariat of the CCCPSU has responsibilities in regard to both European and Asiatic Bloc countries but often problems relating to the Bloc countries are handled on a state-to-state as well as a Party-to-Party basis.

The real heads of the International Department of the Secretariat of the CCCPSU are Mikhail Suslov and Otto Kuusinen, both of whom are Secretaries of the Central Committee and members of the Presidium. The Secretary of the International Department is Boris Ponomarev, and he is also a member of the Central Committee of the CPSU. Outside of Mostovets and Gruchukin, the number and identities of deputy heads in the International Department are not known.

The immediate supervisor of Mostovets is Boris Ponomarev, Secretary of the International Department of the Secretariat of the CCCPSU. The immediate predecessor of Mostovets is not known. It is possible that V. Korionov was the immediate predecessor of Mostovets.

The number of sections in the International Department, their titles, and the heads of each section are not known.

The number (and their identities) of deputies to Mostovets are not known but it is known that Mostovets has several individuals working under him.

No information is available at this time concerning the person or persons in charge of preparing a draft of a new program for the CPSU. No information is available at this time in regard to the dates for the 22nd Congress of the CPSU.

This memorandum is loaned to you by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and neither it nor its contents are to be distributed outside the agency to which loaned.

The 5/5/60 issue of the "Washington Post and Times Herald," a Washington, D. C., daily newspaper, contains an article containing a Soviet Union announcement of "a major shake-up of key Government and Communist Party posts." The article states that one Dmitri Polyansky, born 1917, who was given Presidium membership, is personable and on the rise. "He has been Chairman of the Party Central Committee of the Russian Republic, whose territory comprises two-thirds of the whole of the Soviet Union."

My memorandum 3/22/60 pointed out that Nikolai Mostovets, head of the North and South American Sections, International Department, Communist Party (CP) of the Soviet Union, advised our informant, NY 694-S, while he was on the fourth Solo mission to Prague, Czechoslovakia, and the Soviet Union in February, 1960, that older CP leaders would be removed from their present positions and that younger CP leaders would appear in positions of prominence. Mostovets described Dmitry Stepanovich Polyansky as the young CP leader with the most promising potential. Polyansky, who was an alternate member of the Presidium and Premier of the Russian Federated Republic, headed a delegation of Soviet officials which toured the United States during February, 1960.

The information furnished by Mostovets to our informant was disseminated by letters 3/23/60 to Vice President Richard M. Nixon; Honorable Gordon Gray, Special Assistant to the President; Honorable Christian A. Herter, Secretary of State; Mr. Allen W. Dulles, Director, Central Intelligence Agency; and the Attorney General.

Kozlov Gets Top Post In Shakeup

Soviet Announces Sweeping Change In Leadership

By Henry Shapiro
From News Dispatches

MOSCOW, May 4 (UPI)

The Soviet Union tonight announced a major shakeup of key Government and Communist Party posts which saw First Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov promoted to the Secretariat of the Central Committee of the Communist Party.

It was the first reshuffle of the Soviet hierarchy since the expulsion of the "anti-party group" in June, 1957.

The changes grew out of parallel meetings held today by the Party Central Committee and the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet—the government apparatus.

With his promotion Kozlov joins eight other party secretaries under First Secretary Nikita Khrushchev.

Khrushchev is expected to make a major foreign policy address before the Supreme Soviet ("parliament") when it meets Thursday, and Western diplomats quoted him as saying that he will have something "stupendous" to say regarding the forthcoming East-West summit conference in Paris.

Junior Ruling Group

The Central Committee of the Party is the ruling body of the Soviet Union, the repository of ultimate power. All major decisions on policies are framed in the Secretariat and all important Soviet leaders since Nikolai Lenin have come from the Secretariat.

The Secretariat is the inner ruling group of the Party Presidium, which is the highest organization of the Central Committee.

Kozlov, who visited the United States last summer, was released from his old post as First Deputy Premier and the job was given to Aleksei Kosygin, chairman of the State Planning Commission.

Nikolai Mikhailov was replaced as Minister of Culture by a woman, Ekaterina Furtseva, who was dropped as a secretary of the Central Committee.

The shakeup was not considered by informed sources to be a purge, such as the one in 1957 when former Premiers Georgi Malenkov and Nikolai Bulganin and other key men were charged with illegal attempts to change Party leadership and policy.

No Charges Involved

There have been no charges or suggestions of any criminal intent or any anti-Party activity made against any of the leaders removed from their posts in this reshuffle.

The removal of two Presidium members, Alexei Kirichenko and Nikolai Belyaev, had been a foregone conclusion since January when they were appointed to minor party posts in southern Russia.

Belyaev was criticized by Khrushchev last December for negligence in gathering the rich harvest of Kazakhstan Province of which he was then Party secretary. But there was no suggestion of bad faith or opposition to Party politics.

The criticism of Belyaev's inefficiency and inadequate organization.

Kirichenko's fortunes had appeared to be on the slide since January when he was moved out of the bright political arena of Moscow to a small job as Secretary of the Party Central Committee in the Ukraine District of Rostov on the Don.

He is an Old Guard Red who had once been mentioned as a possible successor to Khrushchev.

Kirichenko also automatically relinquished his post as a secretary of the Party's Central Committee. There was no mention of a new job for him.

Competent observers explained the shakeup in terms of Khrushchev's efforts to achieve greater efficiency in government and party operations by eliminating deadwood and promoting younger men to key posts.

At the 21st Party Congress last January, Khrushchev announced he would do just that.

Kosygin, an expert in the field of engineering and economics, is one of the younger and more competent men who has had much experience in Soviet leadership. He was a member of the Presidium before Stalin's death but was later downgraded by the Soviet leader.

He, along with Nikolai Podgorny and Dmitri Polyanski were given Presidium membership in today's move.

Polyanski is regarded as a comer. He is relatively young—born in 1917, the year of the revolution—and is personable and on the rise.

He has been Chairman of the Party Central Committee of the Russian Republic, whose territory comprises two thirds of the whole of the Soviet union.

Reurlets 4/27/60, 2/25/60, 1/19/60 and 12/3/59.

In essence, the first three listed relets indicate you plan to conduct no fisur of subject for UACB in order to protect security of our informant who contacts subject. Urlet 12/3/59, in paragraph three, indicated fisur would be conducted in the future to avoid indication of any abnormal change in investigative attention given the subject.

Bureau desires you review relets to assure that the position you have taken since 1/19/60, of essentially no fisur of subject, is sound to the extent that security of our informant does not become an issue.

Bureau has reviewed subject's file and it is noted subject departed for the Soviet Union in June, 1958, and July, 1959, apparently for short vacations. Since subject's wife departed the United States 2/20/60, it is possible and likely that subject may again leave the United States for a vacation in June, 1960. Bureau desires to point out that as a general rule most Soviet personnel are given some fisur coverage within each six-month period. You should consider this in planning your handling of this case. The contents, and, in effect, the recommendations, of your most recent three relets should not become routine without mature consideration of all factors.

Bureau has approved on a UACB basis your relets dated prior to 4/27/60. The significance of operations in which subject is involved requires your constant, careful attention. Advise the Bureau of your analysis and recommendation based on the observations herein.

Re: Vladimir B. Barkovsky

Bureau desires that security of subject's relationship with our informant be of paramount importance in your recommendation.

Note: Subject is Counselor, Soviet Delegation to the UN, who has been meeting with our highly-placed informant, CG 5824-S. In the interest of security, we have conducted apparently no physical surveillance of subject since 1/19/60. As a known intelligence agent subject has received considerable fisur coverage and it is felt that we should point out to NY the above observations in view of the fact that absence of any fisur activities for a period of approximately six months might be suspicious. It is realized that the operation with CG 5824-S is the most important ~~part~~ ^{part} of our coverage of subject. It has been noted that NY indicated that they would conduct some fisur based on their letter 12/3/59. Since that date three letters indicate no fisur to be conducted until at least July, 1960. It is possible that the decision to recommend no fisur is becoming automatic and this, of course, should be avoided to protect security.

FROM : SAC, CHICAGO (134-46 Sub F)

SUBJECT: SOLO

Re Bureau letter dated 5/4/60, concerning disbursement of "Solo Funds".

CG 5824-S* orally advised SA JOHN E. KEATING on May 5, 1960, that while in New York City during the middle of April, 1960, he gave ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN approximately $1,300 for expenses in connection with her European trip. CG 5824-S* advised that the amount given to FLYNN was taken from the sums in the possession of NY 694-S* and a record of this disbursement is in the safety deposit box of NY 694-S* in New York.

It is suggested that the discrepancy in the balance of the funds in the possession of NY 694-S* may be due to the fact that CG 5824-S* handled these disbursements while NY 694-S* was hospitalized. The accounting can be brought up-to-date while CG 5824-S* is in New York City during the week of May 8, 1960.

There has been no activity in regard to the sums maintained by CG 5824-S* subsequent to Chicago letter dated April 22, 1960. In compliance with instructions of referenced Bureau letter, the Chicago Division will submit the next monthly "Solo Funds" letter to reach the Bureau no later than the 5th of June.

SUBJECT: SOLO

ReBulet dated 5/4/60 to Chicago, with copy to New York, concerning disbursement of "Solo Funds," and Chicago letter dated 5/10/60, copy to New York, in reply thereto.

On 5/16/60, NY 694-S* advised that an examination of records kept in his safe deposit box reflects that two transfers of funds under the control of NY 694-S* were not reported to the NYO. Both transfers were to ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN: one, in the amount of $500.00, was given to her in Chicago on March 25th by PHIL BART; the other, in the amount of $300.00, was given to her on April 13th in NYC by CG 5824-S*.

Referenced Chicago letter reflects that FLYNN was given a total of $1300.00. This figure is correct, but $500.00 of this amount was given to FLYNN on April 5, 1960, and is accounted for in NY letter dated April 6, 1960.

With $800.00 subtracted from the $86,285.00 reported as balance on hand on 5/3/60, the aforesaid balance should be corrected to reflect the balance on 5/3/60 to have been $85,485.00.

Appropriate corrections will be made in the ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN case file in the NYO, reflecting correctly the sums paid to her.

To: Director of Naval Intelligence

Subject: FOREIGN POLITICAL MATTERS - CUBA
INTERNAL SECURITY - CUBA

The following information was recently obtained from sources which have provided reliable data in the past.

According to a functionary of the Communist Party (CP) of Cuba, that country expects to be attacked by United States "imperialists." According to this functionary, the Cubans have this feeling because of the build-up of military power in the Caribbean area and at the Guantanamo Bay Naval Base. The Cubans know when the forces arrived at the naval base and the strength of the forces.

The Cuban CP functionary stated Cuba is prepared for any attack and has over 100,000 armed militiamen, an Association of Young Rebels in constant training and a special corps of Juvenile Patrols in training. In addition, Cuba has an organized women's corps, an organized ambulance corps of thousands of nurses and an organized medical corps.

The CP spokesman stated that "our people" on the Guantanamo Bay Naval Base provided schedules of departures of helicopters in a recent incident where the helicopters from the base were allegedly supplying a band of 15 "common criminals led by Captain Beaton" in Oriente Province. According to the Cuban CP functionary, the Cuban Government feels it can depend on the overwhelming mass of people who work at the naval base the only exception being a few intelligence agents.

STATEMENTS MADE BY ANIBAL ESCALANTE
EXECUTIVE SECRETARY OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF CUBA CONCERNING THE CUBAN SITUATION (u)

Sources which have furnished reliable information in the past advised that Anibal Escalante, executive secretary of the Communist Party (CP) of Cuba, made the following statements in Havana, Cuba, during the month of May, 1960. (u)

Because Cuba expects to be attacked by United States imperialism it has established trade relationships with many of the socialist countries in order to defend itself economically and nationally. Cuba, because of the planned aggression by United States imperialism, has speeded up its mutual recognition and resumption of diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union. Only through these means can Cuba defend its revolution, Escalante said. (u)

Although most Cubans believe that the United States will make a direct attack on Cuba, others feel, depending on world opinion at the time, that the United States will attack through the use of forces of other Latin-American countries. Still others believe that the United States will use diplomatic and economic means; use a "Fifth Column"; or wait for a civil war to develop. Escalante believes that a direct attack is imminent because at least two divisions of troops, with much air power, are now mobilized for use against Cuba. The United States is concentrating a number of military forces in the Caribbean area and has landed infantry, paratroops, tanks and anti-tank weapons at the Guantanamo Bay Naval Base. (u)

According to Escalante, at least 50,000 troops will be needed to invade Cuba. The United States will not be able to raise an army among the Cuban people nor will it be able to secure recruits from Colombia, Venezuela, Panama and perhaps Guatemala. To counteract the threat of an attack by the United States, Cuba has over 100,000 armed militia-men, an Association of Young Rebels in constant training and a special (u) corps of Juvenile Patrols in training. In addition, Cuba has an organized women's corps, an organized ambulance corps of thousands of nurses and an organized medical corps. Except for a few intelligence agents, the Cuban Government can depend on the overwhelming mass of the people who work at the Guantanamo Bay Naval Base. Escalante said, "We are practically at war with United States imperialism." (S)(u)

A social revolution is developing under the influence of the workers and peasants alliance, Escalante commented. Under the National Institute for Agrarian Reform, the state is not only taking over agriculture, it has taken over some textile mills, metal shops, manganese mines, cement works, ships, docks, transportation systems, railroads, factories, buildings and estates. Foreign trade is controlled and supervised by a national bank and the country is going to refine its own oil - ships have already brought crude oil into Cuba from the Soviet Union. (S)(u)

There are three main political parties in Cuba with mass support: (1) The Party of the Communists; (2) The 26th of July Movement; and (3) The Revolutionary Directorate - the party of the left petty bourgeoisie. All three parties support the present government and Fidel Castro, described as a national hero who unites all of the people. "All the people are in back of us," Escalante said, although there are some political counter-revolutionary groups operating which have little influence. Havana is not a good example of the revolutionary and militant feeling among the people, Escalante pointed out. In Havana there are many who are parasitic idlers - those who have made their living from the tourists. This picture is not applicable to the rest of the country. (S)(u)

Although Escalante talked about the growing strength and influence of the Cuban CP everywhere in Cuba, he did not mention the number of CP members in the Cuban Party. He did say that the government was considering a requirement for Americans to have passports when entering Cuba if the United States continues to demand passports from Cubans. (S)(u)

The National Institute for the Tourist Industry will make a special appeal to students in the United States for them to attend summer colonies where they can study or participate in seminars in engineering, agriculture, art, social sciences and medicine. Students will pay $70 a month and will be able to combine their studies with a vacation. (S)(u)

During May Day there were trade-union delegations in Cuba from all over the world, including Ecuador, Venezuela, Brazil, the Soviet Union, Red China, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Yugoslavia. The World Federation of Trade Unions was also represented by a delegation. A resolution was adopted at this conference to the effect that if American trade-unions boycott Cuban shipping, similar boycotts against United States shipping would be organized on a world-wide scale. (S)(u)

On May 7 and 8, 1960, a Cuban Youth Congress was held and the entire youth movement in Cuba, including the communist youth, will be united. Any counter-revolutionary youth movement will be broken up and any youth who speak against the communists or the government will be "beaten up," Escalante said. (S)(u)

According to Escalante, Blas Roca is general secretary of the Cuban CP. In his absence, Escalante is head of the CP in Cuba. On August 16, 1960, the Congress of the CP of Cuba is scheduled to convene for a period of a week. Most of the Latin-American CP's and the CP, USA, will send representatives to the Congress. Concerning the CP of Mexico, Escalante said that he does not trust the Mexican Party because he believes it has been penetrated by United States agents. The Cuban CP supports the group around Arnaldo Martinez Verdugo as recommended by the CP of the Soviet Union and the CP of China. Infrequent contact is had by the Cuban CP with the CP of Mexico. (S)(u)

The Cuban CP has irregular contacts with the CP of Puerto Rico because of passport restrictions. It furnishes little financial support because of the need for American currency by the CP of Cuba. (S)(u)

Escalante admitted that Cubans are learning to do without a few luxuries which have to be imported. As a result of "sabotage by United States imperialism and by the owners of large estates," unemployment increased last year but it is now being reduced. (S)(u)

Our informant, CG 5824-S, is scheduled to again meet with Alexander Barkovsky, Counselor, Soviet United Nations Delegation, in New York City on May 19, 1960. N.Y. RM 651/3

On May 12, 1960, informant stated he believes it to be most inadvisable to meet Barkovsky as scheduled due to the current tense international situation. Normally during such periods Russians reduce, or entirely eliminate, contacts with Communist Party (CP) members in other countries. Under present circumstances the informant feels there is a good possibility Barkovsky will not appear for the scheduled meet. Gus Hall told informant on May 12, 1960, he should not see any Russians at the present time.

Informant advised the alternate meeting date or the arrangements previously made for emergency meetings can be used to re-establish contact with Barkovsky when there is an easing of international tension. Informant may consider maintaining contacts with the CP of the Soviet Union for the time being through Tim Buck and the Canadian CP.

OBSERVATIONS:

It appears the informant's position is well taken on the basis of his knowledge of the ways in which the Soviets operate. There does not appear to be any urgent need for the meet at this time and rather than risk disclosure, informant should postpone the meeting. St.

ACTION:

This is for your information. This matter will be closely followed and you will be kept currently advised of pertinent developments.

ReNYairtel, 4/16/60, reflecting that the next meeting between VLADIMIR BARKOVSKY and CG 5824-S* is scheduled for the evening of May 19, 1960 at the Bainbridge Theater, 286 East 204th Street, Bronx, New York City.

CG 5824-S* orally advised SA JOHN E. KEATING on 5/12/60 that he very strongly believes that it would be most inadvisable for him to go through with plans to meet with BARKOVSKY on May 19, 1960, for the following reasons:

1) Based on his personal experience and the experience of ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG and TIM BUCK, who have met with representatives of the Russian diplomatic corps, the Russians reduce, or entirely eliminate, contacts with Communist Party members in another country if the international situation is such that, if the contact is discovered by intelligence agencies of the country involved, the risk to the normal diplomatic relations is greater than normally. Since such a situation exists between Russia and the United States at the present time, the possibility is very great that BARKOVSKY will not appear for this scheduled meeting. Yet the Russians might attempt to observe the scheduled meeting place to see whether or not CG 5824-S* makes an appearance. If CG 5824-S* does make an appearance, the Russians may feel that, in view of the current international situation, he has not taken the necessary precautions to preserve this contact and the security of this operation.

2) GUS HALL, who knows that CG 5824-S* has contacts with representatives of the USSR but does not know any of the details, told CG 5824-S* on the morning of May 12, 1960, that CG 5824-S* should be careful and should not see any Russians at the present time. HALL also stated that the FBI has been around the national office of the CP, USA recently. HALL further stated that recent publicity indicates that the United States Government is out to do a job on ANTHONY KRCHMAREK because of his contacts with representatives of the Czechoslovakian Government.

3) While CG 5824-S* has as yet not seen EUGENE DENNIS, since DENNIS is a thousand times more cautious than HALL, it can be reasonably assumed that DENNIS would also warn CG 5824-S* not to make any contacts with the Russians at the present time.

4) ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG stated on May 9, 1960, that he would like the Russians to know that JIM ALLEN is no longer associated with International Publishers. He told CG 5824-S* that he would like the informant to convey this information to the Russians, but then commented that he assumed that it would be a long time before the informant could contact a representative of the Soviet Union.

5) GUS HALL told CG 5824-S* on May 12, 1960, that he has the agreement of everyone in the national leadership of the CP, USA that the informant will be elected as the Secretary of the International Affairs Commission of the CP, USA at the meeting of the National Executive Committee being held during the current week end. CG 5824-S* believes that the leadership of the CP, USA would feel that a person such as the informant who holds a leading position in the CP, USA would be acting very foolishly if he risked exposure of the CP, USA by contacting a representative of the Soviet Union in the United States at the present time in view of the current international situation.

Therefore, unless there is some circumstance which changes the situation, CG 5824-S* will not attempt to meet with BARKOVSKY on May 19, 1960. The alternate meeting date or the arrangement for emergency meetings can be used to re-establish contact with BARKOVSKY when there is an easing of tensions in the relationship between the United States and the Soviet Union. CG 5824-S* may also consider maintaining contact with the CPSU for the time being through TIM BUCK and the CP of Canada.

ROOTS FOR A NEW SOCIAL SYSTEM ARE ALREADY GROWING AS A RESULT OF THIS REVOLUTION. THERE IS A GROWTH OF COOPERATION AND COOPERATIVES AMONG THE WORKERS AND THE PEASANTRY. THE FIRST RUSSIAN SHIPS HAVE BROUGHT CRUDE OIL INTO CUBA FROM THE USSR AND IT WILL BE REFINED IN CUBA. ESCALANTE STATED, THERE ARE THREE POLITICAL PARTIES WHICH HAVE ANY MASS SUPPORT IN CUBA. THESE ARE 1, THE PARTY OF THE COMMUNISTS, 2, THE 26TH OF JULY MOVEMENT, AND 3, THE REVOLUTIONARY DIRECTORATE - THE PARTY OF THE LEFT PETTY BOURGEOISIE. ALL THREE SUPPORT THE GOVERNMENT AND FIDEL CASTRO, DESCRIBED AS A NATIONAL HERO WHO UNITES ALL OF THE PEOPLE. ESCALANTE SAID THAT THE CP OF CUBA IS GROWING, ITS INFLUENCE IS GROWING, AND IT IS EVERYWHERE IN CUBA. HE SAID, THE REASON WE SPEEDED UP THE MUTUAL RECOGNITION AND THE RESUMPTION OF DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH THE USSR WAS TO DEFEND THE CUBA REVOLUTION. AT THIS POINT IN HISTORY, INTERNATIONAL SOLIDARITY IS NOW MOST IMPORTANT FOR CUBA. WE CAN SAY THAT WE ARE PRACTICALLY AT WAR WITH UNITED STATES IMPERIALISM. As the Bureau is aware NY 694-S* on 4/15/60, received from the Soviets, through intermediaries, $12,800 for use of the CPUSA. On 5/2/60 this money was furnished to the NYO for review purposes.

On 5/5/60, a comparison of the serial numbers of the above notes against the serial numbers of notes issued to Soviet establishments in NY and WFO (Russian Funds - Bufile 65-28939 - NY file 65-6315) produced negative results.

In addition to the above, the serial number, series, etc, of the notes contained in the $12,800 were placed on index cards and inserted in the index maintained in captioned case. The following is the result.

It is noted that the letter B preceding the serial number signifies the New York Federal Reserve Bank (NYRB) and the letter L signifies the San Francisco FRB.

Of particular significance in placing the $12,800 into the index was the observation of how the notes fall into exact sequence with notes previously received from the CP. They blended in on numerous occasions with CP notes recovered on two previous occasions. Also contained in said blending were notes recovered in the Carport and Karot operations.

CG 5824-S returned to the United States on 5/10/60 from the fifth Solo mission to Havana, Cuba. New York airtel 5/12/60 sets out information obtained by informant from Anibal Escalante, executive secretary of the Communist Party (CP) of Cuba, concerning the Cuban situation. Informant had a long talk with Escalante in Havana on 5/9/60. Following are the highlights of this meeting:

1. Cuba has established trade relationships with many of the socialist countries and has speeded up its mutual recognition and resumption of diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union.

2. Escalante believes that the United States is going to attack Cuba because of the build up of military power in the Caribbean area and at the Guantanamo Bay Naval Base.

3. To counteract the threat of an attack by the United States, Cuba has over 100,000 armed militia-men, an Association of Young Rebels in constant training and a special corps of Juvenile Patrols in training. In addition, Cuba has an organized women's corps, an organized ambulance corps of thousands of nurses and an organized medical corps. Except for a few intelligence agents, the Cuban Government feels it can depend on the overwhelming mass of the people who work at the Guantanamo Bay Naval Base. Escalante said, "We are practically at war with United States imperialism."

4. A social revolution is developing under the influence of the workers and peasants alliance - the state is taking over agriculture and many of its industries. Its foreign trade is controlled and supervised by a national bank and the country is going to refine its own oil - ships have already delivered crude oil to Cuba from the Soviet Union.

5. There are three main political parties in Cuba, including the CP, which support the present government and Fidel Castro, described as a national hero who unites all of the people. There are some political counter-revolutionary groups operating which have little influence.

6. Escalante claimed that the strength and influence of the Cuban CP was growing everywhere in Cuba. The government is considering a requirement for Americans to have passports when entering Cuba if the United States continues to demand passports from Cubans.

7. The National Institute for the Tourist Industry will make a special appeal to students in the United States for them to attend summer colonies where they can study and at the same time enjoy a vacation.

8. A resolution was adopted during a meeting of trade-union delegations from the Soviet Union, Red China, Soviet Bloc countries and Latin American countries in Cuba on May Day, to the effect that if American trade-unions boycott Cuban shipping, similar boycotts against United States shipping would be organized on a world-wide scale.

9. A Cuban Youth Congress held on 5/7-8/60 decided that the entire youth movement, including the communist youth, would be united.

10. On 8/16/60, the Congress of the CP of Cuba is scheduled to convene. Most Latin American CP's and the CP, USA, will send representatives to this Congress. Our informant was invited to attend.

11. Escalante does not trust the Mexican CP because he believes it has been penetrated by United States agents. The Cuban CP supports the group around Arnoldo Varinez Verdugo as recommended by the CP of the Soviet Union and the CP of China. Verdugo is a long-time member of the Central Committee of the CP of Mexico and is a leader of the forces opposing the current Secretary General of the CP of Mexico, Dionisio Encina. When in the Soviet Union and China in late 1959, CG-5824-S was told by the Soviets and the Chinese that the CP, USA, should give its support to the faction headed by Verdugo.

12. The Cuban CP has irregular contacts with the CP of Puerto Rico because of passport restrictions.

Informant said that Escalante is in charge of the CP of Cuba when Blas Roca, general secretary, Cuban CP, is absent. At the time of contact with Escalante, Roca was in Russia. Informant believes that communists are playing an important role in Cuba and that the communists and the Castro followers constitute the government. He believes that the communists have infiltrated most of the military and police apparatus in Cuba and at the present time are probably training CP members from other Latin American countries.

RECOMMENDATION:

Attached for approval are appropriate communications incorporating pertinent data furnished by this informant. If you concur, these communications with a "~~Top Secret~~" classification will be furnished to Honorable Richard M. Nixon, the Vice President; Honorable Gordon Gray, Special Assistant to the President; Honorable Christian A. Herter, the Secretary of State; Mr. Allen W. Dulles, Director, Central Intelligence Agency; and the Attorney General.

Re New York airtel 5-18-60; copy furnished your office, disclosing that Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party (CP), USA, requested CG 5824-S* to consider making a trip to Moscow, Russia, and Prague, Czechoslovakia, during June, 1960. Hall also urged informant to visit the satellite countries in Europe.

Because of the international situation it appears that Hall would like to get the current thinking of those in the Kremlin so that he can direct the CP, USA, along any new Party line laid down by Moscow. This proposed trip will give the Bureau advance notice of any new tactics to be used by the CP, USA, and will furnish us with an opportunity to invoke possible countermeasures.

Every effort should be made by CG 5824-S* to make this 6th Solo trip. He should consider using part of the Solo funds in his possession for this trip; travel expenses of Party functionaries now in Europe have been paid from this fund.

Keep the Bureau currently advised concerning this 6th Solo mission.

Advise by return mail when the informant anticipates leaving on this trip.

In connection with the Director's request concerning the identity of Vladimir B. Barkovsky and where he fits into the picture the following information is set forth:

While our informant CG 5824-S was attending the 21st Congress of the Communist Party (CP) of the Soviet Union held in Russia in January-February, 1959, informant received instructions regarding the establishment of a clandestine apparatus for transmittal of funds and communications from the Soviets to the CP, USA. This apparatus was designed to effect direct contact between the Soviets and the CP, USA, rather than having contact made through the Canadian CP as was the case in the past. In accordance with instructions from the Soviets, informant met his Soviet contact in New York City on 4-14-59 - he turned out to be Vladimir B. Barkovsky, counselor, Soviet Delegation to the United Nations.

Since initial contact with Barkovsky on 4-14-59, informant has made four other clandestine contacts with Barkovsky in New York City, the last contact being 4-15-60. As a result of these contacts, $122,885 has been delivered by Barkovsky to the office of informant's brother, NY 694-S. To date $385,885 has been furnished by the Soviets to the CP, USA. Two hundred and sixty-three thousand dollars of this amount has been received from the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa, Canada. The next scheduled meeting with Barkovsky is 5-19-60; however, my memorandum 5-16-60 explains that our informant will not keep this appointment because of the current tense international situation. Informant feels that he would be criticized by the Soviets if he tried to meet Barkovsky under the present U. S. - Russian atmosphere. An alternate meeting-date had been established at a previous meeting in the event a scheduled meeting was not kept.

Be Re New York airtel 5/18/60 and Bulet 5/23/60 concerning a possible sixth Solo mission. Bureau letter instructed the Chicago Division to advise by return mail when the informant anticipates leaving on this trip.

CG 5824-S* has been advised of the desire of the Bureau that he make another trip to the Soviet Union, particularly in view of the current international situation.

CG 5824-S* stated on May 24, 1960, that he has no definite plans for such a trip at this moment. The informant pointed out that he has some personal problems that he wants to tend to and that a trip of this magnitude cannot be made without careful preparation.

It should be noted that CG 5824-S* has just recently returned to Chicago from an extensive trip to Cuba and New York City. The Bureau has been advised by separate communication that CG 5824-S* left Chicago for Toronto on the morning of May 24, 1960. CG 5824-S* will undoubtedly ask the advice of TIM BUCK in regard to whether or not it would be correct to make a trip to the Soviet Union at this time in view of recent international developments. Unless BUCK, who is more experienced in these matters than anyone in the Communist Party, USA, counsels CG 5824-S* against such a trip at this time for political reasons, then it is believed that CG 5824-S* will have BUCK convey a message to the Communist Party of the Soviet Union that the informant may make a trip to Moscow in the near future.

CG 5824-S* also stated on May 24, 1960, that he would want to meet with GUS HALL again before making any definite plans and that it is even possible that HALL might change his mind about having the informant make such a trip at this time.

HALL has indicated that he will stop in Chicago on his return from the National Farm Conference being held at Minneapolis during the weekend of May 28-29, 1960.

The Chicago Division is aware of the desires of the Bureau in regard to this sixth Solo mission, and as indicated previously this desire has been conveyed to CG 5824-S*.

It is the opinion of the Chicago Division that, barring developments which cannot be foreseen at this time, CG 5824-S* will make this sixth Solo trip. However, it is felt that we should allow a little time to elapse in order to permit CG 5824-S* to condition himself mentally for this undertaking and also to take the necessary precautions to insure against any slip up. As an example of the preparations which will be necessary, a decision will have to be made as to whether it would be best to make a trip at this time with a "legal" or an "illegal" passport.

The Bureau will be kept advised of any and all developments in this matter.

Referenced Bulet requested the NYO to review referenced letters to assure that the position the NYO has taken since 1/19/60, of essentially no fisur of subject, is sound to the extent that security of our informant does not become an issue. Bureau further requested analysis and recommendations based on the observations contained in referenced Bulet.

On 11/15/59, our informant advised that while in the USSR he was subjected to extensive interrogation regarding fisurs conducted of informant. Informant was advised that subject claimed he noticed Special Agents of the FBI following him immediately after their meeting on 4/14/59, hence subject broke off contact. (Subject was not under fisur on instant date by Special Agents of the FBI). Informant denied he was under fisur. Informant was further advised that they (Soviets) would go over the grounds to see what may have aroused the suspicion of the FBI or some other intelligence agency in the US.

Informant was later advised that the Soviets concluded that probably due to the Bolshoi Theater Group appearing in NYC, and the fact that subject received numerous telephone calls from individuals requesting tickets for this show, the FBI may have intercepted these calls and thought subject was meeting for some other purpose.

It is contemplated subject will depart the US on vacation to the USSR in June or July, 1960. It is recommended that upon subject's return to the US, he be afforded spot fisur coverage. Regarding scheduled meetings, no fisur of subject will be conducted ten days prior or ten days subsequent to such meetings, UACB.

The above recommendation was made in view of the following:

1. All Soviet personnel as a general rule are afforded fisur coverage at least within a six month period.
2. Other known Soviet intelligence agents presently engaged in double agent activity in the US are afforded spot fisur coverage within a six month period.
3. Subject's complaint made in the USSR that he and/or informant was under fisur at the time of their meeting in April, 1959, and fisurs of other Soviet nationals would tend to alert subject to the abnormal change in as far as coverage of subject is concerned.
4. Although subject was convinced that he was under fisur at the time of meeting with informant in April, 1959, subject resumed relations with our informant.
5. The NYO is aware of the date of meetings with our informant, hence spot fisur coverage of subject could be conducted and in no way would involve the security of our informant.

On May 17, 1960, we furnished Gordon Gray, Special Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs, a memorandum containing information secured by our highly placed Informant CG 5824-S as the result of a trip which he recently made to Cuba at the request of the Communist Party, USA. During this trip he talked with Anibal Escalante, Executive Secretary of the Communist Party of Cuba who was temporarily in charge of the Cuban Communist Party due to the absence of Blas Roca in Moscow.

Russell Ash, who is temporarily taking Pat Coyne's place at the National Security Council, telephoned on the afternoon of May 25, 1960, to report that Mr. Gray had forwarded our information to the President. Our memorandum was returned to Mr. Gray today by General Goodpaster, the President's Staff Secretary, with expressions of appreciation and two questions:

- (1) "Was this a domestic source?"
- (2) "Does this item suggest FBI is operating outside the United States?"

We told Ash that the answer to question (1) was yes and to question (2) no. We told Ash that the information had been secured from a domestic source and our only representatives abroad are Liaison Representatives stationed in certain major foreign capitals who maintain contact with law enforcement and investigative agencies abroad for the purpose of expediting the handling by these agencies of leads arising from FBI's domestic investigations. Ce

MANNER IN WHICH CONTACT WAS MADE IN HAVANA, CUBA, WITH ANIBAL ESCALANTE

This reporter arrived in Havana, Cuba, at 2:00 a.m. on Friday, May 6, 1960. Only one other American departed from the plane at Havana. This reporter was the only passenger going to the Hilton Hotel, which is practically empty.

ANIBAL ESCALANTE had given instructions that he should be contacted through the following address:

ALBERTO LUIS RODRIGUEZ
Candelaria
Calle Altarriba 54
Bajos
Jesus del Monte.

There are so few tourists in Havana at the present time that one is almost immediately surrounded by tourist guides and taxicab drivers upon leaving the hotel. It is almost impossible for an American to be inconspicuous in Havana. A review of tourist maps and telephone directories was of no assistance in trying to localize the above address. Finally, it was decided to take a guided tour on Friday afternoon. Using the pretext that this reporter had been asked by an elevator operator in the United States to give personal regards to his relatives in Havana, the tourist guide was shown the above address. He did not know its exact location. Finally, by asking several people about the address, he was able to arrive at the correct residence. It is in the middle of a slum area. The tourist guide was asked to remain in the auto while this reporter went inside.

At this residence there were a couple of women who spoke only in Spanish. They said that RODRIGUEZ does not live there, but they do see him at night occasionally. One woman wrote the following message in Spanish: If you wish me to leave a note for him, I will deliver it with confidence. He comes to see us often but doesn't live here.

ENCLOSURE

A message was left with them to the effect that JAMES CARTER, from North America is in town and would like to see ESCALANTE or BLAS ROCA. CARTER can be reached through Mr. MARTIN CAMP, who is at the Hilton Hotel. Note to ESCALANTE-- I have not seen you since last October.

The sight-seeing tour was then completed. No message was received at the hotel on either Friday evening or Saturday morning. Another sight-seeing tour was taken on Saturday afternoon. After a two-hour drive around the city, this guide was told that the reporter had visited a place the preceding day to give regards from a relative in the United States, but the person to whom the regards were to be given was not there. So we returned to the address for RODRIGUEZ.

The same women were present. The greeting was not as friendly as it had been on the previous day. One of them wrote another message in Spanish, stating, he doesn't live here. His sister should have come last night but didn't as I expected. They were asked to return the note that had been given to them on the previous day, but they refused to do so.

Subsequent events indicate that they were probably being cautious until they determined that everything was all right.

When no message had been received during Saturday evening, an effort was made to locate the Communist Party headquarters, ESCALANTE or ROCA in the telephone book, but no listing could be found. Finally a telephone call was received about midnight. The caller was in the lobby of the hotel and was not there. He said that his name is GUERRERO and that he is an assistant to ESCALANTE. He only spoke Spanish. With some difficulty, it was learned that ESCALANTE would be attending the youth conference on Sunday, May 8, 1960. It was agreed that ESCALANTE would meet with this reporter in the latter's room at the Hotel Hilton on Monday, May 9, 1960, at 10:00 a.m. GUERRERO said that either he or ESCALANTE could be reached at the following telephone number in case of emergency: FO 4996.

GUERRERO is described as follows: CONFIDENTIAL

| | |
|-----------------|------------------------|
| Sex | Male |
| Race | White |
| Height | 5'5" |
| Age | 40-42 years |
| Weight | 165-170 |
| Build | Heavy |
| Hair | Black, thick and wavy |
| Complexion | Light |
| Characteristics | Wears a small mustache |

During the meeting with ESCALANTE, complaints were made about the previous arrangement for making personal contact with him. On Tuesday morning, May 10, 1960, GUERRERO brought to the Hilton Hotel the new address for contact, which has been previously recorded. ESCALANTE confirmed that the Communist Party is not listed in the telephone book and that he could be reached at FO 4996.

MEETINGS WITH ANIBAL ESCALANTE, EXECUTIVE SECRETARY OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF CUBA
ON MAY 9, 1960, IN HAVANA, CUBA

On May 9, 1960, there were two meetings with ANIBAL ESCALANTE in the Hilton Hotel in Havana, Cuba. No other persons were present during these meetings. The first meeting lasted from 11 a.m. until noon. The second meeting lasted from 4 p.m. to approximately 10 p.m.

Position of ANIBAL ESCALANTE in the Communist Party of Cuba

During the first meeting, ESCALANTE was asked his specific position in the CP of Cuba. ESCALANTE stated that he is the Executive Secretary of the Party of Cuban Communists. He explained that his position is that of a Deputy General Secretary of the CP. He works closely with BLAS ROCA, the General Secretary of the Cuban CP and takes over the actual control of the Party in the absence of ROCA. Since ROCA was in Russia on May 9, 1960, ESCALANTE was in charge of the Party.

ESCALANTE was wearing a heavy sport shirt which was worn outside the trousers. Beneath the sport shirt he was carrying two pistols. One pistol was in a shoulder holster and the other was in a hip holster.

Date for the Congress of the CP of Cuba and Whether a Representative of the Leadership of the CP, USA, Should Attend this Congress

ESCALANTE, who speaks excellent English, stated that the Congress of the CP of Cuba is scheduled to begin on August 16, 1960, and will last for approximately one week. He stated that most of the Communist Parties in Latin America will send representatives to this Congress. Therefore, it would be advisable for MORRIS CHILDS or whoever works with CHILDS in the International Affairs Committee of the CP, USA, to be in Havana at the time of the Congress of the CP of Cuba. Even if CHILDS did not openly participate in the Congress, he could meet with representatives from the other Latin American Communist Parties and learn what is happening in these Parties and in other Latin American countries.

100-422091-797

In regard to a question as to whether GUS HALL, General Secretary of the CP, USA, should attend the Congress of the CP of Cuba, ESCALANTE stated that off hand, he would say that this sounds like a good idea. However, in view of the present international situation, it might be well to take some time in order to think over this suggestion. A lot of things have to be taken into consideration. He suggested that the CP, USA, give this further consideration. Meantime, he will discuss it with BLAS ROCA upon ROCA's return from China and Russia and will let the CP, USA, know the decision of the CP of Cuba. Meanwhile, GUS HALL should wait a month or two before making a definite decision as to whether he would want to attend the Congress of the CP of Cuba.

ESCALANTE Comments on the Communist Party of Mexico

ESCALANTE stated that the Congress of the CP of Mexico had been postponed and that the last word he had was that the CP of Mexico was scheduled to hold its Congress during the weekend of May 14-15, 1960. He stated that he doubted very much that the CP of Cuba would send a representative to the Congress of the CP of Mexico. He said, we do not trust the CP of Mexico. We think that it is penetrated by American (United States) agents.

Asked if he thought that the CP, USA, should use any addresses it has for confidential communications to the CP of Mexico, ESCALANTE stated that he would be very skeptical about these addresses and would advise that they be checked in person before they are utilized.

When asked who the CP of Cuba supports in the leadership of the CP of Mexico, ESCALANTE stated that the CP of Cuba supports the group around ARNOLDO MARTINEZ VERDUGO as recommended by the CP of the Soviet Union and the CP of China. Yet the CP of Cuba has infrequent contact with the CP of Mexico and really does not know what the results of the Congress of the CP of Mexico will be and this includes a decision as to the future leadership of the CP of Mexico.

Contacts Between the CP of Cuba and the CP of Puerto Rico

ESCALANTE was told that JUAN SANTOS RIVERA, of the CP of Puerto Rico, had attended a session of the 17th National Convention of the CP, USA, and has also met with leading members of the CP, USA. Further, that RIVERA had reported that the CP of Cuba has given some financial assistance to the CP of Puerto Rico. ESCALANTE was also told that the CP, USA, is giving some financial aid to the CP of Puerto Rico.

ESCALANTE stated that in view of the present situation in Cuba, and the present relationship between the United States and Cuba, the contacts between the CP of Cuba and the CP of Puerto Rico are not as regular as they were at one time. He said that it is necessary for a Cuban to have a passport in order to enter Puerto Rico so it is almost as difficult for a Cuban to get into Puerto Rico as it is for a Cuban to get into the United States.

Furthermore, the need of the Cuban Government for United States currency is very great at the present time. The CP of Cuba cannot give away American dollars when the Cuban Government needs United States currency. Therefore, the CP of Cuba cannot give financial support to the CP of Puerto Rico as frequently as it has in the past. He said, we will support the CP of Puerto Rico, but our contacts will be less frequent. The CP, USA, should increase its financial support to the CP of Puerto Rico, which will have to depend more on the CP, USA, than the CP of Cuba for material aid.

In Regard to Financial Support from Cuba for a Committee for Cuban-American Friendship in the United States

ESCALANTE was told that it had been learned that JOE NORTH had requested funds for the purpose of establishing a Committee for Cuban-American Friendship, which would issue propaganda in the United States favorable to the present regime in Cuba. ESCALANTE was also told that in making this request, NORTH was not speaking for GUS HALL and EUGENE DENNIS and that the leadership of the CP, USA, has stated that it was a mistake for NORTH to raise this problem of financial aid with the CP of Cuba. However, ESCALANTE was asked what, if anything, had been done in this matter.

ESCALANTE replied, we could not send any money now in any event. It is a question of conserving our foreign currency. It would be bad to send some of our foreign currency to the enemy country, the United States. After the discussions with NORTH we knew that we could not carry through in this matter.

SECOND MEETING WITH ANIBAL
ESCALANTE

The second meeting with ESCALANTE started about 4 p.m. on May 9, 1960. It will be noted that frequently ESCALANTE speaks in the first person plural. At no time did he express or imply any disagreement in regard to the policies of the Cuban Government. ESCALANTE was speaking as a Communist and as a leader of the CP of Cuba. If he was not speaking as a spokesman for the Cuban Government, he was at least being identified with the policies of the Cuban Government.

Cuba's Fear of an Attack
by the United States

ESCALANTE stated that his analysis of the situation in Cuba, which was made in October, 1959, was correct. Therefore, his current remarks would merely bring the situation up-to-date.

NY 100-134637

He said that Cuba is living in a state of fear that it may be attacked. Cuba expects to be attacked. The possibility of an attack cannot be separated from the cold war. An attack upon Cuba would undoubtedly affect world peace.

ESCALANTE stated that events in Cuba have moved very swiftly. Diplomatic recognition between Cuba and the Soviet Union has taken place. The danger of an attack against Cuba speeded up this formal recognition. ~~We have also established~~ strong trade relationships with many of the Socialist countries.

Cuba is very much aware of the campaign against it in the United States. He mentioned a report by a Professor TANNENBAUM which was made at the AFL-CIO Conference on International Affairs and dealt with Latin America. He stated that Cuba was verbally attacked at this conference. He said that Cubans are very much aware of the stories and articles against the Cuban Government which are occurring in American publications. They also know about lectures by DU BOIS of the "Chicago Tribune" and are aware of resolutions against Cuba which have been passed by the labor movement in the United States. All of these things are looked upon as a part of the cold war; part of a pre-summit effort to worsen world relationships; part of the campaign of the United States State Department to wreck Cuba by any means.

Next ESCALANTE said, United States imperialism is definitely planning aggression against us. This plan of aggression is speeding up the economic and political measures which we are taking in order to prepare our country to fight. Some people in Europe, including some of our Parties, even including the CP of the Soviet Union, think that the United States will not attack us directly now. But we feel differently about this. We think United States imperialism will attack us. The fact that United States imperialism would send a plane to the Soviet Union a few days before the summit meeting proves that there are forces in the United States which would not hesitate to attack us.

Continuing, ESCALANTE stated, we know that in Washington some people are still hesitant about attacking us. They are only debating the methods. We know that they are in agreement to try to destroy us. But the method to use is a point of difference. We know that some say, let us do it directly. Then there is an opinion in Washington that says, let us use Latin American hands. United States imperialism tried to overthrow the Governments of Venezuela and Colombia recently by using Latin American hands. United States imperialism was quickly defeated in both instances. We know that United States imperialism is working in Guatemala and in Colombia and definitely in the Dominican Republic in order to get recruits to use against Cuba.

ESCALANTE said that United States imperialism is concentrating a number of military forces in the Caribbean area. We know too that the United States has landed infantry, paratroops, tanks and anti-tank weapons at the Guantanamo Bay Naval Base. In the past there have never been any forces of this nature at the Naval Base. These forces are concentrated in order to be used against us. We know how many forces arrived and when they arrived and we are preparing accordingly.

Then ESCALANTE stated, the only reason for the hesitation is that at this moment the international situation is not too favorable for United States imperialism. The recent plane incident, which was a clumsy provocation against the USSR, made it even more difficult for the United States to attack Cuba.

ESCALANTE said, you know that JOSEPH STALIN was fooled by ADOLPH HITLER in 1941. STALIN thought that HITLER would not fight a two-front war. But HITLER did attack when it suited his convenience. We are not going to make the mistakes that the Russians made. We are not going to be fooled. We are going on the basis that United States imperialism might let loose with an attack against us at any moment and we have to be prepared for it. This is why we are doing things now that we did not even think of doing until a few months ago.

Parenthetically speaking, the comment by ESCALANTE that STALIN was fooled by HITLER and that the Russians made mistakes would not be something that the CP of Cuba was taught by the CP of the Soviet Union. Thus this comment by ESCALANTE may illustrate the influence of the Chinese on the Cuban Communists.

ESCALANTE asked what will the United States do? Answering his own question he said, we do not know exactly, keeping in mind that this is a real revolution that we have in Cuba. This Cuban revolution is propelling all of Latin America into the path of similar revolutions. So United States imperialism is afraid that while the world situation is worsened for United States imperialism, Latin America may free itself from the domination of the United States. We know that there are at least two divisions of troops, with a lot of air power, mobilized now for use only against us. The hesitation is due to the fact that there is a current of opinion in the United States which says, let us choke Cuba through diplomatic and economic means. Let us use a fifth column in Cuba. Let us intervene when a civil war gets under way. We have no illusions. We believe that both of these tendencies or currents of thought want to destroy Cuba. The second trend prevails at the moment because there is fear in the United States that open intervention in Cuba would arouse all of the rest of Latin America.

The Situation in Cuba

ESCALANTE stated, you have observed the slogan in Cuba: "Fatherland or death!" This is a real mass slogan. We are going to resist attack in every possible way. We are going to fight a real war of national independence. We are going on the basis that we will fight not only in the countryside and in the mountains, but, if necessary, from door to door in the cities. The United States would have to destroy us completely to defeat us. Mass meetings on May 1 proved that the people are in back of us, not only in Havana but throughout the country.

We have over one hundred thousand militia-men. Of this number, thirty thousand are peasants. They are all armed and we want to arm more. The vanguard of this armed force is, first of all, the rebel army--the regular army. The other vanguard is the Communist Party. The militia is a mass army and it is all voluntary. Do you know that the government does not spend a single penny for this voluntary army? The militia-men even buy their own uniforms. They take up collections and do other things to raise money. The militia is in constant training and readiness.

Then we have another organization which is called the Association of Young Rebels. While some of these belong to the militia, the majority are organized for action on their own. They, too, are in constant training. Then, we have organized a special corps called the Juvenile Patrols. Some of these may be too young to use arms; however, they are in training and will help our armed resistance. In addition, we have an organized women's corps, an organized ambulance corps of thousands of nurses, and an organized medical corps.

Continuing, ESCALANTE said, we are going to prove to United States imperialism that it cannot win, and that we will fight on forever, if necessary, to prove this. We have a real social revolution taking place in Cuba. Make no mistake about that. Tell the comrades in the United States that this is not an ordinary bourgeois democratic revolution. It is developing under the influence of the workers and peasants alliance. This is the backbone of the revolution. What you call the Castro government is a real national revolutionary government. Roots for a new social system are already growing in our country as a result of this present revolution. There is a growth of cooperation and cooperatives among the workers and the peasantry.

We now have just a little over one thousand cooperatives involving hundreds of thousands of people. There are two kinds of cooperatives. One is called the classical, primitive or inferior form of cooperative. Here the peasants remove their fences and begin to cooperate in the working of the land. Then, we have a more developed form of cooperative in which a social manner of producing is used. In this form, the cooperative receives the land instead of the individual peasant. Those who participate in this form of cooperative receive a salary or wage, in addition to a division of the surplus after the harvest. The state also receives a share from these cooperatives. This year, more than fifty per cent of the sugar cane has been produced by the second form of cooperative. This second form of cooperative is based on property expropriated from private estates and such American corporations as the United Fruit Company and others.

Then we have a third form of cooperative--the state enterprises. These are under INRA, the National Institute for Agrarian Reform. INRA is not confined to agriculture. It is beginning to take in related industries. For example, sixteen sugar mills are already operating under INRA. All hemp production is under INRA.

Next, ESCALANTE stated that some of the largest textile mills, one of which was an American mill; some of the biggest metal shops; two manganese mines; cement works, particularly in Oriente Province; some ships; some docks; most of the urban transportation systems; the railroads in the western part of the Island, and many factories, such as clothing factories and food processing plants, are now being managed by the state.

ESCALANTE stated, you might say that this is state capitalism. We say, no. We say that we have gone a stage beyond state capitalism. We might even add that this resembles a form of the property of all the people--a common ownership. However, this is a Cuban form and it is not like the Chinese communes.

With regard to foreign trade, it is now definitely controlled and supervised by a national bank. This is not nationalization. The national bank interferes in defense of our national economy and our country. We now compel foreign banking institutions to follow the rules of our national bank.

Then ESCALANTE said, of course, as you know, we are going to refine our own oil. We will not be dependent upon the United States imperialism. The first ships have brought crude oil into Cuba from the USSR. Cuba purchased this oil at a price thirty per cent cheaper than it had been purchased in the past from other countries, particularly the United States. We will use a government refinery to process this oil.

We have confiscated the biggest buildings and estates. All of the large hotels have become state property. We have confiscated other property, such as that which belonged to the clique around Fulgencio Batista and the gangsters. We have taken steps to protect the citizens of our country. Gambling in the casinos is only allowed for foreigners. Confiscated property and the profit from gambling go toward an accumulation of state capital.

The social and economic situation in our country is developing and deepening. The big national bourgeoisie has lost its influence and political power in Cuba. The petty bourgeoisie has also lost its power and influence as a group. The working class and the peasantry have gained a great deal, both economically and politically. This is why we say that we have a real social revolution. The current class relationships in our country are in favor of the workers and peasants alliance.

When asked who the government represents, ESCALANTE replied that the government definitely represents the workers and peasants alliance, but the government has the support of large sections of the lower middle class. Our upper bourgeoisie and even the upper middle classes are still in fear of United States imperialism. They would like to halt the development of the revolution, but they cannot do this.

Next, ESCALANTE discussed the political parties and their influence. He said, we can speak of three political parties that mean anything, that is, parties which have any mass support. These are: (1) the party of the Communists; (2) the 26th of July Movement; (3) the Revolutionary Directorate--the party of the Left petty bourgeoisie.

ESCALANTE stated, these are the three main parties that support the government. All of them support Fidel Castro. Castro is a national hero. He is the one who unites all of the people. He is not another Nasser of Egypt.

While there are some other political groups, they speak for the counter-revolution and have little influence. While representing the counter-revolution, they are legal. We make a distinction between the Right Wingers or counter-revolutionaries who operate openly and the illegal counter-revolutionaries. However, the legal and the illegal counter-revolutionaries are beginning to merge and United States imperialism is using both of them in different ways.

Then ESCALANTE said that he wants to repeat that the old police system has been smashed. The old army apparatus has also been smashed. The rebel army apparatus is a new one.

NY 100-134637

Influence of the Communist Party and International Relations

In regard to a question concerning the strength and influence of the Communist Party, ESCALANTE said that the Communist Party of Cuba is growing and its influence is growing. The Communist Party is everywhere in Cuba. However, we do not talk about our party and we do not talk about numbers of party members. I would ask that no notes be made concerning this. We entered into relationships with the socialist countries in order to defend Cuba economically and nationally. The reason we speeded up the mutual recognition and the resumption of diplomatic relations with the USSR was to defend the Cuban revolution. United States imperialism does not fear Cuba. It does fear the possibilities of revolution in all of Latin America. Wherever you go in Latin America, or in most of the countries of Latin America, you will hear slogans such as the following being raised: Why don't we have an agrarian reform--like Cuba? Why don't we confiscate property--like Cuba? Why don't we do this or why don't we do that--like Cuba?

The masses in the Latin American countries are comparing situations in their countries with our situation in Cuba. They see an example in Cuba. We can say that United States imperialism is so afraid that the sparks of the Cuban revolution will spread that it may engage in some desperate acts.

At this point in history, international solidarity is now most important for Cuba. You should tell the comrades in the United States that Cuba, by itself, has very little room for maneuver. This is why Cuba is strengthening international relationships with whatever countries it can. In case you have some ideas that we are moving fast because we are Leftists or doctrinaires, we would like to disabuse you on such ideas. The only reason for our speed, which may seem to contradict what we talked about last Fall, is the pressures exerted by United States imperialism as it prepares intervention and a counter-revolution against us. We increased our speed and used so-called Leftist measures only to fight back. We can say that we are practically at war with United States imperialism.

Do you remember, in the study of the history of the Soviet revolution, that they had to resort to "war communism" in order to defend themselves? It was only later that Lenin set a new course. They used "war communism" for defense, just as we are using some of our measures for defense. We want to tell you that we know what we are talking about when we fear counter-revolution and intervention. The Batista Caskida (phonetic--means wearers of helmets) are hidden in Guantanamo Bay and other American bases. They are being held in readiness in order to be used against us. ~~They~~ You must have heard of the fight in Oriente Province recently. We wiped out this band of fifteen common criminals led by Captain Beaton. The only reason it took so long was because these bandits were supplied by helicopters from Guantanamo Bay and our people in the base used to give us the schedules of the departures of the helicopters. This was a band of common criminals and they were wiped out by the peasants' militia. However, an army major and Communist Party member was killed in this fighting in Oriente Province.

Asked if the Cubans working at the Guantanamo Bay Naval Base could be depended upon to support the Cuban government, ESCALANTE replied, except for a few intelligence agents, we can depend on the overwhelming mass of the people who work in the Guantanamo Bay Base.

Then ESCALANTE said that the United States cannot raise an army from among the Cuban people. In order to fight Cuba, the United States will have to use its own troops or depend upon foreigners. What foreigners can the United States rely upon? We know that the United States cannot fight Cuba with recruits from Columbia, Venezuela or Panama. Recruits from Guatemala are doubtful. To invade Cuba, at least fifty thousand troops would be needed. The United States cannot mobilize such an army from its reactionary dependencies. If the United States uses American troops for a direct invasion, then Latin America will desert the United States.

We have exposed the sabotage flights from the United States and compelled the United States State Department to admit that such flights took place. If you think that the United States State Department is living up to diplomatic and legal agreements and understanding because it has been exposed, then you are mistaken. I'll tell you why there are no sabotage flights now. The sugar cane is still very green. It is not possible to set fire to this cane at this time, therefore economic sabotage would not be worthwhile.

ANTIBAL ESCALANTE Concerning
The Situation in Cuba

When asked about the trade unions in Cuba, ESCALANTE said that the trade unions have developed and in the main, the trade union movement is on the side of the Government. However, it would be wrong to measure the support of the working class and its relationship to the Government by looking only at the workers in the trade unions. The working class as such, both those in and those not within the trade unions, are more conscious (class conscious) than the leaders of the trade unions. A large body of the working class is more conscious (class conscious) than the organized trade unions.

Asked about the significance of the announced plan of FIDEL CASTRO to visit with MARSHAL TITO of Yugoslavia, ESCALANTE said that this really has no significance and again repeated that CASTRO is not another NASSER. He said that in Cuba, the national bourgeoisie cannot lead a revolution without the workers and the peasants. The workers and peasants determine the outlook of some of the leaders of the Government.

Then ESCALANTE said that a wave of patriotism has swept through Cuba. A 4% tax on earnings is a voluntary tax. Also, the workers voted to freeze their wages in order to control inflation and inflation is being controlled. We are learning to do without a few luxuries which have to be imported. As a result of sabotage by United States imperialism and the owners of the large estates, unemployment increased last year but now it has definitely been reduced.

ESCALANTE then cited an example to show how the workers are cooperating with the Government. He said that in one large paper factory, the owner told the workers that based on the way they were producing now, they deserved an increase of 25% in their wages. The workers felt that this was some kind of a scheme to create dissatisfaction. Further, that it would add to the inflation. Yet, they felt that if the owner was making enough profit to warrant giving such a raise, why should he keep this profit? So the workers said that they would take the raise but will turn it over to the State.

He stated that other examples could be cited to show that the workers are patriotic, that they support the revolution and want to strengthen Cuba economically.

Next, ESCALANTE talked about the housing projects in Cuba. He said that the standard of living of the workers and peasants, that is, the majority of the former underprivileged, has increased. They are getting things they never had before; while the upper bourgeoisie and the middle class have lost, the overwhelming majority of the people has gained by this revolution.

Then ESCALANTE said that Havana is the most conservative part of Cuba. Havana is not a good example of the revolutionary and militant feeling among the people. In Havana, there are many who are parasitic idlers, who have made their living from tourists. While they may be missing something, this does not apply to the rest of the people.

Miscellaneous

ESCALANTE stated that there are too many tourists with Latin American names coming into Cuba. The Cuban Government is becoming suspicious and thinks that these people are being sent into Cuba by the United States State Department or by governments friendly to the United States.

He said that Miami, Florida, is a hotbed for Batista supporters and criminals. Yet, to go to the United States a Cuban has to obtain a visa and have a passport. On the other hand,

Cuba requires only a tourist card from Americans. The Government is considering changing all of this and is considering demanding equality. If the United States demands a passport from Cubans, then Cuba will demand a passport from Americans. Furthermore, we will spread this idea of equality throughout Latin America. Our Government is preparing to take some such steps.

ESCALANTE mentioned the advertisement in the "New York Times" signed by a group of 23 as the "Fair Play for Cuba Committee." He said that this ad was very good and he would like to have another copy of it. In this regard, he stated that the author, WALDO FRANK, one of the signers of this ad, had just returned to the United States from Cuba and while in Cuba delivered many lectures. USA

In regard to the tourist trade, ESCALANTE stated that Cuba has a National Institute for the Tourist Industry which is headed by Dr. BORDILLO (phonetic) CASTELLANOS. He said that he has heard that tourist groups for Cuba are being organized in the United States by the "National Guardian" and by some ministers. PAUL SULLIVAN of the "Monthly Review" was in Cuba recently and he promised to organize some tours for Cuba in the United States. USA

According to ESCALANTE, the National Institute for the Tourist Industry is also organizing some summer colonies and will invite students to attend at the rate of $70.00 per month. The students can study or participate in seminars in engineering, agriculture, art, social sciences, medicine, etc. There will also be fishing, yachting, mountain climbing, dancing, swimming, etc., so that study can be combined with a vacation. A special appeal will be made to students in the United States and a lot of emphasis is being placed on these summer colonies.

ESCALANTE stated that on May 9, 1930, there was a ten minute work stoppage involving 25,000 persons in the waterfront industry in Cuba. This was in protest to a revolution of the AFL-CIO Longshoremen's Union which condemned the present Cuban Government and threatened to boycott Cuban shipping. He said that this ten minute work stoppage was organized and controlled. Further, that this is an indication of what will be done if the AFL-CIO longshoremen boycott Cuban shipping.

ESCALANTE also stated that for May Day, there were trade union delegations in Cuba from all over the world. There was a delegation from the World Federation of Trade Unions. There were delegations from trade unions in Ecuador, Venezuela, Brazil, Soviet Union, China, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Yugoslavia and other countries. They discussed possible boycotts of Cuban shipping by American trade unions. They adopted a resolution promising support to Cuba. If Americans will not handle Cuban goods and Cuban ships, similar boycotts against United States shipping will be organized on a world-wide scale. Thus, Cuba will not let the United States State Department and its corrupt union henchmen interfere with Cuban commerce.

ESCALANTE said that Cuba is working to unmask the war policy of United States imperialism. United States imperialism is preparing for war in the Caribbean and this could be the spark to set off a world-wide conflict. Cuba will use the threatened boycott by the AFL-CIO longshoremen to expose the United States in all of Latin America. The United States Government is fighting for the banking interests, the United Fruit Company and other monopolies and not for the people of the United States.

When asked what happened to a proposed people's conference for Latin American countries, ESCALANTE stated that one of the backers of this conference from Brazil had died. Also, General LAZARO GARDENAS of Mexico did not push hard enough for this conference. The Cuban Government, through Castro, put forth the idea of a Little Bandung Conference in Cuba for under-developed countries. This idea was discouraged by the United States. However, in April, there was a get-together of various Latin Americans and they agreed to go ahead with this plan and the conference is scheduled for October. People from all over the world will attend the conference. The purpose of the conference will be to express Latin American solidarity and solidarity for Latin America.

The CP of Cuba will wait to see what develops. If this little Bandung Conference does not look promising in view of the changing world situation, consideration will be given to the need for a people's congress in Latin America.

ESCALANTE also stated that FIDEL CASTRO will be on radio and television every Friday night and will be sponsored by the CTC - the Confederation of Trade Unions of Cuba. He said that this shows that CASTRO is working with the trade unions.

Then ESCALANTE said that during the weekend of May 7-8, there was a Cuban Youth Congress. The entire youth movement in Cuba, including the Communist youth, will be united. The youth movements of the counter-revolutionaries will be broken up. Any youths who talk against the Communists or the Government will be beaten up.

In regard to the press in Cuba, ESCALANTE said that reactionary newspapers, such as "La Marina," will be choked out of existence. We will not let them continue as a voice of the counter-revolutionaries or as a voice of United States imperialism. They will not get subsidies from the Government. We have a plan to choke them and to let them die.

ESCALANTE also stated that Cubans who have testified against the present regime in Cuba before the United States Congressional committees were drunks, criminals and murderers and their words are not even believed by the bourgeoisie in Cuba.

Comments of CG 5824-S*

The Communists are obviously playing an important role in Cuba. Although I would not say that the Cuban Government is a Communist government at the present time, the Communists and the CASTRO followers constitute the Government. The Communists have more experience and can speed up international support for CASTRO. It is very possible that ELIAS ROCA went to Russia not only as a CP member, but as a representative of the Cuban Government. This opinion is based upon the fact that the announcement of the exchange of ambassadors between Cuba and the Soviet Union was made while ELIAS ROCA was in Moscow and announced that he had met with NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV.

The Communists have undoubtedly infiltrated most of the military and police apparatus in Cuba. The armed workers and peasants' militia can at any time go a step beyond the present regime.

It is believed that the CP of Cuba will discuss with the Cuban Government whether GUS HALL should attend the Congress of the CP of Cuba. The question will be whether HALL's presence would bolster the charge that Cuba is a Communist base against the United States.

Based on a knowledge of how Communist Parties operate and not on the basis of anything concrete that was heard or observed, it is believed that Cuba is at the present time pretty much of a center for Latin American Communist Parties and that the Cuban CP is probably training members of Communist Parties from other Latin American countries.

Re San Francisco letter to NY, 5/4/60.

While no definite conclusion can be reached until this office is in receipt of the results of WFO investigation and subsequent analysis made there from, referenced letter strongly indicates that the Soviet cover company/operation is located in the area covered by the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank (SFFRB).

As referenced letter reflected, by far the largest majority of series 1934, 1950 and 1950A $20.00 notes were issued by the SFFRB.

In comparing the results set forth in referenced letter against the Index maintained in this office, the following was observed:

San Francisco determined that 42 notes set forth on pages 14, 15, and 16, of referenced letter were issued by the SFFRB on 10/16/56 in a packet starting with serial number L 10180000B and ending with serial number L 10680000B.

The Index reflects that a total of 599 notes (including the above 42) a total of $11,980.00 fall into the above sequence of packet serial numbers.

Said notes were recovered on eleven separate occasions from the Communist Party (CP) in addition to the CARPORT and KAROT Soviet operations in NY; [redacted]; [redacted] and PSI [redacted], all of the aforementioned being Soviet intelligence operations. In addition, on two occasions notes were recovered from Czechoslovak espionage operations which fall into the sequence of the above packet.

b7D

Similarly, on pages 17 and 18 of referenced letter, San Francisco determined that 23 notes were issued by the SFFRB on 7/2/57 in a packet consisting of serial numbers L-19528001B - L-20008000B. The Index reflects that a total of 474 notes (including the above 23) a total of $9,480.00 fall into the above sequence of packet serial numbers. The latter notes were recovered in the same fashion as the previous group.

Similar circumstances surround numerous other packet serial number groups when compared against the Index.

In an effort to determine how much time elapses between when notes are issued to the SFFRB and are subsequently recovered by the Bureau in CP or espionage operations, San Francisco is requested to determine the date and to what FRB the following notes were issued:

In order to determine if the pattern for the years 1945 - 1949 thus far indicated, is consistent, in that San Francisco is the location of the Soviet cover company/operation, San Francisco is requested to determine the date and to what FRB the following $20.00 notes were issued.

ReBulet to Chicago, 6/7/60, copy to NY, inquiring whether certain items had been deducted from SOLO fund accounts.

With respect to the sum of $2500 given by CG 5824-S to ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG, NY 694-S advised on 6/9/60, that this money was not part of the SOLO fund. It was, instead, part of a sum of $12,000 which NY 694-S had received from TRACHTENBERG, and of which the NY informant had been acting as depository for TRACHTENBERG.

Regarding the $2000 given to MARY KAUFMAN, NY 694-S advised that this money had not been given to KAUFMAN from the SOLO fund.

Concerning funds to be used for the purchase of GUS HALL's new house, NY 694-S advised that as yet no SOLO funds have been used for that purpose. It is anticipated, however, that approximately $5000 of the SOLO funds will be used for the purchase of the HALL house.

ReNYlet, 5/16/60, which set forth an analysis of the $12,800.00 received from the Soviets for use of the CP, USA, and NYlet of 6/1/60, analyzing the number of $20.00 notes contained in the packet serial numbers, as set forth in San Francisco letter of 5/4/60.

In May, 1960, an additional $12,200.00 was received from the Soviets for use of the CP, USA.

In addition to the above, the serial number, series, etc., of the notes contained in the $12,200.00 were placed on index cards and inserted in the Index maintained in captioned case.

The following is the result:

A breakdown of the denomination of notes (all $20.00 notes) contained in the $12,200.00 and the Federal Reserve Banks (FRB) that issued them is as follows:

NY 65-17696

In referenced letter of 6/1/60, it was set forth that the Index reflected a total of 599 notes in $20.00 denominations was contained in the serial numbers of the packet L 10180001B - L10680000B issued by the SFFRB on 10/16/56.

Insertion of the $12, 200.00 into the Index reflects that an additional 64 notes fall into the serial numbers of the above packet. Similar situations exist with other packets.

In inserting the $12, 200.00 into the Index, the following sequence of notes was observed.

Unless otherwise noted, when CP is set forth under the column "Source", it means the note was recovered from the $12, 200.00 recently received, rather than previous CP recoveries.

New York letter 6/10/60, copy furnished to Chicago, concerning the handling of Solo funds in possession of CG 5824-S* and NY 694-S*.

Moneys received from abroad as a result of our Solo operations, regardless of whether any of the moneys obtained were designated for specific purposes, should be considered part of the Solo funds. The sum received by NY 694-S* from Vladimir Barkovsky to be held for Alexander Trachtenberg of International Publishers Company, Incorporated, is being considered a part of the Solo funds; the $12,000 which NY 694-S* received from Trachtenberg to act as a depository is not being considered a part of these funds.

It is suggested that New York may wish to check the balance of Solo funds in the possession of NY 694-S* to see if the amount corresponds with the balance carried by the New York Office. It may be well for the Chicago and New York Offices to check the balance of these two Solo accounts periodically in order to insure that all disbursements are recorded.

Bureau letter also sets forth three items and requests that the Bureau be advised if the amounts mentioned in each item were disbursed from Solo funds in the possession of CG 5824-S* and NY 694-S*.

In the first item it is stated that the sum of $2,500 was taken from Solo funds in the possession of NY 694-S* by CG 5824-S* and given to ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG. While the amount of $2,500 was taken from funds in the possession of NY 694-S* by CG 5824-S* technically this amount was taken from money received from Russia specifically for International Publishers and to this extent may be distinguished from Solo funds. In any event, this would be a disbursement from the funds in the possession of NY 694-S*.

The other two items set forth in rebulet refer to transactions in New York.

The disbursements and the balance of the Solo funds in the possession of CG 5824-S*, as set forth in Chicago letter of June 3, 1960, were carefully checked with CG 5824-S* on June 3, 1960, and he stated that the figures correspond with his records of the transactions and balance of Solo funds in his possession.

Re New York airtel 5/18/60, disclosing that GUS HALL, General Secretary of the CP, USA, requested CG 5824-S* to consider making a trip to Moscow, Russia and Prague, Czechoslovakia, during 6/60.

ReBulet 5/23/60, stating that every effort should be made by CG 5824-S* to make this 6th SOLO Trip.

Re Chicago letter 5/24/60, stating that CG 5824-S* had no definite plans for such a trip at that time, that he would ask the advice of TIM BUCK as to whether or not it would be correct to make a trip to the Soviet Union at this time in view of recent international developments and further that he had some personal problems that he wanted to attend to.

Re Chicago letter 6/1/60, setting forth a report of CG 5824-S* on his discussions with TIM BUCK on 5/25/60. As a result of these discussions, a message was sent to the CPSU suggesting the possibility of a trip by CG 5824-S* to the Soviet Union for personal discussions.

CG 5824-S* advised on 6/10/60 that he had received a telephone call from NY 694-S* on this date. This message was to the effect that TIM BUCK had advised ELIZABETH MASCOLO, who in turn advised NY 694-S* that the CPSU agreed with the suggestion of a trip to the Soviet Union by CG 5824-S* and wanted definite dates. CG 5824-S* commented that the quick response probably indicates that the CPSU is anxious for discussions.

The proposed 6th Solo Trip was discussed with CG 5824-S* on 6/8/60 and again on 6/10/60. CG 5824-S* stated that the personal problems he wanted to take care of in Chicago have been 99% completed. These problems dealt with the closing of the estate of [REDACTED] CG 5824-S* also wants to make a short trip to California not only to see his sons and their family but also attempt to locate and talk to FREDERICK LICHTBLAU before going to the Soviet Union. b7D

When GUS HALL was in Chicago on 6/3/60, he stated that he would attempt to arrange a meeting of the NEC or an enlarged meeting of the Secretariat of the CP, USA, for 6/18/60 so that CG 5824-S* would have the benefit of the latest political discussion in the leadership of the CP, USA before going to the Soviet Union. It now appears that HALL was not able to arrange for this meeting. CG 5824-S* advised however, that personal discussions with the top leaders of the CP, USA in New York City would serve the same purpose.

To date, CG 5824-S* has not made any definite plans to go to either New York or California because he has not been in good health. He does not want to set any date for the trip to the Soviet Union without allowing time for a trip to California and New York City.

In regard to his physical condition, CG 5824-S* has suffered some pains in the vicinity of the heart in recent days. However, the main problem is an almost constant and severe backache which is a recurrence of a similar illness about one year ago. X-rays at that time did not disclose the nature of this disorder. CG 5824-S* was scheduled to see his personal physician on the afternoon of 6/10/60.

Assuming that the physical condition of CG 5824-S* improves, it is believed that he will start making definite plans during the week of 6/12/60 for the trips to California and New York and then for the 6th Solo Trip.

CG 5824-S* still is debating whether it would be advisable to make this trip with a "legal" or an "illegal" passport. This matter is being discussed with CG 5824-S* and the Bureau will be promptly advised of any pertinent developments in regard to the 6th Solo Trip.

Preparations of a Message from the Communist Party (CP), USA to the CP of the Soviet Union to be Delivered through the CP of Canada

On Wednesday, May 25, 1960, MORRIS CHILDS, Secretary of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the CP, USA, met with TIM BUCK, General Secretary of the CP of Canada, on two separate occasions. The first meeting was held in the Coffee Shop of the Hotel York in Toronto from 12:40 p.m. until 2:45 p.m. The second meeting was held in the room of CHILDS in the Prince George Hotel in Toronto from approximately 11:30 p.m. until approximately 3:00 a.m.

CHILDS told BUCK that if he had not been able to reach him telephonically, he had considered going to the headquarters of the CP of Canada. BUCK said that CHILDS should never do this unless he knows that many CP members from out of town are in Toronto, since it is almost certain that [redacted] are watching the Party headquarters. If several Party members from the outlying areas were in Toronto, then CHILDS might be able to sneak into the headquarters without being identified. BUCK said that the FBI has liaison with [redacted] in every level and that this is no secret in Canada. b7D

CHILDS told BUCK that he wanted to bring him up to date on recent developments in the CP, USA and also to ask his assistance in sending some messages to the CP, USA and while those messages concern some problems, they are not of tremendous importance. CHILDS then proceeded to give BUCK a rundown on the meeting of the National Executive Committee of the CP, USA, and the enlarged meeting of the National Trade Union Commission of the CP, USA, which were held in New York City during the week of May 8, 1960. CHILDS' remarks included a briefing on the reports on the auto and steel industries in the United States which had been made at the enlarged meeting of the National Trade Union Commission. CHILDS also told BUCK about the current status of the health of EUGENE DENNIS and WILLIAM Z. FOSTER.

ENCLOSURE

BUCK stated that he had to return to a meeting of the Secretariat of the CP of Canada and then had to go to a mass meeting but would see CHILDS later in the evening. It was agreed that BUCK would come to CHILDS' hotel room. BUCK said that no matter how small the problems are, that CHILDS wanted to present to the CP of the Soviet Union, he would advise that CHILDS build them up so that they appear to be large and important. The problems should be preceded by a political introduction and a resume of the last meeting of the National Executive Committee of the CP, USA could serve this purpose. Then CHILDS should proceed to list the specific message and problems. BUCK suggested that CHILDS make some notes in this regard and they would go over them upon BUCK's return that evening. BUCK said that he was sending someone to Ottawa during the weekend of May 23-29, 1960 and this person would deliver the message to a representative of the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa.

Upon BUCK's return at 11:30 p.m., CHILDS asked BUCK if he thought that it would be advisable for CHILDS to make a trip to the Soviet Union and to the socialist countries in Europe at the present time in view of recent international developments and the desires of GUS HALL, General Secretary of the CP, USA, that the CP, USA cement relationships with the CPs in Eastern Europe. BUCK said that he thought it advisable for CHILDS to make such a trip.

BUCK and CHILDS then proceeded to work with the message which CHILDS was sending to the CP of the Soviet Union through the CP of Canada.

The message began with a brief report on the last meeting of the National Executive Committee of the CP, USA, and pointed out that the international situation was discussed at this meeting. It was stated that even though some members of the CP, USA, had stated in the recent past that the cold war is over, this concept was repudiated by the CP, USA. Since the Summit meeting blew up, events have shown that this was the correct line. The situation in the United States is tense as a result of the breakup of the Summit meeting. Members of the CP, USA are being watched more than ever by the intelligence agencies so there is a need to be practical.

The message then stated that perhaps the writer should make a trip to the Soviet Union for personal discussions and a discussion of the problems of personal contact in the United States in view of the current international situation. Also that it may be necessary and desirable for the writer to attempt to strengthen contacts between the CP, USA and other CPs in Eastern Europe.

Added to the written message was an oral message which will be transmitted by DUCK. The oral message is to the effect that if a trip is taken, Mr. CAMP and Mr. CHILDS feel that it might be advisable to pick up a floating visa in London instead of Brussels.

The written message then proceeded to a listing of problems and information as follows:

KORRIS CHILDS has been to Cuba and while there, had a discussion with ANIBAL ESCALANTE. ESCALANTE thought that the CP, USA, instead of the CP of Cuba, should have contact with and give financial aid to the CP of Puerto Rico. However, the CP, USA does not have the financial means to do this.

In regard to the son of JORGE HAYSONET of the CP of Puerto Rico, he is all ready to go to the Soviet Union for schooling and the CP, USA is trying to get together enough money for his travel expenses. 439

LILLIAN GREEN, wife of GIL GREEN, plans to go to the Soviet Union with her brother-in-law BEN GREEN and his wife FLORENCE GREEN in July. Can one of them pick up visas for all three at the Soviet Embassy in Washington?

CHARLES "BOB" COE plans to visit Czechoslovakia and Russia and may visit his brother in China. COE is the editor of a farm publication of the CP, USA. He should be treated as an active Party person.

It has been learned that HARRY SANDERSON of New York City wants to go to the Soviet Union. The writer does not personally know SANDERSON. He is a member of the Metal Trades Club of the Industrial Section of the New York District. Members of this club say that he is no good and that they are suspicious of him. However, they could give no basis for this suspicion.

In this message, there was also a note directed to A. RUMYANTSEV, editor in chief of the "World Marxist Review - Problems of Peace and Socialism". This note acknowledged receipt of letters requesting articles from the CP, USA. The note pointed out that those requests were discussed by the Secretariat of the CP, USA, and that GUS HALL volunteered to write one article and will request IRVING POTASH to write an article on the trade union movement and the struggles of the working class in the United States.

The written message concluded with greetings from the CP, USA, GUS HALL and EUGENE DENNIS and a mere mention of the fact that DENNIS is ill.

Miscellaneous

TIM BUCK commented that it is often difficult to get money from the Russians. He said that recently the CP of the Soviet Union requested the CP of Canada to send 12 people to the Soviet Union, some of these people to be translators of various languages and others to go to Russia merely for the trip. BUCK stated that this request was complied with at a total cost of $3,000 for transportation and other travel expenses. Yet the Russians have not reimbursed the CP of Canada for this expenditure.

BUCK said that he did not know if there is any money for the CP, USA from the CP of the Soviet Union in Ottawa. He said that he is getting worried about handling this money. In this regard he mentioned that not too long ago, AMAZASP ARUTYUNYAN, Soviet Ambassador to Canada, sent his first secretary to Toronto. The first secretary called LESLIE MORRIS, member of the Secretariat of the CP of Canada and wanted MORRIS to join him immediately for a meeting. BUCK commented, this is a terrible thing. It is necessary to constantly remind the Russians of the need for security.

In regard to the CP of China, BUCK stated that the Chinese prefer that the visas and other travel arrangements for Canadians be made through Bern, Switzerland and not through London, England. BUCK also stated that the Chinese become angry if material for them from one CP is sent to them through another CP.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~
CHILDS asked BUCK if he could send a message for him to CHAO YI HIN, Chinese representative on the "World Marxist Review". This message to state that someone from the CP, USA would contact him soon and also give him letters from comrade BROOKS. BUCK said that he would do this through his contacts in the CP of Canada who have contacts in London, who can deliver the message to CHAO YI HIN.

BUCK commented that ANNIE FULLER and her husband HARRY GURALNICK will leave Canada on or about June 20, 1950 for Prague, Czechoslovakia, where GURALNICK will be the representative of the CP of Canada on the "World Marxist Review".

BUCK said that MURPHY (possibly RAE MURPHY) had been to Cuba for a youth congress during the first week in April and while there was asked to have 10 Canadians go to New York City and from there, proceed to Cuba for a tour. BUCK said that while these 10 Canadians are prepared to make the trip, not one word has been received from Cuba about arrangements for this trip since MURPHY's return to Canada.

BUCK stated that FRANK and BETTY PARK are still in Mexico but that he, BUCK, knew very little about what is happening in the CP of Mexico. He said that he learned from the PARKS that even XAVIER GUERRERO does not know whether or not the CP of Mexico held a convention recently. The PARKS reported that there have been two or more splits in the CP of Mexico with some of the CP members joining the Party of VINCENZO LOMBARDI TOLEDANO.

Attached Chicago letter 6-1-60 discloses that their informant, CG 5824-S*, had a discussion with Tim Buck, general secretary of the Communist Party (CP) of Canada in Toronto, Canada, on 5-25-60.

Informant briefed Buck on current activities of the CP, USA, and asked Buck if he thought it advisable for informant to make a trip to the Soviet Union and the socialist countries in Europe at the present time in view of recent international developments. The informant explained that Gus Hall, general secretary, CP, USA, has asked CG 5824-S* to make this trip in order to cement relationships between the CP, USA, and the CPs in Eastern Europe. Buck said that he thought it advisable for the informant to make such a trip.

CG 5824-S* gave Buck some messages to be transmitted to the CP of the Soviet Union through the Canadian CP. These messages were brief reports on the last CP, USA, National Executive Committee meeting and the informant's meeting with Anibal Escalante, executive secretary of the CP of Cuba, in Havana 5-9-60. Informant in a message to the CP of the Soviet Union stated that perhaps he should make a trip to the Soviet Union for personal discussions and a discussion of the problems of personal contact in the United States in view of the current international situation. Informant pointed out that the situation in the United States is tense as a result of the breakup of the Summit Meeting; that some CP, USA, members have repudiated the concept followed by the Party that "the cold war is over."

On 6/27/60, NY 694-S furnished to SA [redacted] $12,000 in $20 bills which he received on 6/27/60 from ELIZABETH MASCOLO for transmittal to the CP, USA. MASCOLO advised the informant that the money had been obtained by TIM BUCK, Canadian CP leader, from the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa.

According to MASCOLO, she will remain in NY for about a week during which time she will have more dental work done, and will apply for a renewal of her passport.

NY 694-S stated that in the opinion of CG 5824-S and himself it would be definitely in the interest of the Bureau that MASCOLO receive a renewal of her passport inasmuch as she undoubtedly would furnish the informants with any information she might obtain abroad.

The serial numbers on the aforementioned bills will be checked against the serial numbers of currency issued to Soviet establishments in NYC and Washington, D.C., and the Bureau will be advised of any positive identification of the bills.

Reur telephone call to Bureau 6-30-60 concerning eight-week trip of CG 5324-S* to France, Czechoslovakia, Russia, East Germany, Hungary, Rumania, and possibly Red China. Gus Hall, general secretary, CP, USA, instructed informant to leave on 6th solo mission on 7-7-60 or 7-9-60. Advise Bureau if informant is making trip with a "legal" or an "illegal" passport. Also furnish Bureau with as complete an itinerary as possible concerning informant's trip.

As in past solo missions, the Bureau feels that certain objectives should be assigned to the informant involving matters of interest to the Bureau and to the U.S. Government. The Bureau realizes, of course, that the informant may not be in a position to obtain information on all of topics listed below; however, it is felt that some of the data may be obtainable through proper guidance and direction of discussions between the informant and representatives of the various CP's. As in the past, caution must be used so that the informant will take no action which might jeopardize his security.

The following items are listed for your guidance in briefing the informant relative to matters of interest to the Bureau:

(1) What position should the CP, USA take toward the modern interpretation of Leninism?

When the Paris Summit meeting collapsed, Gus Hall, Communist Party (CP), USA, general secretary, requested CG 5824-S to consider making another trip to Moscow and to Prague, Czechoslovakia, in June, 1960. Hall also urged the informant to visit the satellite countries in Europe. Hall appears to be anxious to obtain the current Party line from the Kremlin in order to give proper guidance and direction to the CP, USA, and to strengthen the ties of the CP, USA, with other communist nations.

Subsequently, CG 5824-S conferred with Tim Buck, head of the CP of Canada, as to the advisability of making such a trip. Buck told the informant he believed a trip would be advisable and a message was sent to the Soviet Union suggesting the possibility of the informant traveling to Russia. On 6/10/60, the informant received word through Buck that the Soviets agreed with the idea of the trip.

The informant was not able to make any immediate plans for the journey due to a recurrence of back trouble, which practically immobilized him temporarily.

On 6/30/60, SAC Lopez, Chicago, advised CG 5824-S had received instructions from Gus Hall to plan to leave for the Soviet Union on 7/7 or 7/9/60, with the trip to last approximately eight weeks. The informant agreed to leave as requested and stated he would travel to France, then to Prague and on to Russia, returning by way of East Germany, Hungary, Rumania, Czechoslovakia and possibly Communist China. Informant stated that for reasons of health, he preferred to proceed directly to Europe from Chicago, rather than stopping in New York en route.

OBSERVATIONS:

On his prior trips to the Soviet Union and other countries within the communist orbit, this informant has held discussions with

It can be expected that he will again be able to discuss all ramifications of the international situation as they apply to the operations of the CP with the CP leaders of the countries which he visits. In the light of the current international situation, it is felt that this trip will be unusually significant in providing information of value.

SAC Lopez of Chicago called today and advised that CG 5824 had received instructions from Gus Hall to plan to leave for Russia on July 7 or July 9, 1960, for about eight weeks. In discussion with Hall it was agreed that CG 5824 would leave as requested that he would go to France then to Prague and to Russia returning via East Germany, Hungary, Rumania, Czechoslovakia and possibly China.

Hall authorized CG 5824 to draw $1,000 from confidential Party funds. Lopez said he had reviewed the cost of the trip with CG 5824 and in addition to Party funds it will cost roughly $1,200.

Lopez said he was calling to advise the Bureau of the above plans of CG 5824 and to seek authorization for the expenditure of the additional funds necessary for the trip and authorization to advance CG 5824 two months payments. I authorized both of these requests.

CG 5824 also pointed out that because of reasons of health and for other reasons he would prefer not to go to New York on his way to Europe but go directly from Chicago. He thought it might be desirable however to have NY 694 come to Chicago to bring CG 5824 up-to-date on any development in the New York area. I told Lopez that I would discuss this matter with New York and if such a trip on the part of NY 694 is necessary the Bureau would approve it.

My memorandum to you 7/1/60 and attached Chicago letter 7/1/60 disclose that our informant, CG 5824-S*, will leave Chicago, Illinois, on 7/9/60 (Sixth Solo mission), en route to England, France, Czechoslovakia, Russia, East Germany, Hungary, Rumania, and possibly Red China. Gus Hall, general secretary, Communist Party (CP), USA, requested informant to make this eight-week trip, in order to get the right "pitch" on the current Party line for the CP, USA, from the CP of the Soviet Union (CPSU) and to cement relationships and establish contacts between the CP, USA, and the CPs in the satellite countries to be visited.

On this trip informant will obtain instructions from the CPSU for the CP, USA; will determine CPSU plans for further financial assistance to the CP, USA; and will make better arrangements for future contacts between the informant and representatives of the Soviet Union in the United States. Bureau has directed informant's actions in regard to this trip and by airtel 7/2/60 Bureau furnished Chicago with specific targets for informant to aim at while on this Solo mission.

Bureau has authorized Chicago to advance CG 5824-S* $1,170 for expenses of this trip. An additional $1,000 is being obtained from CP, USA, funds to finance this trip. Bureau has also authorized Chicago to advance informant two months' payments ($2,000) for services rendered--Chicago has authority to pay informant up to $1,000 a month for services rendered.

OBSERVATIONS:

In past Solo missions of this kind, the informant has conferred with top CP leaders of the countries which he has visited. Because of the current tense international situation partially brought about by the breakup of the Summit meeting, it is expected that pertinent and valuable information of interest to the Bureau and other agencies of the Federal Government will be obtained. current Solo mission may give us advanced notice of any new tactics to be employed by the CP, USA, in this country and may furnish us with an opportunity to invoke possible countermeasures--major discernible differences between Russia and Red China concerning "peaceful coexistence" may be exploited more fully. In the light of the current international atmosphere, it is felt that this trip will be unusually significant in providing information of value.

This matter will receive very close supervision and you will be kept currently advised of all pertinent details as they develop.

Reference is made to the telephone conversation of SAC J. M. LOPEZ and Inspector JOSEPH SIZOO on June 30, 1960.

CG 5824-S* has reservations on Pan American Airlines to leave Chicago on a direct flight to London, England, on Saturday, July 9, 1960. He will pick up a visa at the Russian Embassy in London on Monday, July 11, 1960, and immediately proceed to another city in Western Europe, possibly Paris, for a flight to Prague, Czechoslovakia, and Moscow, Russia. CG 5824-S* will travel under the name of MARTIN A. CAMP and expects to be out of the United States for approximately eight weeks.

GUS HALL, General Secretary of the CPUSA, asked CG 5824-S* on June 26, 1960, to leave the United States as soon as possible in order to give the Communist Party of the Soviet Union the viewpoints of the CPUSA on post Summit developments; also, to tell the CP of China that recent statements by the CP of China in its theoretical organs in regard to the inevitability of war and the possibility of peaceful coexistence with imperialism make it almost impossible for the CPUSA to do anything. HALL also wants CG 5824-S* to visit East Germany, Hungary, Rumania and Czechoslovakia. The purpose of trips to these countries would be to cement relationships and establish contacts between the Communist Parties in these countries and the CPUSA.

CG 5824-S* will go to China unless the international situation dictates otherwise or unless he is advised not to do so by the CPSU. CG 5824-S* will also obtain any instructions from the CPSU for the CPUSA, will learn what the CPSU plans to give to the CPUSA in the way of financial assistance, and will try to make better arrangements for future contacts between

ReNYlets, 5/16 and 6/3/60, forwarding an analysis of money received from the Soviets by NY 694-S* for the use of the CP, USA.

On 6/21/60, NY 694-S* received an additional $12,000.00.

A comparison of the serial numbers of the above notes against the serial numbers of notes issued to Soviet establishments, NY and WFO, (Russian Funds - Bufile 65-

In addition to the above, identification of the notes contained in the $12,000.00 were placed on index cards and inserted in the index maintained in the captioned case.

The following is the result:

| Denomination | Number of Notes | Issued by FRB |

As can be seen the above pattern follows the pattern of all previous money received in that San Francisco FRB issued by far the largest amount.

Upon inserting the $12,000.00 in the index, this office observed that the money fell into such serialization with the previous money that it was considered a waste of time and manpower to record the variation in serialization. There were at least five instances where notes fell into exact sequence with money previously recovered from CP or espionage operations.

The sequence of the above notes so overwhelmingly fell into the sequence of previous notes contained in the index that this office no longer will consider reporting the results of serialization. We will, however, continue to insert all identification of monies received in the index. Above for information.

Re Chicago let 7/11/60 and Bulet 7/14/60.

Bulet asked for any additional information in the possession of the Chicago Division concerning the remark of GUS HALL that "In regard to trade union approaches in the United States, the CP, SU, must have a parallel approach to that of the CP, USA. Usually, the CP, SU, is in contradiction to the CP, USA, in this field."

The Chicago Division has no additional information concerning this remark. CG 5824-S* will be contacted in this matter upon his return to the United States.

The following is offered as a possible explanation of HALL's remark:

In the past, the Soviets have published articles criticizing statements of a labor leader in the United States such as WALTER REUTHER. While the CP, USA, does not fully support the policies and public statements of REUTHER, it would be very circumspect in any public criticism of him. One reason would be that if he replaced the "reactionary" GEORGE MEANY as president of the AFL-CIO, it would be considered by the CP, USA, as a step in the right direction. Another reason would be that public Communist criticism of certain labor leaders and policies of the labor movement in the United States only leads to "red baiting" within the trade union movement. This, in turn, leads to the isolation of the CP, USA, from the labor movement and prevents the Party members and leaders from influencing the trade union movement in the United States from within or through contacts with trade union officials.

JUNE, 1960, CONGRESS OF

On or before July 11, 1960, CG 5824-S* conferred with JOHN WILLIAMSON, formerly of the Communist Party, USA, (CPUSA) and currently a member of the National Committee of the Communist Party (CP) of Great Britain, at London, England. A meeting of the British CP's National Committee had recently been held where a report had been given on the Congress of CPs held in June, 1960, at Bucharest, Roumania.

According to this report, a bitter fight occurred between the Russian Party and the Chinese, however the majority present, nearly unanimously, backed KHRUSHCHEV. KHRUSHCHEV, taking the offensive, attacking the Chinese for endangering world peace, condemning its territorial claims, which according to NY 694-S* are Formosa, India, and Nepal, further, he condemned the Chinese theory that there is only a socialist world, and an imperialist world, whereas neutrals must be considered.

KHRUSHCHEV remained positive on his theories of peace and coexistence, whereupon the Chinese retreated, however this move was characterized by KHRUSHCHEV as "lip service."

KHRUSHCHEV continued that the fight for the peaceful road to socialism must continue, calling for re-endorsement of the 1957 Moscow Declaration. The Chinese offered amendments for this, wiring "home" for approval. They subsequently dropped the amendments, but KHRUSHCHEV was not satisfied, telling them "to speak up and stop being chauvinists." KHRUSHCHEV quoted LENIN's statement, "scratch an elk, and sometimes you get a chauvinist." He continued that after socialism, boundaries will not mean a thing.

KHRUSHCHEV condemned the Chinese theory that "nuclear war is nothing," stating that it means death and because millions of Chinese would remain, is just the trouble and wrong.

KHRUSHCHEV condemned a paper written by MAO TSE-TUNG in which he called United States imperialism a paper tiger. KHRUSHCHEV refused to publish MAO's works in Russian, whereupon the Chinese decided to do so. KHRUSHCHEV has said that he will not distribute this publication in Russia or in any other country. The British CP will maintain the same attitude unless the Chinese change their attitude.

KHRUSHCHEV reportedly was very critical of the resolution adopted by the World Federation of Trade Unions to influence the Chinese.

At the conclusion of the Congress, a compromise statement was issued by the Russians and the Chinese, which, it was reported, KHRUSHCHEV stated was not sufficient, and thereafter set up a commission of CP's of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, and the Socialist countries to meet in November, 1960, to iron out the differences if possible. During the course of the Congress, KHRUSHCHEV also reportedly attacked the CP of India, stating that it was split, therefore, according to the report, the spokesman for this party who had endorsed some of the Chinese ideas, had "no leg to stand on."

It was reported that the first meeting of the Congress was a secret meeting where only twelve of the CPs were represented, whereas at the next meeting, there were 51 parties present, and at this meeting a report was furnished of the first meeting.

According to CG 5824-S*, the differences between KHRUSHCHEV and the Chinese are very sharp, however, the line of the CPUSA appears to be satisfactory at the present.

Subsequently, CG 5824-S* reported that there had been many battles between the CP of the Soviet Union, and the Chinese CP, however the Chinese stood alone. According to the informant there is a battle between the two countries for influence in every phase and it appears that even the management of the Chinese is not unanimous.

The informant further reported that the meeting of the 51 CPs did not get all the details of the secret meeting of the 12 CPs.

The domestic situation of the Chinese again came up but it was indicated that this was "tolerated" and in connection with the Chinese Communes KHRUSHCHEV indicated that what they did with internal affairs was their own affair, however, they were told to stay in line on the international situation. KHRUSHCHEV indicated that the Chinese did not make it easy to "sell" by their scattering people with crude, harsh, competitive methods and that it was necessary to bear in mind the end results rather than an immediate result. The informant indicated that rather than cooperation between the Chinese and the Soviets there will be "stiff competition" until at least next winter if the situation is resolved by then.

CG 5824-S* also advised NY 694-S* that the CPs including the Russians and others will get together in November, 1960. CG 5824-S* stated that GUS HALL, General Secretary of the CPUSA, should be advised that he should not announce who will go to this conference and when it is to be held, until advised to do so.

July 7, 1960

GUS HALL, General Secretary of the CP, USA, in the presence of IRVING POTASH, briefed MORRIS CHILDS during the weekend of June 25-26, 1960. This briefing was in contemplation of a trip by CHILDS to Russia and other eastern European countries.

Political Line

HALL said that CHILDS should present the political line of the CP, USA, on peaceful co-existence and the non-inevitability of war as it was formulated at two meetings of the Secretariat during the week of June 19, 1960. CHILDS should show CP, USA, loyalty to the political line of the CP of the Soviet Union without breaking with the Chinese. If CHILDS has discussions with the leaders of the CP of China, he should try to explain the viewpoint of the CP, USA, to the CP of China.

HALL stated that he wants the leadership of the CP, SU, and the CP of China to be told that things are going well for the CP, USA. The CP, SU, should be told that there is no major factional dispute in the CP, USA. It is true that there may be small pockets of factionalism in some areas such as in the New York District.

CHILDS should also obtain the current political line of the CP, SU, and any instructions from the CP, SU, for the CP, USA.

Funds

CHILDS should complain that funds for the CP, USA, are not being received fast enough. A request should be made for $200,000 from the CP, SU, for 1960.

In regard to the request for funds, the CP, SU, should be told that the CP, USA, may be required to register as a Communist organization under the McCarran Act. If required to do this, the CP, USA, will not register and will go underground. Emergency funds are needed for such a possibility.

Also in connection with funds, it should be pointed out to the CP, SU, that the nationality groups in the United States raise one-half million dollars each year for the language papers. Some of this money comes from the same circles as funds raised for the CP, USA.

Inasmuch as the Cubans have stated that they can no longer support the CP of Puerto Rico, CHILDS should ask the CP, SU, for funds to be given to the CP, USA, for the CP of Puerto Rico.

Contacts with Other Communist Parties

CHILDS should point out that the contact between the CP, SU, and the CP, USA, in the United States is not satisfactory and that something should be done to try to improve it.

CHILDS should contact the Communist Parties in Hungary, Rumania, East Germany, Czechoslovakia, and possibly Poland in order to cement relationships with those Parties and make arrangements for contacts between those Parties and the CP, USA, in the United States.

CHILDS indicated that he will recommend that LOUIS WEINSTOCK continue to be the person to make contacts in the United States with representatives of the CP of Hungary. Results of these contacts to be furnished to the leadership of the CP, USA, through CHILDS.

CHILDS also indicated that he will recommend that either MARCEL or LENA SCHERER be the contact in the United States with representatives of the CP of Rumania. Results of these contacts to be furnished to the leadership of the CP, USA, through CHILDS.

CHILDS also indicated that he will recommend that CHARLES MUSIAL, Editor of "Nova Doba", be the contact in the United States with representatives of the CP of Czechoslovakia unless the CP of Czechoslovakia has other suggestions. Results of these contacts to be furnished to the leadership of the CP, USA, through CHILDS.

Pamphlets, Publications and Publishing Houses.

HALL stated that the CP, USA, will not reestablish the "Daily Worker" in 1960. Attempts will be made to do this in 1961 but this is related to the need for additional funds.

The Russian and Hungarian language newspapers in New York are trying to get a new print shop. If this is done, then "The Worker" will sign a contract with this print shop. This might also pave the way for eventual printing of the "Daily Worker" in the same print shop.

NEIL and ~~HELLER~~ KRUTH are the persons being recommended to take over the management of Imported Publications and Products of New York City.

In regard to International Publishers, HALL wants to convince ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG to retire and to set up an ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG Foundation in order to take the assets of International Publishers away from TRACHTENBERG. HALL wants approval from the Russians to go through with this plan.

The CP, SU, should also be told that the CP, USA, has been contemplating the publishing of a "Washington peace letter" from Washington, D. C. An editor for such a letter has not been selected as yet. Also, the CP has learned the following:

Washing-
Bill
A brother of ALGER HISS is planning something similar to a "Washington peace letter" as a business venture. It is assumed that ALGER HISS, who is not doing anything, would be indirectly involved in such a venture. The exact status of this venture is not known at this time. It would go into every phase of peace and would look into the "secret government" in the United States. That is, it would examine the monopolies and big businesses which actually control the policies of the United States Government. If this venture goes through and fills the bill, then the CP, USA, will not compete with it but would try to give it support. If the venture does not get off the ground, then the CP, USA, will try to locate an editor for a "Washington peace letter".

CHILDS should ask the CP, SU, and other Communist Parties in eastern Europe if they could use such a "Washington peace letter".

In regard to a labor paper, IRVING POTASH is going to start putting out a pamphlet to be called "Labor Notes". This pamphlet will be the forerunner to a labor paper. An editor for the proposed labor paper has not been selected as yet.

The CP, USA, and the United States

CHILDS should indicate that the only opposition to the leadership in the National Office of the CP, USA, is BEN DAVIS.

CHILDS should tell the CP, SU, that the CP, USA, has between 8,000 and 10,000 members.

In regard to the United States, CHILDS should explain why the defeat of a Republican candidate for United States Senator in North Dakota is a good thing and is an indication of a trend. The election of a Democrat in North Dakota is a classic example of how an election can be won when the campaign is conducted with a grass roots program.

Concerning the labor movement in the United States, CHILDS should emphasize to the CP, SU, that there are big rank and file movements developing in both the steel and auto industries.

In regard to trade union approaches in the United States, the CP, SU, must have a parallel approach to that of the CP, USA. Usually the CP, SU, is in contradiction to the CP, USA, in this field.

Delegations

CHILDS should ask that the Clothing Workers Councils in the U.S.S.R. invite the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America to send a delegation to Russia.

In regard to the celebration of the opening of the Moscow, Russia, subway, the CP, USA, wants invitations sent to MICHAEL J. CHILL, President of the Transport Workers Union of America and to JOSEPH A. DEIRNE, President of the Communication Workers of America asking them to send delegations to Russia on this occasion.

A personal invitation should be sent to PATRICK E. GORMAN of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, to visit Russia.

The California Trade Union Council should be invited to send a delegation to Russia, Russia and the other socialist countries should not invite people from the United States for visits to their countries without informing the leadership of the CP, USA.

When a trade union or other delegation from the United States goes to Russia, the CP, USA, wants a report on what the delegation did in the U.S.S.R., what the CP, SU, thought of the delegation, its composition, etc.

The CP, USA, also wants the exchange of newspapers and magazines between like unions in the U.S.S.R. and the U.S.A. and wants the CP, SU, to influence the World Federation of Trade Unions to do the same thing with trade unions in the United States. If this is done, then the CP, USA, should be informed about it. It is believed that there has been some exchange of communications between unions in the U.S.S.R. and the U.S.A. but the CP, USA, does not know the details.

Friendship of the People's University

CHILDS was requested to obtain detailed information about Friendship of the People's University, Moscow, Russia.

Individuals

MARY KAUFMAN

CHILDS is to ascertain what happened to the proposal to give MARY KAUFMAN some of the legal work which Russia has in the United States.

~~(U)~~

ALFRED K. STERN

HALL stated that CHILDS should see ALFRED STERN and tell him that VIC RABINOWITZ is willing to serve as the attorney for ALFRED K. STERN in the United States in regard to an attachment or fine against STERN amounting to $80,000 and also problems of citizenship which STERN has. In regard to the attachment or fine, RABINOWITZ has not been able to locate any record of it. Therefore, STERN should write a letter formally retaining RABINOWITZ as his attorney and setting out the details of his legal problems.

STERN was supposed to be in Hungary on July 10, 1960. ABE CHAPMAN, formerly a resident of the United States, Czechoslovakia, and recently of China, has returned to Czechoslovakia. CHAPMAN will make the arrangements for a contact between STERN and CHILDS.

IRVING POTASH

IRVING POTASH stated that he has a library, which is in the possession of ABE CHAPMAN. CHILDS should tell CHAPMAN that POTASH wants to turn this library over to the CP of Czechoslovakia.

WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

WILLIAM Z. FOSTER will celebrate his 80th birthday in the spring of 1961. HALL wants CHILDS to tell the CP, SU, that it should not make too much of a fuss about FOSTER's 80th birthday.

WILLIAM L. and LOUISE PATTERSON

HALL said that CHILDS should indicate that the CP, USA, wants BILL PATTERSON and his wife to remain in Europe indefinitely. There are many reasons for this. One reason would be to eliminate PATTERSON from the payroll of the New York District. Another reason would be to eliminate a District leader who tends toward the extreme left point of view.

~~SECRET~~

JIM JACKSON and CLAUDE LIGHTFOOT have stated that they would like to see BILL PATTERSON remain in Europe where he might be involved in activities in connection with Africa. LIGHTFOOT emphasized that Africa will be the coming problem of the world and that United States imperialism will become involved in Africa.

MIKE GOLD

MIKE GOLD, Columnist for "The Worker", wants to make a trip to the Soviet Union. CHILDS should ask the CP, SU, to invite GOLD to Russia.

BEATRICE SISKIND

BEATRICE SISKIND of East Germany should be "muzzled". Any problems she has in connection with the United States or individuals in the United States should be handled through CP, USA, channels and not through individuals.

VICTOR PERLO

HALL indicated that he is "down on" VICTOR PERLO. He said that he would not consider PERLO a Communist or a member of the CP.

By way of explanation, HALL stated that there is an organization in Philadelphia which buys estates and then profits from the death of the owners of these estates and thus acts like a vulture waiting for someone to die. HALL said that he thinks PERLO has been involved in this organization. Another person who was involved in this organization was MYER WEISE, whose death notice appeared on page 11 of the June 19, 1960, issue of "The Worker". HALL said that WEISE committed suicide.

V. J. and ALICE JEROME

HALL said that ALICE JEROME has gone to Russia to be with her husband, V. J. JEROME. [redacted] has also joined them in Russia. HALL said that he would like to see V. J. and ALICE JEROME stay in Russia indefinitely. If V. J. JEROME shows any inclination to remain in Russia, the CP, USA, would definitely approve such a stay.

~~SECRET~~

PAUL ROBESON

CHILDS was instructed to attempt to contact PAUL ROBESON. He should tell ROBESON that the CP, USA, recognizes that he is an important personality for the world Communist movement. However his son, PAUL ROBESON Jr., is lined up with the leftists. CHILDS should suggest that PAUL ROBESON subtly tell PAUL ROBESON Jr. to "lay off".

Our informant, CG 5824-S*, at the instructions of Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party (CP), USA, left Chicago, Illinois, 7-9-60 for Czechoslovakia, Russia, East Germany, Hungary, Rumania, and possibly Red China. He is expected to return to the United States on or about 8-19-60. Specific targets for the informant to aim at during this trip were prepared by the Bureau and presented to him by the Chicago Office on 7-2-60.

Prior to informant's departure, Gus Hall in the presence of Irving Potash, CP National Labor Secretary, briefed the informant on the purpose of this mission. According to attached Chicago letter 7-11-60 informant was instructed to:

POLITICAL LINE:

1. Show CP, USA, loyalty to the political line of the CP of the Soviet Union (SU) without breaking with the Red Chinese. The political line of the CP, USA, on peaceful co-existence and its disagreement with Red Chinese theory that war with imperialist countries is inevitable was formulated by the CP, USA, Secretariat in June, 1960. This viewpoint is to be explained to the CP of China.

2. Inform the CP, SU, that there is no major factional dispute in the CP, USA, although Ben Davis, CP National Secretary, furnishes the only opposition to the leadership in the National Office.

3. Obtain the current political line of the CP, SU, and any instructions from the CP, SU, for the CP, USA.

FUNDS:

1. Complain to the Soviets that funds for the CP, USA are not being received fast enough - a request for $200,000 from the CP, SU, for 1960 is to be made. So far this year $49,500 has been received by CP, USA, through the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa, Canada and $72,885 has been received from Vladimir Barkovsky, Counsel, Soviet Delegation to the United Nations.

2. Inform CP, SU, that if the CP, USA, is required to register as a communist organization under the McCarran Act it will not register and will go underground. For this reason emergency funds are needed for such a possibility.

3. Request the CP, SU, for funds to be given to the CP, USA, for the CP of Puerto Rico. Cuba has stated that it can no longer support the Puerto Rican CP.

CONTACTS WITH OTHER COMMUNIST PARTIES:

1. Cement relations with the CPs in the Iron Curtain countries to be visited by the informant and to make arrangements for contacts between the CP, USA, and those Parties in the United States. Informant will suggest to these countries that certain CP, USA, members will make contacts with their representatives in the United States and the results of these contacts will be furnished to the CP, USA, leadership through the informant.

2. Better CP, USA, and CP, SU, contacts in the United States are to be worked out.

PUBLICATIONS:

1. Advise the CP, SU, that the Russian and Hungarian language newspapers in New York City are trying to get a new print shop. If successful "The Worker" may then sign a contract with this print shop which might pave the way for eventual printing of the "Daily Worker" in 1961.

2. Tell the CP, SU, that the CP, USA, is contemplating publishing a "Washington Peace Letter" and ask if the Soviet Union and other CPs in Eastern Europe could use such a letter. CP, USA, has learned, according to Hall, that a brother of Alger Hiss (Donald) is planning something similar to a "Washington Peace Letter" as a business venture and that Alger Hiss would be directly involved. The exact nature of this venture is not known to Hall but if it materializes the CP, USA, will not compete with it but instead will give it support. The Bureau is not aware of any such venture by the Hiss brothers. This matter will be closely followed and pertinent information will be brought to your attention.

MISCELLANEOUS:

1. Tell the CP, SU, that the CP, USA, has between 8,000 and 10,000 members. This is an inflated figure to impress the Russians with the leadership of Gus Hall. Phil Bart, CP National Organizational Secretary, mentioned recently that 5,000 would be a close estimate of the CP, USA, membership. Bureau's estimated figure as of 3-31-60 was 5,361.

2. Request the CP, SU, to furnish the CP, USA, a report on each trade union or other delegation from the United States to Russia: what the delegation did in the USSR; what the CP, SU, thought of the delegation; and what was its composition. Hall, requesting such reports from the CP, SU, may desire to contact "favorable delegates" after they return to the United States in order to use them to further the aims of the Party in this country.

3. Advise the CP, SU, that it should not make much of a fuss about William Z. Foster's 80th birthday in the spring of 1961. Foster is Chairman Emeritus of the CP, USA. This request by Hall indicates that if Russia plays up Foster too much on his 80th birthday, Party members might get the impression that Foster outranks Hall in the CP, USA. Hall is apparently trying to forestall any such eventuality.

OBSERVATIONS:

Here is further concrete evidence that the CP, USA, is subservient to the international communist conspiracy directed by the Soviet Union. It is interesting to note that Irving Potash was present during Hall's briefing of the informant and that this is the first time information has come to our attention that Potash is aware of funds being furnished the CP, USA, by the CP, SU. Hall probably is letting Potash in on this information because Potash is being considered for a position with International Publishers, Inc., a CP publishing house that has "business dealings" with the Russians.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. This matter will receive very close supervision and you will be kept currently advised of all pertinent details as they develop.

2. Information received from the informant on his return to the United States will be immediately analyzed and disseminated to appropriate officials of the government.

According to BUCK, GREGORY traveled to Canada with a Russian delegation headed by the Mayor of Moscow, traveling with the delegation allegedly as a representative of the Moscow Soviet. According to BUCK, as a result of the conference in Bucharest, the Chinese and Russians agreed on the point that war is not inevitable; however, a sharp controversy ensued and there are still many difficulties between the Russians and Chinese.

SOLO

Operation SOLO was a long-running FBI program to infiltrate the Communist Party of the United States and gather intelligence about its relationship to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, China, and other communist nations. It officially began in 1958 and ended in 1977, although Morris and Jack Childs, two of the principal agents in the operation, had been involved with the Bureau for several years prior. The files posted here constitute the first two releases made from the FBI's SOLO file. They range from March 1958 to August 1960. Subsequent releases will be added in the future. Reference is made to a teletype from the New York Office dated 8-1-60 which sets forth a brief summary of information furnished by CG 5824-S regarding his sixth SOLO trip. The information raised several questions and in order to insure we will get the answers, I called our NYO this morning and talked with Supervisor [redacted] I instructed [redacted] to obtain answers to the following questions:

- (1) Why was it necessary for CG 5824-S to cut his trip short and return to the United States to brief Hall on differences between the Soviet Union and China. The urgency of Hall getting this information at once is not apparent.
- (2) Our informant said he was briefed concerning a running debate between Nikita Khrushchev and Peng Chen, Vice Chairman of the Standing Committee of the Peoples Congress of China, and he indicated some of the information regarding this matter was obtained from Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, CP USA functionary who is currently in Russia. I asked Marchessault how did it happen that the Soviets would bring Flynn into a high level briefing of this kind.
- (3) Our informant said that he met with two representatives of the "secret department" of the CPSU and made arrangements for three possible contacts with the Russians in the U.S. within the next six weeks. I asked [redacted] the purpose of these secret contacts in the U.S.
- (4) Our informant said the dispute between the Chinese and the Russians is more than an ideological disagreement. I asked [redacted] just what this meant.

Extreme caution should be exercised with respect to dissemination of information herein inasmuch as said information, by its nature, tends to identify NY 694-S, a valuable informant, as the source thereof. Unless this information is verified by other sources, it should not be incorporated, even in paraphrased form, in the investigation section of a report. X

On 7/21/60, NY 694-S advised SA [redacted] that while the informant was in Canada between 7/8/60 and 7/16/60 TIM BUCK furnished him the following information: X (U)

b7C

Although the break-up of the Summit Conference as a result of the U-2 plane incident was "a victory" for the Soviets, it had a damaging effect on the CP of Canada in that recruitment of new CP members has come to a standstill. Whereas before the Summit breakdown there was much enthusiasm in CP recruitment work, there is now an era of "stagnation" in this regard. There is no enthusiasm among Party members to do recruitment work, and there is apparently no interest among the people to become Party members. X (U)

[redacted]
Canadian CP functionaries, have gone to Prague, where [redacted] has replaced [redacted] as Canadian CP representative on the "World Marxist Review." Both attended the recent CP Conference in Bucharest, but as yet have not submitted to BUCK their report on the conference. X (U)

Upon his return to Canada, [redacted] was to have assumed BILL KASHTAN's post as CP trade union secretary. KASHTAN, however, strenuously opposed his replacement by [redacted] and consequently [redacted] was appointed head of the Toronto CP, replacing [redacted] who with eight other Canadian CP members, is currently attending a "CPSU school for higher learning" in Moscow. X (U)

The said CPSU school is "for people on the way up," and is the same school attended by Soviets who are rising in the CPSU organization. Students at the school receive a one year course in Marxism-Leninism and organizational problems. X (U)

~~SECRET~~

~~SECRET~~

NY 100-86624

It is not a pre-requisite that foreign students know Russian before attending the course, for translators are assigned to them. ~~X~~ (U)

(Referenced airtel mentions one "GREGORY" who is, according to BUCK, in charge of the British section of the International Department of the CCCPSU. According to NY 694-S he now recalls that BUCK referred to this individual as GREGORY BESDINOV (PH). ~~X~~ (U)

BUCK was scheduled to be in China on 10/1/60, for the celebration of the 11th anniversary of the Chinese revolution. He will be unable to go to China at that time, however, because the Canadian CP Plenum is scheduled for October. He will nevertheless go to China later in the year. ~~X~~ (U)

Before leaving for Toronto, NY 694-S was instructed by GUS HALL, CP, USA National Secretary, to tell BUCK that HALL thought that the Canadian CP publication "Northern Neighbors" was "a terrific magazine," and to ascertain from BUCK what the circulation of the said magazine is. Upon the informant's mentioning this matter, BUCK pounded the table, uttered a few choice epithets, and told NY 694-S the following: ~~X~~ (U)

The actual circulation of "Northern Neighbors" is 8000, but its [redacted] "the biggest liar and con man of our times," has convinced the Soviets that the circulation recently has risen from 20,000 to 30,000. The Soviets subsidize the magazine, giving [redacted] one dollar for every copy sold. [redacted] has so "hoodwinked" the Soviets that BUCK now does not dare to disillusion the Soviets and expose [redacted] as a fraud. It actually costs [redacted] only twenty-five cents per copy to print the magazine. Nobody in Canada takes the magazine seriously, but the Soviet officials who "supervise" it, like it because "they feel it makes them look good to their superiors." ~~X~~ (U)

The official Canadian CP delegate to the Cuban CP Convention will be LESLIE MORRIS, Canadian CP Secretary in Charge of Education, and the Party's leading theoretician. ~~X~~ (U)

~~SECRET~~

NY 100-86624

Two Canadian delegations will go to China this year, one from the Canadian political party known as the CCF, and the other from the government controlled radio-broadcasting commission known as CBC. Although there are no CP members in these delegations, there are a number of "friendly people" who will report to the Canadian CP concerning the activities of these delegations in China. ~~S~~ (U)

NY 694-S informed BUCK that [redacted] YOUNG son of the Puerto Rican CP functionary [redacted] is scheduled to leave the USA for Russia, where he will attend school. In view of the boy's youth, the CP, USA would appreciate BUCK's permitting the boy to travel to Russia in the company of any Canadian CP group that might be going to Russia in the near future. BUCK said that he would be pleased to assist in this matter, and said the boy should be sent to Toronto before 8/17/60. ~~S~~ (U)

BUCK expressed annoyance about the fact that the Mexican CP had held a convention recently and that he had been unable to obtain any information about it. He did not know even when the convention had been held. ~~S~~ (U)

BUCK had received a letter from a former Canadian CP member named [redacted] now residing permanently in Mexico. [redacted] keeps BUCK informed about activities in the Mexican CP. [redacted] however, was able to tell BUCK only that he had learned that the Mexican CP had held a convention, the date of which and details concerning which [redacted] did not know. All he could report was that "the younger people got into power." BUCK hoped that he would receive more information about this convention. ~~S~~ (U)

BUCK and his paramour BEZMASCOLO discussed BESS [redacted] and the latter's family. They stated that when [redacted] and his family left Toronto they went first to London where they were met by a Chinese Government official who advised them that they were guests of the Chinese government, and arranged for them to go immediately by plane to Moscow. ~~S~~ (U)

~~SECRET~~

NY 100-86624

In Moscow, the MASCOLOs were met by representatives of the Chinese Embassy in Moscow. These Chinese functionaries arranged for the MASCOLOs immediate departure by special plane for Peiping. In Peiping they were met at the airport by the head of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Chinese CP. ~~(U)~~

The Chinese gave a lavish banquet in honor of [redacted] whom they consider as TIM BUCK's son. The MASCOLOs are residing in a luxurious apartment in a compound where important people from England and Australia reside. They have the services of a chauffeur, cook, maid, and nurse for the children. [redacted] works in "the ministry," his wife attends a university where she is taking a two year course in Chinese, and the children are attending school. Upon completion of her course at the university, [redacted] wife will become a chemical engineer. [redacted] who is an engineer, is amazed at the engineering knowledge of the Chinese, and believes he can learn much from them. Neither BUCK nor BESS MASCOLO know what type of work [redacted] is doing at "the ministry." ~~(U)~~

BUCK mentioned that in a telephone conversation with HARRY GUERILNICK (mentioned above) who is in Prague, BUCK was told that ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN was to be in Romania for a month's vacation after which she was to return to Moscow. The Soviets desire that she be in Moscow on August 7th (her birthday) because they intend to have a celebration in her honor on that date. It is her 70th birthday. ~~(U)~~

According to NY 694-S, while he was in Toronto, important Canadian CP functionaries, other than TIM BUCK, with whom he would have liked to confer, were either on vacation or out of town on business. The informant spent several days on a fishing trip at McGregor Bay, Northern Ontario, with SAM CARR, former member of a Canadian espionage ring, [redacted] of Chicago who makes contributions to the CP, USA, and JACK COWAN who is active in the Canadian CP secret financial operations, working under Canadian CP functionary BILL KASHTAN. ~~(U)~~

[redacted] gave NY 694-S $300.00 as a contribution to the CP, USA but said nothing to indicate that he is otherwise active in the CP. SAM CARR indicated that he is active in the United Jewish Peoples Order, but furnished no further pertinent information to NY 694-S ~~(U)~~

~~SECRET~~

JACK COWAN told the informant the following: ~~(U)~~

Upon the death several years ago of PAUL PHILLIPS, Canadian CP functionary in charge of secret CP financial operations, CP functionary BILL KASHTAN assumed PHILLIPS' post, and COWAN became KASHTAN's assistant in secret CP financial operations. The Artkino Company of Canada (not identified with Artkino in the USA), distributor of Soviet films, is a source of revenue for the Canadian CP, and COWAN is the president of the company. ~~(U)~~

In March, 1960, COWAN conceived the idea of attempting to secure for Artkino of Canada a "monopoly" with respect to the distribution of Soviet films in Canada and the USA. He interested [] a Canadian film distributor, who is not a CP member, in the idea. COWAN realized that [] who has money and an organization, could be of great assistance to him in the event COWAN could obtain a "monopoly" as regards Soviet films. By a "handshake agreement" he and [] became "partners." [] was unaware of the CP interest in Artkino. ~~(U)~~

Enlisting the assistance of TEE BUCK, COWAN induced the latter to contact the Soviets and to outline to them the proposals concerning the desired "monopoly" for Artkino. BUCK did so, and the Soviets indicated they would agree to the proposals. BUCK and COWAN were elated because they anticipated that the CP would receive about $50,000 a year from Artkino as a result of the proposed operation. ~~(U)~~

COWAN and [] went to Moscow, were royally received by the heads of the Soviet film industry, and after several days of negotiation obtained from the Soviets a commitment that Artkino would receive the desired monopoly, even to the extent that "everybody outside," including USA distributors, would have to deal with Artkino. ~~(U)~~

COWAN gave the Soviets a check for $5000 in settlement of an $11,000 indebtedness of Artkino to the Soviets, and

~~SECRET~~

NY 100-86624

"everybody was happy." It was agreed that COWAN and [] would confer again with the Soviets in Moscow a year from the date of their meeting at that time. ~~(U)~~

b7C

The Soviets, however, have violated the agreement. When Artkino asked for the prize-winning Soviet film, the Soviets gave the film to Hollywood distributors instead. They have completely ignored all their commitments to COWAN and [] is "furious," has nothing to do with COWAN, and has referred to the Soviets as COWAN's "lousey friends," who, together with COWAN, "should drop dead." ~~(U)~~

TIM BUCK, discussing this matter with NY 694-S, said he was very "upset" about this situation, and that he had written a letter of protest to the Central Committee of the CPSU. BUCK remarked, "Nothing will happen, however. They (the Soviets) are still the same commercial illiterates. They'll never change." ~~(U)~~

According to COWAN, [] is particularly angry because, before he went to Moscow with COWAN, he had been warned by the RCMP, by whom he had been interviewed, that the Soviets would not honor any agreements he might make with them. [] now says bitterly that the RCMP was right, and that he should have been guided by the RCMP warning. ~~(U)~~

NY 694-S further advised that his primary purpose in going to Canada was to advise TIM BUCK of the scheduled departure for Europe of an individual identified with the case entitled, "SOLO-IS-C," and to request BUCK to notify immediately persons abroad who would be interested in this individual's itinerary. BUCK furnished the necessary information to persons abroad. ~~(U)~~

CG 5824-S left the United States on 7/9/60, on a mission for the CP, USA, to several satellite countries, as well as Russia and possibly China. He was scheduled to return to the United States around 8/19/60.

Assistant Special Agent in Charge McCabe, of the New York Office, advised on 7/29/60 that NY 694-S informed today (7/29) he received a telephone call from CG 5824-S from Zurich, Switzerland. CG 5824-S stated he had been instructed in Moscow to return immediately to the United States. He said that NY 694-S should promptly contact Gus Hall, General Secretary, CP, USA, and tell Hall he is not to make any public statements until he is briefed by CG 5824-S. CG 5824-S did not indicate the nature of the briefing he is to give Gus Hall.

CG 5824-S will arrive in the United States on either July 30, July 31, or August 1, depending on what arrangements he can make for transportation, according to NY 694-S.

ASAC McCabe stated NY 694-S had requested that Special Agent Jack Keating, who is the regular contact with CG 5824-S, be present in New York when CG 5824-S arrives.

ACTION:

I told Mr. McCabe to call Chicago and advise the Chicago Office that the Bureau had instructed that Special Agent Keating proceed to New York immediately and that he should arrive there no later than Saturday morning (7/30) and should arrange to be in New York on the evening of 7/29, if possible. I instructed Mr. McCabe to contact the informant immediately upon his arrival, in order that we may know what message he is carrying to Gus Hall from the Soviets. I told Mr. McCabe I realized the problem of the security of the informant and that that was paramount, but that the information should be obtained from him as quickly as feasible. Mr. McCabe said that this would be done and that the Bureau would be kept advised of developments.

FROM : Mr. F. J. Baumgardner mb
 INTERNAL SECURITY - C

Our informant, CG 5824-S*, at the instructions of Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party (CP), USA, left Chicago, Illinois, 7/9/60 on the sixth Solo mission to Czechoslovakia and Russia. He returned to the United States on 7/31/60.

New York airtel 8/3/60 discloses that informant met with two members of the "Secret Department" of the CP of the Soviet Union (CPSU) during the week of 7/17/60 in Moscow, Russia. Arrangements were made for CG 5824-S* to have clandestine meetings with undisclosed Soviets in New York City during August and September, 1960. These "secret" members were aware of previous contacts informant had with Vladimir Barkovsky, Counsel, Soviet Delegation to the United Nations. The Russians suggested the use of microfilming for the transmittal of CP, USA, documents to Barkovsky or whoever might meet with the informant.

The New York Office is obtaining photographs of likely suspects in order to exhibit them to CG 5824-S* in an attempt to identify the two "Secret Department" members of the CPSU.

OBSERVATIONS:

Arrangements for our informants, CG 5824-S* and NY 694-S*, to meet with Barkovsky or some other Soviet in New York City have been scheduled for the coming two months. It is expected that funds will be given to our informants by the Soviets in order to financially assist the national office of the CP, USA.

RECOMMENDATION:

We will follow closely all contacts made by the Soviets with our informants and will keep you immediately advised of pertinent developments.

Chicago (CG) 5824-S has been furnishing information concerning his latest trip to Russia to Special Agent Jack Keating in New York. He still has additional details of what took place to be made available, and interviews with him are being conducted on a continuing basis to secure this additional information.

On the afternoon of August 3, 1960, Assistant Special Agent in Charge McCabe, of the New York Office (NYO), called and stated that Elizabeth Mascolo, common-law wife of Tim Buck, head of the Canadian Communist Party, had contacted CG 5824-S and told him that Buck wanted to see him immediately. She said Buck has an important speech to make in the western part of Canada on Friday, 8/5, and he wants to be briefed prior to the time he makes the speech. Mr. McCabe stated that our informant has been in contact with the office and stated he had no excuse for not going to Canada to brief Buck.

McCabe stated that although this trip will interfere temporarily with our securing additional information from the informant, he felt that in the interests of protecting the security of the informant it would be necessary for him to make the trip. I asked ASAC McCabe how the informant planned to go, and he replied he thought he was going by train. I told McCabe to have the informant fly and he could undoubtedly make the trip much quicker. McCabe stated he would call back.

Mr. McCabe again called and stated that NYO had been in contact with the informant. He said the informant will fly to Canada tonight (8/3) and will confer with Buck immediately and will return to New York on Thursday evening (8/4). He said New York will continue its interviews with the informant on Thursday evening and Friday and it is expected that all of the information he has concerning his latest trip to Russia will be obtained at that time. Mr. McCabe said that such information will be immediately forwarded to the Bureau.

ACTION: When the information is received, we will immediately analyze it and make appropriate dissemination. EX 109

I thought you would be interested in the following information obtained as a result of our over-all coverage of the Communist Party, USA, concerning statements made in Moscow, Russia, by Nikolai Mostovets and [redacted] during July, 1960. Nikolai Mostovets is head of the North and South American Section of the International Department, Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, and [redacted] of Eugene Dennis, National Chairman, Communist Party, USA.

Mostovets stated that the disagreements between the People's Republic of China and the Soviet Union involve matters of state as well as ideological differences between the communist parties of the two countries. According to Mostovets, the Chinese have asked the Russians for modern military weapons such as nuclear warheads, missiles and atomic bombs, but Russia has not complied with these requests.

[redacted] who has many contacts among leading members of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, stated that part of the problem between Red China and Russia is the refusal of Russia to grant Chinese requests for modern military weapons. Because the Communist Party of China has not gone along with the ideology of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union in regard to peaceful coexistence, the Soviet Union, as a state, has hesitated to grant requests of Red China for modern military weapons since Russia cannot anticipate what China might do with these weapons. [redacted] commented the Russians are afraid that perhaps China might drop a nuclear bomb on Formosa or on some other place and thereby trigger a world war.

Our informant, CG 5824-S*, at the instructions of Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party (CP), USA, left Chicago, Illinois, 7/9/60 for a six-week mission to Czechoslovakia, Russia, other Iron Curtain countries, and possibly Red China. At the suggestion of Boris Ponomarev, in charge of the International Department of the Central Committee of the CP of the Soviet Union (CCCPSU), informant cut his trip short and returned to the United States on 7/31/60. Ponomarev felt it was most important that some of the facts concerning the dispute which arose between the CP of China and the CP of the Soviet Union (CPSU) at the congress of the CP of Rumania held in Bucharest, Rumania, 6/60 be given to the CPUSA leadership as soon as possible, especially before it gets into the United States press. The Soviets also suggested that the informant return to the United States at this time in order to urge Gus Hall to attend the congress of the CP of Cuba, which begins in Havana on 8/16/60. The Soviets would like Hall to attend this congress and then travel from Cuba to Moscow for a few days and then return to Cuba by jet airliner.

New York airtel 8/1/60 discloses that CG 5824-S* had a formal meeting with Ponomarev; D. Shevlyagin, assistant to Ponomarev; Nikolai Vladimirovich Mostovets; head of the North and South American Section of the International Department of the CCCPSU; and other Russians at the headquarters of the CCCPSU during the week of 7/17/60. Ponomarev remarked:

At the Rumanian congress and the conference of CPs which followed the congress it was decided to set up a commission to explore the differences which exist between the CP of China and the CPSU in an effort to reconcile the divergent views of these participants at the congress. Ponomarev feels that the CPUSA should send a representative of the National Executive Committee to participate in the work of this commission. The Chinese views in opposition to those of the CPSU are (1) war is possible and even inevitable; (2) United States imperialism will resort to war and to talk of coexistence and disarmament is to create illusions; (3) the Chinese in their provincial press are critical of the Soviet Union;

(4) the Chinese have accused the CPSU of having a one-sided line of peaceful transition to socialism; and (5) the Chinese emphasize that the nature of imperialism has not changed.

Ponomarev said that for six months the Chinese have been training 50 Latin American comrades and have been filling them with Chinese propaganda. Chinese instructors have expressed themselves in a very hostile manner against the CPSU and have inculcated the Latin American comrades with an anti-CPSU spirit. The Chinese suggested to the Latin American comrades that there should be an armed struggle and guerrilla warfare in Panama. They preached to Brazilian comrades that the Brazilians need to resort to armed struggles and uprisings. Some of the Latin American comrades are under the influence of the Chinese, especially in the fight against United States imperialism.

Although there is a peaceful road to socialism, Ponomarev said, that in some cases "we" have recommended, that some CPs have to use the other road.

New York airtel 8/2/60 discloses that Gus Hall, after being advised of the Soviet proposal that he go to Cuba and then make a flying trip to Moscow, said that he would not go to Cuba.

OBSERVATIONS:

It is possible that Hall refuses to go to Cuba because he is at liberty under a $5,000 bond (indicted under Smith Act) which restricts his travel without court permission.

This is the informant's report of his first meeting with Boris Ponomarev. A report of his second meeting with this individual is being prepared by the New York Office for immediate transmittal to the Bureau. Together with these reports will be a document furnished by Ponomarev disclosing the differences which exist between the CP of China and the CPSU and also an 80-page letter from the CPSU to all CPs.

Details of Conference of Communist Parties Held in Bucharest, Rumania, in June, 1960

During the week of July 10, 1960, Elizabeth Gurley Flynn made available notes she had made during a Conference of Communist Parties held in Bucharest, Rumania, after the Third Congress of the Rumanian Communist Party.

On June 24, 1960, there had been a preliminary meeting with only representatives of the Socialist Bloc countries present. On June 25, 1960, there was a meeting with representatives of all the fraternal Communist Parties, who were in Bucharest, present at this meeting.

These meetings heard the reading of an 84 page letter from the Communist Party of the Soviet Union to all other Communist Parties. This letter deals with the differences between the Soviet Union and China. It contains a series of disagreements in regard to the Chinese communes, the World Federation of Trade Unions, the Doctrine of Peaceful Co-existence and so forth. The letter refers to remarks which the Chinese had made at a banquet held during the time the World Federation of Trade Unions met in Peking, China.

Representatives of the Socialist countries in Europe started the discussion on June 25, 1960. All of the speakers stated that they were in agreement with the Moscow Declaration of 1957, that is, the Twelve Party Declaration and the 64 Party Peace Declaration. Except for the Chinese, all the other speakers reaffirmed their adherence to the peace policy of the Soviet Union. The representatives of the Socialist countries in Eastern Europe also endorsed the stand of Nikita Khrushchev at the Summit Meeting in Paris. During this discussion, several speakers leveled criticism at the Chinese Communist Party because of its behavior at a meeting of the World Federation of Trade Unions at Peking and at peace councils.

~~FENG CHEN~~, Vice Chairman and Secretary General of the Standing Committee of the Communist Party of China, replied briefly for the Communist Party of China. He stated that the Communist Party of China is in favor of co-existence, but that he had reported to the Communist Party of China what had happened at this meeting and the details of the 84 page letter from the Communist Party of the Soviet Union to all other Communist Parties. He said that while the Communist Party of China would send a reply, he wanted to say that some of the charges which have been made here in Bucharest and in the letter of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, were of a slanderous character. He said that there is a need to clarify certain issues and he suggested the study of Chinese documents. He pointed out that the Bandung Conference was the result of the initiative of the Chinese, and that recently, China had entered into agreements with Burma and Nepal. He said that at the meeting of the World Federation of Trade Unions in Peking, China, some of the delegates to this meeting made statements against the Chinese communes. The communes are a Chinese phenomenon. Since we did not interfere in the internal affairs of other countries, we, the Chinese people, do not ask for approval or disapproval of the communes.

FENG CHEN stated further that he thinks that there seems to be a negative attitude to the general lines of the Communist Party of China and a shift away from the document which was issued at the conclusion of the meeting in Peking of the World Federation of Trade Unions.

FENG CHEN went on to praise the Chinese communes. He said that China is constantly increasing its production of steel and that soon, it will produce thirty million tons of steel annually. He referred to the Soviet Union as the country which is heading the Socialist camp, and also said that China supported the Summit Meeting. Comrade MAO says that the wind from the east overcomes the wind from the west. War can be avoided, but can we completely avoid it? The avoidance of war does not depend on us only. We are not attempting to unleash a new war, but while Imperialism exists, there is a possibility of aggressive war. There are madmen in the camp of Imperialism. They could unleash a war. Why did the United States restore Militarism in Western Germany? Why does the United States spend half of its income for military purposes? The United States unleashes great forces for war and they do not do it to celebrate May 1st (this would mean that the Armed Forces of the United States are not merely for display purposes).

Continuing, PENG CHEN stated, therefore, we must be ready for two possibilities. One is to strive for peace, and the other is to be ready for war unleashed by the Imperialists. In the struggle for peace, we move in two directions, in order to increase the might of the Socialist camp, and to organize the forces for peace all over the world. On carrying out the revolution, we prepare for both eventualities, that is, peaceful and non-peaceful. Imperialism suppresses peoples. We must be prepared for that. We work on two lines and two possibilities. If worse comes to worse, or there is armed oppression, we must guarantee that the masses should not ask - Why did you not prepare us? Why did you lie to us?

Regarding the Chinese articles and the book on Leninism published by the Communist Party of China, there has been much criticism by the comrades who are here in Bucharest. These articles and this book are based on the Moscow Declaration. If the comrades think that these publications violate the Moscow Declaration or the Peace Manifesto, they are wrong. Regarding the proposed Bucharest Communiqué, our delegation has a mandate to deal with the letter of the CPSU to all other Communist Parties. We can have discussions here with all of the fraternal Parties, but we are without powers to make decisions here.

At this point, NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV jumped up and interrupted PENG CHEN. He asked, What if the Parties here want to decide and to adopt documents? It is alright with me.

PENG CHEN replied, we are not mandated to discuss anything else but the CPSU letter. In relation to the letter, we make two proposals as follows:

1. That the Soviet Union hold a conference of the Communist Parties of the Socialist countries. We also want all of the Communist Parties of the world present at this conference.
2. That the text for this conference be prepared in advance by an Editorial Committee. We have sent the present communique to our Political Bureau in Peking. They do not hesitate to reaffirm the Moscow Declaration, but this Bucharest Communique goes further than the Moscow Declaration. Therefore, we can only sign this proposed communique when we hear from our Political Bureau. We feel obligated to ask approval of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China because there is more in this Bucharest Communique than there was in the Moscow Declaration of 1957. There are some new features in the Bucharest Communique.

Continuing, PENG CHEN stated, at the same time, lengthy material was presented to us here and we have only briefly studied it. We were not given sufficient time to study this material. It is impossible to give complete attention to some 84 pages. We ask time to make inquiry of our Central Committee in Peking. Remember, Peking is far away, so far we cannot get a reply. The communications are to blame.

NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV jumped up and said, Why don't you blame Moscow for this? PENG CHEN, replying calmly, stated, Our delegation is not vested with authority to vote. At the conference of the Socialist countries yesterday, we asked for more time.

At this point, ~~GHEORGHE GHEORGHIU-DEJ~~, First Secretary of the Central Committee of the Rumanian Workers Party (the Communist Party of Rumania), said, Comrade CHEN, speak all you want. Per m

CHEN replied that the Chinese were not given a chance to present the views of the Chinese Communist Party.

Here, there was a big uproar in the hall. ~~ANTONIN NEVODNY~~, leader of the Czechoslovakian Communist Party, protested that this was not so. Per m
CZ 68

GHEORGHE GHEORGHIU-DEJ said to PENG CHEN, take all the time you want.

PENG CHEN replied, we refuse to consider even continuing today. We want time to get in touch with Peking. Yesterday, at the conference of the Socialist countries, you adopted a declaration without us. We will not say more today.

NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV stated, we conferred yesterday until everyone was spent and tired. No matter how strong we are, our strength is limited by Almighty God. We listened to Comrade PENG CHEN of China as long as he wished to speak. We spoke only twenty minutes or so. We did not limit him. He spoke the longest. He should talk to this larger audience today. We are all speakers and orators here. We were not born yesterday. We have grown grey and bald in political argument.

Continuing, KHRUSHCHEV said, the chairman has said that Comrade PENG CHEN can speak today. Now he does not want to speak. This is an uncomradely attitude. This type of debate and argumentation is alright among others where everything goes, but not among ourselves. Comrade FENG CHEN said he did not study the letter of the CPSU. If he did not study it, how come he says it was slanderous? The Chinese want an okay from Peking. We are a collective body. There are no commissars over us, yet Comrade FENG CHEN says that he will comment only when he receives orders from the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China.

At this point, the conference adjourned, to be resumed on the following day.

On June 25, 1960, the Chinese comrades announced that they had received permission from the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China to sign the Bucharest Communiqué if amendments were made to it, but then stated that even if the proposed Chinese amendments were not accepted that they would sign the communiqué anyway. The Chinese never did present the amendments.

Comrade ~~HYSHI~~ KAPO, Secretary of the Communist Party of Albania, was critical of the tone, methods and attitude of the representatives of the Communist Party of China.

He said that Albania was not ready to speak its opinion. He has informed the Central Committee and the leadership of the developments in Bucharest. He thinks the CPSU and the Communist Party of China should get together and talk things out and then call other Parties in. Otherwise, it is too soon to adopt anything or engage in this type of discussion. The Chinese campaign, articles, etc., before this conference were harmful. China is dear to our hearts. We will endorse the Bucharest Communiqué.

NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV stated, Comrade KAPO said that this is an argument between the CPSU and the Communist Party of China. The time has long passed when arguments were settled by two knights in combat. Not numbers nor muscles can solve these questions today. The great can be small and the small can be great. Here, in this meeting, we have equal terms for all. We do not set any Parties apart. All will be involved in this discussion. We do not want, nor seek, differences, but once they have appeared, we must solve them all together. This is the only way - the Marxist-Leninist way. It is regrettable that the Chinese comrades are signing the communique with reservations. They really do not agree with this communique which they signed. This communique is not complete because they signed with reservations and they really do not agree with it.

Continuing, KHRUSHCHEV said, we are not embarrassed, but it does make the situation more complicated. The enemy will be joyful because there is a crack in the Socialist camp.

Then KHRUSHCHEV said, there are differences between the Chinese and the other Communist Parties. It is a pity that the Communist Party of China is not with us. We must do everything to achieve unity, but on a principled basis but not unity for the sake of unity. That is not enough. There have been differences with the Chinese for more than a year and a half. Even in 1957 in Moscow, the Chinese were not in complete agreement when they signed the Moscow Declaration. At the World Federation of Trade Unions banquet in Peking, the Chinese document was the dessert. That was not the Leninist way. It is a Trotskyite way.

One of the main questions is co-existence, war or peace. They (meaning the Chinese comrades) are against co-existence. In Mongolia, a Chinese comrade crossed out a reference to co-existence. He said, "Why is it necessary between China and Mongolia?" We are not speaking of co-existence between our Socialist countries. Co-existence means peace; it is a banner to unite all peoples. Only madmen want war, but even they do not even dare to say so. Even HITLER talked peace and blamed others for war, those who refused to give up territory.

We will doom ourselves if we say that peace and co-existence are impossible. If we say Imperialism has totality over the world. If we say that as long as Imperialism exists "war is inevitable". In other words, the situation has changed since LENIN formulated his thesis on Imperialism. Imperialism alone cannot decide today to make war. It is not an automatic question, but one of political forces. We have the world's progressive forces with our one-third of the world. There is the Ukrainian saying when a son-in-law is drowning, the father-in-law says go down. Should one-third of the world not struggle for peace? It would be a fatal capitulation to surrender to the aggressors and an underestimation of our own strength. We therefore cannot agree with the Communist Party of China.

KHRUSHCHEV continued by stating, after the Chinese comrade spoke at this Third Congress of the Workers Party of Rumania, we, the Chinese and Soviet Comrades, talked privately. The Chinese comrade said, "We are for co-existence", but he did not mention this word in his speech at the Congress. Later, he blamed it on poor translation, but the fact remains the word was not there. See the false position you got into? Such so-called Marxism-Leninism is pure hairsplitting. I am a Marxist-Leninist, but I do not split where the atom is split. Like the Bible said of Noah's Ark, all animals are in the same boat, clean and unclean, and live together by God's will. If war is unleashed, it is said not everyone will be annihilated. I do not want to risk the lives of my people and of the world. (This is a reference to statements by some writers of the Communist Party of China that those who talk of the catastrophic results of war are capitulating to the Imperialists.) Then he, KHRUSHCHEV, turned around to Albanian comrade KAPO and said, well comrade, how do you negotiate that. KAPO, I do not agree with the Chinese. Comrade KHRUSHCHEV goes on, if we are all buried in war you say, Comrade KAPO, you hope that the archeologists will find us together. I do not want to be buried at all, and then he underscored with emphasis, according to the description, we want life. If the Imperialists would die from listening to music, we would give it to them.

We support the 17 Party Declaration of Rome
(this is referring to the Declaration of 17 European Parties that met in Rome, January, 1960, declaring for co-existence).

We support the 17 Party Declaration of Rome. The Chinese comrades do not agree. They stated so. The Communist Party of China delegation said we presented 84 pages that they had not read. The Chinese comrades' words are very poisonous against the leaders of other Communist Parties. Ask Comrade MAO, he will tell you. He had a conversation with the Soviet Ambassador recently. I remember a conversation I had with Comrade MAO TSE TUNG when it was proposed to publish an international magazine on theory and politics. He said that the Socialist countries having a grain of truth in the differences would complicate questions and effect the people. Now, such a magazine comes out. The Chinese comrades say, let all flowers bloom.

Parenthetically speaking, the true saying is, let 100 flowers bloom, let 100 thoughts contend.

In 1958, MAO asked us, are you against it? The Russians did not understand. Therefore, we did not publish this idea. The Chinese say, let 100 flowers bloom, let 100 thoughts contend, etc., but some flowers make life beautiful, some are poisonous and must be rooted out. Some very poisonous flowers were widespread in China. The Capitalists grew them. You had to root them out. This is an ideological question; you publish many things in Russian-books, pamphlets, etc., and send them to our country. We have printing presses in our country too. What you're doing is forcing your views on others. Your book, "United States Imperialism is a Paper Tiger" was sent in the Russian language into our country. We don't want it. You are forcing your views on us; we don't want them. You once published a good article on the Hungarian situation. We accepted it, we praised it and we published it. We are not rejecting ideas from other countries, but we want to choose for ourselves. We had an agreement with the Chinese Peoples Republic on the publication of two magazines on Chinese-Soviet friendship. What happened? These journals began to publish debatable questions such as we would not even publish in "Pravda". I was advised of the contents of these magazines and I said to our comrades, do not circulate these in our country.

There has been an aggravation of differences between India and China relating to border conflicts. When I was in China last October for the celebration of the 10th Anniversary, I met Comrades MAO, CHOU EN LAI and others. They said, why does not the Soviet Union take the Chinese side on this issue when we are in a struggle with a Capitalist country like India. I said, India and China existed for centuries and never went to war with each other. How could a socialist state aggravate such a war? It is nationalistic and a wrong thing to do to drag the Socialist camp into such a war.

KHRUSHCHEV then illustrated how LENIN had signed the Brest Litovsk Peace Treaty with the Germans that TROTSKY refused to sign. LENIN bartered with the Imperialists when he had to. He, LENIN, signed a treaty with the Turks giving them a large territory so that the working class and others would not regard the Soviet Union as an Imperialist country. For 150 years, Russia had border conflicts with Iran, but we signed treaties with Iran, we made concessions, we gave them so many kilometers in territory. What difference does it make? The people will throw the rulers out some day anyway. But we've got closer to the Iranian people by not antagonizing them over borders. You Chinese comrades say the Indians do all the shooting. How is it that the Indians fall dead then? It is not important who fired the first shot. The Imperialists rejoice over a conflict between India and China. Supposing we said we are for China; The United States will say they are for India. EISENHOWER said to NEHRU while he was there, take a firm stand, we will always support you. Comrades, NEHRU and EISENHOWER are different. Is there a difference between the Shah and NEHRU? Of course there is. This is a national conflict, not a social question. The Indian Communist Party must not say the Chinese are right. Our party there in India is disoriented by this conflict. The conflict has rallied the reactionaries around NEHRU. How many Chinese are there? Certainly, China is stronger than India, although a census has not been made. There are 212 million of us in the Soviet Union. We are third in size and population after India. For China, it is not a question of to be or not to be. We deplored this situation; this border conflict. We had hoped that a conference would resolve the issues between China and India. We in our country set up commissions in discussing all border incidents. We discuss at length and settle these. It would be sheer foolishness if we tried to paint India as an aggressor. We do not agree with NEHRU, but we respect him as an honorable man. We can come to terms with him on disarmament.

The Chinese call me an opportunist. Who gives you comrades the right to pin labels on people. The conflict over Taiwan, Formosa, was different. We sent notes to the United States that an attack on China would be considered an attack on the Soviet Union. We would reply with rocket blows, etc., etc. This is Socialist solidarity. What is the true essence of a country is important. You are my friend, but we must speak the truth. Our futures depend upon it. LENIN said once, "Just scratch a great Russian Communist and you will find a Chauvinist". The chief danger then was of Russian Chauvinism. I said, LENIN was right at the Eighth Congress when he made this statement. At that time, there were 100 languages spoken, 100 nationalities. Now there are fifteen union republics and many autonomous regions. All these people were subjects of Russia under the Czar. LENIN said we must fight to make all equal in the great family of the Soviet Union. LENIN ceded the territory to Finland. He was criticized for it, but he did it. Not only for us, but for you too, comrades of China, must we foster Communist tradition not merely national ones.

The Chinese do not believe India will be a Socialist country some day. I do believe it. Get together, draw up a border line. No one will remember later what it is. So, suppose we said of the Socialist countries, all borders must be corrected. Let's correct them. We would not leave here with a hair on our heads. There are fifteen republics in the Soviet Union. Suppose we say let's rectify or discuss borders; a free for all would start. A man crossing a border now does not even know its there. It goes to show it has nothing to do with class conflicts. Let's not argue over little things. This is not a useful conflict. This conflict has discredited the Communist Party of India and NEHRU has become a national hero. Why was this necessary? We must take a position and guard against future conflicts. We must have a definite attitude.

KHRUSHCHEV continues - regarding the work in the Peace Committee, the Chinese comrades do not understand. They mix up the national question and the colonial struggle. The Peace Committee is like Noah's Ark; all who want to fight for peace are there. We gave the LENIN medal to [] of the United States, a Capitalist. He is proud to wear it. Surely, it is a changed situation when a Capitalist will wear our medal with pride. In the peace councils, we must put down the forces of the colonizers. The peace councils, however, are not class organizations.

Two years ago, representatives of the armed forces of the Soviet Union and China met to discuss anti-aircraft defense of our regions. We might be so situated that our planes might have to land in Chinese territory. Like in World War II, United States planes would leave Africa, bomb Germany and land in Russia. Comrades, would you believe it, the Chinese said no to our request. Our generals asked what to do. Such misunderstandings are no good. The Imperialists will hang us one by one.

Parenthetically speaking, it should be noted that KHRUSHCHEV has been subjected to criticism for his speeches. The Chinese must have charged that he does not represent the viewpoint of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union and that he speaks for himself as an individual.

So KHRUSHCHEV made the following statements:

All my speeches are delivered after approval by the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. This was true while I was traveling in the USA; this is true while I'm here and elsewhere. You Chinese are trying to separate me from everybody.

Parenthetically speaking, it should be noted that the Chinese have been circulating a document against KHRUSHCHEV. This document was previously concealed and was kept secret. Now they have been circulating it. In it they infer that he was not speaking with the authority of the Central Committee.

As to the slogan of the Chinese comrades, "Neither peace nor war" - Our 20th Congress of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union condemned STALIN. We had to do it. All the members of the 17th Congress of the Party were exiled, perished or imprisoned for sixteen or seventeen years. They were the cream of the Bolsheviks. What to tell the people? We must state the truth at the right moment. The first Congress we held after his, STALIN's, death, was the right time. Some people knew more than others like MOLOTOV, MALENKOV, KAGANOVICH and others. We said we must state what we know. The people may forgive us if we state it now, later they will not believe us or forgive us. While the Chinese comrades supported us, they were trying even then to undermine our leadership. They said 'There are two swords, one is LENIN's, one is STALIN's - if it is rusty, let us clean it'. LENIN's sword was directed against our enemies, STALIN's had our people's blood on it. Peasants and workers I talk to today say how good life is but let us prevent war. More even say better if he, STALIN, died ten years earlier. We say, to tell our people all is to strengthen our leadership.

Parenthetically speaking, it should be noted that this means that the conflict between the Soviet and Chinese leaders over the expose of STALIN was much deeper going and sharper than we had known up to now.

On the question of the communes or the issue of the communes - To begin with, one might say it is an internal question of China. We have nothing against it but we won't follow that path. LENIN set up cooperatives. There is no unity in the Communist Party of China on the question of communes and you know it. A lot was not won by this method. A comrade who opposed this policy, that is the communes, was sent to a "monastery". We would send such people to a Party school. Even in China, the character is changing. Now you are beginning to form brigades and collective farms and so on. The Chinese come out against the payment of labor. We in the Soviet Union must do this, we must pay wages until we are able to switch to real Communist principles. If we are asked our opinion we are not in favor of the Chinese position on communes. We are switching in the Soviet Union to automation. We are installing the latest of machinery and methods of production. Don't you try to thrust your systems (of communes) upon us. In our country, we are opposed to leaps. We believe in good planning and organization. If this is lacking we will have ups and downs and have to resort to leaps. Sometimes workers work unevenly or supplies are uneven. Workers even in our country in the old days resorted to strikes on this account. [redacted] spoke to them, convinced the workers why we need better organization, etc., and the workers agreed. Your Chinese papers and magazines write about the leaps. Thousands of our people live in China. They do not speak of it. Our specialists are asked questions they cannot answer. Why? We do not want to sharpen the differences between us. The letter that we put out was addressed to the Communist Party of the Soviet Union and to other Parties of the Socialist camp. We may have to send this letter to the other Parties because it is out in the open. On behalf of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union delegation, we express joy that there is absolute unity on many of these questions we have discussed here at the 3rd Congress in Bucharest. We are sure that your Central Committees will rally behind you and the Bucharest Declaration when you report back. We propose to set up a commission to draft a new declaration to summarize our views. We hope to be able to do this in November.

PENG CHEN:

I gave full attention to the criticisms and accusations of comrade KHRUSHCHEV. Every word of what he said. I am in full agreement with him that these conflicts between us are not of personalities but of Parties. On the international situation, how to conduct the battle against our enemies and how to defend peace. We agree that unity must be on a principled basis. The discussions must be conducted on an equal basis, on a fraternal basis. We respect the Communist Party of the Soviet Union a great deal as an elder brother. As to relations, our relations must be between equal Parties based on firm principles where we strive for truth and not deceive ourselves. In all our documents, we state that our Parties are fraternal, not father and son. On signing the communique, I repeat that which was said before in the exchange of letters. On June 7, the Communist Party of the Soviet Union proposed an exchange of opinions but that these exchanges do not result in decisions. On June 23, I received a draft of the communique. I saw comrade GEORGHE GHEORGHIU-DEJ the next day. I asked for two days delay. It is easy for some of the other Parties because many of them are represented by their First Secretaries. We are not so represented. We have no such high placed peoples present here at this conference. We cannot act and make decisions as others are able to do.

Parenthetically speaking, it should be noted that this was considered a dig too, at the Secretaries of the parties present.

We insist that we did not received equal treatment at this meeting. As to labels, many were pinned on us in documents and speeches here, etc., we received our share and unjustly so. We did not want to take the floor but now we must because comrade KHRUSHCHEV accuses us of so much and pinned so many labels on us that we have to answer.

Parenthetically speaking, they had a reception opening the 3rd Congress of the Communist Party of Rumania Workers Party.

At the reception speech, comrade KHRUSHCHEV did not mention the Communist Party of China directly but he repeated plainly today his accusations against MAO TSE TUNG, against the general line, against the communes, against the great leaps, against the conflict with India and in general, said that we are mistaken. He charged that our meeting with the 17 Communist leaders who were present at the World Federation of Trade Unions meeting in Peking, was treacherous and that our speeches should be classified as crimes. While you demand for yourself that your speech be open to the whole world.

Parenthetically speaking, it should be noted that this means his speech before the World Communist Movement.

Is this Bolshevik discipline, Comrade KHRUSHCHEV? As to attacking you personally, we recognize you as a representative of the Soviet Union. We object to your speech at the reception of the Rumanian Workers Party while the bourgeois press was present. While you say we should not address trade union representatives, you let the bourgeois press listen in on us. The Central Committee of the Communist Party of China sent this delegation which conferred for eight hours in Moscow with the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. We talked with you, comrade KHRUSHCHEV, here for six hours. Comrade KHRUSHCHEV said in Moscow that EISENHOWER enjoys the full confidence of the American people. We object to this; is he, IKE, as sincere for peace as we are being told. Can we treat him as you do. Comrade MAO said, go to Moscow, see comrade KHRUSHCHEV, express our opinions by way of suggestions, try if possible to achieve unity. But all our proposals were rejected. We will study all remarks made here in keeping with reality but we will never agree that nothing is right in China.

KHRUSHCHEV interrupts:

In 1958, MAO told him, KHRUSHCHEV, that he, MAO, walked out demonstratively on MIKOYAN, while he was speaking.

An unknown Chinese comrade interrupted:

MAO did not come, he was not there, so how could he walk out.

KHRUSHCHEV, still interrupting:

In talking to our ambassador, MAO said our war experiences are better than the Russians. We Russians wanted to build a radio station on Chinese territory. We wanted to keep in contact with our submarine fleet. The Chinese comrades refused us this permission.

KHRUSHCHEV then turned around to the Chinese:

We never refused you any request. Later you said you would build this station but you never did to this day.

Parenthetically speaking, it should be noted that according to what was later heard, KHRUSHCHEV elaborated on this and asked what would be the consequences if there was a war because the Russians were not permitted to build this radio station.

PENG CHEN; losing his composure and dignity, stated:

The Soviet military experts in your academies and schools never deliver lectures on Chinese guerilla warfare. All they talk about is the anti-Nazi war.

KHRUSHCHEV said if it is a question of war there should be no such thing as cost or petty details. The mutual defense of our countries is for us to use together. There are no such stations there now in your country. The Imperialists can make war. There is no station. This question could have been solved in a few moments on the spot.

PENG CHEN said, I asked what kind of a conference we would have, an exchange of experiences or condemnation of our parties. Many are not familiar with the World Federation of Trade Unions and what happened at the Peking meeting but you condemn us. We will sign the Bucharest document, for the Communist cause of unity, whether the amendments will be accepted or rejected.

The question has been raised why in our speeches we do not talk of peaceful co-existence. We examined a translation and it was apparently left out. But I did refer to states of different social systems.

WALTER ~~ULBRICHT~~, Head of Germany, interrupts:

Why no word of peaceful co-existence?

PENG CHEN:

Because we talk of the fight for peace. We include this in all our documents.

KHRUSHCHEV:

Why did you read it when you read it to me in person?

No answer from PENG CHEN.

PENG CHEN takes the floor:

This meeting was deliberately organized by KHRUSHCHEV to attack our Party. You cannot convince MAO and convince me so you must resort to this method.

ULBRICHT:

You say you accidentally dropped these two words on such an important occasion with the whole world listening to you?

PENG CHEN:

If you study our speeches for two years, it will show that we refer to it at all times.

from Spain:

You Chinese comrades gathered all the Communist Party leaders in the World Federation of Trade Unions while in Peking. Why did you leave out the two Spanish delegates?

Parenthetically speaking, it should be noted that there were two delegates from Spain left out for showing disagreement with the Chinese beforehand.

No answer given.

KHRUSHCHEV interrupts:

We, at the latest Warsaw Treaty Conference, agreed not to publish any speeches or to make speeches about it. The Chinese delegate ~~KANG CHENG~~, who represented China in Warsaw at the Military Treaty Conference, did publish his speech. Q. A. P.

Parenthetically speaking, it should be noted that KHRUSHCHEV charged CHENG with violating the agreement of the Warsaw Treaty.

Another unknown Chinese comrade:

Stated that the speech did not refer to military matters or agricultural matters. We did not divulge any military secret out of Warsaw.

KHRUSHCHEV:

I will not hereafter participate in conferences with the Chinese comrades if the agreements will not be kept.

Chinese comrade:

We will do the same thing.

Soviet Delegate (believed to be BORIS PONOMAREV):

KANG CHENG is playing naive. You are an experienced political worker. We agreed in Warsaw not to publish documents but you admit you published it in reply to KHRUSHCHEV's speech at the reception (Warsaw).

KHRUSHCHEV jumps up:

In relation to Paris, the Summit, I said no international question can be solved without China, Indonesia, India and others to be represented there. The Imperialists said that KHRUSHCHEV torpedoed the Summit because he wants the Chinese and others present.

Another unknown Chinese jumped up:

We feel we are in the right; that we are corresponding to the Moscow declaration.

KHRUSHCHEV rejects the general line of our Party and is carrying on work with other Communist Parties to undermine the Communist Party of China. All Parties' opinion should be solicited.

French delegate of Central Committee: b6
b7c

We are fighting here for unity. We consider the methods you use (talking to the Chinese) and differences with our Parties are unforgivable. Our Trade Union comrades in Peking were faced with problems they did not know how to deal with. We knew we would discuss these problems here. It is not only the interests of the Communist Party of China that are involved here, it is the interest of my Party and all other Parties involved. The position of the Communist Party of China is illogical. The representative who just spoke, spoke incorrectly in treating the character of our meeting. In 1957, the Communist Party of the Soviet Union helped greatly and we all facilitated the work. Here comrades from all countries bring in reports that the line has proven correct, the general line of the struggle for peace. Among ourselves, the methods of the Communist movement must be used, not those used by the Chinese comrades at the peace conference or at the World Federation of Trade Unions. These methods are not to be used here.

GEORGE GHEORGHIU-DEJ:

He said that the differences remain despite all our efforts to convince the Chinese comrades. We did not achieve the results we expected. In the future, we hope we will succeed in convincing them of the line of the other Communist Parties. There will be a conference this autumn of the Communist Workers Party of the world in Moscow.

KHRUSHCHEV:

Let it be around the November 7 celebration. Since our trade unions take two days off and won't let us work on the 8th, let this conference begin on the 9th.

When the communique was issued on June 27, it was published first in the Rumanian Party paper "Scametria" (official organ of the Rumanian Party). It was officially signed by all Parties and approved by all the fraternal Parties present at this meeting.

Honorable Richard M. Nixon
The Vice President
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Dick:

I thought you would be interested in the following information obtained as a result of our over-all coverage of the Communist Party, USA, concerning statements made in Moscow, Russia, by Nikolai Mostovets and [redacted] during July, 1960. Nikolai Mostovets is head of the North and South American Section of the International Department, Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, and [redacted] is [redacted] of Eugene Dennis, National Chairman, Communist Party, USA.

Mostovets stated that the disagreements between the People's Republic of China and the Soviet Union involve matters of state as well as ideological differences between the communist parties of the two countries. According to Mostovets, the Chinese have asked the Russians for modern military weapons such as nuclear warheads, missiles and atomic bombs, but Russia has not complied with these requests.

[redacted] who has many contacts among leading members of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, stated that part of the problem between Red China and Russia is the refusal of Russia to grant Chinese requests for modern military weapons. Because the Communist Party of China has not gone along with the ideology of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union in regard to peaceful coexistence, the Soviet Union, as a state, has hesitated to grant requests of Red China for modern military weapons since Russia cannot anticipate what China might do with these weapons. [redacted] commented the Russians are afraid that perhaps China might drop a nuclear bomb on Formosa or on some other place and thereby trigger a world war.

CG 5824-S*, at the instructions of Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party (CP), USA, left Chicago, Illinois, 7-9-60 on a sixth Solo mission to Czechoslovakia and Russia. He returned to the United States on 7-31-60.

My memorandum 8-3-60 discloses that informant, at the suggestion of Boris Ponomarev, in charge of the International Department of the Central Committee of the CP of the Soviet Union (CPSU), returned home immediately in order to report to the CP, USA, leadership concerning the dispute which occurred between the CPSU and the CP of China (CPC) at the Third Congress of the Rumanian Workers' Party, held in Bucharest, Rumania, in June, 1960. At this Congress the Chinese felt that war is possible and even inevitable; that United States imperialism will resort to war; that to talk of coexistence and disarmament is to create illusions; and that the nature of imperialism has not changed. The CPSU did not agree with the Chinese viewpoints in these matters.

New York airtel 8-2-60 discloses that Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, Vice-Chairman of the CP, USA, attended the Conference of Communist Parties held in Bucharest, Rumania, in June, 1960, which Conference followed the Rumanian Congress. Flynn advised our informant that a running debate between Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Peng Chen, Vice-Chairman and Secretary General of the Standing Committee of the CPC, had taken place at this Conference. She substantiated the information furnished by Ponomarev concerning the disagreements that exist between the CPSU and the CPC.

CONFLICT OF VIEWS BETWEEN THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF CHINA AND THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF THE SOVIET UNION

Classified

NLE 86-120

(U)

For the past year and a half there has been a conflict of views between the Communist Party of China (CPC) and the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CPSU). At first this conflict was an ideological one; however, proceedings and discussions which took place at the Third Congress of the Rumanian Workers' Party held in June, 1960, in Bucharest, Rumania, and the Conference of Communist Parties which immediately followed, brought this conflict out into the open and disclosed that it was more deep-seated than at first believed. (U)

Soviet Charges Aired (U)

Prior to the Conference of Communist Parties, the CPSU sent a letter dealing with the ideological dispute between the CPC and the CPSU to all other communist parties. This letter dealt with disagreements between the two parties, among which were those pertaining to the Chinese communes and the doctrine of peaceful coexistence. This letter was read to the Conference and touched off a heated discussion among the delegates, particularly those delegates from China and the Soviet Union. (U)

In July, 1960, Boris Ponomarev, who is in charge of the International Department of the Central Committee of the CPSU and who attended the Conference, commented concerning the serious differences which exist between the CPC and the CPSU. According to Ponomarev, the CPSU does not agree with the expressed views of the Chinese when they say that (1) war is possible and even inevitable; (2) United States imperialism will resort to war; (3) to talk of coexistence and disarmament is to create illusions; and (4) the nature of imperialism has not changed. Ponomarev accused the Chinese of being critical of the Soviet Union in their provincial press and objected to the Chinese accusation that the CPSU had a one-sided line on "peaceful transition to socialism." ~~(U)~~

Ponomarev pointed out that although there is a peaceful road to socialism, in some cases "we" have recommended that some communist parties have to use the other road. Ponomarev felt it was most important that some of the facts concerning this dispute be brought to the attention of the Communist Party (CP), USA, leadership as soon as possible. ~~(U)~~

Khrushchev Widens the Breach ~~(U)~~

Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, Vice-Chairman of the CP, USA, and a member of the CP, USA, National Executive Committee, was in attendance at the Conference. Flynn, while in Prague, Czechoslovakia, during July, 1960, made statements concerning a running debate which took place at the Conference between Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and Peng Chen, Vice-Chairman and Secretary General of the Standing Committee of the CPC, which statements disclose there are real disagreements between the CPC and the CPSU. ~~(U)~~

Flynn stated that the tone for the Conference was set in accusations and counteraccusations exchanged between Khrushchev and Peng Chen. Peng Chen accused the CPSU of making slanderous charges against the CPC, to which Khrushchev retorted that the words of the Chinese comrades were very poisonous against the leaders of other CPs. ~~(U)~~

Premier Khrushchev, according to Flynn, indicated that the Soviet Union was concerned because of an aggravation of differences that exist between China and India relating to border conflicts. Khrushchev also stated that he could not agree with the CPC on its views that peace and coexistence are impossible; that imperialism has totality over the world; and that as long as imperialism exists, war is inevitable. ~~(U)~~

Khrushchev, according to Flynn, while engaged in a heated discussion with Peng Chen, accused the Chinese of refusing to allow the Russians to build a radio station on Chinese territory. In this respect Khrushchev stated that the Russians wanted to build a radio station on Chinese territory in order to keep in contact with the Russian submarine fleet; that the Chinese comrades refused the Russians this permission; and that the Chinese stated they would build the station but that they never have "to this day." ~~(U)~~

China Trains Latin Americans ~~X~~ (U)

Another activity of the Chinese communists which has greatly disturbed the Russians has been the Chinese relationship with Latin-American comrades. According to Ponomarev, the Chinese for six months have been training fifty Latin-American comrades and filling them with Chinese propaganda. Chinese instructors have expressed themselves in a very hostile manner against the CPSU and have inculcated the Latin-American comrades with an anti-CPSU spirit. The Chinese, according to Ponomarev, suggested to the comrades from Latin America that there should be an armed struggle and guerrilla warfare in Panama. They have preached to Brazilian comrades that the Brazilians need to resort to armed struggles and uprisings. Some of the Latin-American comrades are under the influence of the Chinese, especially in the fight against United States imperialism. ~~X~~ (U)

Chinese Reaction ~~X~~ (U)

Peng Chen, in defending the position of the Chinese, according to Flynn, announced at the Conference that China had entered into agreements with Burma and Nepal and that soon China will be able to produce thirty million tons of steel annually. Peng Chen went on to praise the Chinese communes and stated that other CPs should not interfere in the internal affairs of China just because they did not approve of the communes. ~~X~~ (U)

The Chinese delegates gave full attention to the criticisms and accusations leveled against the CPC by Premier Khrushchev. They feel that Khrushchev rejected the general line of the CPC and that he is carrying on work with other CPs to undermine the Chinese communists. However, the Chinese delegates agreed to sign the Bucharest document or communique to show that the communist cause is unified. Khrushchev said it was regrettable that the Chinese comrades would sign the communique with reservations when they did not agree with the document they were signing. According to Flynn, the vast majority of the CPs present at the Conference sided with the viewpoints and arguments of the CPSU. ~~X~~ (U)

Conflict Unresolved

(U)

Despite the discussions which took place at the Conference and the efforts to close the breach, the Conference ended without any settlement of the conflict of views between the two parties. Penemarev has remarked that the serious differences which exist and which were debated at the Conference are so deep that it has been decided to set up a commission to explore these disagreements in an effort to reconcile the divergent views expressed by the CPC and the CPSU. Penemarev stated that the purpose of this commission will be to explore these differences, talk them out and see what can be done; that perhaps this will only result in a big argument, but "we" do not know; and that "we" think the CP, USA, should send a representative of its National Executive Committee to participate in the work of this commission. The first meeting of this commission is tentatively set to meet in Moscow, Russia, in November, 1960. (U)

INFORMATION PERTAINING TO A PROPOSAL THAT BISHOP [REDACTED] IMPRISONED IN CHINA, BE EXCHANGED FOR WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

In a conversation with LADISLAV KOCMAN (phonetic), of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia, during the week of July 10, 1960, he said that WILLIAM L. PATTERSON had asked the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia if Czechoslovakia had any American prisoners it would be willing to exchange with the United States in order to permit WILLIAM Z. FOSTER to travel to Europe. The Communist Party of Czechoslovakia told PATTERSON that it was not interested in any such proposition.

JOHN PITTMAN, "The Worker" correspondent in Moscow, stated during July, 1960, that [REDACTED] FOSTER's personal physician, began the negotiations in China for a possible exchange of Bishop [REDACTED] who is imprisoned in China, for FOSTER. [REDACTED] brought word back from China that China would consider such a proposition. [REDACTED] also returned from China with material for FOSTER on the current ideological dispute between the Communist Party of China and the CPSU.

By way of comment, it now appears that the initiative for the proposal that Bishop [REDACTED] be exchanged for FOSTER came from FOSTER and was proposed by [REDACTED] and/or PATTERSON. The fact that [REDACTED] was in China and returned with material for FOSTER probably accounts for the fact that FOSTER had made arrangements for the micrographing of Chinese articles dealing with the dispute between the Communist Party of China and the CPSU.

On August 2, 1960, CUS HALL, General Secretary of the CP, USA, stated that he did not know anything about this proposed exchange until recently and certainly did not know anything about it prior to the time that either PATTERSON or [redacted] went abroad.

HALL stated that MARY KAUFMAN had spoken to a brother of Bishop [redacted] before he left the United States to visit the Bishop in China. The brother said that he would not do anything in regard to this proposal until he returned to the United States, since he did not want to jeopardize his trip to China in any way.

AND INFORMATION CONCERNING [REDACTED]

During July, 1960, NIKOLAI MOSTOVETS, head of the North and South American Section of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, stated that he had a discussion in Moscow with GERALDYNE LIGHTFOOT and [REDACTED] members of the National Committee of the CP, USA. He said that he had given them a brief description of the current ideological differences between the Communist Party of China and the CPSU.

MOSTOVETS stated that LIGHTFOOT wanted to go to Ghana from Russia in order to attend a conference of African women. The CPSU did not give her permission to do this. The reason for the refusal was that the CPSU did not want to create the impression with the governments of either Ghana or the United States that the CPSU had somebody in Moscow whom they had trained for this trip and who went from Moscow to Ghana with instructions, etc.

GERALDYNE LIGHTFOOT offered a counter proposal that she be permitted to go to another European country and leave from that country for Ghana. The CPSU also refused this request since LIGHTFOOT would have had to leave for Ghana in a few days after arriving in any other European country. The CPSU would give her permission to go to Ghana only if she first returned to the United States. LIGHTFOOT cried when she was given this information, and ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN interceded for LIGHTFOOT, but the CPSU would not change its decision.

MOSTOVETS also stated that [REDACTED] wanted to remain in Moscow for one year for the purpose of going to school. The CPSU also refused this request. [REDACTED] was told that the CPSU had done all it could do for her medically

During one of the many conversations with NIKOLAI MOSTOVETS, head of the North and South American Section of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, during the period between July 19 and July 27, 1960, he stated that, at that time, JOE NORTH and WILLIAM and LOUISE PATTERSON were in China.

MOSTOVETS said that he did not like the manner in which NORTH had made arrangements to go to China from Moscow, Russia. NORTH had persuaded JOHN PITTMAN, "The Worker" correspondent in Moscow, to take him to the Chinese Embassy in Moscow in order to obtain the necessary permission, visas, etc., for the trip from Moscow to China. Neither PITTMAN nor NORTH notified the CPSU that this was being done.

In a subsequent conversation, JOHN PITTMAN stated that he realized that he had made an error, and, in the future, would notify the CPSU before taking any American to the Chinese Embassy in Moscow.

CG 5824-S* on 8/2/60, called attention to a news item appearing on page one of the Tuesday, 8/2/60, edition of the New York Times. This item is captioned: 'Chou Asks U. S. Peace Pact; Seeks a Non-nuclear Zone.'

CG 5824-S* particularly pointed out the following quotation attributed to CHOU En lai in this article:

'Some provocateurs have accused China of having given up its policy of seeking peaceful relations with countries with differing social systems. These are slanders and not at all correct.'

In the opinion of CG 5824-S*, this statement is a result of the current dispute between the CP of the Soviet Union and the CP of China. The term provocateurs is addressed to the CP, SU, and is as strong a Marxist-Leninist term as CHOU En lai could use. The statement is aimed at the Russians, but is for the whole world to know. The statement is an indication that the CP of China is fighting for the allegiance of other CPs even if this means drawing those parties away from the allegiance to the CP, SU. The statement strongly infers that the CP of China feels that it is being framed by the CP, SU and thus reflects the depth of the current dispute between Russia and China.

INFORMATION CONCERNING ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN

U.S. ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN stated in Prague, Czechoslovakia, on Saturday, July 16, 1960, that when she first arrived in Russia, she and GERALDYNE LIGHTFOOT spent 28 days in the sanitarium of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. She said that this was before the U-2 incident, and she believes that the CPSU wanted to keep her and LIGHTFOOT out of sight in contemplation of the visit of President EISENHOWER to the Soviet Union.

FLYNN stated that she had made a short speech at the conference of the Communist Parties in Bucharest, Romania, in behalf of the CP, USA. In this speech, she supported the position of the CPSU as opposed to the position of the Communist Party of China.

Communist Party of the U.S.A.
BORIS PONOMAREV, head of the International Department of the Central Committee of the CPSU, confirmed that FLYNN made a speech at the Bucharest conference, and he praised her for supporting the viewpoint of the CPSU.

Members of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia also confirmed that FLYNN spoke at the Bucharest conference in defense of the position of the CPSU.

FLYNN stated that she plans to be in Europe at least until sometime in November, 1960.

INTERNAL SECURITY ACT OF 1950

Attention is directed to New York airtel to Bureau dated 8-3-60 entitled "Solo, IS - C," which sets out information obtained by CG 5824-S* that Mike Crenovich "worked" for an unidentified Russian in the U.S. It is also set out that the unidentified Russian asked what the Communist Party (CP), USA, had against Crenovich and CG 5824-S* commented he heard that Crenovich is under some suspicion in the New York District.

You are instructed to review this case thoroughly and to exert every effort to determine the nature of the "work" performed by the subject for the unidentified Russian. Follow closely efforts to identify the unknown Russian through CG 5824-S*. As soon as his identity has been determined, concentrate on activities of subject during the period the unknown Russian was in this country. It will be recalled that Crenovich's whereabouts was not known during the period February, 1954, until December, 1956.

Consider using every investigative technique to determine whether Crenovich is currently performing any type of assignment for a Russian principal. You should consider reviewing all bank accounts of subject and his wife for current activity and for any unusual deposits during the pertinent period when he was working for the unidentified Russian. Carefully evaluate the trip of subject to British Guiana in 1957 and the trip to Cuba in early 1959 for any connection with the unidentified Russian.

Letters dated 8/5/60 under a ~~"Top Secret"~~ classification were sent to the White House, the Vice President, the Secretary of State, the Director of CIA and the Attorney General furnishing them with information concerning the ideological dispute which took place at the Conference of Communist Parties in Bucharest, Rumania, in June, 1960, between the CPSU and the CP of China (CPC). At this Conference, an 84-page letter of the CPSU, which was addressed to the leadership of all communist parties, was read. This letter set out the ideological differences between the CPSU and the CPC. It is now believed that a resume of this letter, which was obtained by our informant from a member of the Central Committee of the CPSU while in Moscow, Russia, in July, 1960, should be made available to the "working level" of State, CIA, and the intelligence agencies of the Armed Forces.

Dear Mr. Dulles:

I thought you would be interested in the following information obtained as a result of our over-all coverage of the Communist Party, USA, concerning statements made in Moscow, Russia, by Nikolai Mostovets and Timmy Dennis during July, 1960. Nikolai Mostovets is head of the North and South American Section of the International Department, Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, and [redacted] of Eugene Dennis, National Chairman, Communist Party, USA.

Mostovets stated that the disagreements between the People's Republic of China and the Soviet Union involve matters of state as well as ideological differences between the communist parties of the two countries. According to Mostovets, the Chinese have asked the Russians for modern military weapons such as nuclear warheads, missiles and atomic bombs, but Russia has not complied with these requests.

Aug 9 1 06 PM '60

[redacted] who has many contacts among leading members of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, stated that part of the problem between Red China and Russia is the refusal of Russia to grant Chinese requests for modern military weapons. Because the Communist Party of China has not gone along with the ideology of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union in regard to peaceful coexistence, the Soviet Union, as a state, has hesitated to grant requests of Red China for modern military weapons since Russia cannot anticipate what China might do with these weapons. [redacted] commented the Russians are afraid that perhaps China might drop a nuclear bomb on Formosa or on some other place and thereby trigger a world war.

CG 5824-S*, on August 1, 1960, made available to SA JOHN E. KEATING for photostating a 24-page document with the caption "Peace: Key Problem of Today." The author is listed as TODOR ZHIVKOV. It is noted that ZHIVKOV is the First Secretary of the Central Committee of the Bulgarian Communist Party. One Photostat copy of this document is enclosed herewith to the Bureau and to the Chicago Division.

CG 5824-S* advised that he had learned that this article has been approved for the Russian edition of the "World Marxist Review." HARRY GURALNICK, representative from the Communist Party of Canada to the "World Marxist Review" in Prague, Czechoslovakia, stated on Thursday, July 28, 1960, that CHAO YI MIN, representative from the Communist Party of China to the "World Marxist Review" in Prague, stated at a meeting of the Editorial Board of the "World Marxist Review" that if this article was not withdrawn from the Russian edition of the "World Marxist Review," he would leave Prague immediately for Peking. As of the time CG 5824-S* left Prague to return to the United States, it was not known what action had been taken in regard to withdrawing the article or whether or not CHAO YI MIN left Prague for Peking.

As will be seen when additional information from CG 5824-S* is received in regard to the conference of Communist Parties in Bucharest, Rumania, in June, 1960, this article supports the position taken by the CPSU at this conference in regard to the possibility of peaceful coexistence and the non-inevitability of war. The article also answers criticisms directed toward the position of the CPSU. These criticisms were voiced by representatives of the Communist Party of China at the Bucharest conference.

While it is felt that the entire document is highly significant, particular attention is called to the following statements which appear on pages eight and nine:

"Its ultimate aim--world-wide victory of socialism over capitalism in peaceful competition between the two systems--stands out more clearly than ever. Marxist-Leninists never maintained that the two systems, not only different but actually antagonistic, would co-exist eternally. The Communists have never granted capitalism the privilege of eternal existence. They have always fought and will continue to fight for the establishment of the new, progressive social system on our planet. The laws of social development are such that class struggle in the capitalist countries will inevitably lead to socialist revolution in one form or another."

Attention is also called to the following statements on pages nineteen and twenty:

"The conclusion that peaceful transition from capitalism to socialism is possible has greatly helped the Communist Parties to rally the mass of the people round the working class and has exploded the myth that the Communists believe that socialism can only be achieved by armed force. At the same time, the Communists stress that it is inadmissible

"to make absolute the thesis on peaceful transition to socialism; they do not exclude the possibility of armed struggle, should the capitalists, during a ripening revolutionary crisis, resort to the use of force."

Also, the following statements on pages twenty-one and twenty-two:

"The Communists maintain that the Leninist concept about just and unjust wars is still valid. They welcome any war of liberation when it becomes inevitable and are always ready to support with all means at their disposal the peoples fighting for freedom."

PEACE: KEY PROBLEM OF TODAY

Nikolai Zhukov

The representatives of the Communist and Workers' parties of the socialist countries who attended the Third Congress of the Rumanian Workers' Party met in Bucharest in June and discussed the international situation.

Over recent years the meetings and conferences of fraternal parties have become the normal practice of the international communist movement. The Communist parties have a single aim and a common ideology -- Marxism-Leninism. It is quite natural, therefore, that they regard it as their duty to consult each other and exchange views. "...It is expected," reads the Declaration of the Moscow (1957) meeting, "besides bilateral meetings of leading workers and exchange of information to hold, as the need arises, more representative conferences of Communist and Workers' parties to discuss current problems, share experience, study each others' views and attitudes and coordinate action in the joint struggle for the common goals -- peace, democracy and socialism."

The Bucharest meeting was also attended by the representatives of thirty-eight Communist parties from the capitalist countries who unanimously approved its communiqué. So the Bucharest communiqué reflects the common views of the world communist movement on the fundamental problems of today.

The main world problem today is that of war and peace. And they were the principal item on the agenda of the Bucharest meeting. It is nearly three years since the policy documents of the world communist movement -- the Declaration and the Peace Manifesto -- were approved. During that time many changes have taken place in the international field. Do these changes confirm the general course of development of our times, as indicated by the Declaration and the Manifesto? Have the basic conclusions set out in those documents withstood the test of time? The answers to these questions, on which depends the correct orientation of the Communist parties, were provided by the Bucharest meeting, which has thus rendered great service to the world communist movement.

The Basic Features of the Epoch

The participants in the Bucharest meeting arrived at the unanimous conclusion that international developments and the progress of the socialist countries had fully confirmed the soundness of the concepts of the Declaration and the Peace Manifesto on the possibility of preventing wars in our epoch, on the need to be on the alert against the danger of war -- since, as long as imperialism exists, there will always be conditions for aggressive wars, -- as well as on the various forms of transition to socialism.

The concepts of the Moscow Declaration have proved to be correct precisely because they are based not on accidental or transient factors but on a comprehensive Marxist-Leninist analysis of the basic features of our epoch and a profound understanding of the essence of the objective economic and social processes. "The main content of our epoch," reads the Declaration, "is the transition from capitalism to socialism which was begun by the Great October Socialist Revolution in Russia. Today more than a third of the population of the world -- over 950 million people -- have taken the socialist road and are building a new life.... With regard to the greater part of mankind, imperialism has lost its one-time domination." This extremely concise and at the same time all-embracing characterization indicates the main direction of mankind's development today. It also enriches Marxism-Leninism with a new theoretical conclusion generalizing the great changes that have taken place since the war.

It is common knowledge that in elaborating their strategy and tactics Marxist-Leninists were guided for many years by the definition of our epoch as an epoch of imperialism, wars and proletarian revolutions. This concept, which was of incalculable value to the theory and practice of Marxism, was put forward in the period ^{of} imperialism's undisputed rule, when its laws determined both internal and international relations throughout the world.

The most important conclusion that followed from this definition was that wars were inevitable. The law of uneven economic and political development of capitalism, which constantly produces conditions leading to military conflicts, is an inexorable law of imperialism. When this law knows no restrictions, when imperialism dominates the world, wars are inevitable. Under these conditions the aggressive nature of imperialism gives rise to military cataclysms with the irresistible force of a volcanic eruption.

But the dialectics of history lie in the fact that the self-same laws of monopoly capitalism which are the cause of wars lead in the final analysis to its destruction. The increasing unevenness of the imperialist economic and political development makes it vulnerable to proletarian revolution. In view of this the imperialist front is broken at its weakest link where conditions favourable for the victory of the proletariat have been created.

The October Revolution put an end to the rule of imperialism on one-sixth of the globe. This started the irreversible historic process of the transition to socialism. After the Second World War a whole group of European and Asian countries took the socialist road. Imperialism was unable to prevent the rise of the socialist world system and the spread of laws and international relations of a new type to a large part of the world.

The socialist countries occupy a vast territory; they have inexhaustible natural resources; their population numbers nearly a thousand million; they account for over one-third of the world's industrial output. Socialism is a rising and victorious system, the prototype of a new civilization, the future of all mankind. The economic potential of the socialist countries lies in rapid, planned development, in the uninterrupted growth of their industrial might. Socialism has demonstrated, for all to see, its great advantages over capitalism in all spheres of life, and above all in its main sphere -- material production. The rate of economic development is much higher than that of capitalism, it leads scientific and technological progress and has expanded its productive forces on a gigantic scale. The Soviet scientific and technological discoveries have determined the main directions of the modern scientific and technological revolution, they represent the revolutionizing element in the development of productive forces, which has a great influence on the relationships between people and changes their traditional views and concepts.

On the development and strengthening of socialism depends the scope of the national-liberation movement which has inflicted a serious defeat on imperialism in its rear -- the colonies. In 1939 the population of the colonies and semi-colonies amounted to about 1,500 million, i.e., almost two-thirds of the world's population. Today the overwhelming majority of these countries with a population of 1,400 million are developing independently. Although the young Afro-Asian countries which have won independence remain for the most part within the framework of the capitalist economy, many of them, far from being a political reserve of imperialism, are carrying on a determined struggle against it, thus forming, together with the socialist States, a vast zone of peace.

The growth of the socialist forces and the rise of the national-liberation struggle have rapidly shrunk the sphere of imperialist domination and the sphere of operation of its laws. Moreover, the power of imperialism is being increasingly sapped by its internal and external contradictions -- the rivalry between the imperialist powers, the anarchy of production, crises and the class struggle. All this indicates that in the future, too, imperialism will continue to decline and the contradictions underlying this process will continue to sharpen.

Such being the conditions, would it be correct to characterize our epoch simply and solely as an epoch of imperialism, wars and revolutions? No, this view would be one-sided and dogmatic, nor does it take into account the new balance of forces.

Lenin taught us, in defining an epoch, to take into account its fundamental characteristics, and not the laws and tendencies which are doomed by history to be relegated farther and farther to the background. "There are and there will be in each epoch," he wrote, "separate, partial movements now forward, now backward, there are and there will be various deviations from the average type and the average rate of the movements. We cannot know how rapidly and how successfully the separate historical movements of the given epoch will develop. But we can know and we do know which class is the pivot of a particular epoch, determining its main content, the main direction of its development, the main peculiarities of the historical scene of this epoch, etc."† These Leninist concepts are the key to the definition of our epoch as well. In assessing it it is wrong to ignore the changes, not to see which social force is now in the centre of the historical events.

In the spotlight is the community of States with the working-class dictatorship which, in the final count, wields a decisive influence on world politics. And this means that our epoch is not simply an epoch of imperialism and wars.

It is an epoch of the disintegration of imperialism, an epoch of revolutions, of transition from capitalism to socialism, of the rise, consolidation and victory of the socialist world system.

But such being the case, the laws of imperialism which lead to wars can no longer have the same scope for their development which they had in the past. They are pressured, restricted, relegated to the background and cede the historic arena to the laws of socialist society. The operation of these laws leads to the consolidation of peace, to the establishment of international relations of a new type, relations that know no wars and no violence.

The General Line In International Relations

The assessment of the basic features of our epoch given by the international communist movement is the theoretical point of departure in providing a correct solution to the main problems of world politics. An analysis of the character of the epoch has demonstrated that certain Marxist-Leninist concepts which were absolutely correct in the past can no longer be applied without qualification to the new situation. The conclusions drawn by the Twentieth and Twenty-First congresses of the C.P.S.U. and by the Moscow Meeting of the Communist parties have enriched the theory of Marxism-Leninism and have had a tremendous impact on the entire work of the Communist Parties

In our times the rate of social development has been enormously accelerated. The more complicated conditions make it more urgent than ever for the working-class parties to find the decisive link in the chain of events and define their main tasks. The world communist movement has arrived at the conclusion that the alternative -- war or peaceful coexistence -- is the fundamental issue of world politics today. "The defence of peace is the most important world-wide task of the day," stressed the Moscow Declaration.

The possibility of peaceful coexistence of states with different social systems has been confirmed even before the rise of the socialist world. For twenty years the Soviet Union successfully went ahead in spite of the capitalist encirclement. But at that time the law inherent in the epoch of imperialist domination -- the alternation of war and peace periods -- was still valid. Only now have conditions appeared which make this alternation no longer inevitable.

The content of peaceful coexistence has thus been enriched and deepened. Its ultimate aim -- world-wide victory of socialism over capitalism in peaceful competition between the two systems -- stands out more clearly than ever. Marxist-Leninists never maintained that the two systems, not only different but actually antagonistic, would co-exist eternally. The Communists have never granted capitalism the privilege of eternal existence. They have always fought and will continue to fight for the establishment of the new, progressive social system on our planet. The laws of social development are such that the class struggle in the capitalist countries will inevitably lead to socialist revolution in one form or another.

Nor does peaceful coexistence mean a repudiation of struggle on the international arena. Since the time when the first socialist State appeared and the world was divided into two systems, the struggle between them has never ceased, and it cannot cease, since this struggle is a form of class struggle on a world-wide scale. But should it necessarily develop into a military conflict? The Marxist-Leninists maintain that this is not inevitable. Peaceful coexistence presupposes that military means should not be used in deciding the issues; it does not imply the cessation of struggle between the two systems either on the ideological, political or economic fronts. Economic competition can and should be the principal field of this struggle.

That the struggle between the two camps will continue is certain. The question now is -- what forms of this struggle are in the best interests of the working class, of socialism and of mankind as a whole? At present the balance of forces is such that the socialist countries are in a position to crush imperialism by force of arms. But this way to the victory of socialism is utterly alien to the spirit of Marxist-Leninist ideology and to the nature of socialism as the most humane social system. A nuclear war would take the toll of hundreds of millions, would cause tremendous destruction of the productive forces and the cultural values created through the centuries. Everybody knows that a nuclear war is fraught with frightful consequences for future generations. The socialist countries have never been nor will they ever be initiators of war.

The superiority in armaments attained by a particular imperialist country has always been a stimulus to aggression. In the socialist countries military superiority serves the aims of defence and is a powerful factor in preventing the unleashing of war -- a factor for peace. For, to use the words of Khrushchov, even the madman Hitler, had he realized that war against the U.S.S.R. would end in his crushing defeat, would not have taken his fatal decision.

Marxist-Leninists are politicians who think realistically. They do not shut their eyes to the difficulties in the fight for peaceful coexistence, they see clearly and recognize the depth of the main contradiction of our epoch. They are aware that the policy of aggression and war is as inherent in imperialism as the policy of peace is inherent in socialism. ~~The Communist and Workers' parties have never associated, nor~~ can they associate, their confidence in the possibility of averting war with the hope that the nature of imperialism will change. Illusions of this kind have nothing to do with Marxism-Leninism. But in order correctly to answer the question about the possibility of peaceful coexistence and the prevention of war it is not enough to take into account only the character of imperialism. This would be a dogmatic approach which could lead only to one conclusion -- that even under present conditions war is still inevitable. Lenin said repeatedly that the answer to the questions posed by life should be sought not in empty generalization but in the analysis of the actual situation. "Only an objective consideration of the sum-total of reciprocal relations of all the classes of a given society without exception, and, consequently, a consideration of the objective stage of development of that society and of the reciprocal relations between it and other societies," he wrote, "can serve as a basis for correct tactics of the advanced class."

Our confidence that the principle of peaceful coexistence will triumph is based precisely on this objective analysis of the present stage of social development.

One cannot fail to see that although the content and aims of imperialist policy have not changed, the possibilities of their implementation are far from being what they were in the epoch when imperialism dominated the world. Marxists have never taken a fatalistic view of objective social laws, including those which engender wars. They maintain that the struggle of the masses can restrict the operation of these laws, become a serious obstacle blocking the way to the unleashing of war. Even in the past the imperialists did not, on every occasion, succeed in realizing their own plans. Circumstances were often stronger than their desires. Now that the sphere of imperialism has shrunk and the world balance of forces has changed fundamentally in favour of socialism, the contradiction between the aims of imperialist policy and the possibilities of their implementation has so deepened that the solution of questions of war and peace depends less and less on the will and desires of the imperialist bourgeoisie. The peace forces, the bulwark of which is the socialist camp, now have everything at their disposal.

to force the imperialists to abandon war and impose on them the policy of peaceful coexistence. "He who does not understand this," said Khrushchov in a speech at the Third Congress of the Rumanian Workers' Party, "does not believe in the strength and creative abilities of the working class, underestimates the might of the socialist camp, has no trust in the great attractive power of socialism, which has demonstrated its obvious superiority over capitalism."

The confidence that peaceful coexistence is possible, confidence which is based on scientific foundations, makes the foreign policy of the Soviet Union and of the entire socialist camp dynamic and purposeful. All Soviet actions in the international field are aimed at easing tension, at settling outstanding issues by negotiation. The Soviet Government's proposals on general and complete disarmament and for a ban on nuclear weapons point the way to peaceful coexistence. The Soviet sincere stand on disarmament, a stand which is always backed up by practical deeds and proposals, blows up all the arguments of the cold-war men who spread slanders about "the aggressive nature" of socialism.

The slogan that war can be prevented and banished forever from the world has a great mobilizing force. It rouses the masses to fight the war danger and inspires them with confidence that this struggle is not futile and can realize the ancient dream of mankind -- eternal peace. On the other hand, to say that war is inevitable in our times is to doom the peoples to passively waiting for the nuclear holocaust, to paralyze their will to fight for peace, to sap their belief in the possibility of peaceful coexistence. An attitude of this kind does not promote the cause of peace.

Since the Moscow Declaration was accepted the might of the socialist camp -- the chief bulwark of peace -- has further increased. The participants in the Bucharest meeting noted with a feeling of profound satisfaction that "the great commonwealth of the countries of socialism is developing and gaining strength day by day. The camp of socialism is flourishing." In 1959 industrial output in the socialist countries exceeded ^{by} more than 5.7 times the prewar level, and in the past three years it has shown a 33.7 per cent increase, whereas in the capitalist countries the increase was only 5 per cent.

The people of the Soviet Union have started work on the great seven-year plan, thereby opening a new stage in the history of their country -- the all-out building of communist society. The rate of economic development in all the People's Democracies is also high. The great Chinese people are successfully carrying out the task of catching up with Britain in the output of the chief industrial goods in the next ten years or less. Several of the People's Democracies have already laid the foundations of socialism, others are approaching the solution of this task. Socialist production relations have triumphed in the Czechoslovak economy. The economic basis of socialism has been built in Rumania. In their struggle to build socialism and communism the Communist and Workers' parties of the socialist countries are guided by the main laws, formulated in the Declaration, for all the countries which have taken the road to socialism.

The people of Bulgaria are also making their contribution to the growing might of the socialist camp. During the years of people's power Bulgaria, hitherto an economically backward country, has developed into a socialist State with advanced industry and modern agriculture. Socialism has triumphed in town and countryside, it holds undisputed sway in all spheres of the country's life. The Seventh Congress of the Communist Party laid down the Party's general line -- to complete, in the next few years, the building of the material-technological base of socialism and the building of socialist society in Bulgaria. Our people are working to fulfil the third five-year plan ahead of schedule. Last year industrial output increased 24.9 per cent compared with 1958, agricultural output also showed a marked increase. This year, too, our national economy is making rapid headway. Never in the history of our country has economic development been so rapid, and never have the creative energies and activities of the masses acquired so wide a sweep.

The successes of the socialist countries and their peace policy have an ever-increasing effect on the international situation. Because of this the principle of peaceful coexistence advanced by the first socialist State is gaining wide support and is becoming a standard of relations between the States. It is the guiding principle in the foreign policy of most of the newly-liberated countries and even of some of the old bourgeois States.

The aggressive U.S. circles, it is true, have succeeded in torpedoing the summit conference on which the people placed great hopes for the peaceful solution of the issues. But this aggressive action has boomeranged on to its initiators -- the U.S. reactionaries. The Soviet Government has exposed them as treacherous enemies of peace. And it is no accident that the shameful failure of their provocation was followed by a series of crushing defeats for the U.S. Administration and an unprecedented decline of its prestige. The foreign policy of the U.S. imperialists is nothing but an example, in the new conditions, of those "frenzied ravings of the bourgeoisie" of which Lenin spoke in his time. He said that these "ravings" had to be taken into account and could not be ignored, that the working class and its Party must march firmly along the road charted by history itself.

The aggressive actions of the U.S. rulers are yet another reminder that the imperialists have not abandoned their attempts to wreck the cause of peace and unleash war. For this reason it is necessary for the peoples to be constantly on the alert and always be ready to repel the aggressors. But the events which have taken place do not by any means change the objective situation, nor do they alter the present world balance of forces and the main direction in the development of international relations. To succumb to the provocations of the aggressors would mean to erase the gains of recent years in the struggle for ^adétente and to follow in the wake of the imperialists and surrender the initiative in foreign policy.

The socialist countries and the world communist movement do not intend to deviate from their chosen course. Peaceful coexistence is not a temporary policy depending on circumstances, but a general line of development of international relations, the road to world socialism.

Prevention of War and the Class Struggle

Peaceful coexistence is not simply an official policy of the socialist countries but an important principle of the communist movement as a whole. "The Communist parties regard the struggle for peace as their foremost task," said the 1957 Declaration. Guided by the lofty principles of humanism in the fight for peace the Communists act in full accord with the class interests of the working-class movement. The growing interdependence of the struggle for peace and for the class interests of the working people is an essential feature of the anti-war movement of today. That is why Communists are confident that the lessening of tension and the ending of the cold war help the working class to fight with greater success for both its immediate and long-term aims. Is this confidence well placed? The answer to this question can be found in the results and the nature of the activities of the Communist parties in the capitalist countries to put into effect the ideas and principles of the 1957 Declaration. Representatives of these parties said at the Bucharest meeting that their parties, being the most consistent and resolute organizers of their peoples' fight for international détente, for peaceful coexistence, had improved their contact with the masses, had gained still greater influence and prestige. The same conclusion was confirmed by the decisions taken by the C.C. meetings of many parties held after the Bucharest meeting.

Hardly anyone can now deny that the cold war strengthens the rule of aggressive monopoly capital, is an instrument for dividing the working class and all democratic forces and is the mainstay of reaction in its attack on the working people. The cold war helps the reactionaries to deceive the workers and prejudice them against socialism. Any aggravation of international tension always lets loose a spate of anti-communist slander, encourages the fascist elements and is accompanied by attacks on the rights of the people. On the other hand even a slight thaw in the international climate furthers the class struggle and the working people's fight for their social and political demands. There is no doubt that the defeat of McCarthyism in the United States in the mid-fifties was caused by a certain easing of tension. It is not without reason that the most reactionary regimes like those in Western Germany and Spain are sensitive even to a slight easing of tension.

It is extremely important that the periods of international détente become closely associated in the minds of people, even those led astray by imperialist propaganda, with the peace policy of the Soviet Union. Thanks to this policy the idea that war is inadmissible becomes more deeply rooted in people's minds. This is an invaluable contribution to the cause of peace. To a great extent this is due to Khrushchov's personal initiative, his visits to the countries of Asia and Europe, to the United States and France, his close contacts with people in capitalist countries. The Soviet peace efforts have produced another important result. They have been responsible for the fact that the ideas of peace are being associated more and more with the activities of the Communists and with their ideology -- Marxism-Leninism. The working people can see the clear-cut class differences and the stands taken by the different parties. The knowledge that in this age of atom and hydrogen bombs human progress above all requires peace, dispels the prejudice against the Communists who tie up their political and class aims with peaceful coexistence and the struggle against war and aggression. The determination to prevent war and secure peace has facilitated the spread of Marxist-Leninist ideas, the growing prestige of socialism and the strengthening of the positions of the Communist parties. This has been a vital factor in developing the class struggle and the democratic movement in the capitalist countries.

It is argued that peaceful coexistence hinders the successful development of the class struggle, ideologically disarms the working-class movement and strengthens the positions of the bourgeoisie. This view stems from a misunderstanding of the peculiarities of the present stage in the struggle for socialism, of the contradictory nature of the class relations and their complexity in the capitalist countries. The point is that the rapid concentration of capital and the rapid growth of state-monopoly capitalism objectively set the interests of the shrinking group of the monopoly capitalists sharply up against the interests of the overwhelming majority of the people. The power of the monopolists involves drastic deterioration in the economic position of the masses and is also a source of political reaction and arbitrary action. The ruling groups of monopoly capitalists are the chief enemies of peace, and the main hindrance to the easing of tension. This being so, the peace movement today inevitably takes the form of mass actions against monopoly domination, which brings it still closer to the struggle of the working class and the working people generally for democratic liberties and rights.

The struggle for democracy is linked by a thousand ties with the struggle for socialism. Profound democratic changes undermining and limiting the power of the monopolists are a guarantee of success in the class struggle waged by the proletariat for socialism. Peace is now the demand of the masses, a demand near and dear to millions of common people in all parts of the world. It enables the working class to rally around it broad sections of the people including those who are ready to fight the monopolists but are not yet ready to accept the ideas of socialism.

In this way conditions are being created which enable the working class to establish broad class alliances, to win over the bulk of the people and completely isolate the monopoly capitalists, and this makes the peaceful transition to socialism possible in a number of capitalist countries. This new theoretical conclusion of the world communist movement, reaffirmed by the Bucharest meeting, is closely linked with the idea of the possibility of preventing wars, with the policy of peaceful coexistence and the easing of international tension. All these concepts are based on a new understanding of the existing situation and proceed from the fact that socialism is more and more gaining the upper hand over capitalism.

The conclusion that peaceful transition from capitalism to socialism is possible has greatly helped the Communist parties to rally the mass of the people round the working class and has exploded the myth that the Communists believe that socialism can only be achieved by armed force. At the same time the Communists stress that it is inadmissible to make absolute the thesis on peaceful transition to socialism; they do not exclude the possibility of armed struggle, should the capitalists during a ripening revolutionary crisis resort to the use of force.

Thus, an analysis of the relationship between the fight for peace and the revolutionary movement of our times reveals that any counterposing of them means, in essence, a negation of the independent significance of the democratic tasks in the attainment by the working class of its fundamental aims. This counterposing leads to sectarianism, to isolating the working class and, in the final analysis, does harm to the cause of socialism. In this connection the resolution of the Rome meeting of the 17 Communist parties of the European capitalist countries is of great significance; basing itself on current developments, this meeting mapped out a comprehensive programme of action in the spirit of the indivisible unity of the main trends of the mass struggle for peace, democracy and socialism. This programme contained an Appeal to All Workers, to All Democrats, confirmed and further developed the main ideas of the 1957 Declaration and the Peace Manifesto within the context of capitalist Europe.

The struggle for peaceful coexistence and an international détente has a positive effect not only on the development of the class struggle in the capitalist countries but also on the growth and consolidation of the national-liberation movements. During the years of the great "peace offensive" of the Soviet Union and the socialist countries the process of disintegration of the colonial system has been greatly accelerated. The zone of peace has been extended, activated and strengthened. Victorious revolutions have taken place in Iraq and Cuba; Africa is in ferment -- over ten newly independent States have appeared on its map. All this testifies that the basic factors enabling the progressive forces to impose peaceful coexistence on imperialism -- the growth of the economic might and military potential of the socialist camp, its active and far-sighted foreign policy, the development of the mass struggle in the imperialist countries -- create a climate in which it will be more and more difficult for the colonialists to carry out their military gambles, to suppress the national-liberation movements, unleash "local wars" against the nations which have won independence.

Peaceful coexistence implies that war should be repudiated as a means of settling differences, and makes it incumbent on all States to observe the principle of non-interference in the affairs of other nations. Standing guard over this principle is the mighty Soviet Union and the whole socialist camp, which protect the newly independent States against imperialist encroachments. Thanks to the growing might of the socialist countries, the former colonies are now in a position to achieve independence in a less painful way, without war. This, of course, does not mean that the just wars of liberation have become a thing of the past. The Communists maintain that the Leninist concept about just and unjust wars is still valid. They welcome any war of liberation when it becomes inevitable and are always ready to support with all means at their disposal the peoples fighting for freedom.

The aid given by the socialist countries is of tremendous importance in strengthening the sovereignty of the newly liberated countries, in abolishing their economic backwardness and in developing their productive forces. When helping these countries the socialist States proceed from the fact that not all the national bourgeoisie in power in these countries are reactionary, in many cases they continue to voice the interests of the country as a whole. Secondly, the foreign policy of the young independent States, which form part of the peace zone, makes an active contribution to peaceful coexistence and the anti-imperialist struggle. The main principle of the policy of the socialist camp in relation to the former colonies is non-interference in their internal affairs. The main aim of this policy is to help the underdeveloped nations sweep away the vestiges of colonialism and assist ⁱⁿ their regeneration.

This proves that the implementation of the principles proclaimed in the Declaration and the Peace Manifesto, the struggle of the Communists for an international détente and peaceful coexistence facilitate progress in all spheres of life in the world today.

x x x

The strength of the Communists lies in their unity. This unity calls for the unshakeable solidarity of the community of the socialist States and the mutual support of all the national detachments of the world-wide army of Communists. The great significance of the Bucharest meeting lies in the fact that it has counterposed this monolithic unity to the attempts of the imperialist aggressors, after frustrating the summit conference, to rekindle war psychosis, to intensify the slander campaign against the socialist countries and increase the pressure on the democratic and working-class movement.

The Communist parties of the whole world have unanimously supported the decisions of the Bucharest meeting, thereby demonstrating their determination to fight to the end for the realization of the working class ideals.

A meeting of the Central Committee of our Party in the middle of July expressed in its resolution complete support for and solidarity with the political assessments and conclusions of the communiqué. Our Party fully supports the fundamental concepts of the Declaration and the Peace Manifesto concerning the nature of the present situation and the tasks arising from it for the entire communist movement. "The Central Committee of the Bulgarian Communist Party declares," says the resolution adopted on July 13, "that the Party, the Government and the whole of the people support and will continue to support with all their forces the peace policy of the Soviet Union, they are fighting and will continue to fight for the triumph of the policy of peace and peaceful coexistence of the States with different social systems both throughout the world and in the Balkans, they will make their contribution to the victory in peaceful competition with capitalism, while building up the might of socialist Bulgaria."

Together with the world communist movement the Bulgarian Communist Party is fully determined to combat both revisionism which distorts the revolutionary principles of Marxism-Leninism and dogmatism which hinders the creative development and application of the Marxist-Leninist theory in the situation as it is today. While revisionism, being a manifestation of unprincipled opportunism, leads to the destruction of the revolutionary essence of the working-class movement and the betrayal of its interests, dogmatism, fixed ideas and the substitution of the trite reiteration of old formulas for a concrete analysis of reality are breeding grounds for sectarianism and political adventurism. To achieve success in the struggle for socialism it is necessary constantly to fight on two fronts -- against revisionism and against dogmatism. Narrow nationalist tendencies can also be a serious danger to the communist movement.

The world communist movement rests firmly on the basis of creative Marxism. Active theoretical work, the search for new bold solutions to questions posed by life on the basis of the general principles of Marxism-Leninism -- these are the characteristics of Communists. Creative approach to the Marxist-Leninist theory enabled the Communist parties in 1957 to elaborate a programme of action which has been fully justified by subsequent events. The whole history of the communist movement shows that only this approach to theory can serve as a basis for a stable and active unity of the genuinely revolutionary parties and the world communist movement as a whole. Our unity is a guarantee of the final victory of our great cause.

Discussion Between Tim Buck, General Secretary of the CP of Canada and Morris Childs, Chairman of the International Affairs Department of the CP, USA

Morris Childs, Chairman of the International Affairs Department of the CP, USA, arrived in Toronto, Canada, during evening of August 3, 1960, and registered at a hotel. Childs telephonically contacted Tim Buck, General Secretary of the CP of Canada, and was at Buck's residence from approximately 11:30 p.m. until 3:30 a.m. on August 4, 1960. Prior to Child's departure from Toronto, for New York City, in the early evening of August 4, 1960, Buck came to Child's hotel room where the discussion was continued.

Childs had made this trip to Toronto, to see Tim Buck as a result of a conversation in New York City, on August 3, 1960, with Bess Mascolo, Buck's common-law wife. She had stated that Buck wanted to convey a message to Gus Hall, General Secretary of the CP, USA, that he had reached a conclusion similar to that of Hall in regard to the current ideological dispute between the CP of the Soviet Union and the CP of China. Buck's conclusion was based on a reading of Chinese documents and not on any other information. Mascolo stated that Buck knew that Childs had firsthand information concerning this dispute. She stated that Buck was anxious to receive this information, but he had to leave Toronto on Friday, August 5, 1960, for a CP school in Western Canada. Mascolo complained that the CP of Canada gives the CP, USA plenty of assistance, but that it seems to be a one way street since the CP, USA does not reciprocate and help the CP of Canada.

Childs briefed Buck on two items only and these were the conference of Communist Parties held in Bucharest, Rumania, in June, 1960, at which there was a running debate between Nikita Khrushchev and Peng Cheng, and the letter of the CP, SU to other Communist Parties which dealt with the ideological dispute between the CP of the Soviet Union and the CP of China.

~~MRS. HARRY KURALNICK~~ ANNIE ~~KURALNICK~~

Buck stated that he had received a note from Annie ~~Buller~~ in Prague, Czechoslovakia, in which she stated that Childs would brief him on these matters.

Buck stated that five days previously, he had visited with the First Secretary to the Soviet Ambassador to Canada (Amazasp P. Arutyunyan).

ENCLOSURE

Buck said that he had asked him about the current Russian-Chinese problems. Buck stated that this guy said that he knew nothing. Buck said that he could not get one word from him on the Soviet-Chinese situation or what had happened in Bucharest, Rumania.

Buck then pledged Childs to secrecy and told him the following:

Buck had arrived at a conclusion similar to Gus Hall. That conclusion was that there is something wrong with the Chinese position. Then Buck stated, however, my chief helper, Leslie Morris fell for the Chinese position. Buck said that it took him days to convince Morris to shift away from the Chinese position.

CANADA CUBA

Buck said that he had written an article dealing with the ideological dispute between the CP, SU and the CP of China, but the Secretariat of the CP of Canada, advised Buck to withhold the printing of the article. Buck said that as a result of the information he received from Childs, he is now sorry that he had not released the article for publication, and that Childs had saved his (political) life since there are still a few leftists around in the CP of Canada.

Buck stated that presently there are two CP schools in progress in Canada. One is in Winnipeg and the other is in Vancouver. Buck stated that he was leaving on Friday, August 5, 1960, to lecture at the school in Winnipeg. He plans to be in Winnipeg for four or five days and then return to Toronto. Sometime later, he will make a trip to the West Coast of Canada.

According to Buck, Leslie Morris is teaching at the other school in Vancouver. Morris plans to attend the Congress of the Partida Socialista Popular, the CP of Cuba, which is scheduled to start on August 16, 1960. Morris plans to go to Havana, from Vancouver. Buck stated, however, that he will get to Morris the information that he, Buck, had received from Childs prior to the departure of Morris for Havana.

Buck mentioned that on August 5, 1960, a delegation of 23 Canadians, mostly Ukrainians, was leaving Canada for the Soviet Union by boat. Buck said that he could send a message to the CP, SU for Childs with the head of this delegation. It was agreed, however, that it would take too long for this message to get to the CP, SU since the delegation was travelling by boat. Then Buck stated that on August 9, 1960, the Soviet Ambassador to Canada (Arutyunyan) will return to Russia by air for a few days. Buck said that he could get messages to the CP, SU through the ambassador. It was agreed that Buck would send the following message for Childs: Childs arrived safely in the United States and immediately discussed with Gus Hall and Eugene Dennis the political problems he had discussed in Moscow. The National Executive Committee of the CP, USA is scheduled to meet during the weekend of August 6-7 to discuss these problems. Childs also delivered the Russian camera to Hall and the 18 karat gold watches from the CP, SU to Hall, Dennis and Foster and they wish to express their thanks to the CP, SU. The message also states that Childs had contacted Tim Buck of the CP of Canada and conveyed to him information concerning the Bucharest conference and the letter of the CP, SU concerning the ideological dispute between the CP, SU and the CP of China. Childs also told Buck that there will be a conference of Communist Parties in Moscow in November, to deal with these matters.

The Russian camera and the watches referred to above were made available to Childs through the efforts of Nikolai Mostovets, Head of the North and South American Section of the International Department of the CCCPSU for delivery to Hall, Dennis and Foster. It should be noted that this is an effort on the part of the CP, SU to offset the presentation of gifts to leaders of various Communist Parties by the CP of China. Buck stated that he would also send a message to Prague, Czechoslovakia, to Annie Buller and her husband, Harry Guralnick, to the effect that Childs had delivered to him the details of the Bucharest conference.

Buck stated that in the event he is not in Toronto, and Childs wants to deliver an urgent message to the CP of Canada, that Childs should deal with William Kashtan, who is the National Organization Secretary of the CP of Canada, and is also the person in charge of finances for the CP of Canada.

Buck also suggested that in the near future, he and Childs consider working out a code so that first names will refer to cities in Canada, where Buck can be located if he is not in Toronto, For example, Ann could refer to Windsor, etc. Thus Childs might meet Buck in another Canadian city if Buck is not in Toronto.

Buck said that he is not feeling well and is having trouble with his legs. He plans, however, to attend the conference of Communist Parties in Moscow, in November, 1960.

Comments on the Current Dispute Between the Communist Party of the Soviet Union and the Communist Party of China and Between the USSR and China

It will be recalled that during the running debate between NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV and PENG CHEN at the Conference of Communist Parties in Bucharest, Roumania, in June, 1960, KHRUSHCHEV indicated that this dispute was more than an ideological argument between the CPSU and the CP of China. KHRUSHCHEV referred to the fact that China had not given permission to Russia to build a radio station on Chinese territory for the purpose of maintaining contact with the Russian Submarine Fleet. Also that China had not given permission to Russia to land military planes in China in case it might become necessary to do so. There were other statements by KHRUSHCHEV such as whether KANG CHENG violated an agreement in publishing a speech he had made at a Warsaw Treaty Conference, that indicated that the disagreements between China and Russia involved matters of state as well as ideological disputes between the Communist Parties of the two countries.

In private discussions with NIKOLAI MOSTOVETS, Head of the North and South American Section of the International Department of the CCCPSU, he would occasionally make an off-hand reference or a carefully guarded statement, a sentence or so in length that there are other than ideological differences between Russia and China. That is, that the Chinese have asked the Russians for modern military weapons such as nuclear warheads, missiles, atomic bombs, etc. and that Russia has not complied with these requests. It will be noted however that at the Bucharest Conference, NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV stated to the Chinese present, we never refused you any request.

In a private conversation with [redacted] EUGENE DENNIS, he also very carefully inferred that part of the problem was the refusal of Russia to grant [redacted] request for modern military weapons such as missiles and warheads. [redacted]

[redacted] has many contacts among the leading [redacted] of the CPSU and frequently discusses matters with this [redacted] more freely than do persons such as MOSTOVETS who are dealing with this source in an official capacity.

It cannot be said that the CP of China started an ideological dispute with the CPSU because of differences over matters of state or because of problems that have developed in the relations of the Government of China with the Government of China. The differences in state to state relationships may have developed because of already existing ideological dispute. The two are so intertwined that it cannot be said that one was the cause of the other.

To be more specific, the CP of China has disagreed with the CPSU in regard to the possibility of peaceful co-existence between capitalism and Communism. While the CPSU states that peaceful co-existence is possible the CP of China states that "to sit at one conference table with the imperialists would mean to desert the whole of mankind." The CPSU states that war is ^{not} inevitable and that "the forces of peace have so grown that there is real possibility of preventing war." On the other hand, the CP of China states that the present epoch is characterized by wars and revolution and that "as long as the imperialist system exists, the world will not at all be rid of the most acute form of violence." Further, that "until the complete abolition of capitalism and imperialism throughout the world, the alternation of war and peace will be a constant and inevitable phenomena."

Since the CP of China has not gone along with the CPSU ideologically in regard to peaceful co-existence and the non-inevitability of war, Russia, as a state, has hesitated to grant requests of China for modern military weapons since Russia cannot anticipate what China might do with these weapons. [redacted] commented, perhaps China would drop a nuclear bomb on Formosa or some other place and thereby trigger a world war.

Thus it can be seen that the current ideological dispute between the CP of China and the CPSU is interwoven with the current problems of state between China and Russia.

Assistant Special Agent in Charge McCabe, of the New York Office (NYO), advised by telephone today (8/9/60) that Chicago (CG) 5824-S* is going to attend the Cuban Communist Party Congress which begins on 8/16/60 in Havana, Cuba. This Congress will be immediately followed by a meeting of Communist Parties from all Latin-American countries. This meeting will also be held in Havana.

ASAC McCabe said that CG 5824-S* plans to leave New York on 8/11/60, in order to attend both of the aforementioned functions. It is anticipated the informant will be gone for approximately ten days. It was suggested to CG 5824-S* by the Soviets, during his recent trip to Moscow, that he might want to attend the functions in Havana. ASAC McCabe stated it appears at this time that the informant will travel under his assumed name, as a security measure. He asked whether the Bureau had any objection. I told McCabe that if the informant felt he should travel under his assumed name, for security reasons, then the informant should do so.

ASAC McCabe requested authority to advance the informant $250.00 to cover expenses on the trip to Cuba. I authorized Mr. McCabe to advance this sum to the informant.

ACTION:

This matter will be followed closely and you will be kept advised of pertinent developments.

Meetings in Russia with Two Members of the "Secret Department" of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union

July
During the week of June 17, 1960, two members of the "Secret Department" of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union came to the apartment of MORRIS CHILDS at 26 Katsovski (phonetic) Prospect, Moscow, Russia.

One seemed to be superior in rank to the other. He referred to himself as [redacted] (phonetic). He can be described as follows:

| | |
|-----------------|--|
| Race | White |
| Age | Approximately 40 |
| Height | 5 feet 8 1/2 inches to 5 feet 9 inches |
| Weight | 150 to 155 pounds |
| Build | Medium |
| Hair | Dark Brown, full head of hair |
| Characteristics | Wears glasses, nose is a little bulbous, neatly dressed with striped business suit probably of American make, does not speak English well. |

He stated that he had observed CHILDS in New York City, during one of CHILDS meetings with VLADIMIR BARKOVSKY. He knew details of the construction of the flat iron building in New York City, where the office of JACK CHILDS is located.

The second person acted as an interpreter and can be described as follows:

| | |
|------------|--|
| Race | White |
| Age | Approximately 42 |
| Height | 5 feet 8 1/2 inches to 5 feet 9 inches |

| Complexion | Light. |

1958. He stated that he had observed CHILDS on his first effort to contact BARKOVSKY in the Spring of 1948. He too was familiar with the details of the layout of the flat iron building in New York City. He does not speak English too well.

The conversation dealt with the need to improve the methods of contact in the United States. Both of these men stated that members of the Russian Diplomatic Corps in the United States will not use assumed names when they travel in the United States. Since this is so, they will not make arrangements for any meetings outside of New York City, since they would be followed if they left the city.

Concerning meeting places in New York City, they asked MORRIS CHILDS what makes him think that JACK CHILDS is not well known to United States Intelligence Agencies and what makes MORRIS CHILDS think that the office of JACK CHILDS is not wired. MORRIS CHILDS stated that he thinks that the activities of JACK CHILDS are not known to United States Intelligence Agencies because he is very careful in everything he does. Furthermore, even if the office of JACK CHILDS is wired, it could still be used since usually there is no conversation when there is any type of meeting with the Russians in his office.

Since the Russians will not travel outside of New York City, and since MORRIS CHILDS is located in Chicago, they suggested that he have a third party in New York City, who could act as an intermediary from time to time or could be utilized in case of an emergency situation. They also pointed out that it is too risky for CHILDS as a leading member of the CP, USA, to engage in too many meetings of this sort. CHILDS said that he had discussed this problem with GUS HALL and EUGENE DENNIS. While they had made a suggestion or two, the people they suggested also resided outside the New York City area. (It is noted that at one time, HALL had suggested [redacted])

CHILDS stated that he understood that from time to time, some members of the Russian Delegation to the United Nations had been visitors at the residence of MARCEL and LENA SCHERER. If this is so, then the SCHERERS might be considered as possible third persons to act as intermediaries. These two Russians agreed to give the SCHERERS consideration and CHILDS said he would suggest this possibility to HALL and DENNIS. CHILDS also mentioned, but without too much enthusiasm, the possibility of utilizing MARTIN YOUNG as an intermediary. CHILDS stated that he thought ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG is not a good person to utilize for delivering messages because he immediately runs to the National Office of the CP, USA, after receiving any message.

The two Russians, utilizing maps of New York City, agreed to the following arrangements for the next contacts in New York City (probably involving VLADIMIR BARKOVSKY).

On Monday, August 15, 1960, between 10:00 a.m. and noon, JACK CHILDS may receive a telephone call. He will be asked "Is Mr. BROWN there". If JACK CHILDS replies "Mr. BROWN is not here", this will mean that everything is alright. If JACK CHILDS replies "Mr. BROWN is dead", this will mean that the FBI is "standing over him."

On August 17, 18 or 19, 1960, at 2:30 p.m. or thereabouts, someone may come to the office of JACK CHILDS for one half minute or less. The visitor may or may not have a package of money to deliver. The visitor may also say that September 8 or 9, 1960 is alright.

Starting on Wednesday, September 7, 1960, with alternate dates of September 8 or 9, MORRIS CHILDS is to be at the elevated stop at 204th Street and Webster Avenue, in the Bronx at approximately 1:00 p.m. in the afternoon. He is to walk past a shoe store, cross Hull Avenue and Decatur Avenue, and proceed to Bainbridge Avenue and 207th Street. Russians will be observing from a number of places, his approach to Bainbridge Avenue and 207th Street from 204th Street and Webster Avenue. The Russian who appeared to have superior rank drew a freehand sketch of this area.

There is a men's shop in the vicinity of 207th Street and Bainbridge Avenue. Near this men's shop someone will approach CHILDS and say tomorrow is alright or tomorrow is not alright or CHILDS may be handed an envelope containing a message or instructions, also CHILDS may be handed a package of money.

On 9/10/60, MORRIS CHILDS is to go to the place where he last met BARKOVSKY (the Willard Theater). CHILDS is to follow the usual procedure of going into the theater about 20 minutes before 7:00 p.m. and walking out of the theater at 7:00 p.m., turning to the left, etc. CHILDS will be met on 9/10/60, by BARKOVSKY or by possibly someone else.

It was agreed that previous arrangements for telephone calls to set up an emergency meeting are still alright, and that CHILDS should not hesitate to use these arrangements at any time if he feels that it is necessary to do so. Both of the Russians said that they would like to know how to obtain an American passport without applying in person for the passport. CHILDS did not give any information on how this might be done.

They suggested the use of microfilming for the transmittal of any CP, USA documents to BARKOVSKY or whoever might meet with CHILDS.

They stated that after the U-2 incident, Russians in the United States were instructed to lay low and to take it easy. They commended CHILDS for not trying to go through with a meeting with BARKOVSKY after the U-2 incident.

A few days after this meeting the person who acted as the interpreter at the first meeting, appeared alone at the apartment where CHILDS was staying and went over the previous arrangements. During the conversation, he said to CHILDS, until you came along, your party leadership did not cooperate with us very well. We are not asking for military espionage, but we are not getting full cooperation in regard to the passing on of CP, USA information.

Also during this conversation, he stated that MIKE CRENOVICH had worked for him in the United States.

NY ON 5/

He asked what the CP, USA, had against GRENOVICH. CHILDS replied that GRENOVICH was elected to the National Committee of the CP, USA because it was thought that he was a Latin-American. Later it was learned that he is a Slav, who lived in Latin-America. CHILDS said that he had heard that GRENOVICH is under some suspicion in the New York district. The Russians said that he might get into trouble for having worked with such a guy as NINE GRENOVICH.

FRIENDSHIP OF THE PEOPLES UNIVERSITY,
MOSCOW, RUSSIA

It will be recalled that GUS HALL, General Secretary of the CP, USA, requested that information be obtained concerning the Friendship of the Peoples University, Moscow, Russia. This matter was discussed during July, 1960, with NIKOLAI MOSTOVETS, head of the North and South American Section of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. Present during this discussion was a translator, whose first name is [] (phonetic). He is approximately 27 years of age, 6 feet in height, and has served as a translator for NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV. He works in the Foreign Office of the USSR, but is also utilized by the CPSU. He has been stationed in Germany and speaks German. He has recently completed a course in English in Moscow. While MOSTOVETS speaks English, he utilizes a translator when he wants his remarks to be very precise.

MOSTOVETS gave the following information concerning the Friendship of the Peoples University:

This university will open during September, 1960. It is a regular university. The object of the university is to train people from backward and dependent countries, or countries that have recently obtained their independence. The course at the university will last for six years. Among the subjects which will be taught are those offered at any university; such as, medicine, engineering, the sciences, the arts, dentistry, law, etc.

Thousands of applications have been received for attendance at this university. Between 500 and 600 applications have already been accepted, and there will not be more than 600 students during the first year. The CPSU will decide who will attend the university. It will ask the various Communist Parties to make recommendations. Those recommended should be Communist Party members or close friends of the Party. It is realized that in some countries there will not be sufficient Communist Party members of the age level to attend such a school; therefore, friends of the Party or non-Party members recommended by the Communist Party in the country involved will be acceptable. The prospective students will have to be recommended. Probably eight out of ten students will be Communist Party members or close friends of the Communist Party.

The plan is to train these students to become the future leaders and technicians in their native countries. These students will be trained as doctors, lawyers, biologists, chemists, etc.

The CPSU goes on the basis that there will be some "enemies" sneaking into the university.

The university is not designed for colored people, as such, and was not designed with the view in mind that American Negroes might attend this university. It is felt that if a Negro in the United States is so inclined, he can obtain an education in the United States. This is not the case in some of the backward or dependent countries for which this university was designed.

However, if the CP, USA does find that it has an extreme case where it wants to recommend at the most a handful of students to attend this university, they will be given special consideration. It must be borne in mind, however, that this is not the purpose of this university.

The above information was furnished to JAMES JACKSON on August 3, 1960.

During July, 1960, NIKOLAI V. MOSTOVETS, head of the North and South American Section of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, asked MORRIS CHILDS what he knew about HYMAN LUMER. MOSTOVETS said that "somebody" (possibly this was WILLIAM Z. FOSTER) had sent to the CPSU information attacking LUMER. It was stated that LUMER made a terrible speech on disarmament at the 17th National Convention of the CPUSA. CHILDS replied that LUMER is a member of the National Executive Committee of the CPUSA in good standing and that the CPUSA has no political problems with LUMER. USSR

CHILDS asked MOSTOVETS if the CPSU has any concrete information concerning CLARENCE HATHAWAY in addition to what was previously furnished to the CPUSA. MOSTOVETS replied negatively. Second Formal Meeting with Boris Ponomarev and Others in the Headquarters of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union

RUSSIA { The second formal meeting with Boris Ponomarev in his office in the Headquarters of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union took place on or about July 26, 1960. In addition to Ponomarev, who is in charge of the International Department of the CCCPSU, others present were D. Shevlyagin, who is now an assistant to Ponomarev; Nikolai Mostovets, Head of the North and South American Section of the International Department of the CCCPSU; two Russians, whose identities are not known; one (phonetic) Lnu, who was present in the capacity of a translator and Morris Childs. b6 b7C

Remarks of Boris Ponomarev

Childs had previously furnished the CCCPSU with a typewritten copy of a speech on the international situation. This speech had been delivered by Gus Hall, General Secretary of the CP, USA, at an enlarged meeting of the Secretariat of the CP, USA, held in New York City, on Saturday, June 25, 1960. Ponomarev had a translation of this speech before him. While Ponomarev opened the meeting, he subsequently let Mostovets do most of the talking. Almost the entire meeting was devoted solely to Hall's speech.

Ponomarev said, the speech of Hall is a very good speech. It contains some very correct ideas. Since the CP, USA did not have the details of the conference of Communist Parties at Bucharest, Rumania, in June, 1960, he is amazed that the main line of Hall's speech is correct. Thus, the main line of the National Committee of the CP, USA is correct and good and the CCCPSU is glad to see that the CP, USA has been able to analyze the international situation as well as it did on its own.

Ponomarev emphasized, that by all means, the CP, USA must have a representative in Moscow, in November, 1960, to attend the conference of Communist Parties. This conference will discuss the current ideological dispute between the CP, SU and the CP of China. The 1960 meeting of CP representatives in Moscow, in November, might be more important than the 1957 meeting of Communist Parties in Moscow. It might be more like a congress of the old Comintern. It is important that all Communist Parties have a say at this conference.

The reason why he is putting such stress on this conference is that not since the end of World War II has unity of the world Communist movement been so important and yet so threatened. In brief, this conference in Moscow, in November, involves the unity of the Communist movement.

Continuing, Ponomarev said the CP, USA is carrying out the correct Marxist-Leninist line. The participation of the CP, USA in the conference in Moscow, in November, is important not because of the number of members in the CP, USA. Some Communist Parties in smaller countries have a larger membership than does the CP, USA, but your CP in the US represents an important country. Therefore, the viewpoint of the CP, USA is very important.

Then Ponomarev said let Mostovets carry on. I have the written speech of Gus Hall before me. We have discussed it. What Mostovets will say represents our opinions.

Remarks of Nikolai Mostovets

Mostovets spoke with a copy of Hall's written speech before him. This copy was well marked in red pencil.

Mostovets said that what Hall says about the possibility of the United States retreating from military bases overseas is very important. If Hall would consent to writing an article dealing especially with this problem, the CP, SU would consider it important and might print it in the "Kommunist," theoretical organ of the CP, SU or in some other journal. If the quality is high, the article would be printed in the "Kommunist."

Parenthetically speaking, it is considered the highest honor in the international Communist movement to have an article printed in the "Kommunist."

Mostovets repeated the remarks of Ponomarev that the general theses of Hall's speech is correct. He referred to that portion of the speech in which Hall stated that there is a greater need to emphasize the growth of peace forces in the United States. Mostovets said that this emphasis might be of some benefit to Peking.

In the speech, Hall states that some circles of the capitalist class understand the need for co-existence such as Cyrus Eaton and others. Mostovets stated that they were very glad to see this statement in Hall's speech. He said, the CP, USA must learn to use contradictions in the capitalist class, contradictions in the Republican Party and the Democratic Party, etc. The statements of Hall is certainly different from the attitude of the CP of China, which says that you cannot sit at the same conference table with capitalists. If any political party or any candidate for office in the United States is for peace and civil rights, the CP, USA should support that party or candidate in a way that is tactically advisable.

In Hall's speech, he raised the question of the national purpose and continuous growth of the United States. Mostovets said that they are of the opinion that this question was placed correctly by Hall, and that the Communists in the United States must use this to strengthen the party. Mostovets emphasized that the main political resolution of the 17th National Convention of the CP, USA ~~is correct~~ even though there have been some changes in the world situation since the time of the 17th National Convention of the CP, USA.

Then Mostovets went into that part of Hall's speech in which he starts with the idea that the United States has reached the apex of its influence in the world. Mostovets said that the CCCPSU is of the opinion that maybe it is too early to say that the United States has reached the height of its influence. It is true that internationally United States imperialism finds itself in difficulties, but the American government may still utilize different methods and different approaches in order to recoup its loss of prestige.

Continuing Mostovets said, the CCCPSU is of the opinion that it is too early to just emphasize the negative, that is, the declining phase of the United States. That while it is true, historically speaking, that American imperialism is on the decline, it is quite possible that the United States may still obtain some success although this may not hinder the historical decline. If the CP, USA keeps on emphasizing the retreat and decline, it will be harder to mobilize people to fight. In this speech, Hall had said: "The outlook (for the US) is certainly not for continued expansion." Mostovets said that in the opinion of the CCCPSU, this is too positive a statement because the United States, while it may seem beaten now, is going to try to expand. Hall is correct in saying and even emphasizing that imperialism has not changed. At the same time, it is necessary to keep in mind that the United States is going to try to expand. Mostovets said that Hall's speech correctly exposed the role of United States imperialism and its defeat in Korea, Cuba, Turkey and Japan.

In Hall's speech, he used the phrase, "United States imperialism is beginning to crumble in its periphery." Mostovets stated that the CP, SU states that the United States will continue to try to expand and the CP, SU believes that there should be more emphasis on the efforts of America to expand rather than emphasis on retreat by America. For example, look at Africa at the present time. In different ways, with different methods, the United States is trying to expand in Africa. The CCCPSU is of the opinion that at this moment, the United States is in a better position in Africa than it has been before. Certainly the United States is in a better position in Africa than is Great Britain, France, Belgium and other countries. Perhaps, the United States is gaining in Africa, at the expense of the aforementioned countries, nevertheless the United States is doing it. Expansion may be more difficult for the United States now, but it will continue to try to expand. Somehow or other there seems to be a contradiction in this thesis of Hall.

In the speech, Hall had used a quotation from Lenin regarding the regrouping of forces. Mostovets stated that Hall had used the wrong quotation from Lenin. The quotation is not applicable to the international situation, and Hall was referring to the international situation. What Lenin had in mind was movements of workers and parties and the regrouping of forces of the working class. Therefore, the CP, SU would recommend that Hall strike this out of the written speech since the quotation is not applicable to the present United States situation.

Mostovets said that, speaking for the members of the CCCPSU who read the speech of Hall, the characterization of United States imperialism in the speech is correct, however, it needs to be filled in somewhat. This does not mean filling in details, but does mean proving the thesis.

In the speech Hall made a proposal in regard to foreign bases of the United States. Hall had proposed the sending of "peace fighters" to talk to the people in the countries where the United States has overseas bases. Mostovets said that the CPSU thought that this was a good proposal. If Hall could develop this idea and if some world wide movement like this could be set in motion it would be of utmost importance. However the CPSU is of the opinion that it would be difficult and even impossible to do this. But the CPSU does want to emphasize that the section of Hall's speech which deals with United States bases overseas and the need for the United States to retreat from these bases is very important. On the other hand, the CPSU wants to emphasize that every time Hall minimizes the expansion of United States imperialism he weakens his general thesis.

In regard to that part of Hall's speech in which he talks of the peace struggle to prevent war, the CPSU thinks that this section of the speech is correct and good. Hall's conclusion that even if the United States retreats it will be without war is also alright. But when Hall states that war can be prevented, "not without struggle and not without movement", this is too soft. There is a need to emphasize mass struggle and to emphasize pressures in order to prevent war.

Concerning that portion of Hall's speech in which he says that the present relation of forces in the world is compelling the United States to retreat here and there, Mostovets stated that this is correct. It is a principled question and needs to be emphasized. Yet while emphasizing it, to again restate the idea that the character of imperialism has not changed.

Hall had stated that perhaps for selfish interests United States imperialism may decide to retreat. Mostovets said that this statement can lead to the thought that United States imperialism is willingly planning to retreat. This is not so. At this very moment United States imperialism may start another offensive some place.

Mostovets said, in Cuba, the United States was compelled to retreat for the obvious reason that it is faced with all of Latin America; but elsewhere or just to generalize and say that the United States is willingly planning to retreat is wrong. In fact, this might be turned into an interpretation that the policy of retreat by United States imperialism is slightly defended by the CP, USA because it is a conscious policy of United States imperialism.

Mostovets said that what Hall said about new factors for peace as a result of the strength of the socialist system, and what is happening in the colonial countries is absolutely correct. Hall is correct when he states that there is a new relation of forces in the world today which does impel United States imperialism to act differently and unlike it might have acted in the past.

Mostovets praised Hall's emphasis on maintaining the foundations for peace and that part of Hall's speech in which he says that one should never set policy on non-existing facts. If Hall could develop this fact into an article, it would be welcome.

Mostovets also stated that Hall's thesis that even parts of the ruling classes in the United States do not want war if they cannot see success is a correct thesis.

Also Hall's idea that wars cannot happen just by accident is very much correct. Before wars happen, or before one can predict war, the relation of all forces needs to be considered. This too the CP, SU would like Hall to develop into a separate article.

Mostovets said that a reference by Hall to the selfish interests of the imperialist class is not clear to the CP, SU.

The thesis on the united front, as Hall presents it, is correct. The CP, USA has to mobilize liberals progressives in fact everybody to fight for peace so the united front is most important and Hall is right in this.

One final suggestion was made by Mostovets. In Hall's speech, which he intended to be printed as an article, he names some leading Communists such as Palmiro Togliatti, Wladyslaw Gomulka, Mao Tse Tung, etc. In the future, it would be well to leave out names in written articles, theses, etc.

Parenthetically speaking, it is believed that this suggestion would not apply to the names of Marx and Lenin and probably not to Khrushchev.

The final conclusion of Mostovets was that what Hall says in his speech concerning the united front and the need to fight to prevent war is correct and it is possible to do this. If this is done it might help our "Chinese friends" to sit up and take notice and maybe learn something.

In Prague, Czechoslovakia, on July 16, 1960, ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN, Vice Chairman of the Communist Party, USA, stated that the Russians are translating her book. She said that if she obtains royalties from the sale of the book in Russia she will turn the money over to the CP, USA.

FLYNN said that she has a lot of documents in the United States. She would like to donate them to some museum in Russia or Czechoslovakia. However, she wondered if the CP, USA would be willing to pay to have them Photostated before she does this.

FLYNN also wanted to know if the CP, USA is making payments on her fins.

Concerning the celebration of INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY in Copenhagen, Denmark, in April 1960, FLYNN said that this was a very conservative meeting. Most of the delegations were composed of women whose only interest was to promote peace. The most radical delegation at the meeting was that from the United States. The Russians were afraid that the Americans would make too radical remarks in their speeches at this celebration.

FLYNN said that she and GERALDYNE LIGHTFOOT could not get individual visas to visit Moscow while they were in Copenhagen. They had to travel to the Soviet Union as part of the delegation going to Moscow from Copenhagen. When they first arrived in Moscow they stayed at the Ukraine Hotel with the rest of the delegation from Copenhagen. After about one week she, FLYNN, and GERALDYNE LIGHTFOOT were moved out of this hotel. While they were in the Ukraine Hotel their expenses were paid by the INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S COMMITTEE FOR PEACE.

FIRST FORMAL MEETING WITH BORIS
PONOMAREV AND OTHERS IN THE HEAD-QUARTERS OF THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF THE SOVIET UNION

During the week of July 17, 1960, there was a formal meeting in the office of BORIS PONOMAREV in the Headquarters of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. This was the first of two formal meetings with PONOMAREV, who is in charge of the International Department of the CCCPSU. Also present was D. SHEVLYAGIN, who is now an assistant to PONOMAREV. It will be recalled that about three years ago SHEVLYAGIN was listed as the author of an article which criticized WILLIAM SCHNEIDERMAN of California for revisionism. Also present at this meeting was NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS, Head of the North and South American Section of the International Department of the CCCPSU. One [redacted] (phonetic), who has acted as an interpreter for NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV and accompanied KHRUSHCHEV on his recent trip to Austria, acted as the interpreter at this meeting. In addition to MORRIS CHILDS, two other Russians were present. They were not identified and did not participate in the discussion.

REMARKS OF BORIS PONOMAREV

PONOMAREV, who had been to the Congress of the Communist Party of Roumania during the latter part of June, 1960, and to the Conference of Communist Parties which followed this Congress, stated that he was glad to see CHILDS and asked if CHILDS had talked with ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN, who was also at the congress and conference in Bucharest, Roumania. CHILDS said that he had seen FLYNN in Prague, Czechoslovakia, and had obtained from her details of the developments in Bucharest.

Parenthetically speaking CHILDS had talked with FLYNN by phone when he arrived in Prague, Czechoslovakia. When she stated that she wanted to see CHILDS immediately in order to give the details of the dispute between the CP of China and the CP of the Soviet Union, which was brought out at the Conference in Bucharest, CHILDS willingly agreed to wait for FLYNN to come to Prague from Budapest, Hungary, for this purpose. This was done because CHILDS did not know at this time whether or not the CPSU would give him any information or the complete information in regard to this dispute. Before meeting with PONOMAREV, CHILDS had submitted to the CCCPSU a written report of the remarks of GUS HALL in regard to articles which appeared in Russian and Chinese publications and indicated an ideological dispute between the CPSU and the CP of China.

PONOMAREV stated, many things have happened since the last time we talked. At the time of our last discussion events were moving toward the easing of tension. Since the U-2 overflight, some of these good things have stopped. In fact, during recent days, the question of peace and war has again been placed on the agenda. To some extent we can say that the guns are speaking, but I want to emphasize that the tensions are on a small scale despite the bad things which have been happening.

You will receive a document and this document contains the essence of our differences with the Chinese CP and other Communist Parties. At Bucharest it was quite clear that not all the Communist Parties agreed with the CP of China. Now we are beginning to receive resolutions from various Communist Parties all over the world. These resolutions show that these Parties do not agree with the CP of China. These differences are not a good thing. The CPSU and the Soviet Union cannot benefit from these differences. But the fact remains that these differences do exist. The comrades of the CP of China have expressed themselves and have shown that they have differences with some of our policies. At Bucharest we decided to set up a commission. The purpose of this commission will be to explore these differences, talk them out, and see what can be done. Perhaps this will only result in a big argument. We do not know. We think that your Party, the CP of the United States, should send a representative of the National Executive Committee to participate in the work of this commission.

What will we be able to say after this conference in Bucharest? We do not know. The letter from the CPSU was given to the Chinese and to all other Communist Parties and Workers Parties of the socialist countries. The Chinese comrades continue to write articles such as those which have appeared in the Chinese theoretical organ, "Red Flag". Sometimes the Chinese seem to be flexible, but in the main their arguments are one-sided. They continue to emphasize that the nature of imperialism has not changed. Further that war is possible and even inevitable. In their provincial press, the Chinese are even more critical of the CPSU and the Soviet Union.

Do you know what the Chinese comrades have been doing? For six months they have been training 50 Latin American comrades. They filled them full of their propaganda. They expressed themselves in a very hostile manner against the CPSU. They did not always do it openly, but in some surreptitious way, or by insinuations, they did it in their lectures to these Latin American students.

The Chinese keep on propagandizing that United States imperialism will resort to arms - to war. That to talk of co-existence is to create illusions. That the same can be said of talk about disarmament. To expect the imperialists to disarm, the Chinese say, is like talking fairy tales.

Do you know that the Chinese comrades even suggested to the Latin American comrades that there should be armed struggle and guerrilla warfare in Panama. The Chinese kept on telling the students that at the 20th Congress of the CPSU, we had suggested that there is only one road to socialism and that is the peaceful way. This is not so. If you recall the documents of the 20th Congress of the CPSU, you will recall that we recommended that some Parties may have to use the other way to socialism. At one time we criticized the CP of Brazil for putting too much emphasis on the peaceful path to socialism. But the Chinese comrades have been preaching to the Brazilian comrades, and some of the Brazilian comrades agreed with them, that they need to resort to armed struggles, uprisings, etc. Of course, I must tell you that the Brazilian Party did accept this emphasis that the Chinese placed on armed struggle.

The Chinese comrades, in their continued talks with various Parties, have been suggesting that the CPSU has a line, a one-sided line of peaceful transition to socialism.

Prior to the meeting in Bucharest, some comrades from the various Communist Parties asked us why we do not talk things over with the Chinese. We had two conferences with the Chinese comrades prior to Bucharest and later on when the Chinese delegation passed through Moscow on the way to Bucharest we met with them one day for ten hours. Later on when we arrived in Bucharest, we met with them for six hours and comrade KHRUSHCHEV was present at this meeting.

There is a peculiar paradox in this situation. We spent hours trying to convince them that they did not understand us. That they are wrong. We quoted from Comrade [redacted] speeches and the speeches of others at the 20th Congress of the CPSU. The Chinese comrades replied that quoting from the 20th Congress of the CPSU is like the devil

quoting from the scriptures.

At Bucharest, comrade KHRUSHCHEV repeated our parties' position and pointed out to the Chinese that the peaceful road to socialism is not the only one. We cannot understand why the Chinese comrades will not believe us.

We have been meeting with the Latin American comrades who have just returned from China. Some of them are good comrades and have a good outlook. But some are still under the influence of the Chinese, especially since the Chinese placed emphasis on the fight against United States imperialism.

We are not telling the Latin American comrades not to fight United States imperialism. Perhaps we do not preach the same methods but the Chinese did something more than preach against United States imperialism. They inculcated the Latin American comrades with an anti-CPSU spirit. This is bad - very bad!

The Chinese have complicated the problem of the relation of Parties. All parties have been appealing to the Chinese. NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV has been appealing to them. He has said he has asked them, why don't you use criticism in the manner of friends to each other? All of this has been to no avail. We are now in the process of informing our Party of the recent developments. We just finished a meeting of the Central Committee of the CPSU. There were two points on the agenda and these were:

1. The question of agriculture in the USSR;
2. The problems at Bucharest.

In our press we do not criticize the CP of China. We talk in general in our press. We stress the importance of co-existence, disarmament, etc. Those who study the situation know that in this we differ with the Chinese Communists.

How will it be in the future? It really depends on the Chinese comrades. Some Central Committees of the various Communist Parties are sending letters to the CP of China. In these letters they complain to the Chinese about the methods they used in criticizing other Parties and policies of other Parties.

At Bucharest the leaders of the socialist countries told us of some of the methods used by the Chinese comrades in talking to some of their leaders, diplomats, etc., who have been visiting China. The Chinese talked behind the backs of the leaders of the various Parties. The Czechoslovakian comrades had to send the Chinese comrades a very sharp letter about this. The French Party also sent a letter to the Chinese Party complaining in the same vein.

In our press, or at our meetings, we do not criticize the CP of China concerning their inner problems. We certainly had plenty to criticize and disagree with. Yes, we did, from time to time, criticize them privately and in some closed meetings. Comrade KHRUSHCHEV criticized them on some of the internal policies they pursued.

In 1958, you will remember, I took a trip to China with Comrade KHRUSHCHEV at the time MAO TSE TUNG first suggested the organizing of communes. Comrade KHRUSHCHEV disagreed with the plan to organize communes and reminded MAO TSE TUNG that even in LENIN's time, Soviets rejected communes.

The Chinese are having great difficulties in the provinces right now. In the cities there are many shortages of commodities and goods. The peasants destroyed most of their livestock and produce - they consumed them - before joining the communes. When we began our collectivization in the USSR, the peasants destroyed half of their cattle and consumed them, or put them in storage. They would not give them to the collective. The Chinese peasants did something even worse. It was easy for them to eat their pigs, chickens, etc., before joining the communes.

The Chinese comrades claim that they are now confronted with a terrible drought. Actually there is no drought of the kind they claim. The terrible situation is really due to their policies which we believe to be wrong. It reminds us of the period of STALIN. Instead of looking facts in the face and telling the people they are looking for some excuse to cover up. If the Chinese population presently is receiving a pound of meat a month, that is a generous estimate. Drought, my eye.

We are not turning our Party cadre into being anti-Chinese. In Bucharest, Comrade KHRUSHCHEV said, we will continue to work for the best of relations with the Communist Party of China and all Communist Parties, but we will not give in on principles. This he, KHRUSHCHEV, emphasized.

In Bucharest, the Chinese said that they would present their views, but if the majority is against them they will admit that they are wrong and will join with the majority. Although they signed what we now call the Bucharest Declaration, or Communique, they have not changed their views and they hold to their previous position. We utilized their signature to this declaration in the hope that it may present to the world a unanimous position and may move the Chinese, if not now, later on. But the fact is that the cleavage is as wide as ever. Of course there are other things involved. Things we do not go into here, but which NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV referred to in Bucharest. These are problems of state, including the question of arms, modern weapons, etc., which the Chinese want but this is not a problem for discussion at this meeting.

General Discussion

BORIS PONOMAREV then asked CHILDS where the CP, USA obtained its material on the viewpoint of the CP of China. CHILDS explained that various Chinese publications, such as the "PEKING REVIEW" are mailed to the U.S. and it is from these publications that the CPUSA learns of the viewpoint of the CP of China.

PONOMAREV pointed out to CHILDS that it is extremely important for the leadership of the CP, USA to know immediately all of the facts concerning the dispute between the CP of China and the CPSU.

PONOMAREV then asked CHILDS for his impressions of China during his last trip there in October, 1959. He asked CHILDS who he had met with in China and to whom he had talked in China. CHILDS gave PONOMAREV this information and pointed out that he realized in October 1959, that Comrade KHRUSHCHEV received a cool reception in Peking. CHILDS also stated that he noticed that photographs of JOSEPH STALIN were prominently displayed in Peking whereas it was difficult to find a photograph of KHRUSHCHEV during the parade in connection with the 10th anniversary of the founding of the Peoples Republic of China. CHILDS also stated that he had noticed that there was very little applause for the remarks of NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV delivered at the banquet held in connection with the 10th anniversary celebration, mentioned previously.

PONOMAREV replied that it is true that KHRUSHCHEV received a rather cool reception in China in October 1959. Since KHRUSHCHEV had just previously returned from his visit to the U.S., the CP of China thought that KHRUSHCHEV was selling out to U. S. imperialism.

PONOMAREV then asked CHILDS if the CP of China talked out against the CPSU while CHILDS was in China in October 1959. CHILDS replied that the CP of China did not speak out specifically against the CPSU while he was there but the representatives of the CP of China to whom he did talk stated that the analysis of the CP, USA on the visit of NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV to the United States and the reason for the visit in the first place was closer to the viewpoint of the CP of China than to the viewpoint of the CPSU. CHILDS said that now that he looks back on some of the conversations he had in China he can see that at that time differences between the CP of China and the CPSU were developing but that the Chinese comrades never specifically talked against the Soviet in his presence.

CHILDS then told those present at this meeting that in his first meeting with MAO TSE-TUNG, MAO talked very much in favor of Moscow. The only hint from MAO that there was some disagreement was given when MAO emphasized that it is perhaps wrong for some Communist Parties to muddle in the affairs of Communist Parties in other countries. In this connection, MAO used the DUCLOS letter to the CP, USA as an example. However, during this meeting with MAO, he never said anything in connection with any disagreements he might have with the CPSU.

CHILDS also stated that when LUI SHAO-CHI spoke to the various delegations in October 1959, he mentioned the various problems that the Chinese were having at that time. In connection with this, LUI SHAO-CHI made the remark that the Chinese, unlike the Soviet comrades at the 20th Congress of the CPSU, would tell the delegations to the 10th anniversary celebration everything about the CP of China and China itself. LUI SHAO-CHI said, we will hold nothing back from you.

CHILDS commented that these remarks by LUI SHAO-CHI were understood by most of the delegations as a sort of backhanded slap at the CPSU. It should be noted, however, that most of the delegations, including the delegation from the CPUSA, did not think that the CPSU handled the developments at the 20th Congress of the CPSU very well.

PONOMAREV then asked CHILDS when the leadership of the CPUSA had met to discuss the current problems between the CPSU and the CP of China. CHILDS said that these meetings were held during the week of June 19, 1960. CHILDS commented that except for some extreme leftists there would be very little sympathy for the viewpoint of the Chinese in the leadership of the CPUSA.

PONOMAREV then asked how widespread in the U.S. is the fact that there is a dispute between the CPSU and the CP of China. CHILDS replied that very little is known about this at the present time in the U.S. and that what is known came mostly from a reading of the "PEKING REVIEW" and some hints in the capitalist press in the U.S. CHILDS complained that the CPSU had not sent the CPUSA any material dealing with this dispute between the CPSU and the CP of China. CHILDS explained that the viewpoint of the CPUSA in regard to this dispute was arrived at on the basis of the best interests of the CPUSA. That is, the CPUSA believes that it is in its own best interest to support programs for peaceful co-existence, for disarmament and, therefore, goes along with the viewpoint of the CPSU instead of that of the CP of China in regard to these matters. The CPUSA cannot preach a Nuclear War as the Chinese do.

PONOMAREV then said to CHILDS, it is most important that some of these facts be gotten to your party leadership as soon as possible, especially since you do not want to be surprised by having the U. S. State Department or some of the U. S. intelligence agencies leaking to the press the news of the dispute between the CPSU and the CP of China at Bucharest. At this point, CHILDS said that he would arrange for a hurried trip back to the U. S. in order to meet with the leading comrades of the CPUSA in regard to the information he had obtained concerning this dispute.

PONOMAREV then asked how the leadership of the CPUSA feels about ideological differences between the CPSU and the CP of China. CHILDS pointed out that he had furnished to the Central Committee of the CPSU the viewpoint of GUS HALL, which was expressed at two meetings of the National Executive Committee of the CPUSA in June 1960. CHILDS said that while BEN DAVIS complained about centrism in the CPUSA, no one, including DAVIS, voted against the report of comrade HALL, which supported the viewpoint of the CPSU and not that of the CP of China.

PONOMAREV then asked CHILDS if the leadership of the CPUSA is more united now than it was at the time he had last talked with CHILDS. CHILDS replied that the leadership of the CPUSA is more united now.

After asking about the health of WILLIAM Z. FOSTER and EUGENE DENNIS, PONOMAREV asked the present size of the CPUSA. CHILDS replied that GUS HALL has stated that the CPUSA has between eight and ten thousand members, however, the organization department of the CPUSA states that there are considerably less than 8,000 dues-paying members in the CPUSA.

PONOMAREV then asked if there are any differences among the leaders of the CPUSA in regard to an analysis of the ticket nominated by the Democratic Party. CHILDS replied that some of the leading comrades in the CPUSA think that [] is an extreme reactionary, however, the majority do not think so. CHILDS also stated that the CPUSA has plans to have ten congressional candidates run in the name of the CP during the 1960 elections. However, difficulties may be encountered because of restrictions against CP candidates as a result of election laws. SHEVLYAGIN then asked CHILDS about the election laws in the U. S. CHILDS told him that the laws with regard to the congressional candidates vary from state to state. Furthermore, if the CPUSA is to carry on the fight for peace it should put emphasis on the election of candidates who will fight for peace instead of spending too much time running CP candidates who would not be elected.

CHILDS then asked if the CPSU would help the CPUSA to retire ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG with honor. PONOMAREV stated that he agreed with the CPUSA that TRACHTENBERG is an old man and probably should be retired. He said that he thought that while he, TRACHTENBERG, was in the Soviet Union he had expressed a wish to live in the Soviet Union. CHILDS replied that to his knowledge TRACHTENBERG has not mentioned this to the CPUSA. CHILDS also stated that the CPUSA was certain that TRACHTENBERG would not disclose some of the secrets in connection with the operations of INTERNATIONAL PUBLISHERS unless he was so instructed by the CPSU. PONOMAREV stated that he sees the need to comply with the request of the CPUSA, that he would discuss it with the comrades in the CPSU but that he was not making any promises concerning TRACHTENBERG at this time.

CHILDS then told PONOMAREV that he had been requested by the leadership of the CPUSA to ascertain if there was any possibility of keeping WILLIAM L. PATTERSON in either Czechoslovakia or the Soviet Union. CHILDS stated that he had discussed this possibility with the CP of Czechoslovakia while he was in Prague and they were not willing to have PATTERSON stay in Czechoslovakia indefinitely. PONOMAREV asked why the CPUSA wanted to get rid of a good comrade like WILLIAM L. PATTERSON. CHILDS replied that while PATTERSON is a good propagandist he is getting rather old. Furthermore, he might be able to help the CPSU in regard to the situation in Africa or he might be able to serve as a teacher in the Friendship of the Peoples University in Moscow. PONOMAREV replied that he never knew that the CPUSA had an over-abundance of comrades and that he would suggest that this matter concerning PATTERSON be talked over later.

CHILDS then complained that in his contacts in the U. S. with representatives of the CPSU they were not satisfactory, that they were too slow and that they were cumbersome. PONOMAREV stated that he was in agreement with the complaints registered by CHILDS in this matter. He said he hopes that arrangements can be made for improved contacts and that CHILDS should be prepared to offer suggestions for better contacts in the U.S. He then stated that CHILDS would be given the opportunity to discuss this matter at appropriate meetings while he was in Moscow.

PONOMAREV then stated that since CHILDS should return to the U.S. in order to present to the leadership facts concerning the dispute between the CPSU and the CP of China, he would like to know when CHILDS might return to Moscow. He asked, why don't you come back as soon as possible just for a rest and a vacation? CHILDS replied that he might return to Moscow in a few months or less.

PONOMAREV asked if the leading comrades in the CPUSA still have some difficulties in regard to travel abroad. He also asked when the McCarran Act would come up for decision. CHILDS replied that it was his opinion that the Supreme Court probably would not act on the McCarran Act until after the November elections.

As this discussion drew to a close PONOMAREV asked for complete details of the illness of EUGENE DENNIS. After this information was given to him, PONOMAREV stated, I bet that EUGENE DENNIS would like to see his son. PONOMAREV then stated that if there was any possibility to make some arrangements for [] to visit [] in the U.S. that this might be done. CHILDS told PONOMAREV he would like to see [] while he was in Moscow. This request was granted.

As the meeting concluded, PONOMAREV gave an order that certain material should be made available to CHILDS, such as, an 80-page letter of the CPSU to all Communist Parties. PONOMAREV stated that he would meet again with CHILDS prior to his departure from Moscow.

SUM OF $13,731.00 RECEIVED IN RUSSIA
FOR DELIVERY TO WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

During the week of July 24, 1960, NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH MOSTOVETS, head of the North and South American Section of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, gave $13,731.00 to MORRIS CHILDS for delivery to WILLIAM Z. FOSTER in the United States.

MOSTOVETS stated that this sum represents money long due to FOSTER on royalties for his written works which have been published in Russia. MOSTOVETS said that he had obtained the money from the publishers involved. Thus, it was being pointed out that the CPSU does not consider this money as Communist Party funds.

MOSTOVETS stated that normally this money would have been sent to FOSTER through International Publishers in New York City. However, since CHILDS was returning to the United States, he was being requested to deliver it to FOSTER. MOSTOVETS stated that it was desired to expedite the delivery since it was understood that some members of FOSTER's family planned a trip to Russia and might need some money for travel expenses. Also, the Russians do not want FOSTER to have any worries about medical expenses or the lack of funds to meet other expenses.

Arrangements will be worked out with GUS HALL, General Secretary of the CP, USA, for delivery of this money to FOSTER.

SOLO IS-C. THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE HIGHLIGHTS RECEIVED FROM CG 5824-S REGARDING THE SIXTH SOLO TRIP. INFORMANT ADVISED ON JULY 31 LAST THAT HE HAD RETURNED TO THE UNITED STATES AT THE SUGGESTION OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF THE SOVIET UNION TO INFORM THE LEADERSHIP OF THE CP, USA, THAT THERE IS A TERRIFIC, VERY SERIOUS DISPUTE BETWEEN THE RUSSIANS AND THE CHINESE. THE DISPUTE IS MUCH MORE SERIOUS THAN WAS ANTICIPATED AND IS MORE THAN AN IDEOLOGICAL DISAGREEMENT. INFORMANT OBTAINED DETAILS OF A RUNNING DEBATE BETWEEN NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV, PENG CHEN AND OTHERS WHO ATTENDED THE THIRD CONGRESS OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF RUMANIA. SOME OF THIS INFORMATION WAS OBTAINED FROM ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN WHO ATTENDED THIS CONFERENCE. SHE MADE A SPECIAL TRIP TO PRAGUE TO DISCUSS THIS MATTER WITH THE INFORMANT. INFORMANT LEARNED FROM BORIS PONOMAREV, HEAD OF THE INTERNATIONAL DEPARTMENT OF THE CCCPSU, THAT 50 LATIN AMERICAN COMMUNISTS HAD SPENT 6 MONTHS IN A CHINESE TRAINING SCHOOL AND ARE NOW RETURNING TO LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES. THEY WERE TAUGHT GUERILLA WARFARE AND THE NEED FOR REVOLUTION, PARTICULARLY IN PANAMA AND BRAZIL, AT THIS CHINESE TRAINING SCHOOL. REPRESENTATIVES OF THE CPSU MET WITH THESE LATIN AMERICAN COMMUNISTS IN MOSCOW TO TRY TO DRAW THEM AWAY FROM THE INFLUENCE OF THE CHINESE. ON NOVEMBER 9, 1960, REPRESENTATIVES OF THE WORLD COMMUNIST MOVEMENT WILL MEET IN MOSCOW TO DEAL WITH THE DISPUTE BETWEEN THE CPSU AND THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF CHINA. THERE IS VERY LITTLE HOPE ON THE PART OF THE RUSSIANS THAT THIS MEETING WILL BE SUCCESSFUL IN RESOLVING THE DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF CHINA AND THE CPSU. INFORMANT HAS ALMOST THE COMPLETE TEXT OF AN 80 PAGE

INFORMATION CONCERNING A PROPOSAL THAT GUS HALL GO TO CUBA AND THEN MAKE A FLYING TRIP TO MOSCOW

During July, 1960, in separate conversations with NIKOLAI VLADIMIROVICH/MOSTOVETS, head of the North and South American Section of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, and ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN, Vice-chairman of the CP, USA, it was learned that the congress of the Communist Party of Cuba is scheduled to begin on August 16, 1960. Representatives from all Communist Parties throughout the world will attend this congress. After the Cuban congress, there will be a conference of all Latin American Communist Parties in Havana, Cuba. The CP, USA may be invited to send a representative to this conference.

Both MOSTOVETS and FLYNN stated that there has been talk in Russia of trying to have GUS HALL attend this congress and conference and then travel from Cuba to Moscow, Russia, for a few days and back to Cuba by jet airliner. MOSTOVETS said that the Russians would favor this plan if HALL was in agreement with it.

It should be noted that during the latter part of the week of July 10, 1960, FLYNN was in Prague, Czechoslovakia. She had attended a conference of Communist Parties in Bucharest, Rumania, and was planning to leave Prague for Budapest, Hungary. She stated that she had already engaged in discussion with MOSTOVETS in Moscow.

On August 1, 1960, GUS HALL denied any knowledge of the above proposal concerning him. He denied that he had anything to do with instigating such a proposal. HALL said that this plan must have been concocted by the Russians or by some Latin American comrades.

HALL said that he will not go to Cuba for either the congress of the Cuban Communist Party or the conference of Latin

WALT said that [redacted] member of the National Executive Committee of CP, USA, will definitely go to Cuba for the purpose of [redacted] said that if MORRIS CHILDS does not go to Cuba for the meetings, perhaps JACK CHILDS will be asked to attend the meetings for the purpose of maintaining CP, USA contact with other Communist Parties.

According to your letter 7/1/60, copy furnished New York, $1,000 was to be taken from Communist Party (CP), USA, funds and $1,170 of Bureau funds were to be used by CG 5824-S* on the sixth Solo mission to Russia, Czechoslovakia, other Iron Curtain countries and possibly Red China. This trip was to take approximately eight weeks.

After visiting Russia and Czechoslovakia, informant returned to the United States at the instructions of the Central Committee of the CP of the Soviet Union--a trip of three weeks' duration. Advise the Bureau whether or not an accounting of funds was made at the termination of this trip and the amount turned back to the Bureau by the informant. If such an accounting was not made, this matter should be taken up with CG 5824-S* upon his return to the United States and the Bureau advised.

By telephone call 8/9/60 the New York Office was authorized to advance informant $250 to cover expenses on the seventh Solo mission to Cuba. New York airtel 8/9/60 captioned "CP, USA, International Relations; IS - C," copy furnished Chicago, discloses that $300 was furnished to each member of the delegation scheduled to attend the Cuban CP Convention on 8/16/60. This money was taken from CP, USA, funds. Advise whether CG 5824-S* was also provided with $300 of the Party's funds for this purpose. The informant should also be requested to make an accounting of Bureau funds expended by him and to return any unused portion thereof.

It is suggested that the above practice be followed after the completion of each future Solo mission.

CG 5824-S*, at the instructions of Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party (CP), USA, left Chicago, Illinois, 7/9/60 on the sixth Solo mission to Czechoslovakia and Russia. He returned to the United States on 7/31/60.

My memoranda 8/3, 8/5, 8/8, 8/9 and 8/15/60 set forth information which was obtained by our informant on the sixth Solo mission: (1) the current ideological dispute between the CP of the Soviet Union (CPSU) and the CP of China (CPC); (2) a resume of the 84-page letter of the CPSU addressed to the leadership of all CPs concerning this dispute; (3) evidence of disagreements between Red China and the Soviet Union involving matters of state; and (4) arrangements made for future clandestine contacts between the CPSU and the CP, USA, in New York City.

In addition to the above, the following data was obtained by our informant during this sixth Solo mission:

(1) Nikolai Vladimirovich Mostovets, head of the North and South American Section of the International Department, Central Committee, CPSU, gave CG 5824-S* during the week of 7/24/60 in Moscow, Russia, the sum of $13,731 for delivery to William Z. Foster, Chairman Emeritus, CP, USA. This money represents royalties due Foster for his written works which have been published in Russia.

(2) Mostovets said that the new Friendship of the People's University in Moscow will open during September, 1960. The object of the University is to train people from backward and dependent countries, or countries which have recently obtained their independence. The CPSU will decide who will attend the University. Those persons recommended by the various CPs will be Party members or close friends of the Party. The CPSU will give special consideration to a request made by the CP, USA, in an extreme case where the CP, USA, wants to send a student to this University. We are guiding some of our informants so that one or more of them may be in a position to be accepted as a student in this University.

(3) CG 5824-S* had furnished the Central Committee, CPSU, with a copy of a speech on the international situation which was delivered by Gus Hall at an enlarged CP, USA, Secretariat meeting held in New York City on 6/25/60. Boris Ponomarev, in charge of the International Department, Central Committee, CPSU, commented after reading Hall's speech that the speech was very good and that the main line of the speech was correct--it followed the viewpoints of the CPSU with respect to peaceful coexistence and that war is not inevitable.

(4) Mostovets commented that the CP, USA, would be crazy to have a Negro as the head of the CP in the United States. He requested of CG 5824-S* that the CP, USA, furnish him a copy of the proceedings of the 17th National Convention, CP, USA, if it has been published, and desires to have minutes of the CP, USA, meetings of the National Executive Committee, the National Committee and regional committee meetings.

(5) Information was furnished our informant concerning the activities of certain CP, USA, members who are now in the Soviet Union or who were recent visitors to that country, including Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, National Vice-Chairman; William Patterson, Geraldine Lightfoot and Charlene Mitchell, all members of the National Committee.

OBSERVATIONS:

The sixth Solo mission has been very productive and much information of value to the Bureau and other agencies of the Government was obtained. CG 5824-S* is now on the seventh Solo mission to Havana, Cuba, to attend the Cuban CP Congress and the Conference of Latin-American CPs, which will immediately follow the Congress. At the instructions of Gus Hall, informant is expected to attend a meeting of CPs to be held in Moscow, Russia, 9/28-29/60 to discuss the current ideological dispute between the CPSU and the CPC.

My memorandum 8-5-60 disclosed that an ideological dispute between the CP of the Soviet Union (CPSU) and the CP of China (CPC) took place at the Conference of Communist Parties in Bucharest, Rumania, in June, 1960. New York airtel 8-5-60 discloses that informant spoke with Nikolai Mostovets, head of the North and South American Section of the International Department, Central Committee of the CPSU and with [redacted] Eugene Dennis, National Chairman, CP, USA, in Moscow, Russia, in July, 1960. Mostovets told our informant that the disagreement between Red China and the Soviet Union involved matters of state as well as ideological differences between the CPs of the two countries. According to Mostovets, the Chinese have asked the Russians for modern military weapons but Russia has not complied with these requests.

[redacted] who has many contacts among leading members of the CPSU, commented that Russia refuses to grant Chinese requests for modern military weapons because the Russians are afraid that China might drop a nuclear bomb on Formosa and thereby trigger a world war.

My dear Mr. Gray:

I thought the President and you would be interested in the following information obtained as a result of our overall coverage of the Communist Party, USA, concerning statements made in Moscow, Russia, by Nikolai Mostovets and [redacted] during July, 1960. Nikolai Mostovets is head of the North and South American Section of the International Department, Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, and [redacted] Eugene Dennis, National Chairman, Communist Party, USA. (U)

Mostovets stated that the disagreements between the People's Republic of China and the Soviet Union involve matters of state as well as ideological differences between the communist parties of the two countries. According to Mostovets, the Chinese have asked the Russians for modern military weapons such as nuclear warheads, missiles and atomic bombs, but Russia has not complied with these requests. (U)

[redacted] who has many contacts among leading members of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, stated that part of the problem between Red China and Russia is the refusal of Russia to grant Chinese requests for modern military weapons. Because the Communist Party of China has not gone along with the ideology of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union in regard to peaceful coexistence, the Soviet Union, as a state has hesitated to grant requests of Red China for modern military weapons since Russia cannot anticipate what China might do with these weapons. [redacted] commented the Russians are afraid that perhaps China might drop a nuclear bomb on Bernese or on some other place and thereby trigger a world war. (U)

Information Concerning JOHN PITTMAN and
ALFRED K. and MARTHA DODD STERN

In July, 1960, JOHN PITTMAN, Moscow correspondent for "The Worker," stated that ALEKSEI GRECHUKHIN of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CCPSU), told him that he, PITTMAN, is a marked man now, and that the Central Intelligence Agency of the U.S. has alerted other countries to be on the lookout for PITTMAN, who is a Soviet agent. GRECHUKHIN told PITTMAN to be very careful when he is talking with Americans. PITTMAN said that almost every Communist from the U.S. who visits Moscow stops off at his apartment.

GRECHUKHIN also told PITTMAN that ALFRED K. STERN and his wife, MARTHA DODD STERN, visited Moscow recently and asked to be placed in contact with the Central Committee of the CPSU. The CCPSU resented this request and would not see the STERNS.

PITTMAN complained that he is not learning Russian fast enough. He does not like the translator assigned to him and thinks that the translator may be assigned to watch his activities.

PITTMAN said that he would like the CP, USA to know that he is just now learning his job, so he may have to stay in Moscow for another year.

PITTMAN stated that occasionally, he attends press conferences at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow but does not socialize with American correspondents in Moscow.

ReBulet 7/14/60, which referred to Chicago letter 7/11/60, containing a briefing given to CG 5824-S* by GUS HALL, General Secretary of the CP, USA. ReBulet requested an explanation of the following statement by GUS HALL which appeared in re Chicago letter: "In regard to trade union approaches in the United States, the CPSU must have a parallel approach to that of the CP, USA. Usually the CPSU is in contradiction to the CP, USA, in this field."

Chicago letter dated 7/15/60 pointed out that the Chicago Division had no additional information concerning this statement by HALL but an opinion was offered as to the probable explanation of HALL's remarks.

On 8/10/60, CG 5824-S* advised that the opinion of the Chicago Division was a correct analysis of HALL's remarks. CG 5824-S* further advised that he did not have an opportunity to discuss this point with the CPSU. CG 5824-S* offered the opinion that the CPSU probably would not have paid much attention to the comments and complaints of the CP, USA in this matter.

Both MARCEL and LENA SCHERER stated that they would be willing to serve in this capacity. They said, however, that they have not had any recent contacts with members of the Russian delegation to the United Nations.

MARCEL and LENA SCHERER stated that they do have social contacts with members of the Roumanian delegation to the United Nations. They are scheduled to attend a Roumanian affair on August 23, 1960. CG 5824-S*, at the instructions of Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party (CP), USA, left Chicago, Illinois, 7/9/60 on the sixth Solo mission to Czechoslovakia and Russia. He returned to the United States on 7/31/60.

My memorandum 8/5/60 pointed out that the informant met with two members of the "Secret Department" of the CP of the Soviet Union (CPSU) during the week of 7/17/60 in Moscow, Russia. Arrangements were made at this meeting for informant to have clandestine contacts in New York City with undisclosed Soviets.

My memorandum 8/9/60 discloses that CG 5824-S* identified from a photograph one of the two "secret" members. He is Boris S. Ivanov, a Soviet national who departed the United States on 9/28/59. Ivanov was employed as a Counselor, Advisor, Political Affairs, Soviet Delegation to the United Nations (UN). While in the United States there had been no indication that Ivanov had been involved in any espionage activities (100-36594-84).

New York airtel 8/10/60 discloses that CG 5824-S* has now tentatively identified from a photograph the other "secret" member. He is Sergei Nikolaevich Antonov, a known Soviet intelligence agent, who was employed as a Soviet delegate to the 14th Session of the UN General Assembly. He departed the United States on 11/27/59 (105-25223-84,86).

While viewing photographs to identify Antonov, CG 5824-S* stated that the photograph of one Petr Pavlovich Borissov is possibly one of the members of the "Secret Department" of the CPSU with whom informant met on a prior trip to Moscow in February, 1959. Borissov departed the United States 11/4/58.

New York airtel 8/11/60 discloses that CG 5824-S* departed from Idlewild Airport, New York City, 8/11/60 on Cubana Airlines flight 999 for Havana, Cuba. This is the seventh Solo mission engaged in by our informants.

Informant, together with James Jackson, Editor of "The Worker," Helen Winter, a member of the National Committee of the Communist Party (CP), USA, and Pat Toohey, Chairman of the New Jersey CP, comprise the CP, USA, delegation which is to attend the Cuban CP Congress scheduled to be held in Havana on 8/16/60. This Congress will be immediately followed by a meeting of CPs from all Latin-American countries.

Informant, traveling under an assumed name, Martin Camp, will be gone for approximately ten days. During informant's recent trip to Moscow, the Soviets suggested that CG 5824-S* might want to attend the functions in Havana. It is expected that our informant will attend both the Congress and the meeting of CPs of all Latin-American countries and report to us upon his return to the United States concerning its proceedings. Conceivably, the informant will make other contacts while in Havana and report these contacts to the New York Office upon his return.

ACTION:

This matter will be followed closely and you will be kept advised of pertinent developments.

Information Concerning Communists in France
Who Were Formerly in the Movie Industry in Hollywood, California

JOHN PITTMAN, Moscow Correspondent for "The Worker" stated during July, 1960, that there is a group of Communists in France who formerly resided in the United States. There is at least a half dozen in this group. Among those in this group are: MIKE WILSON and PAUL JERRICO (PH). The members of this group were formerly in the movie industry in Hollywood. They are making all kinds of money in the movie industry in France. They have turned against the Communist Party but have not dropped Marxism. They will subsidize a "real Marxist" magazine in the United States.

By way of comment this magazine may be some type of right wing publication.

During the week end of August 6-7, 1960, this information was discussed with DOROTHY HEALEY of Los Angeles, California. Before any names were mentioned to her she said, "Don't tell me that this story involves Mike Wilson and Paul Jerrico. They are fine persons and would never do such a thing."

HEALEY said that she corresponds with MIKE WILSON. She will write a letter to him and see what kind of a reply she receives.

This airtel and two additional airtels being submitted on this date, complete the information furnished by CG 5824-S* concerning the 6th Solo trip prior to his departure for Cuba on the 7th Solo trip on 8/11/60.

Due to the extremely heavy schedule of CG 5824-S* between the period of 7/31/60 and 8/11/60, it was not possible to obtain all of the information concerning the 6th Solo trip from him. However, the remaining information consists of odds and ends such as individual meetings with V.J. JEROME, CHAO YI MIN, etc. Also, a meeting with representatives of publishing houses in Moscow. CG 5824-S* saw CHAO YI MIN in Prague, Czechoslovakia on two occasions. Both meetings were very brief and there was no discussion of the current ideological dispute between the CPSU and the CP of China.

The remaining information from the 6th Solo trip will be obtained at the conclusion of the 7th Solo trip.

Negro Question in the U.S. Which Was Left With JOHN PITTMAN by JAMES JACKSON

During July, 1960, JOHN PITTMAN, Moscow correspondent for "The Worker," stated that when JAMES JACKSON was in Moscow in January and February, 1959, to attend the 21st Congress of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, he left with for PITTMAN some material on the Negro Question in the U.S. This material was intended for publication in Russia. PITTMAN wrote a preface to the material and a short biographical sketch of JACKSON and submitted all of it to the CPSU. It has not been published and PITTMAN could not find out why it has not been printed.

NIKOLAI MOSTOVETS, Head of the North and South American Section of the International Department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union (CCPSU), stated that if JACKSON would rewrite the material in the form of a book, bring it up to date, add some chapters, and delete or re-phrase a resolution on the Negro Question, the CPSU will be glad to publish it. One criticism is that JACKSON incorporated a resolution on the Negro Question which he had written but which was adopted by the CP, USA. The CPSU will not incorporate in a book the complete text of a resolution adopted by a Communist party, even though the author of the book originally wrote the resolution.

CG 5824-S*, at the instructions of Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party (CP), USA, left Chicago, Illinois, 7/9/60 on the sixth Solo mission to Czechoslovakia and Russia. He returned to the United States on 7/31/60.

In July, 1960, informant met in Moscow, Russia, with three officials of the All Union Council of Trade Unions of the USSR. These leading representatives advised the informant that:

1. The Soviet Union does not expect members of trade-union delegations from the United States to be convinced that socialism is better than capitalism or that there is a Utopia in the Soviet Union. These delegations are useful because it is a fact that they permit contacts and help to break down barriers. To this extent, all trade-union delegations from the United States to the Soviet Union are useful and good.

2. The Soviet Union would prefer "official" as opposed to "unofficial" trade-union delegations from the United States, and that each delegation, limited to six or seven members, be composed of representatives from the same industry.

3. Members of trade-union delegations are not to have their wives accompany them--the women want to go shopping and sightseeing, and the trip becomes more of a pleasure tour than a serious delegation.

4. If necessary, return trip expenses to the United States may be paid for members of a delegation by the USSR.

5. Visiting of relatives by members of trade-union delegations in the Soviet Union will be discouraged, but the USSR is not against it in principle.

Rebulet dated 8/18/60 requesting advice as to whether CG 5824-S* made an accounting at the termination of the sixth Solo trip of funds which had previously been furnished to him.

It is regretted that an accounting was not made by CG 5824-S* at the termination of the sixth Solo trip and that he was not requested to make such an accounting prior to the commencement of the seventh Solo trip, 12 days after the termination of the sixth Solo trip. The Chicago Division and CG 5824-S* are both aware that such an accounting is necessary and it was contemplated that this would be accomplished at the conclusion of the seventh Solo trip.

It has been the practice of the Chicago Division to make an accounting to the Bureau at the completion of each Solo trip. Since CG 5824-S* has as yet not returned to Chicago from the sixth Solo trip this was the first instance where one Solo trip almost dovetailed into a prior trip.

It was pointed out in Chicago airtel dated August 15, 1960, that due to the extremely heavy schedule of CG 5824-S* during the period between July 31, 1960, and August 11, 1960, it was not possible to obtain every last detail of information from the sixth Solo trip, even though well over one complete volume of information was obtained during that period. Because of this fact, and the fact that CG 5824-S* was working night and day with a severe cold and other physical ailments, it was not deemed appropriate to press him for an accounting while he was in New York City.

Referenced Bureau letter points out that $1,170 in Bureau funds and $1,000 in Communist Party, USA, funds was provided to CG 5824-S* for the sixth Solo trip and that it was contemplated that this trip would last for eight weeks, yet on the instructions of the Central Committee of the CPSU CG 5824-S* returned to the United States and the trip lasted for only three weeks.

Chicago letter dated July 1, 1960, sets forth the following estimated budget for the sixth Solo trip:

| | |
|--|----------------|
| Round trip plane transportation and ground transportation from Chicago, Illinois, to Paris, France..... | $1,200 |
| Round trip plane transportation from Paris, France, to Prague, Czechoslovakia..... | 150 |
| Plane transportation from Prague, Czechoslovakia, to Moscow, Russia..... | 150 |
| Hotel rooms, meals and miscellaneous expenses in Western Europe on the way to and from Moscow, Russia..... | 270 |
| Miscellaneous items of clothing, etc., needed for the trip since CG 5824-S* was traveling under an assumed name..... | 150 |
| A sum of $250 to compensate the parents of CG 5824-S* to move from their apartment to his residence to insure the safety of his residence and reference material and personal property therein..... | 250 |
| TOTAL ESTIMATED EXPENSES | $2,170 |

A review of the above items will reflect that all of the above listed expenses, with the possible exception of the last one, pertain to necessary costs to get behind the Iron Curtain and to return. These costs would be constant whether CG 5824-S* remained behind the Iron Curtain for one day or for ten weeks. Concerning the last item, compensation to his parents, CG 5824-S* has not yet returned to his residence and in all probability will not return for a period which will be in excess of eight weeks.

It will be noted that the above list of estimated expenses did not provide for expenses for an extended stay in New York City; yet CG 5824-S* spent from July 31, 1960, to August 11, 1960, in New York City, for a period of 12 days, at a minimum cost of approximately $20 per day, except for one day when he took a plane trip to Toronto, Canada. No funds were provided him for the trip to Toronto, although it was in his interests, and therefore in our interests, to have him brief TIM BUCK since in the past CG 5824-S* has received invaluable information from BUCK in regard to developments in the international Communist movement. Since BUCK greatly appreciated this briefing, it can be reasonably expected that he will reciprocate when he has items of information of outstanding importance.

CG 5824-S* had to purchase some items of clothing in New York City since the clothing he had with him for the trip to Russia was not suitable for wear in a tropical climate and he anticipated being in Cuba for approximately two weeks.

In regard to the sudden Solo trip to Cuba, CG 5824-S* advised that he will take from CPUSA funds an amount equal to that given to the other delegates from the CPUSA to the Congress of the CP of Cuba. The $250 given to him in New York City for this trip was to provide for any emergency. It is also anticipated that if he does not return to New York City from Cuba until September 1, 1960, he will remain there for scheduled meetings with the Russians during the period between September 7, 1960, and September 10, 1960.

The Chicago Division again expresses regret that an accounting from CG 5824-S* for the sixth Solo trip has not been submitted and everything possible will be done to rectify this situation as soon as circumstances permit.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS OF INFORMATION OBTAINED

HEAD OF THE NORTH AND SOUTH AMERICAN SECTION OF THE INTERNATIONAL DEPARTMENT OF THE CCCPSU

During the course of several conversations with NIKOLAI MOSTOVETS, Head of the North and South American Section of the International Department of the CCCPSU, in July, 1960, he made the following statements:

The CP, USA, would be crazy to have a Negro as the head of the CP in the United States.

CARL MARZANI has applied for a visa to visit Russia. The CPSU wants to know his current political standing and what the CP, USA, knows about him.

The CPSU will agree to invite MIKE GOLD, ERIK BERT and [redacted] to visit the Soviet Union.

In diplomatic circles in the USSR they are planning to invite prominent people from the United States, such as ELEANOR ROOSEVELT, to visit the Soviet Union. The extending of these invitations may be delayed until after the 1960 election campaign in the United States.

With regard to whether or not the CPSU could use a "Washington Peace Letter", more information concerning the format and more details concerning this proposed publication are needed before a decision can be made. International Books in Moscow would have to be contacted in regard to possible Russian subscribers for this proposed publication.

If the CP, USA, has published the entire proceedings of its 17th National Convention, the CPSU would like a copy of these proceedings.

The CPSU wants articles on co-existence and disarmament written by leading comrades in the CP, USA.

The CPSU is not getting enough CP, USA, material from MORRIS CHILDS. It wants the minutes of CP, USA, meetings of the National Executive Committee, the National Committee, regional meetings, etc.

The Soviet Union has received 6,000 applications for attendance at the Friendship of the Peoples University. Each student will be given 1,000 rubles a month. [REDACTED] of India, wrote a letter to the Soviet Union in which he very diplomatically opposed the establishing of this type of university in the Soviet Union.

When BLAS ROCA, leader of the CP of Cuba, was in Peking, the Chinese almost had him convinced that they were correct and that the CPSU was wrong in the current ideological dispute between the CPSU and the CP of China. The CPSU had to "work on" ROCA when he passed through Moscow from Peking on his return trip to Cuba.

Comrade Lensky
Foreign Languages Publishing House
Moscow, USSR

Dear Comrade Lensky:

I am distressed by the delay in presenting this material which I promised to deliver several weeks ago. In explanation I can only say that I badly underestimated the amount of work involved in editing manuscripts for publication in book form. I have had to leave out a great deal of material because of its repetitiousness, and I am not certain yet that the material as delivered is in the correct form for your purposes.

If further work on my part, as information is wanted, please do not hesitate to call on me. My telephone number is BH 9-00-16.

Comrade Sergei Kuzmin, who brings this material to you, has undertaken to facilitate your work by translating some of the material. I was grateful to him for attempting this work, since I felt I had already caused you enough delay and anything that might speed the process of getting the material into print seemed helpful.

Comrade Kuzmin, in fact, is in a favorable situation for doing the translation, since he is my daily assistant in interpreting and translating, and I am in constant communication with him. I am not in a position, however, to determine the quality of his work, since my speaking and reading familiarity with Russian is still virtually nil. I hope you find his work satisfactory.

There was no suggestion in my conversations either with the author or with you as to the length of the work. I estimate the material delivered here would run to a book of approximately 100 to 125 pages. But in this respect, too, I am not practiced. I mention it merely to say that if there is too much material or too little, I can change the quantity to suit your needs.

Thank you for your patience and consideration.

Comradely yours,

John Pittman

FOREWORD

This winter of 1959-1960, warm winds are blowing everywhere on the earth. Mankind, for the first time in human history, stands on the threshold of a new era -- an era ~~man~~ of peace and good will among the nations and peoples of the world. The burning issue of the hour for every individual and every nation is whether the peoples can seize this opportunity, which has come into being as a result of an agreement between the heads of the two most powerful states, the United States of America and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, to seek peaceful ways of resolving differences. This prospect of lasting peace, of universal disarmament and the diversion of the immense sums and powerful energies used for weapons and war into channels of constructive human progress, lifts the dead weight of pessimism and cynicism from the mind of man, and leaves him free to dream, ~~to create~~ to create, and to build.

At such a moment, the Negro question in the United States of America assumes special importance. It is an auspicious hour for the solution of problems that have long obstructed the advance of peoples, of which the problem caused by the persisting oppression of the eighteen million Negro people of the United States is one of universal concern. The colonial peoples and the peoples of newly liberated countries find in this question striking parallels of their own experience. Persecuted and oppressed minorities in the bourgeois states take heart from every victory won by the Negro people in their struggle to become full citizens in their homeland. There is, moreover, another pressing reason why this question has such importance, even such urgency, today, namely, its strategic relationship to, and potential significance for, the present great struggle of the peoples to put an end to war.

All the world knows that the eighteen million Negroes are the most oppressed and exploited minority in the United States. The scale, comprehensiveness, special institutionalized and historically continued forms of their oppression place them in a different category from other minorities in the United States who also suffer disabilities -- the American Indians; the Mexican and other Spanish-speaking Americans, particularly the Puerto Ricans; Italians, Chinese, Japanese, and Filipino Americans; and also Jewish and Catholic minorities in various parts of the country. But what has so far escaped many a student of the Negro question is this strategically important international character of the Negro people's struggle for full citizenship.

We shall be better able to understand this aspect of the question if we are acquainted with the fact that the oppression of Negroes is the bedrock foundation of the reactionary political forces that dominate the making of U.S. foreign policy. Specifically, it is a principal means by which these forces control the U.S. Congress and many state legislatures, and ~~manipulate~~ impose upon the nation the ~~extreme~~ dangerous policy of arms making and war preparations.

Of the 436 members of the U.S. House of Representatives (1936), 120, or more than 27%, come from states where only 25% of Negroes eligible to vote are allowed to vote. Of the 98 members of the U.S. Senate, 26, or about 25%, come from these states. Although Negroes are one-fourth of the population of these states, none are represented in the U.S. Congress.

These 120 Representatives and 26 Senators form a parliamentary bloc which invariably allies itself with the most reactionary Representatives and Senators from other States, many of whom are elected from districts in which the Negro ghetto has been split into pieces for electoral purposes, so that in none may Negroes have a deciding vote.

This alliance of racist Southerners and hand-picked henchmen of the big monopolies of the North controls the U.S. Congress, dictates the selection of administrative and judicial officials, and even determines -- through domination of the party machinery -- the choice of nominees for the U.S. Presidency. In addition, it is the source of the worst anti-labor, anti-democratic and anti-peace legislation.

3 -- FOREWORD

passed by the Congress.

The actual work of preparing legislation, as is commonly known, is done by committees set up for that purpose. But of the 20 standing committees of the House of Representatives, 13 have chairmen from the southern states. In the Senate, of 16 chairmen of standing committees, 10 are from the area of mass Negro disfranchisement. These committees have not only the power of writing and expediting legislation they and the interests they serve desire; they may also throttle or emasculate legislation they do not like. For instance, it is Rep. Howard W. Smith of Virginia, a notorious racist millionaire, who as chairman of the House Rules Committee stifles most of the bills to ensure civil rights to Negroes. It was Smith who was the author of the notorious Smith Act under which Communists, including Smith's fellow-Virginian, the author of this book, are hounded and imprisoned. Again, it is Sen. James O. Eastland, who owns a Mississippi plantation on which slavery-time conditions survive nearly a century after the Emancipation Proclamation, who conducts "investigations" of advocates of peace and civil rights for Negroes, and who proposes legislation to deprive any American daring to advocate such measures of all civil rights, including the right to travel.

Voting records show that this reactionary parliamentary alliance has backed to the hilt the policies of continuing the atomic arms buildup, the expansion of military bases, the rearming of the West German militarists and former Nazis, the formation of NATO, SEATO and CENTO, and the senseless and racist-motivated hostility to the People's Republic of China. It is the policies promulgated by this alliance which, on the one hand, give full freedom to Hitler's former scientists and the ex-Nazi fascist spies of Eastern Europe to eat, sleep, work, live, and play wherever they can pay the admittance prices in the cities and towns of the Southern states; and, on the other hand, mobilize hoodlums and police forcibly to prevent little Negro children from attending unsegregated schools in the land of their birth. It is the

... of this alliance which procured for Werner von Braun, Hitler's rocket expert, the highest government award given to civilians; but, on the other hand, buried Dr. Ralph Bunche, the well-known U.S. Negro member of the Secretariat of the United Nations Organization, from membership in New York clubs; handcuffed and fingerprinted the internationally known scholar and peace advocate, Dr. W.E.B. DuBois; and compelled the universally beloved Paul Robeson to leave America in order to earn a livelihood.

In the light of such facts, it becomes understandable that the struggle of the Negro people for the unrestricted enjoyment of their citizenship rights is at the same time, objectively, a struggle for a foreign policy of peace and friendship with other countries. A fully enfranchised and represented Negro electorate, allied with the millions of whites who are now disfranchised as an offshoot of Negro oppression, would sweep away this reactionary parliamentary alliance and destroy the influence of the most predatory, fascist-minded section of monopoly capital in the making of U.S. foreign policy.

These articles by James E. Jackson, a beloved Communist leader of the United States, convincingly develop this important aspect of the Negro question. In doing so, Jackson renders a service to the cause of a lasting peace, and specifically to his native land and its great people, who desire peace as fervently as the other peoples of the world. Moreover, Jackson's articles bring the reader many new facts and up-to-date data concerning the problem of U.S. Negroes and their struggle to solve it. A research specialist by training and experience, Jackson is also a creative thinker and writer. His observations and generalizations are drawn from his own life-long experience as a leader of the Negro people's struggles. His work has been inspired and infused with the science and spirit of Marxism-Leninism, as he himself expressed it: "The question is not how to compress the phenomena of the Negro people's movement in the United States into the confines of a given Marxist category, but how to effectively use the science of Marxism-Leninism to serve the cause of Negro equality and freedom."

Some of the material in the last three articles will be found to be repetitious. But this can hardly be avoided in a selection of this kind, drawn from different periods of the author's activity and developing different phases of a single theme. I believe, however, that the reader will find here, as I have done, much valuable ^{them} ~~data, strong and impassioned reasoning, and the noble theme of human freedom, all directed to the realization of man's dearest aim -- peace on the earth.~~

1 -- BIOGRAPHY

CONCERNING THE AUTHOR

James E. Jackson, Jr., author of these articles, is a member of the National Committee of the Communist Party of the United States of America, and Secretary for its department of Southern and Negro Affairs. He was born on November 29, 1914 in the Negro ghetto of Richmond, Virginia -- a ghetto the former slaveowners malevolently named "Jackson Ward" after the Confederate general, Stonewall Jackson.

Although Jackson's father, a druggist, and mother, one of the first Negro women college graduates, were able to provide better conditions for him than most other Negro children enjoyed, while quite young he began seeking ways to break through the iron curtain of segregation and discrimination which cuts Negro ghetto life off from the stream of the nation. At 11, he organized the first troop of Negro boys to be admitted into the official Boy Scouts of America organization in Virginia. Soon after, however, he resigned when the national Scout executive equivocated on his demand for abolishing segregation in the organization.

At 16, while studying chemistry at an all-Negro college in Virginia, young Jackson discovered Marx and Lenin. Soon he organized a Marxist Club and a Proletarian Students Party on the campus, and led students to join the picket lines of striking workers, the so-called "Hunger Marches," and "Free the Scottsboro Boys" parades. In 1932 he led a delegation of Negro and white students to the Virginia State legislature, and demanded unsegregated schools. Later, while studying at the College of Pharmacy of Howard University in Washington, D.C., Jackson took part in strikes against war, high living costs, and in demonstrations for the passage of a federal anti-lynching law.

2 -- BIOGRAPHY

During Jackson's last year at Howard University, he was a co-founder of the Southern Negro Youth Congress, an organization which helped organize and lead the struggles of Negroes for their rights as American citizens in the Southern states.

After college, Jackson returned to Richmond and worked by day as a pharmacist, by night as an organizer for the Southern Negro Youth Congress. He helped organize the Negro tobacco workers in Richmond, and led them in successful strikes. In 1940, moving to the steel-producing city of Birmingham, Alabama, Jackson launched a campaign of Negro and white Southerners to end poll taxes and the disfranchisement of Negroes.

During the anti-fascist war, Jackson served with distinction as a sergeant in the 823rd Engineer Aviation Battalion in Burma and other areas of the China-India-Burma theater of war.

Returning to the South after the war, Jackson led Negro veterans to vote for the first time in Mississippi, casting their ballots against the notorious racist Senator Theodore Bilbo at a polling booth on Bilbo's front porch. This act was all the more remarkable since hundreds of Negroes have been lynched in Mississippi, and are murdered even today, for attempting to exercise their right to vote.

Thereafter, Jackson became successively the Chairman of the Communist Party in Louisiana, a leader of the Communist auto workers in the great Ford plant in Michigan, Southern Regional Director of the Communist Party and a member of its National Committee.

Jackson, along with other Communist leaders, was indicted during the wave of McCarthyite hysteria that engulfed the United States as a part of the bourgeoisie's "cold war" against the American working class. The charges against him were later thrown out of court, but Jackson, his wife and two young daughters, and the families of other Communist leaders, live and work today under the shadow of the notorious Smith and McCarran laws, which give "legal" sanction to the hunting, persecution and imprisonment of men and women for the "crimes" of having ideas and reading books feared and hated by the bourgeoisie. Three of Jackson's comrades, Henry Winston, Gilbert Green, and Robert Thompson are still in prison under these laws. Many other Americans, Communists and non-Party progressives alike, are either waging court struggles to remain at liberty, or stand under the threat of indictment and arrest at any time.

Throughout his life, James E. Jackson, Jr., has used the pen as an instrument of struggle. While in high school, he began to write articles for the school paper. His articles in this book are a few of many. They have been especially selected to give readers a clear understanding of the subject nearest Jackson's heart -- the freedom of the people of America from class oppression, and from the bondage of national and racial oppression, particularly of that virulent form known as Jim Crowism.

It has been learned that Gus Hall, General Secretary of the Communist Party, USA, stated to Morris Childs on 8/9/60 that Alexander Trachtenberg had delivered a message to him. Trachtenberg had received this message on this date from "the Russians." The message is that the first meeting of a commission to discuss the current ideological dispute between the Communist Party of the Soviet Union and the Communist Party of China is scheduled to meet in Moscow, Russia, on September 23 and 25, 1960. The commission will be composed of one representative from each of the socialist countries and one representative from each of fifteen capitalist countries. The CPSU wants someone from the National Executive Committee of the CP, USA to be a representative on this commission.

Hall said that Trachtenberg suggested that Jim Jackson, member of the National Executive Committee of the CP, USA, be sent to Moscow as the representative of the National Executive Committee of the CP, USA on this commission. Hall stated that he asked Trachtenberg if this suggestion was part of the message. Trachtenberg replied that it was not part of the message, but that it was his personal recommendation. Hall said that after this reply, he told Trachtenberg, "Mind your own G-- d--- business."

Hall then said to Childs, I suggest that you go to the meeting of this commission in Moscow.

Comments of CG 5824-S*

It would appear at this time that the representative of the CP, USA to this meeting in Moscow will probably be either Morris Childs or Jim Jackson. Jackson will undoubtedly receive information concerning this meeting and will no doubt want to represent the CP, USA. While Hall may have a personal preference for Childs over Jackson as a representative of the CP, USA, Jackson is an official member of the National Executive Committee, while Childs is not. This may cause Hall some difficulty in selecting Childs as the representative of the CP, USA.

Jackson not giving Childs an edge

It is believed that the passport of Jackson will be due for renewal in the fall of 1960, since he attended a 21st Congress of the CPSU in January, 1959. If he applies for renewal of his passport, the United States State Department might delay the renewal by submitting to him a questionnaire in which he might be asked such questions as; Did you travel to China on your present passport? Did you meet with Latin American Communists in China? etc. In other words, as a delaying tactic, Jackson might be asked questions which would not give him any information, but, at the same time, would give him the impression that the United States Government knows enough about his foreign travel to cause him to hesitate before submitting a lot of false answers.

LETTER OF THE CP OF THE SOVIET UNION, WHICH WAS ADDRESSED TO THE LEADERSHIP OF ALL COMMUNIST PARTIES AND WAS READ TO THE CONFERENCE OF COMMUNIST PARTIES
IN BUCHAREST, ROUMANIA, IN JUNE 1960

14-00000-100-141-271-907
The Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union made available to this source a copy of an English translation of a letter of the CPSU, which was addressed to the leadership of all Communist Parties. According to ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN, this letter was read to the conference of Communist Parties in Bucharest, Roumania, in June 1960. However, copies of the letter were not distributed at Bucharest. The letter was referred to at the Bucharest conference as a letter 84 pages in length. The copy made available to this source for the purpose of making notes from it was 80 pages in length. This copy was marked "secret and strictly confidential." It was numbered "102". It was dated June 21, 1960, and was enclosed in a blue cover. The letter deals with the ideological dispute between the CPSU and the CP of China. The following is a listing of the contents of the letter.

1. On the character of the present epoch.
2. The question of war and peace.
3. On peaceful co-existence.
On disarmament.
On the possibility of the so-called "third way" in international relations.
4. On forms of transition to Socialism.
5. The attitude of the Chinese comrades to the activity of the international democratic organizations.
6. Departure of the Chinese comrades from the Declaration and Peace Manifesto.
7. Need for closer unity in the Socialist camp and international Communist movement.

What follows is almost the complete text of this letter.

For decades the relations of the CPSU and the CP of China were based on the solid foundations of Marxism-Leninism, proletarian internationalism and fraternal cooperation. The CPSU always gave all-around support and assistance at all stages to the Communist Party of China. There was the closest political, scientific, economic, technical and cultural cooperation. We are rendering China the fullest assistance in the building of Socialism and defense against imperialist aggression. When the U. S. pressured and threatened war against China, Comrade KHRUSHCHEV, in a message to President EISENHOWER, said that the Soviet Union would regard an attack on Peoples China as an attack on the Soviet Union. Also in the United Nations, the Soviet Union took a position on the question of Taiwan, against the policy of two Chinas, etc. The CP of China, on the other hand, supported Soviet foreign policy actions concerning Germany, provocations from the United States, disarmament proposals, on the 4 Power Peace Summit, etc.

In recent times, we noticed a variance regarding the struggle for peace and other problems growing out of the international situation. This is shown in the articles on the 90th Anniversary of LENIN's birth, which appeared in "JEN MIN JINPAO" and "HUNG CHIA" ("Red Flag") and other periodicals, as well as in organizations, such as the World Peace Council, the Committee for Asian Solidarity, etc., where differences were noted.

In January, CHOU EN LAI in a talk with the USSR Ambassador in Peking said, let things ride. The CPSU in a verbal message said, let's rather talk. Let us not permit piling up of moot questions. Let us find solutions.

In June 1960 in the meeting of the World Federation of Trade Unions in Peking, the CP of China unexpectedly presented some propositions that were contra to the CPSU. LIU NING YI disagreed with some of these Soviet policies and showed or declared extreme dissatisfaction with the policies of the WFTU on peace and disarmament.

LIU NING YI said: "To sit at one conference table with the imperialists would mean to desert the whole of mankind.... war cannot be prevented as long as capitalism exists, etc." LIU NING YI threatened to expose the WFTU and threatened to "expose right wing opportunism."

Before the WFTU sessions began in Peking, LIU NING YI called together some CP members present and gave the views of the CP of China on peaceful co-existence, war and other issues. On June 6, 1960, the Political Bureau of the CP of China had a supper at which LIU SHAO CHI, Deputy Chairman of the CP of China, said, "There are different viewpoints on major historical things. He said he found it necessary to speak."

TENG HSIAO PING, General Secretary of the CP of China spoke and charged that "The Moscow declaration has been thrown overboard." He came forward with some critical propositions regarding the 20th Congress of the CPSU and more were to come but these views were rejected by the Fraternal Party delegates present at the WFTU meeting. Therefore, these things that were to come did not come up. Then there were discussions behind the backs of other Communist Parties. There are opinions in all Communist Parties of other countries that the CP of China leaders had criticized major Marxist propositions of the CPSU as well as the peace manifesto signed by all fraternal parties.

The CPSU considers these methods and forms of criticism of the CPSU and other parties as improper and unacceptable. These are opposed to proletarian internationalism.

Now we are being told that the CP of China has been in disagreement with the CPSU for a number of years. This criticism on the part of the Chinese continued in the open meeting of the WFTU, which involved non-Party people. The especially critical speeches were made by LIU NING YI and LIU CHANG SHENG. They tried to make the CP of China line the line of the WFTU. They made an open appeal against the CPSU.

They are circulating documents in all Communist Parties.

The CPSU must state its opinion on:

The question of principle.
The appraisal of the present epoch.
The question of war and peace.
Peaceful co-existence,
The ways of transition to Socialism.

We are surprised because in 1957, all of these propositions were collectively discussed, adopted and incorporated in the Peace Manifesto, which was signed by all the Parties.

I. CHARACTER OF THE PRESENT EPOCH

"The main content of our epoch is the transition from capitalism to socialism, which was begun by the great October revolution in Russia... In our epoch the world development is determined by the course and result of the competition between two diametrically opposed social systems."

But of late the Chinese comrades have been seeing only one aspect of the present epoch, emphasizing most vigorously that the present epoch is an epoch of imperialism, wars and revolution. All other descriptions, they claim, are a departure from Marxism-Leninism and Lenin's characterization of imperialism. The Chinese comrades put forth an erroneous view regarding the present epoch. They do not take into account the many changes in the relation of class forces in the international arena. They misinterpret Lenin's proposition of decades ago. To appraise the present epoch as merely an epoch of imperialism, wars and revolutions does not give comprehensive Marxist-Leninist analysis of modern society, of the aggregate relationship of society in modern times, the major social changes and changes in socialism.

Our epoch is not merely an epoch of imperialism and wars. It is an epoch of the disintegration of imperialism, an epoch of transition from capitalism to socialism, of formation and consolidation of the world system of socialism.

Lenin said that from 1917 on no world phenomenon could be properly understood unless Soviet Russia was considered as the paramount factor. This means that no world phenomenon can be properly understood unless the world system of socialism is considered as the paramount factor.

The world Socialist System is already a powerful factor of the modern times. It is capable and actually exerts a decisive influence on world politics. The transformation of the dictatorship of the proletariat from a national, i.e., existing in one country and incapable of determining world politics into an international one, i.e., into the dictatorship of the proletariat at least in several advanced countries, one capable of exerting a decisive influence on world politics as a whole." This is taken from V. I. LENIN, Volume 31, page 126.

Imperialism has long ceased to be the dominant force on the world scene today. The Socialist System is the dominant force in the world today. It determines the rate and course of world development. The pillars of imperialism are also being undermined by powerful currents of a world revolutionary movement of the peoples of the colonies and dependent countries.

These circumstances have deprived imperialism of its dominant role on the world scene, of the possibility of doing as it pleases. If this were not so, there would be no such rapid disintegration of the colonial system since 1945. If imperialism is omnipotent, this would be unthinkable. The collapse of the colonial system of imperialism became possible due to the existence and strength of a world Socialist System.

Therefore, defining the present epoch is of the greatest fundamental significance. From different definitions there follow different conclusions regarding basic issues of international development, the strategy and tactics of this CP movement, questions of diverse forms of transition to Socialism, peaceful co-existence, war and peace, disarmament, etc.

The Chinese comrades say that there is taking place a departure from Leninism in defining the character of imperialism and its aggressive character is being glossed over. There is no such thing; no such document of the CPSU or other Marxist-Leninist Party has ever said this. "The CPSU has always educated the people that imperialism is aggressive and we quote from the resolutions of the 20th Congress. The Leninist precept that so long as imperialism exists economic bases giving use to war will also be preserved, remains in force. That is why it is necessary to display the greatest vigilance. As long as capitalism survives in the world, the reactionary forces representing the interest of the capitalist monopolies will continue and drive toward gambles and aggression and may try to unleash war."

At the 21st Congress again warning for vigilance against war we quote:

"The aggressive policy of American imperialism which reflects the ambition of the U. S. capitalist monopolies to gain world domination remains the main source of world danger. The rulers of the U. S. and those of West Germany, Britain, France and other member countries of the aggressive NATO Bloc, continue to stockpile Nuclear weapons, reject all peaceful settlement of international problems and continuously provoke armed conflicts in various regions of the world."

This appraisal and proposition of all Communist Parties is in the 1957 records of the Moscow meeting. In its practical world and activity in the sphere of foreign policy the CPSU gives a strict account of the essence of imperialism and says, "It remains aggressive."

When Comrade KHRUSHCHEV returned from the United States of America, he said that forces there still stand for cold war and the arms race and we cannot answer who will win the upper hand in determining the policy of the United States.

In October, 1959, in confidential information sent to the Parties of the peoples democracies, as well as to the Parties of France and Italy, we pointed to a number of factors that indicated a possible understanding between the USSR and the USA, but we said, "The advocates of the cold war and the positions of strength policy still played a very considerable role in shaping of the foreign policy of the USA".

When Comrade KHRUSHCHEV returned from France, we issued a similar warning about no illusions. The Communist Party of the Soviet Union "sees no differences in the Communist Party Movement on the aggressive character of Imperialism. The point of issue is a different one. Can Imperialism carry out its aggressive plan as it might have done 50 years ago? The position in which Imperialism has been placed by the course of history have changed radically in view of the forces of Socialism and peace and to the detriment of the forces of Imperialist war". When we see these changes, then we see we have a new logic analysis.

Questions of War and Peace

The 20th Congress of the CPSU saw the possibility of preventing war in the present epoch. All fraternal Parties associated themselves with this theoretical thesis. At the Moscow meeting, all Parties stated their views as follows:

"At present, the forces of peace have so grown that there is real possibility of averting war".

The Chinese comrades were in agreement and at the Eighth Congress of the Communist Party of China, Liu Chang-sheng repeated the 20th Congress thesis "the CPSU put forward proposals for the further development of peaceful coexistence and international cooperation and made an outstanding contribution to the relaxation of international tensions".

In recent statements of the Communist Party of China, such as on the occasion of the 90th Anniversary of LENIN's birth and at the World Federation of Trade Unions, the comrades have been departing from this thesis. Now, instead, they talk about illusions regarding the possibility to prevent war.

Judging by their statements, Imperialism can decide whether it shall be war or peace, local war or global war, co-existence, intervention, as Hung Chi said, "On a final analysis, the issue of war or peace is settled by the Imperialists and their general staffs. Of course, whether the Imperialists eventually unleash war does not depend on us - after all, we are not the chiefs of the Imperialist general staffs". This is a quote from an article entitled, "Long Live Leninism". What the Chinese comrades do is overestimate the possibilities of Imperialism and show an underestimation of the forces of Socialism and the world Socialist system. The Chinese comrades are not objective in their analysis. War is not only an economic phenomenon. War depends on many factors in the world arena of classes, of political forces in the Capitalist countries, on the conscious will of the people and the degree of organization, and the purposefulness of their actions, etc.

The chief and most decisive peace factor which provides an objective opportunity to prevent wars, is the mighty world Socialist system. Other important factors are peace-loving countries of Asia, of Africa, the anti-colonial, anti-Imperialist movements, the international working class and its vanguard, the Liberation Movement; these joint efforts have the opportunity to prevent the Imperialists from unleashing war.

Peace cannot be achieved by spontaneous process. It has to be won by united efforts of the people. But the theory that war is inevitable as long as Socialism has not triumphed throughout the world, paralyzes the active will of the people against Imperialism. World events during the last years prove the validity of the thesis adopted at the 20th Congress of the CPSU. When the USSR becomes the first industrial power in the world, and the Chinese Peoples Republic a powerful industrial power, the new relation of forces will be so powerful that even rabid Imperialists will see the futility of war. Thus, before the complete victory of Socialism in the world, it will "actually be possible to banish war from the life of society". At the 1957 Moscow Conference of Parties, MAO TSE TUNG said, "In the final analysis, the point of the matter for us is to achieve a 15 year peace. Then, we shall be invincible throughout the world; then no one will make war on us and lasting peace will be insured all over the world." Today the Chinese comrades have departed from this thesis. There are many contradictions in the Chinese approach. On one hand Imperialism is a paper tiger, on the other hand Imperialism is all powerful. No forces, according to them, are capable in curbing them from unleashing a war. We say there should be no underrating of Imperialism, but no overrating of Imperialism.

To be against war is to be against wars of liberation, say the Chinese comrades. This is not so. The people fight for liberation. This is part of our thesis. It is difficult for the Imperialists to launch wars against the colonial and dependent countries and so is easier for these people to fight. We saw this during the invasion of Egypt, Lebanon, at the time of the Iraqi revolt and now in Cuba. Co-existence will not harm the people fighting for liberation and does not imply the renunciation of the working class struggle. It does not doom the people to "everlasting slavery", as some Chinese writers say, to fight to prevent wars. Communists always stood for wars of liberation. We support just wars as needed.

On the question of peaceful co-existence, this was proclaimed by LENIN. It is the only alternative to war. This is not a temporary tactical slogan. It is a general line of foreign policy of all Parties of the Socialist countries. The Chinese Party expressed this view at Bandung at one time. In recent articles, they say this is possible, but as long as the Imperialist System exists, we will not be rid of wars. The Chinese admit that a temporary agreement, even on disarmament and nuclear weapons, is possible, but "however, even in such a situation, as long as the Imperialist System exists, the world would not at all be rid of the most acute form of violence - war." Jenin Jihpao, on April 25, 1960, wrote "Until the complete abolition of Capitalism and Imperialism throughout the world, the alternation of war and peace will be a constant and inevitable phenomenon." At the June meeting of the World Federation of Trade Unions, the same proposition was put forward by Comrade LIU CHANG-SHENG. Disarmament, he said, is an "illusion". This is a violation of the 1957 Moscow Declaration.

The Communist Party of the Soviet Union cannot ignore it. As Comrade KHRUSHCHEV said, true to principles of LENIN and peaceful co-existence, "There are only two ways; either peaceful co-existence, or the most devastating war in history. There is no other way."

The vital interests of all the countries of the world's Socialist System and of all mankind imperatively dictate the need to preserve peace.

Peace means gaining time in favor of economic system of Socialism in competition with the economic system of Capitalism. Peace will accelerate the building of Communism. Regarding revolutionary military technique, the weapons of destruction of today, if they were used, would bring disastrous consequences. The destruction would be world-wide, unlike World War One and Two. They would wipe out nations and throw society back hundreds of years.

We cannot allow hundreds of millions of people to be destroyed. We cannot agree with the journal "Hung Chia", "We don't have to be afraid of war; that the atom bomb is a paper tiger the American reaction is frightening people with; outwardly, it is terrible, but actually it is not at all terrible." This article continues that these sacrifices will be redeemed.

Operation SOLO was a long-running FBI program to infiltrate the Communist Party of the United States and gather intelligence about its relationship to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, China, and other communist nations. It officially began in 1958 and ended in 1977, although Morris and Jack Childs, two of the principal agents in the operation, had been involved with the Bureau for several years prior. The files posted here constitute the first two releases made from the FBI's SOLO file. They range from March 1958 to August 1960. Subsequent releases will be added in the future. PART 22 OF 22

Communism is certain of Socialist victory. Ten or fifteen years of peaceful co-existence would be enough to prove our industrial superiority. Then these conditions will exclude world war from life of society even if Capitalism remains a part of the world. LENIN said, ".... everything that our diplomats can do to ward off the moment of war and thereby prolong the respite we must do. We promised the workers and peasants to do everything for peace. And we shall do it." This is taken from Volume 27, Page 343, Russian edition.

Peaceful co-existence would intensify the Imperialist contradictions. It would create internal complications as well as external complications, etc.

It is wrong, like the Chinese comrades do, to identify peaceful co-existence with "class peace". Marxism-Leninism never extended co-existence to relations between colonies and mother countries; between dependent and Imperialist countries - between proletariat masses and exploiting classes.

Peaceful co-existence means the co-existence of states with differing Social systems. It also means a definite form of class struggle between Socialism and Capitalism on a world scale, from which Socialism is benefitting.

Peaceful co-existence would facilitate revolutionary struggle in all countries against Capitalism. It would facilitate the ties with the masses and to quote from the 17 European Party Declaration, which met in Rome, "The great ideals of Socialism can be more rapidly imparted to the new millions of people from all walks of life." The class struggle does not cease. Sharp class battles will occur anyhow against military cliques, wage cuts, lower standards of living, etc. The struggles in South Korea, Turkey and Japan are such examples.

During the past fifteen years, 27 countries freed themselves from the Imperialist yoke. This weakened Imperialism and confirms the possibility of victory of the revolutionary forces in conditions of peaceful co-existence. The Chinese comrades charged the CPSU "is flirting with the national bourgeoisie" that we are drifting away from the class struggle. This is not so. We support the National Liberation Movement by using alliances with the national bourgeoisie (anti-Imperialists) as the Chinese have done in the past. As of March 1, 1960, the Soviet Union spent 10,200 million rubles in aid to such countries as India, Indonesia, Burma, Iraq, Cuba, Ceylon and others.

Despite the pressure and the blackmail of the United States and other Imperialistic powers, these countries constitute a zone of peace. They do not allow United States military bases. Objectively, these countries help to promote peace. They are weakening the foundations of Imperialism.

The Chinese say that now since the national bourgeoisie is in power, the national bourgeoisie has lost its anti-Imperialistic trend and they themselves are becoming Imperialists while these (meaning national bourgeoisie) did not solve the social questions as yet. There is a struggle in all these countries growing. The working class is uniting around peasantry to resolve social problems.

Marxist-Leninism teaches us that we need a sober appraisal of class forces and not to skip stages in the revolutionary struggle. The skipping of stages can damage the revolutionary struggle. The Imperialists are making an effort to involve these countries in military blocs. The Socialist camp must struggle to multiply friends and stop the course of Imperialism.

In the struggle between the two camps, exceptionally important for us is to acquire and multiply a number of friends who hold a neutral position favorable to us. The Chinese comrades used to do this and used the phrase "alliance and struggle", but not now.

Marxism-Leninism teaches us how to use the contradictions in the enemy camp, how to use tactics, how to maneuver, how to make agreements, how to compromise, for the sake of the ultimate goal.

There are two tendencies in the Capitalist world - the aggressive and the bellicose and the moderately realistic. LENIN taught us flexibility; the skillful use of rifts, even the smallest among the enemies, among lower sections, among various sections and types of the bourgeoisie. Always secure the help of an ally "no matter how temporary, vacillating, unstable, unreliable and conditional." From Volume 31, page 52, Russian edition. The Soviet Union carries on negotiations - actively sends delegations everywhere, reaches millions, shows people the policies without armaments and war. During World War II, the Soviet Union utilized the contradictions in the Capitalist camp and formed anti-Fascist coalitions. Imagine the plight of the world if the Soviet Union said, "No agreement with Capitalism". Imagine if we followed those Chinese comrades who say, "We do not sit at the table with the Imperialists."

We do not underestimate the military strength of the Imperialists either. How could you mobilize masses against the threat of war if you do?

Peaceful co-existence does not weaken the military might of the Socialist camp to repel Imperialistic aggression. The Communist Party of the Soviet Union proceeds not only from the interests of the USSR but from the interests of the international proletariat to strengthen the Socialist system, to safeguard it against Imperialistic military blows. The technique of the Soviet Union is to guarantee the safety of Socialism; it can wipe out the aggressors from the face of the earth; yet, the USSR prefers the policy of peaceful co-existence. Now even EISENHOWER has had to admit that there will be no victories in the next war. But the Communist Party of the Soviet Union is convinced that if the Imperialists start a war, it will be the end of the Capitalistic system. Therefore, the USSR will increase its might while trying for peaceful co-existence.

On disarmament, LENIN advanced this idea already in 1922. He spoke of the burdens of militarism on the people. He spoke about the employment of weapons of mass destruction. When KHRUSHCHEV, speaking for the Soviet Union, introduced the idea of general disarmament spokesmen, even in the Capitalist camp, had to vote for it to satisfy their masses of people.

The Chinese at the World Federation of Trade Unions called disarmament an "illusion". It is not correct or far-sighted. Prior to World War II this, disarmament, was impossible. This is not so now. The Soviet Union has the edge in armaments. They have to listen, at least for the prohibition of the use of nuclear weapons. They have to listen to the idea of the destruction of stockpiles, about the stopping of the nuclear tests, etc. The United States, unlike in World War II, is now also in the theater of operation in case of nuclear war.

The cost of modern armaments creates a terrible burden for the people. That is why the idea for disarmament is gaining ground everywhere.

There is enough of a stockpile of nuclear weapons that can now wipe out the world. It was never bigger. Therefore to avert this, disarmament is posed from a new angle. It is now possible to form broad popular fronts, big movements for disarmament. Should we fail, the other side is to blame for it takes two sides to reach an agreement. But we will be ready for any eventuality. It is necessary to speak about the kind of armaments. About the destruction of these armaments. That it requires at least a stop of the tests, the renunciation of their use, the destruction of the stock-piles. This would deliver the people from the threat of atomic death. The Socialist camp would be the gainer and would win the sympathy of people everywhere.

Posing the question of disarmament makes it more difficult for the bellicose circles to intensify the arms race. Even the Pentagon has to resort to provisions, maneuvering etc., to continue the "cold war". It would not be able to get appropriations once people see the possibility of disarmament. The arms race has a deteriorating effect on the workers living standards. Even slowing down of the arms race would help the workers. At least the higher taxes would not be justified.

In raising disarmament, the Communist Party of the Soviet Union aims to achieve the abolition of United States overseas military bases. This demand stands "We will not agree, for example, to abolishing the means of delivering nuclear weapons (that the advantage is now wholly on our side) without simultaneous abolition of United States military bases on foreign territory spearheaded against the USSR and other Socialist countries". This coincides with demands of the popular masses and if we want to cite an example, we can look to Japan. Next, the demand for disarmament is a blow at war blocs and pacts. India is an example. It has kept out of military blocs. If all international disputes were settled by peaceful means, this is our line.

Disarmament in the present day conditions is not merely "a diplomatic move" but a serious political aid in the interests of the world Socialist system, in the interest of the peoples of the world, not based on the Utopian dream expecting the Imperialists to renounce its policy of war. This won't take place and we do not know how long it will take. We will fight for it and try to solve this question.

The allegation of the Chinese comrades that the disarmament slogan disarms the masses, weakens the will of the colonial and dependent countries to fight imperialism, dooms them to pacifism, is groundless. The Communist Party of the Soviet Union demand is to disarm the great powers who possess modern weapons of destruction. If we are successful, it will be easy for the colonial struggle to win.

Disarmament is not merely a propaganda slogan. In one breath we say it can be done. We need it. In the next breath it cannot be achieved because Capitalism exists, so the Chinese comrades say.

The so-called "third way" defense by the Chinese Communists at the World Federation of Trade Unions, mainly the co-existence of two systems with local wars and a cold war without a world war. This is wrong. It would lead not to peace but to war. With modern techniques, military blocs, local war cannot be restricted or guaranteed. It can easily become World War; to follow the path of local wars means actually sliding to the brink of the abyss.

1. It means permanent cold war
2. It means continuance of the arms race, the Imperialist armamen get fat while they plunder the workers.
3. It creates political difficulties for the socialist countries in pursuing the peace policies. The Imperialist propaganda charge was that of favoring cold war, favoring local wars and favoring an arms race.

Different Forms of Transition to Socialism

The Communist Party of China disagrees with the conclusion of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union regarding the possibility under different circumstances of the proletariat winning power by peaceful means. They charge that the Communist Party of the Soviet Union has been advocating the peaceful means as the only way of transition. This is contrary to the truth of the 20th Congress. The 20th Congress of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union spoke of a peaceful way as one of ways besides the way of arms struggle to overthrow and achieve the victory for the revolution.

The 20th Congress conclusions were based on Marxism's well-known propositions and on the analysis of the contemporary international situation and experiences of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union and other international Communist experiences. To quote from the resolution of the 20th Congress on this: "It is perfectly understandable that the forms of transition of the countries to Socialism will be even more varied in the future. Moreover, the inclination of these forms need not be associated with civil war under all circumstances. Leninism teaches us that the ruling class will not surrender their power voluntarily. However, the greater or lesser degree of intensity which the class struggle for the transition to Socialism may assume and use or non-use of force in this transition depend on the degree of resistance offered by the exploiters to the will of the overwhelming majority of the working people or whether the exploiting class itself resorts to violence, rather than the proletariat.

"There can be no doubt that for a number of Capitalist countries, where Capitalism is still strong and where it still has at its disposal a huge military police apparatus, bitter class struggle is inevitable".

The 20th Congress underlined favorable conditions for the victory of Socialism in their countries possible because of the triumph in the Soviet Union and the battles against reformism, "a necessary condition for victory".

The Central Committee, Communist Party of the Soviet Union, resolutely is against the parliamentary way as the only way of transition to Socialism. We came out for the need to prepare the masses in the spirit of struggle, to use all ways for the overthrow of bourgeois rule. The Communist Party of the Soviet Union in November, 1957, in Moscow, in its statement said "we should therefore reckon on these two possibilities so as not to deceive either ourselves or the masses of the people ...

"LENIN taught the working class and its revolution party to master all forms of class struggle - peaceful as well as non-peaceful, parliamentary as well as non-parliamentary."

The Communist Party of the Soviet Union went against Social Democratic and revisionist traditions "a major manifestation of revisionism ... consists in making a fetish of the parliamentary system and proclaiming the peaceful way as only one way of transition to Socialism," without the class struggle, etc.

During the discussion of the draft declaration, MAO TSE TUNG said, "There are two possible ways of transition to Socialism for different Capitalist countries; peaceful and non-peaceful. The working classes wish to effect revolution by peaceful means. If that is possible, it would be useful for the working class and people as a whole. But it is one thing for the working class to desire for it and another thing where its desire can actually be fulfilled in a real situation when the decisive moment comes in the class struggle". Here the letter cites the history of Russia and China, the workers strike, peaceful means for power; but it depends on the resistance of the bourgeoisie.

At one time, the letter continues, the view of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union and the Communist Party of China were identical.

All Communist Parties assumed combinations of methods for winning power; utilization of parliament is feasible through revolutionary struggle. After the 20th Congress of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, we repeatedly warned on the over-estimation of the possibilities of peaceful development of the Socialist Revolution. We showed the need for all forms of struggle. We called for struggle against revisions, against those who denied revolutionary struggle and the need for the dictatorship of the proletariat during the period of transition. Marxism-Leninism teaches that it is necessary to educate the working class in the spirit of recognition of armed struggle, to prepare forces to be used at the decisive moment in a revolutionary situation.

The conclusion of the various forms of transition of different countries to Socialism, of the use of peaceful and non-peaceful means has opened up possibilities for new opportunities for the Communist Parties winning larger masses of people to its side; using all possible methods in the struggle against the bourgeoisie.

The Communist Party of the Soviet Union says the working class should use all forms but also points out as the position of world socialism grows stronger, the opportunities for peaceful development for Socialist Revolution will increase. If the Communist Party of China changed the stand on the 20th Congress and on the Moscow declaration of 1957, it should say so.

The Attitude of the Communist Party of China
Towards the Activity in International Democratic Organizations

These organizations unite millions of varied views and social strata and classes to pursue a common line; therefore, the Communist influence. Now the Chinese comrades take a stand of their own. There is no common line. No assurance of Communist influence. Now the Chinese comrades prefer to be isolated. These organizations that we are referring to are the World Federation of Trade Unions, the World Youth Movement, Women Movements and so on, as well as the World Peace Council. The comrades of China in the World Peace Council objected to established talk with pacifist organizations. They made it difficult to arrive at decisions.

In September, 1959, the Chinese objected to the signing of a message to the United Nations General Assembly concerning the Summit meeting. In May, 1960, the Presidium of the World Peace Council, meeting in Stockholm with wide representation made by the Communists, Catholics and others, adopted a declaration blaming the United States for the U-2 incursion into the Soviet Union and for the failure of the Summit meeting. The Chinese comrades did not vote for this declaration.

In the International Students Organization meeting at Tunis, February, 1960, the Chinese comrades behaved in a similar way. A representative of the Chinese Central Committee of Youth spoke against broader contacts in Capitalistic countries. "We won't sit around the table with the bourgeois youth - we need to struggle". At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the World Federation of Youth, at Conakry, March, 1960, as well as in the Afro-Asian Conference at Conakry, April, 1960, the Chinese comrades were against the decision on the disarmament question. They alleged that such a bill would be misleading the masses, "dulling their vigilance and demobilizing them in the face of Imperialism".

The Chinese Communists are also inconsistent in the Trade Union Movement. At a conference of Asian Trade Unions in Peking in 1949, they called for the launching of an arms struggle everywhere; "should form liberation armies", etc. We never agreed to this but the Imperialists used this and made it difficult even for the World Federation of Trade Unions. Later, the Communist Party of China reconsidered its position on this problem. In 1954, they sent a written report to the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union on the China Federation of Labor and outlined the chief tasks. These were peace, democracy, unity, better social and economic conditions. At that time, the Chinese comrades were against the World Federation of Trade Unions adopting decisions for all countries, which were creating difficulties for certain Communist Parties. This was correct, but in 1960, their approach is different. Now the Chinese Communists call broad unification of the World Federation of Trade Unions forces opportunism. This is threatening the unity of the World Federation of Trade Unions.

Departure of the Communist Party of China From the Declaration and Peace Manifesto

The Chinese comrades claim that they adhere to the 1957 Declaration. What did the Declaration say? "The main content of our epoch is the transition from Capitalism to Socialism which was begun by the great October Socialist Revolution in Russia.

"In our epoch world development is determined by the course and results of the competition between two diametrically opposed social systems".

The Chinese comrades have revised this. They described this epoch as "an epoch of the last stage of the development of Capitalism, an epoch of wars and revolutions."

The Declaration says, "At present the forces of peace have so grown that there is real possibility of averting war." The Peace Manifesto contains something similar, "War is not inevitable, war can be prevented, peace can be preserved and made secure."

The Declaration says: "The Leninist principle of peaceful co-existence of the two systems, which has been developed further and brought up to date in the decisions of the 20th Congress of the CPSU, is the sound basis of the foreign policy of the Socialist countries and the dependable pillar of peace and friendship amongst the people." The Chinese comrades say this is an illusion; "a world without wars and without arms can only be achieved when Socialism is victorious all over the world."

"Peaceful co-existence is impossible. It brings joy to the Imperialists." This appeared in the April 25, 1960, issue of Jemin Jihpao. "It enables them (Imperialists) to kill peoples of black Africa and Asia with impunity".

The Declaration says, "The Communist Parties regard the struggle for peace as their foremost task". The Chinese comrades declare this thesis now to be "erroneous and anti-Leninist"; a thesis "spreading delusion that there can be peace with Capitalism."

The Declaration says, "The forms of transition from Capitalism to Socialism may vary for different countries."

The Chinese comrades now reject the thesis all together that there can be different forms of transition. They say varied forms "stemming from an incorrect conception of Imperialism".

The Declaration was endorsed by all the Parties and said the historic importance of the 20th Congress is not only important for the CPSU and the building of Communism in the USSR, but opens a new stage in the world Marxist-Leninist Movement and facilitates the further development of new lines. The Chinese question this thesis.

The important part of the work of the 20th Congress of the CPSU was, as is known, the condemnation of the cult of J. V. STALIN's personality, the restoration of the Leninist principles of activity of the Party, and the state in their relations with the fraternal Parties of other countries, with social states, and Soviet foreign policy as a whole.

Life has shown that the CPSU was right in coming out against the cult of the personality. The difficulties that followed as a result have now long been overcome and prove temporary. This question of STALIN has been discussed thoroughly amongst the various Communist Parties and is now a thing of the past. The Chinese comrades are now raising this question again. At the Communist Party of China's Eighth Congress, they endorsed the CPSU on this question of STALIN. TENG HSIAO-PING, General Secretary of the Party, said in September, 1956, "That it revealed to us what grave negative consequences of the deification of the individual can have." In criticizing the STALIN cult, MAO TSE TUNG admitted in November, 1957, "We were relieved as it were of a heavy lid which pressed strongly on us and prevented us from understanding many problems correctly. Who removed the lid from us? Who made it easier for us all to understand the personality cult properly? It was Comrade KHRUSHCHEV and we are very grateful to him for it."

Overcoming STALIN's cult stimulated creativeness activity of the masses of the people, expanded inner democracy, restored Leninist norms of party life. Other parties gained too and got results. They got closer to the masses and began to do collective inner work.

The relations of the socialist states and various Parties had been strengthened as a result of the expose of the cult of STALIN. A growing cohesion of the Communist Movement internationally developed. The Chinese position hinders this process against the cult of the individual and prevents the completing of the job in some other Parties.

The Declaration stressed international solidarity as the bedrock of the principles of Marxism-Leninism. But this presupposes fraternal relations of Parties. No criticism by one party of another behind its back. This would undermine proletarian internationalism and prejudice the cause of Socialism.

The Chinese comrades criticized the position of the CPSU and other Communist Parties under the pretext of defending Marxism-Leninism. Marxism-Leninism is not a petrified dogma. It enriches new theory with new propositions.

In this spirit, a number of Communist Parties have advanced new propositions which mobilized the working class and the masses for a more determined struggle against Imperialism which showed the way to prevent war and go over to Socialism.

The Chinese comrades, however, oppose a number of new and important conclusions of Marxist-Leninist theory drawn by the collective effort of the Communist Parties.

The Communist Party of the Soviet Union always upheld the purity of Marxism-Leninism. It took an uncompromising stand against modern revisionism. It was the first to expose the Yugoslav revisionists and first to expose the 7th Congress of the Yugoslav Communist League Program and the 5th Congress of the Socialist Union of the Working People of Yugoslavia. The ideological defeat of modern revisionism by the joint efforts of the Communist Parties has resulted in further consolidation of the international Communist Movement on the principles of Marxism-Leninism.

The Communist Party of the Soviet Union consequently puts the principles of Marxism-Leninism into practice. It struggles to build a Communist society, it strengthens the World Socialist System by fighting to consolidate peace and prevent a new world war.

The Communist Party of the Soviet Union pursues a policy of consistent proletarian internationalism, fraternal relations with all parties by its support of working class struggles in Capitalist countries, of the peoples in the colonial and dependent countries. "And it is the practical activity of the Party that is the most reliable criteria of its loyalty to Marxism-Leninism".

In theory and practice, it undermines imperialism and strengthens the Socialist system. The entire Imperialist camp is up in arms against the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. It holds the USSR as its number one enemy, doing everything to discredit its domestic and foreign policy. The Communist Party of China in its unfair criticism leveled at the policies of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union and other fraternal Parties does not make for prestige or unity of the Socialist countries nor benefit the international Communist Movement.

The Communist Party of China disagreed with the Rome meeting of the 17 Communist Parties of Europe. It declared the document opportunist. They have assumed the role of judges over the group of oldest fraternal Parties which have great experiences in revolutionary struggle.

It has in the case of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, not expressed directly opinions and criticisms as in the criticism of the World Federation of Trade Unions, Peace Movements, etc. It used indirect methods and functionaries in order to reveal its criticism.

The Need For Closer Unity In The Socialist Camp and The International Communist Movement

The Socialist camp and the International Communist Movement is advancing on the correct Leninist road. The Soviet Union has entered the stage of full Communist construction successfully fulfilling the seven year plan and blazing a trail to the heights of Communism. The entire Socialist system is winning victory after victory in peaceful competition with Capitalists. The prestige has grown immeasurable. Its influence on international developments has grown.

Under such circumstances, the Chinese comrades' utterances (their criticisms) against the Communist Party of the Soviet Union and other Communist Parties may cause no little harm to the unity and solidarity of the World Socialist camp. This will divert from the forward movement, will aggravate the situation, lead us away from the correct path. Now especially when the Imperialists have torpedoed the Summit meeting and are marshalling their forces to aggravate the international situation and to whip up war hysteria and new onslaughts against the Communist Party movement, now as never before we need unity, vigilance and cohesion.

The Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union is compelled to note with regret that many actions on the part of the Chinese comrades taken recently have been unloyal and uncomradely towards the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. The Chinese say the Communist Party of the Soviet Union in the interests of the Communist Movement should occupy a focal point in it and the USSR should be a leader of the Socialist camp. On their own, without notifying the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, they attack our Party and criticize it using trade union representatives, representatives of the National Liberation Movement and other representatives of the Communist Parties. They have violated the principles of proletarian internationalism. This shows a lack of sincerity and respect for the Communist Party of the Soviet Union.

The CPSU many times tried to resolve bilaterally all problems in a comradely atmosphere and on a principled basis. The Chinese Communists reacted painfully and far from healing the breach, started criticisms of the positions of the CPSU.

The Central Committee of the CPSU observes comradely tact. We did not criticize the Chinese comrades in connection with the slogan "Let all flowers bloom, let all schools compete", though we considered this slogan wrong.

We did not criticize the Chinese comrades when they cast overboard the Leninist principle of material incentive under Socialism. In all these and other cases, the CPSU displayed tact. At one meeting with the leadership of the Communist Party of China, we did express some opinions directly without accusing the Communist Party of China of a departure from the principles of Leninism.

The Declaration said that the Communist and Workers Parties carry historical responsibilities and the destinies of the world Socialist system, and international Communist Movement. This means first of all the strengthening of the unity and comradely cooperation.

This means consolidation of the community of Socialist states in the interests of the cause of peace and Socialism - even when differences arise.

The realization of this line to insure peaceful competition with Capitalism - such is the line - persistence, initiative, vigilance, unity and an uncompromising attitude towards the enemies of peace and Socialism. In unity lies our strength. Unity of views make for unity of action, for cooperation in all spheres, political and economic.

Loyalty to Leninism is tested not only by words, but by deeds. Assistance of the USSR to all the socialist states, including China, is a vivid example of fidelity of the CPSU to Leninism. By supplying the people's democracies with perfect equipment, we (USSR) deprive ourselves of the best parts and means of production - sometimes to the detriment of our economy. But, by doing so, we are guided by the principles of Socialism, Internationalism, and boost the development of the productive forces of all the Socialist countries. They can catch up and improve the lot of their people.

During ten years, we gave to the Chinese Republic extensive help on a scale unprecedented in history. With the help of the Soviet Union, 300 new big enterprises, 50 more big installations (plants) have been built or are in the process of readiness; lots of technical and scientific help has been given. With the help of the Soviet Union, the Chinese Peoples Republic has built work factories, plants, mills equipped with perfect and up-to-date machinery that produces 35 to 50 per cent of the total output of the basic branches of heavy industry.

The cost of all these deliveries amounts to nearly 15,000 million rubles. In addition, the Chinese Peoples Republic has received credits to the sum of 6,000 million rubles. Plainly speaking, the Soviet Union has rendered tremendous and valuable assistance to build up the Chinese Peoples Republic defenses, industries and technical requirements of her Armed Forces.

Thanks to this help to the Chinese Peoples Republic, the Imperialist blockade has been smashed and their effort to keep China at a low level failed. This aid afforded the Chinese Peoples Republic the possibility to overcome its age-old backwardness and be put on the road, to become a big and great Socialist industrial power.

Our friendship with the Chinese people is essential for the entire Socialist camp, for the international Communist movement. For the sake of our lofty goal, we must do everything to overcome the difficulties in this relationship without sacrificing principles. We are confident that we could eliminate the existing difficulties if we based ourselves on principles of Socialist Internationalism and are guided by the teachings of Marxism-Leninism.

The Socialist camp will benefit from this unity. The Imperialist camp will be the losers if we unite. The Imperialist camp will make more than one attempt to provoke a quarrel between the Soviet Union and the Chinese Peoples Republic.

The Chinese comrades must take into account the interests of the world Communist Movement. The dissension between us is of direct benefit to Imperialism, our common enemy.

On June 17, representatives of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union met with a delegation of the Communist Party of China on the way to the Third Congress of the Rumanian Workers Party, empowered to exchange views. The representatives of the CPSU told the Chinese comrades that their views and methods were incorrect. The delegation of the Communist Party of China disagreed with our comment and maintained their stand. Nevertheless, Comrade PENG CHEN, head of the Chinese Party delegation, said that if the majority at the Bucharest meeting proved that the Chinese position is wrong, they would be prepared to admit their errors and rectify them.

Since the issues being discussed were adopted in the Peace Manifesto in 1957 by all the Communist Parties, the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union considered it advisable to exchange views with all representatives of the various Parties.

The Communist Movement is united by a common aim of liberating the working people and fighting for world peace.

United by the doctrine of Marxism-Leninism, we struggle always to put our aims into practice. We will defend the purity of Marxism-Leninism, our ideological weapons. We must safeguard the unity of the Socialist camp as the apple of our eye. Unity is a lofty duty to the peoples of the Socialist countries, to the peoples of the entire world.

We are confident that the Communist Party of China, steeled in revolutionary battles, will weigh our comradely criticism in a Marxist way and draw the necessary conclusions, bearing in mind the interests of the entire Socialist camp and the international Communist Movement which are inseparable from the interests of the building of Communism in the Chinese Peoples Republic.
